Says the Courier,—"The main part of the indebtedness of Boston to New York, arises from the fact that a large amount of the New England country bank bills are redeemed at the Metropolitan Bank in New York—which answers the same purpose as the Suffolk with us—at one-tenth per cent. discount. These are used as a circulating medium there, are collected by the Metropolitan, and sent to the Suffolk for redemption. This gives the Metropolitan a balance against the Suffolk, redeemable in specie. This specie is carried to New York, to offset the demands against our country banks, while the latter are always overdrawing their accounts in Boston, and sometimes exceed them two or three millions of dollars. This is a draft upon us in two ways from the same source; the New York banks drawing our specie for our country bank bills, and our country banks at the same time keeping up a large balance against us.

"In a word, our intimate and immense relations with New York, alone, led us to suspend,—for we could not and ought not to have continued to pay coin to New York, while she paid us only paper."

So much for that point, which we think is quite plain.

But the Banks are not only under obligations to one another, and to their creditors, their depositors, and the men who hold their bills;—but to their debtors,—to their customers, to the men who pay them the interest, whereby they live. This obligation is well set forth in the report of the Boston Banks, which reads as follows :

That in considering the course taken by the banks this morning, in suspending specie payments, they are led to the conclusion that it was not a matter of mere expediency, growing out of the fact that the banks of New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and the other important cities of the Union, had set them the example; but it was a measure of irresistible necessity—a necessity imposed on them not merely or principally on their own account, but most especially for the protection of their numerous debtors.

It is obvious that the banks could not continue specie payments without calling on their debtors to pay in specie, and although the great mass of them are in possession of large properties, their inability to pay in specie is certain, and their attempt to enforce it would end in ruin.

In their fall, also, the laboring classes of the community must be involved. They would be thrown out of employment, and their families deprived of daily bread.

It is to avert these consequences that this measure has been adopted.

The committee recommended the adoption of the following resolutions :

Resolved, That the present system of daily settlement between the banks in the clearing house shall be continued, under such modifications as the clearing house committee may think advisable.

Resolved, That there shall be a return to specie payment at as early a period as practicable.

What is said here of the clearing-house, relates to a system by which all the banks in New England keep one another in check, as to their issues of bills—On Wednesday, the Boston Banks paid the balances due each other, in specie—but it is probable there will be some change in that.

It was stated that the Massachusetts Bank, in Boston, paid specie. So she does, for her bills, as she has about 350,000 dollars in specie, to $137,000 of bills in circulation. But she does not pay depositors in specie;—and she has nearly $859,000 on deposit. She offers to pay these in bills of other banks. She may, therefore, be quite safe, but is really no important exception to the general rule, at present,—but may be a good nucleus for resumption. In this manner, our Portsmouth Banks in 1812-15, paid their own bills in specie,—but when a man went to get a note discounted, the Cashier would say, "Yes, we'll discount your note, if you will take current money!" by which was meant all kinds of bills but our own, which were called cash money.

The business of our banks in this city, goes on as if nothing had happened; with the single exception of specie redemptions.

Many papers contain essays on the currency, long and learned, with reviews of the past, and schemes for the future. The Newburyport Herald says :

"We think this crisis will turn the minds of the people to consider our money system, and seek greater security in the future. How a better system is to be had, or the present one improved, is not for us to say; but most evidently, the present mode of operating, by which a country in the greatest prosperity that ever a nation enjoyed, is bankrupt and all its trade paralised—is not a proper and safe one."

No doubt there is some truth here—but it is also true that but for this very banking system, or some other as flexible, this "greatest prosperity" would have been considerably smaller.

So the New York expedient of a pretended security by the deposit of stocks, which has sometimes been recommended as a basis of banking, has proved wholly unsubstantial as a safeguard against a "run."

In like manner, the "individual liability" provision, attached to most of the banks in New Hampshire, did not make one hair white or black about their suspension of specie payments.

The sub treasury system, so called, of government strong boxes, is paying specie, now, but it is down to thirteen millions—and receipts have nearly ceased. Nevertheless, the fact that it is not empty, keeps our Navy Yards in funds, and makes work in various places. Yet its independence is a limited matter—and a stop of importations would soon create a vacuum.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14 P. M.—The action of the meeting on 'Change does not give satisfaction. Mr. Richard Schell was present with a resolution censuring the banks, for demanding specie from each other when they withheld it from their customers; but was induced to withhold it. A very strong movement is progressing among the Republican leaders against an extra session of the Legislature, or any recognition of the suspension should the legislature be called together; while a large majority of the Democrats and a few Americans and Republicans are uniting in support of a measure of relief to the banks. The political aspect of the question is very warmly discussed. The Chemical Bank continues to pay specie. The Manhattan Bank it is said is doing the same, and it is believed that other banks will follow suit.

A partial statement of the specie paid out yesterday by our city banks, not including the savings banks, foots up nearly two millions of dollars.

A notice was posted to-day at the various banks which are enabled to continue business, stating that business will be continued as heretofore excepting the paying of specie. Checks will be received on deposit and in the payment of notes, and bank notes will be paid and received as usual. Many of the banks have still a large amount of specie on hand. Gold is selling by the brokers at 4 per cent premium.

At the morning session of the Stock Board it was resolved that payments might be made in certified checks, and there was a general rise in prices of one to nine per cent.

☞ The Traveller says that the notes of the Pacific Mills Company, of Lawrence, laid over on Wednesday. The case is probably similar to that of other suspensions within a few days past, plenty of assets, but no possibility, at the present moment, of realizing therefrom. J. W. Edmands is Treasurer of this Company.

The Pacific Mills are among the largest in the world, and the operations of the company have been of an extensive character.

☞ It appears that during the last four years we imported one hundred and eighty four millions more of merchandise than were exported, and sent out of the country one hundred and eighty-six millions more of specie than came into it.

REVENUE.—The receipts at the Boston Custom House last week averaged only a little over $11,000 per day. This, with an English steamer and several large vessels arriving so as to enter their cargoes during the week, is less than one third of what the revenue usually has been.

☞ Pork, beef, butter and egg remain at their former prices in Philadelphia. In groceries the decline is encouraging. Sugar can now be purchased for ten cents, which a few weeks since was selling at fifteen cents per pound. Molasses has declined almost one-half.

FALL IN BEEF.—At the Cambridge Cattle Market on Wednesday, beef fell $1 per hundred, and hardly any purchasers at that decline. It is said to have been one of the dullest days that has been witnessed for a number of years at the Cattle Market. Sales of any description of cattle could not be made, unless at a great sacrifice.—Trav.

☞ Lt. Geo. H. Preble, of Portland, recently Light House Inspector of the First (Maine) District, has received the appointment of First Lt. at the Charlestown Navy Yard.

☞ Thursday, Nov. 19, has been appointed for rThanksgiving in Maine.

3 DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Steamship Vanderbilt arrived this morning, bringing London dates to the 3d inst.

The India mail had arrived in England, but furnishes little intelligence additional to that already given by telegraph.

A despatch received at Bombay from Cawnpore states that Gen. Havelock defeated the rebels near that place on the 16th without loss, except a few wounded, but the cholera had carried off nearly 100 of his troops.

Accounts from Lucknow of the 18th reported all well.

Advices from China are favorable. The Emperor refused to agree to any amicable arrangements.

The Emperors of Austria and Russia had an interview at Vienna, Oct. 1.

Weather in England good—breadstuffs dull and heavy—cotton unchanged. In money matters, John Bull was looking to Jonathan for gold. Of course he will roar a little when he gets the papers from the United States.

OHIO ELECTION.—The Democratic gain is considerable over the vote of last fall, but it is not in sufficient ratio, as yet, to carry the State. The remaining returns may do it,—or possibly reverse these, but not probably.

PENNSYLVANIA ELECTION.—Philadelphia, Oct. 14.—Complete city returns foot up Packer 28,000, Hazlehurst 14,000, Wilmot 10,000, in round numbers. The remainder of the Democratic ticket received about the same vote. Eighteen districts in Northampton county show 3000 majority for Packer. Lehigh, 1000 for Packer.

In Cambria county there is a Democratic gain of 1200. Indiana county gives Wilmot 1000 majority.

BALTIMORE ELECTION.—Baltimore, Oct. 14.—The election resulted in the success of the American ticket in every ward in the city, except the eighth. In many wards the Democrats had no candidates. The vote is very small.

The riots have been quelled, and so far only one man is known to be dead.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—The Times' Kansas correspondent says: "Parrott is unquestionably elected, but the complexion of the legislature cannot be settled for several days. It looks at present as if it would have a free State majority."

The Tribune feels quite confident that Ohio and Iowa have gone for the Democracy, and Minnesota probably.

ARREST.—The Dover Enquirer says :

We mentioned, two weeks ago, the escape of two prisoners from the jail in this City, by the assistance of persons from the outside, who seized and bound the turnkey, whose name is John Rogers, while he was asleep, as he represented, and then released the prisoners. Some facts having transpired which threw a shade of suspicion over his story, he was arrested and after a thorough examination before the Police Court last Monday, the circumstances were found so strong against him, that he was ordered to recognize in the sum of $600, for trial at the Supreme Court, on the charge of conniving at the escape of the prisoners; in default of which he was committed.

☞ The only place in this city where an Ambrotype can be obtained, is at Davis' Ambrotype Gallery, No. 8 Daniel Street, as they have the Patent, and all infringements will be prosecuted. sep29

☞ Probably most persons are familiar with the story of a little dog,—who, when the moon was shining brightly, used to run out and bark at her; but all the while the moon kept right on shining. Just so I KEEP RIGHT ON SHINING; or in other words,—keep right on making the various kinds of Pictures in the Heliographic or Photographic art.
sept15 A. GREGORY.

☞ Our friend in his illumination says nothing about Ambrotype, and does not seem to have the slightest idea that his "shining" is decidedly gassy. Don Quixotte's monomania never reached so high a point as that; but as we have as much as we can do by daylight, we do not make pictures by moon or gas-light, and our friends will govern themselves accordingly.

As regards the Ambrotype, we are determined to stop the sale of a spurious article, to the injury of our business, the deception of the public, and the consequent injurious impressions against the Ambrotype. For this reason, we offer $25 reward for an Ambrotype made in this place, other than at our Rooms. And as the word Ambrotype was coined for and patented with the Picture, we offer the same reward [$25] for any picture made or sold as an Ambrotype. Evidence sufficient to convict in the U. S. courts will be required in the last case; in the other, the Picture itself is all the evidence we want. DAVIS BROTHERS.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

PRESERVATION OF THE HAIR.—In all ages and nations, almost all tribes of men, a beautiful head of hair has been held, and still is, regarded as the fairest ornament of the fairest works of the Creator. The patrician dames and damsels of ancient and modern Rome bestowed that attention upon the hair which has added the crowning beauty to the chef d'œuvre of the sculptor and the painter, and no lady, and indeed no gentleman of modern times is unmindful of this exquisite shield and lovely ornament of the face. To maiden beauty it is the finishing touch; to manhood it is the symbol and warrant of strength and nobility, as in the days of the patriarchs; indeed such it always had been and always will be.

But unable as we are to withstand the ills of time and life, it often happens that through disease and misfortune we become grey in early life, and bald before we reach the full grace of womanhood or the full stature of manhood.—Then it is that however much we may venerate the grey locks and reverence the wisdom of bald head among the honored remnants of the generation of three score and ten, we know that our grey hairs are no longer venerable than beautiful: while our bald heads are neither the one nor the other, but, on the contrary, are quite the reverse of both and impose upon us many social and sanitary disadvantages and discomforts.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

THURSDAY, Oct. 15.

State v. Bean & als of Newington, assault case. Verdict—E. C. Bean, guilty; J. Bean and Furber, not guilty.

State v. Elizabeth York and Sarah P. Leavitt, burning barn at Raymond. Verdict, guilty. The jury recommended Mrs. York to the mercy of the court.

Civil Actions.—Davis v. Handy. Verdict for plff. by order of the court.

Cummings v. Bryant. Dft. defaulted.

Ferguson v. Clifford now on trial.

WESTON'S VARIETIES.—Prof. Kirbye and Mdlle. Eucille have been received here with the same favor as elsewhere, and left behind them the same great name as performers in their line, that they do wherever they appear. As we have already stated, Prof. K. performs astonishing feats of strength and skill; and Mdlle. Lucille equally interests and none the less astonishes the audience, by her apparent divinations.

Their exhibition, Tuesday evening, was well attended by a very respectable miscellaneous audience. Wednesday afternoon, there was a performance especially for the juveniles, which was witnessed with pleasure by upwards of four hundred children from our city schools, accompanied by several of the teachers, with many others.

On Wednesday evening, the performances were complimentary to the Fire Department of the city. The various Engine Companies met at Jefferson Hall, in full force, we are told more than three hundred strong; and accompanied by the Portsmouth Cornet Band, and led off by the Chief Engineer and the various Foremen, marched to the Temple,—where seats were reserved for them in a body. So large a number of men, in their varied uniforms, made a fine display; and they were greeted with three cheers by the large audience, which crowded the Temple in every part.

Chief Engineer Hadley responded to this complimentary notice of the Firemen; and spoke in praise of the Department, and of the entertainment to enjoy which they had all come. His speech was received with three lusty cheers by the Firemen, and the performances of the evening were begun.

At the close of the Exhibition, in which all present were much interested; Prof. Kirbye was called before the curtain, by hearty and continued applause of the audience; and in a brief speech returned his thanks to this and the previous audiences, for their liberal patronage, good order, and close attention to the performances throughout,—and the crowd dispersed, after three more cheers for Prof. Kirbye.

The Portsmouth Quadrille Band has furnished good music for this series of entertainment.

☞A friend at our left elbow, wants to know if our gall-ic cotemporary "over the way," wouldn't like to be appointed inspector-general of other people's business—not having much of his own to attend to. It is a little singular—and yet, perhaps, what might naturally be expected—that the two newspapers here, which the people evidently think the least of as advertising mediums, are the only ones which have ever had a word to say about their neighbors' method of conducting business.

By the way, we believe it has generally been considered dishonorable, not to say dishonest, among editors who respect themselves or are respected by others—to garble statements, by publishing half sentences, interpolating italics, &c.,—thereby conveying a meaning totally different from that intended by the writer.

We should be under obligations to the above-mentioned cotemporary, (whom we don't care to advertise more particularly, without pay,) for giving our terms of advertising—garbled and misrepresented though they be, a place in his columns—if we needed anything of the sort, besides the thorough and wide circulation of the Chronicle.

Our terms of advertising, somewhat detailed, will be found on our fourth page—including editorial notices, as is done probably in nearly every paper in the land. And nobody's "independence" need be compromised, either, that we see; for while no honest man can be hired to say what he don't believe—we don't see why the party for whose benefit even true statements are made, should not pay for them. At any rate, we intend to regulate our own columns (only;) and let other people take care of their own,—if they can.

"INDEPENDENCE."—Webster defines this "a state of exemption from bias or undue influence;" and a common simile makes some folks "independent as a hog on ice." The first condition is to be desired; the swine and his imitators, commonly are laughed at or pitied, rather than praised or respected.

S. D. & H. W. Smith,

—MANUFACTURERS OF—

Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,

—and—

PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

No. 511 Washington St., Boston.

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass. Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which formerly characterized the instrument, and rendering the tones full, clear and organ like. The action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid music without blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower set running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and thus get up one case two distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, the two banks of keys may be played at the same time by use of the front set only. This connected with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

Is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church instrument, being arranged with two banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of as great volume of power as the Church Instrument when used without the pedals. Also, every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory, being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced and skilful workmen. In this department we will promise our customers an instrument equal, if not superior, to any Manufacturer, and guarantee an entire and perfect solution.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in musical matters, are respectfully invited to visit our Rooms at any time and examine or test the instruments on exhibition for sale at their pleasure.

As a still further guarantee to the public as to the excellence of our instruments from our Manufactory, we beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following

Piano Forte Manufacturers of Boston,

who have examined our Instruments, and will give their opinion when called upon:

Chickering & Sons, Hallett & Cumston,
T. Gilbert & Co., Wm. P. Emerson,
Brown & Allen, A. W. Ladd & Co.,
George Hewes, Woodward & Brown,
Newhall & Co.

MELODEONS RENTED.

Persons who wish to hire Melodeons with a view of purchasing at the end of the year, can have the rent credited as part payment of the purchase money. This matter is worthy of special note, as it enables those who desire a fair trial of the instruments before purchasing, to obtain it at the expense of the manufacturers, to the extent at least of a year's rent.

Orders from any part of the country or world, sent direct to the manufactory in Boston, with cash, or satisfactory reference, will be promptly attended to, and as faithfully executed as if the parties were present, or employed an agent to select, and on as reasonable terms.

AND who that is gray would not have it restored to former color; or bald, but would have the growth restored; or troubled with dandruff and itching the roots would have it removed; or troubled with scrofula, scald head, or other eruptions, or with sick headache, (neuralgia) but would be cured. It will also remove all pimples from the face and skin. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative will do all this. See circular and the following.

ANN ARBOR, November 5th, 1856.

PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir; I have heard much said of the wonderful effects of your Hair Restorative, but having been so often cheated by quackery and quack nostrums, hair dyes, &c. I was disposed to place your Restorative in the same category with the one thousand and one loudly trumpeted quack remedies, until I met you in Lawrence county some months since, when you gave me such assurance as induced the trial of your Restorative in my family—first, by my good wife, whose hair had become very thin, and entirely white; and before exhausting one of your large bottles, her hair was restored nearly to its original beautiful brown color, and had thickened and become beautiful and glossy upon, and entirely over the head; she continues to use it, not simply because of its beautifying effects upon the hair, but because of its healthful influence upon the head and mind. Others of my family and friends are using your Restorative, with the happiest effects; therefore my scepticism and doubts in reference to its character and value are entirely removed; and I can and do most cordially and conditionally recommend its use by all who would have their hair restored from white or gray, (by reason of sickness or age,) to original color and beauty, and by all young persons who would have the hair beautiful and glossy.

Very truly and gratefully yours,
SOLOMON MANN.

FRIEND WOOD: It was a long time after I saw you at Blissfield before I got the bottle of Restorative for which you gave me an order upon your agent in Detroit, and when I got it we concluded to try it on Mrs. Mann's hair, as the surest test of its power. It has done all that you assured me it would do; and others of my family and friends, having witnessed its effects, are now using and recommending its use to others as entitled to the highest consideration you claim for it.

Again, very respectfully and truly, yours,
SOLOMON MANN.

CARLYLE, ILL., June 28, 1852.

I have used Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and have admired its effects. My hair was becoming, as I thought, premature gray, but by the use of his Restorative it has resumed its original color, and I have no doubt permanently so. S. BRESE, ex-Senator, U. S.

AYER'S Cathartic Pills,

ARE MADE TO

CLEANSE THE BLOOD AND CURE THE SICK

PITTSBURGH, PA., May 1, 1854.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to act from a full system, which they cleanse at once. If they will do to others as they do me, the fact is worth knowing.

Yours with great respect, ED. W. PREBLE,
Clerk of Steamer Clarion.

Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
WASHINGTON, D. C., 7 Feb., 1856.

SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and have hesitated to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy in the derangements of the organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them.

Fraternally yours, ALONZO BALL, M. D.,
Physician of the Marine Hospital.

POST OFFICE, HAVELOCK, LYC. CO., MICH., Nov. 16, 1856

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the perfection of medicine. They have done my wife more good than I can tell you. She had been sick and pining away for months. Was off to be doctored at great expense, but got no better. She then commenced taking your Pills, which soon cured her by expelling a quantity of worms (dead) from her body. They afterwards cured her and our two children of bloody dysentery. One of our neighbors had it bad, and my wife cured him with two doses of your Pills, while others around us paid from five to twenty dollars doctor bills, and lost much time, without being cured entirely even then. Such a medicine as yours, which is actually good and honest, will be prized here.

GEO. J. GRIFFIN, Postmaster.

Indigestion and Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those to whom I am called to visit in distress. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends.

J. V. HIMES.

WARSAW, WYOMING CO., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1855.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood.

JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

From a Prominent Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1856.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the panacea of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable by other means. She was long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her face and in her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her. ASA MORSHBURGER Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Dropsy.

From the Rev. R. Newton, Pastor of the Methodist Episc. Church.

PULASKI HOUSE, SAVANNAH, GA., Jan. 6, 1856.

HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A most severe attack of Dropsy had brought on complicated neuralgic pains, which ended in chronic rheumatism. Notwithstanding I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until, by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them I am now entirely well.

SENATE CHAMBER, BATON ROUGE, LA., 5 Dec., 1855.

DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured by your Pills of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that had afflicted me for years. VINCENT SLIDELL.

For Dropsy, Plethora, or kindred Complaints, requiring an active purge, they are an excellent remedy.

For Costiveness or Constipation, and as a Dinner Pill, they are agreeable and effectual.

Fits, Suppression, Paralysis, Inflammation, and even Deafness, and Partial Blindness, have been cured by the alterative action of these Pills.

Most of the pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill. Fears are entertained that the frequently fellow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

We need not speak to the public of its virtues. Throughout every town, and almost every hamlet of the American States, its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it already known. Nay, few are the families in any civilized country on this continent without some personal experience of its effects; and fewer yet the communities any where which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the subtle and dangerous diseases of the throat and lungs. While it is the most powerful antidote yet known to man for the formidable and dangerous diseases of the pulmonary organs, it is also the pleasantest and safest remedy that can be employed for infants and young persons. Parents should have it in store against the insidious enemy that stands upon them unprepared. We have abundant proofs to believe the CHERRY PECTORAL has saved more lives by its promptness it prevents than those it cures. Keep it by you, and cure your colds while they are curable, for we feel them until no human skill can master the inexorable number that are fastened on the vitals, rate your life away. All know the dreadful fatality of lung disorders, and as they know too the virtues of this remedy, we need not say more than to assure them that it will make them well.

We spare no cost, no care, no toil to produce it the most perfect possible, and thus afford those who rely on it the best agent which our skill can furnish for their cure.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have several commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Managers respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries drawn in Ga. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the receipt of the order. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters $2 50; and tenths $1 00 unless money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. Prizes are the combination of numbers mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $50,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing published in Georgia papers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Dog Book. Orders addressed plainly and directed to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia.

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other schemes. Prizes cashed. All communications strictly confidential. m18ly

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. FRANCIS & Co are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties residing at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled for the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sold unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Ternary combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100 '60. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

☞ The drawn numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner in the following papers, viz: Sun, Clipper, Patriot, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

FOR WARMING AND VENTILATING

PARLORS, OFFICES, HALLS, STORES,

SCHOOL HOUSES, &c.

WHICH for economy, purity of air, and ease of management, has no equal. It can be regulated so as to give

Any amount of Heat required,

and unlike all other Anthracite Coal Burners, ventilates the apartments quite as thoroughly, as a wood fire or Franklin, producing a current of Air, at once moist, pure and agreeable, and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache, so much complained of by those using Stoves and Furnaces, is entirely obviated. The fire may be continued from one to four days without replenishing.

These Stoves are beautiful in design, and finished in the most perfect manner. They are equally appropriate, and have given universal satisfaction to all who have adopted them.

For Offices and Stores as well as the Parlor.

The Inventor challenges the world to produce an article by which as much Pure Warm Air can be generated, from so small an amount of fuel, requiring but about 15 pounds of Anthracite Coal; whereas an ordinary sized parlor for 24 hours, without replenishing, and then leaving fire enough to rekindle without the use of charcoal. The coal is all used, and no clinkers made, consequently, sifting coal is dispensed with.—When this Stove is properly managed,

THE FIRE MAY BE CONTINUED THROUGH

without once going out. Added to all these qualifications, the purchaser may reasonably expect to save from 30 to 50 per cent, in fuel expense.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES,

Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience

THE combination of ingredients in these Pills, is the result of a long and extensive practice; they are mild in their operation, and certain to restoring nature to its proper channel. In every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are certain to open those obstructions to which females are liable, and bring nature into its proper channel, whereby health is restored, and the pale and deathly countenance changed to a healthy one. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, that most always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, he Pills will invariably remedy all these evils. In all cases of painful menstruation, or nervous and spinal affections in the back and limbs, lowness of spirits, hysterics, &c. Nor are they less efficacious in the cure of Leucorrhœa, commonly called the "Whites." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. Warranted purely Vegetable, and free from any thing injurious to life or health. Full and explicit directions which should be read, accompany each box.

These Pills are put up in square, flat boxes.—Persons residing where there are no Agencies established, by enclosing One Dollar in a letter, prepaid, to Dr. C. L. CHEESEMAN, Box No. 4531, Post office, New York City, can have them sent to their respective addresses by return of mail.

When merchants fondly trust to paper,
And find too late that banks betray;
What art can help them through the scrape, or Suggest the means wherewith to pay?
The only way to stop each croaker,
And pay the banks to whom they trust;
To bring repentance to the broker,
And wring his bosom, is "to bust."

SINGULAR INSTANCE OF DELIBERATE SELF DESTRUCTION FROM EXCESSIVE DRINKING.—A young man named Charles Coates, 22 years old, who had been suffering for some time from consumption, learning from his physician that he could not possibly recover, became so despondent that he determined to destroy himself, and chose liquor as the agent by which to effect his fatal purpose. He began drinking excessively two weeks ago, and has continued ever since, true to his resolve, being excessively intoxicated from morning until night. The effect of this ceaseless imbibation was that he died yesterday morning.—Cincinnati Gaz., Oct. 9.

HAPPINESS.—Why should you not be happy? Are you writhing under the influence of poverty? Never mind, fifty years, and death, that constant laborer, will bring about a general levelling of the present generation. The rich and poor, great and small, high and low—the child of fame and the humblest laborer, will all be slumbering together in the silent earth. Don't look back—look ahead—press onward—don't repine—be cheerful—you can't reverse the laws of nature—the past you can't recall, the future you know nothing about; therefore, do the best you can each moment, and leave the result with God.—Exchange.

Gen. James Hamilton has consented to become a candidate before the South Carolina Legislature for Senator Butler's seat, but has a curious conception of the duties he may have to discharge. He expects to be called upon to inaugurate a civil revolution, and wishes to be on hand to meet it. What its precise nature is to be he does not say; but it is to be connected in some way or other with Kansas, and is to give South Carolina an opportunity of again deciding whether she can remain in the federal Union "with honor" or not.—Portland Advertiser.

Many of our Cotton Manufactories, finding it impossible to continue operations, are sending their Cotton back to Boston to be shipped to England, where it commands a ready sale, and affords them a larger profit than it would if made into cloth on this side of the water. The free trade policy which thus enables the English manufacturer to take the work out of the hands of our people, is a ruinous one to this country, and we cannot look for stability and prosperity in business, until it is reversed.—Lowell News.

There is a capital story told of some one who prayed that the Lord would "bless the potato crop, which seemed to have been smitten in his displeasure, and regard with special smiles the few planted in our back garden."

☞ The Young Men's Temperance Association, of Newburyport, are unanimously of the opinion that the dram shops in Newburyport must be closed up.

A STRIKE.—The Hagerstown (Md.) Chronicle, a Know Nothing print, says, "A crisis has arrived in our business, and we are determined not to strike another blow for the American party, until it strikes a blow for us."

☞ It is believed Mrs. Cunningham has fled to parts unknown. Her case in the Supreme Court at New York has been postponed till Saturday next, when, if she is not forthcoming, a bench warrant will be issued for her arrest.

☞ Godey's Lady's Book, for November, contains a beautiful engraving of The Governess, with a tale as beatiful, bearing the same title. The Value of a Good Wife, in the editor's table, is an excellent practical sermon. The number contains fifteen colored plates.

☞ A Republican meeting at Trimbelle, Wisconsin, was addressed by "Mr. G. H. Knowlton of Maine," whose speech is spoken of as "a manly, spirited and eloquent affair, and a good specimen of 'down east' stump speaking." George is a Portsmouth boy, and a sample of our young Republicans.

☞ A Mrs. Hurd, of Berwick, Me., committed suicide on Friday night by hanging herself. She has been partially deranged for some time.

PATENTS GRANTED.—Thomas Odion of Portsmouth, N. H.—For apparatus to protect buildings from fire.

Samuel Shepherd of Nashua, N. H.—For improved method of stemming and polishing peanuts.—Ballot.

A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: subdues inflammation—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily, as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a pin, dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.

Portsmouth Banks.

In this city, business appears to be going on in a quiet, safe way, and there has not been a single failure which would not have occurred in ordinary times. Our banks are managed with judgment and have as good a specie basis as any in the country. On the first Monday in September the liabilities (including the Capital Stock) of the four banks of deposit and discount in this city amounted to $1,281,032.16, to meet which there were assets to the amount of $1,363,290.36—leaving a surplus of $82,258.20.

On Monday last, Oct. 12, the four banks of this city presented the following statement:

BANK OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Assets.		Liabilities.
Due the bank	215,173.45	Capital	150,000.00
Specie	8,152.00	Deposites	30,372.42
Dep. in other b'ks	10,248.50	Circulation	49,717.00
Bills of other banks	7,337.00

MECHANICS & TRADERS BANK.

Due the bank	320,763.69	Capital	141,000.00
Specie	9,024.01	Deposites	97,328.76
Dep. in other b'ks	17,515.51	Circulation	82,008.00
Bills of other banks	4,964.56

PISCATAQUA EXCHANGE BANK.

Due the bank	275,392.00	Capital	200,000.00
Specie	10,358.00	Deposites	64,937.00
Dep. in other b'ks	29,162.00	Circulation	47,514.00
Bills of other banks	491.00

ROCKINGHAM BANK.

Due the bank	321,535.06	Capital	200,000.00
Specie	8,725.14	Deposites	23,417.51
Dep. in other b'ks	17,921.35	Circulation	73,288.00
Bills of other banks	4,291.01

By these returns it appears that on Monday last the liabilities were, $1,159,582.69 being a reduction of $121,449.47 since September, and the assets $1,261,154.59—a reduction of $101,635.77. Of these liabilities the sum of $691,000 composes the capital stock of the banks.

By the above statement it appears that our banks are in an exceedingly favorable condition and he fears need be entertained for the safety of any funds deposited in them.—Gazette.

BANK BILLS.—People should be on their guard against making any unnecessary losses from bills of suspended banks. In almost every instance of bank failure the bills will be good, whatever becomes of the stock of the institutions. That would be the case in this State; and in many others, as in New York, Illinois and so on, the circulation is secured by State stocks. We notice in various sections of the country, that these notes, worth a hundred cents for a dollar, some time are being sacrificed by persons struck with "panic," who do not give themselves a moment to consider what they are about.

The above we adopt from the Newburyport Herald. There are doubtless some bad banks which will not survive the severe sifting the times will give them—but there is no bank in Portsmouth but will come out handsomely when the present mist passes away. The bills of Portsmouth banks are all as good as the specie. This present suspension is a matter of local protection, which all good citizens should commend. If this course was not pursued, the specie, which is their business basis, would be mostly drawn from their vaults, to aid in sustaining the speculators in large cities.—Portsmouth bank bills are, and will continue to be as good as specie.

SAVINGS BANKS.—In the present money pressure, we would remind those who have deposits in the Portsmouth Savings Bank that no more secure place for investment can be found in New England. Next July will be the term for the division of profits, made once in five years, among the depositors. If any withdraw before that time, they receive but 4 per cent., leaving all the profits to those who remain. Estimating from past dividends, the interest for those who have had deposits for the past five years will be from 7 to 8 per cent. per annum. The investments of the Bank are in each State or City stocks as are not rendered insecure by the change of times.

☞ Albert H. Hoyt, Esq., of this city has been appointed Pension Agent, vice Edw. N. Faller, Esq., resigned.

☞ We are informed that Joseph D. Pillow has been elected Treasurer of the Concord and Portsmouth Railroad, and Thomas D. Bailey, Ticket Agent.

PORTSMOUTH NAVY YARD.—We learn that orders were received at the Navy Yard on Thursday, to fit the sloop-of-war Vandalia for sea immediately. She can be made ready for sea in ten days. The despatch with which she was repaired in the dock has never been excelled at any yard in the country. The sloop-of-war St. Louis is expected to arrive at this station the latter part of this month and the John Adams shortly after.

LAUNCH.—The ship New-Hampshire will be launched from the yard of the late Samuel Badger, this noon, Saturday, at high water.

FAIR RECEIPTS.—The Exeter News letter is informed by the Treasurer that the largest receipts at any exhibition of Rockingham Agricultural Society at Exeter were $470, and that in no year were they less than $500, besides a subscription each year of $200. The subscription at Portsmouth, which has been erroneously published in some papers was $486, and the receipts $840.

James Hapenny, who at the last February term, was tried and convicted of robbing from the person of one Smith in High street in this city, but who was granted a new trial, came into Court and having retracted his plea of guilty of robbing from the person pleaded guilty of an assault and was sentenced to two months in Common Jail.

A case of infanticide occurred in Boscawen on Saturday last. Miss Augusta Fowler, who had become the mother of an illegitimate child, tied a string around the neck in a few hours after birth, which caused its death.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1857.

BANKS ON FINANCE.

In Boston, on Friday evening, Faneuil Hall was thronged by an audience who listened with eager attention while Hon. N. P. Banks delivered a masterly speech, occupying more than two hours in delivery, upon State affairs. He traced the present financial troubles directly to the neglect of the industrial interests of the country by the federal government. In State matters, he promised a responsible and economical government, if the administration should be confided to his hands. Several other gentlemen addressed the meeting. Those who were unable to gain access to Faneuil Hall, proceeded to Chapman Hall where another meeting was organized, and speeches were made by Judge Russell and others.

In Mr. Banks's speech, as reported by the Advertiser, he traced the disasters which now beset us to their active cause, the neglect of the industrial interests of the country, by the federal government, in its zealous devotion to the new-born principle, alleged by the administration to be paramount, that the Constitution and the flag of the Union carry slavery into the public domain wherever the authority of the nation extends.

Mr. Banks began with considering the condition of the country when Gen. Pierce came into power in 1853. We were then in a highly prosperous condition, with a surplus of 21 millions of dollars in the treasury, certain to increase to 30 millions in 1857, and 44 millions in 1858, unless some new policy should be speedily adopted to check this idle accumulation of specie in the vaults of the national treasury. The Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. Guthrie (to whom Mr. Banks gave a cordial tribute of praise as an honest and intelligent fiscal officer) met the question fairly. He proposed forthwith to change the tariff so as to make only two schedules in place of eight—one a schedule of articles to be assessed duties of 25 per cent., the other a free-list of 210 articles, embracing all raw materials produced not at all, or in insufficient quantities in the United States, and used in our manufactures. He thus secured the great point allowed to be sound by all our statesmen, from Washington downwards—a tariff for revenue, with incidental protection to American manufacturers—besides another great point admitted as sound even by the greatest disciples of free-trade, (Sir Robert Peel and Robert Rantoul, jr., were quoted as authorities to this effect)—the free introduction of raw materials, so as to allow our manufacturers a chance to compete on equal terms with those of other nations. The plan was acceptable in men of all parties and all parts of the country, who studied only the common good. Mr. Guthrie, as representing the South, was its author; Mr. Appleton, as representing this district, accepted it; and it was likewise hailed with pleasure by the democratic interest in the Middle States.

President Pierce at first adopted the plan as an administration measure; but Congress failed to pass it, because the slaveholding interest refused its assent, and the president was too weak to persist. The President had recommended positively this beneficial plan in his message of 1853; he was silent about it in his message of 1854; and in that of 1855, he disavowed it, and announced that he would recommend no change in the principles of the tariff of 1846; thus echoing the clamor of the opponents of the scheme, who insisted that the tariff of 1846 meant free trade, and who were too selfish or too ignorant to know that free trade does not necessitate a duty on raw materials. Thus it happened that the industrial interests of the country were cruelly sacrificed for the new scheme just then started, which President Pierce embraced with his whole heart,—the repeal of the Missouri Compromise, and its long train of fearful results, engrossing the whole attention of the government, and ending at last with the recent avowal by President Buchanan, that the Constitution carries slavery with it into the national domain.

Mr. Guthrie adhered to his plan with noble pertinacity: but it was not until the expiring moments of the last Congress, that in the face of a probable accumulation of specie in the national treasury before a new tariff could be passed, so enormous that it could not be tolerated, that a partial relief was with difficulty granted, in an amendment of the tariff. Even six months earlier, this would have averted the present calamities. But for a hostile influence predominating at Washington, we should have had the relief four years ago; and our manufacturers would have been saved thirty-two millions, in four years, which they have been forced to pay into the overflowing treasury of the United States, as duties on raw materials,—for what? Not to pay the debts of the Union, for those had been met promptly, and even anticipated; not to defray the expenses of the government, for the other revenue was more than enough to cover these; but simply to lay idle in the national vaults, paralyzing commerce by its abstractions from the ordinary channels of trade, and ruining New England by loading her manufacturers with heavy weights in the race of competition with the world.

Mr. Banks traced out other points in which the influence of the national government has been exerted in opposition to the industrial interests of the country, in obedience to the mandates of those who hold that the Constitution of the United States carries slavery—the antagonist of free industry—wherever the national authority extends; and who have insisted upon the development of this doctrine. Among others, the demoralizing influence of the land grants, too often made the rewards to enterprising men and thriving communities for stifling their sentiments on the subject of slavery. From this departure of the administration from the true principles of government, have sprung inflation, corruption, extravagance,—pressure, distress, and temporary ruin.

Mr. Banks expressed very confidently the opinion that the present troubles are but temporary. The resources of the country and the energy of the people will enable us to recover from the shock, and we shall revert to a new order of things. But we must not mistake results for causes, nor forget the source of the evil. Inflation, corruption and extravagance, are the results of the neglect by the national government of the industrial interests of the country.

☞ The Pennsylvania Relief Bill suspends, until April 1, all penal provisions on banks, for declining specie payments; forbids any bank to declare over 6 per cent. dividends to stockholders; and provides that the collectors of taxes, tolls, and other State revenues, be authorized to receive the bills of said banks for State purposes—that the banks shall receive the bills of other solvent banks in Pennsylvania at par; that executions on judgments, where there is unencumbered real estate to meet the judgment, shall be suspended one year, upon proper security being given, except when the judgment be for wages of labor; that the benefits of the act shall only extend to such banks as accept the third section.

☞ In New York the new constitution provides that suspension destroys the bank. Nevertheless, means will be found to go around this provision. A meeting of the Judges of the Supreme Court for the New York and Brooklyn districts, resulted in a determination calculated to protect the banks from the annoyance of vexatious injunctions.

We have read the judges' opinion. It is full of the most ingenious and lawyer-like dodges, and will help to keep everything steady.

The New York Evening Post of Thursday afternoon says that specie was carried through the streets of that city that day, looking for buyers at one per cent., and found them exceedingly scarce. Coin is abundant, and the premium may be said to be nominal.

FROM CALIFORNIA.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—The steamship Northern Light arrived at midnight.

She brings the mails of Sept. 21st, and $1,666,000 in treasure on freifht, and 728 passengers.

The returns show a majority for John B. Weller, the Democratic candidate for Governor, of 11,090 over both Bowie, American, and Stanley, Republican, nominees. The latter leads his Know Nothing competitor 1000 votes. The legislature is also overwhelmingly Democratic. The people have resolved to pay the State debt due by a majority of 15,000 against repudiation, but have also refused to call a State Convention to revise the Constitution.

Col. Fremont had been in Mariposa, attending to disputes about his great claims there.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Mayor Wood was re-nominated by the Tammany Democrats last night, by a unanimous vote on the first ballot.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—The Law of 1853 authorizes the redemption of stocks until the surplus shall have been reduced to $6,000,000. The Secretary decided yesterday that that limit had been reached; in coming to this result he deducts $7,500,000 in the mints and branch mints. The redemption of stocks has ceased. The amount presented for redemption this morning was $100,000. The Government will suspend on no other payment.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—The "Exchange" Cook Stove, sold by Mr. Blaisdell, will be found an excellent article. All who have used them, pronounce them without an equal. They are designed for coal, but will do good service even with wood. B.

☞ The only place in this city where an Ambrotype can be obtained, is at Davis' Ambrotype Gallery, No. 8 Daniel Street, as they have the Patent, and all infringements will be prosecuted. sept9

☞ Probably most persons are familiar with the story of a little dog,—who, when the moon was shining brightly, used to run out and bark at her; but all the while the moon kept right on shining. Just so I KEEP RIGHT ON SHINING; or in other words,—keep right on making the various kinds of Pictures in the Heliographic or Photographic art.
sept15 A. GREGORY.

☞ Our friend in his illumination says nothing about Ambrotype, and does not seem to have the slightest idea that his "shining" is decidedly gassy. Don Quixotte's monomania never reached so high a point as that; but 'as we have as much as we can do by daylight, we do not make pictures by moon or gas-light, and our friends will govern themselves accordingly.

As regards the Ambrotype, we are determined to stop the sale of a spurious article, to the injury of our business, the deception of the public, and the consequent injurious impressions against the Ambrotype. For this reason, we offer $25 reward for an Ambrotype made in this place, other than at our Rooms. And as the word Ambrotype was coined for and patented with the Picture, we offer the same reward [$25] for any picture made or sold as an Ambrotype. Evidence sufficient to convict in the U. S. courts will be required to the last case; in the other, the Picture itself is all the evidence we want. DAVIS BROTHERS.

WHO THAT IS TROUBLED

With any of those disagreeable complaints, such as Jaundice, Dyspepsia, or Liver diseases of any kind, but would like to know of a remedy for these unseemly visitations? We feel that we are doing our invalid readers an invaluable service if we can induce them to get a bottle of Dr. Sanford's Invigorator, and take it, for we know from personal experience that it is one of the greatest remedies for general debility, and consequent inactive bodily powers, ever before used. Its action is so perfect and complete as to give relief the first time taken, and if it does to others as it has to us, half a bottle will be all that is needed. We know of nothing we can recommend with such confidence, as a family medicine, as the Invigorator.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

PRESERVATION OF THE HAIR.—In all ages and among almost all tribes of men, a beautiful head of hair has been, and still is, regarded as the first ornament of the fairest works of the Creator. The patrician dames and damsels of ancient and modern Rome bestowed that attention upon the hair which has added the crowning beauty to the chef d'œuvre of the sculptor and the painter, and no lady, and indeed no gentleman of modern times is unmindful of this exquisite shield and lovely ornament of the face. To maiden beauty it is the finishing touch; to manhood it is the symbol and warrant of strength; and to age it was, in the days of the patriarchs; indeed such it always had been and always will be.

But unable as we are to withstand the ills of time and life, it often happens that through disease and misfortune we become grey in early life, and bald before we reach the full grace of womanhood or the full stature of manhood.—Then it is that however much we may venerate the grey locks and reverence the wisdom of bald head among the honored remnants of the generation of three score and ten, we know that our grey hairs are no more venerable than beautiful; while our bald heads are neither the one nor the other, but, on the contrary, are quite the reverse of both and impose upon us many social and sanitary disadvantages and discomforts.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

FRIDAY, Oct. 16.

The case Ferguson vs. Clifford was argued and given to the jury at ten o'clock.

The action Seavey, appt., v. Seavey—an appeal from the Judge of Probate—was next put on trial. Hatch for pltf., Hackett for deft.

On the 14th, Susan Palmer of Plaistow was fined $100 and costs, on two sales of intoxicating liquor.

MORE BURGLARY.—On Thursday night, or Friday morning, about 2 o'clock, Mr. Daniel Pepper, who keeps a small shop in the house in which he lives, on the corner of Austin and Cabot streets, was awakened by his wife, who told him somebody was breaking into the house. Without stopping to dress, or procure a light, he immediately descended to the room used as the store; where he heard a slight noise, but could see nothing.

Mr. Pepper procured a bar, and spoke twice, hoping to learn from the burglar's voice his whereabouts, so as to deal him a a blow; but the fellow was wise enough to keep his own counsel, until he reached a trap-door or hatch leading down cellar—when he muttered something Mr. P. could not understand. Mr. Pepper chased the thief through the cellar-case and back-yard into Austin and Anthony streets, calling after him, "stop thief, stop thief." But there was nobody to stop him; and Mr. Pepper not being so young or spry as he was once, and not particularly fancying a long run in the heavy rain and mud, in his night-rig—deemed it best to return home.

He found the burglar had entered by the back way, as he went out; having wrenched off the hasp of the gate, which was nailed down, and pried open the cellar-door with an iron bar, which he left behind.—It also appeared that he went up stairs and entered the chamber where Mr. and Mrs. Pepper were sleeping, took his vest and coat, and descended below stairs again, before Mrs. P. awoke. A candle was apparently placed so as to shine into the chamber, by the light of which, shining through the half-open door, the thief probably ascertained the location of Mr. P.'s clothes—then put out the candle, and secured his booty in the dark. At any rate, all was darkness when Mrs. P. woke. The vest and coat were found in the street near the house. A roll of bills, amounting to $30 or more, was taken from a pocket in the vest; besides which, the money drawer in the shop was rifled, and a small amount of change secured.

We learn that the watchmen had previously seen a couple of chaps lurking about another store, not far from the one entered; but after the heavy rain began, about 10 o'clock, the rascals, perhaps seeing the watchmen, who were lying in wait for them, thought best to leave.

Some rascals also entered the slaughter house of Joseph Currier, on South street the same night, and carried off some fine roasting pieces which they deliberately cut from a hog, which had been slaughtered the afternoon before, and which was hanging in the building.

The house of James Janvrin, on South street, was entered one night last week, by some hungry rascal, and all the provisions that could be transported, were carried away. It is said that a pail containing the dinner which Mr. J. was to carry to his work the next day, was also emptied of its contents.

It is a great pity that some of these chaps who go round breaking into houses and stores—and who are evidently old hands at the business—should get off without carrying at least a good charge of shot with them. We should think it was about time for some attempt to be made by somebody to stop such transactions.

☞ The Locks on the doors of the vault in the new Rockingham Bank, are ingenious and beautiful specimens of mechanism. Each lock will admit of 8000 changes. Mr. Muller, the inventor, defies any one to pick one of his locks, even Hobbs himself; and in fact, it is regarded as an impossibility to accomplish the feat. Mr. John Fernald of Boston, (of the firm of Edwards, Fernald & Kershaw, Safe manufacturers, who make and sell the above locks,) was engaged in putting on those above mentioned; and being in a hurry off Thursday evening, he locked the inner door of the vault before the lock was filed sufficient to work without friction;—and, when he tried to unlock it, found it was no go. This was considered rather bad, and it was thought it would be necessary to cut through the iron door; but by means of drilling he succeeded in turning the lock, and the door was opened. The cost of the two locks is $10.00.

S. D. & H. W. Smith,

—MANUFACTURERS OF—

Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,

—and—

PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

No. 511 Washington St., Boston.

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass. Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which formerly characterized the instrument, and rendering the tones full, clear and organ like. The action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid music without blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower set running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and thus get in one case two distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, the two banks of keys may be played at the same time by use of the front set only. This connected with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

Is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church Instrument, being arranged with two banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of as great volume of power as the Church Instrument when used without the pedals. Also, every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory, being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced and skilful workmen. In short, we will promise our customers an Instrument equal, if not superior to any Manufactured, and guarantee an entire and perfect satisfaction.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in musical matters, are respectfully invited to visit our Rooms at any time and examine or test the instruments on exhibition for sale at their pleasure.

As a still further guarantee to the public as to the excellence of the MELODEONS from our Manufactory, we beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following

Piano Forte Manufacturers of Boston,

who have examined our Instruments, and will give their opinion when called upon:

A BEAUTIFUL HEAD

OF RICH GLOSSY HAIR,

TO THE GREATEST AGE.

AND who that is gray would not have it restored to former color; or bald, but would have the growth restored; or troubled with dandruff and itching, but would have it removed, or troubled with scrofula, scald head, or other eruptions, or with sick headache, (neuralgia) but would be cured? It will also remove dandruff from the face and skin. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative will do all this. See circular and the following.

ANN ARBOR, November 5th, 1856.

PROF. O. J. WOOD :Dear Sir: I have heard much said of the wonderful effects of your Hair Restorative, but having been so often cheated by quackery and nick nostrums, hair dyes, &c., I was disposed to place your Restorative in the same category with the one thousand and one loudly trumpeted quack remedies, until I met you in Lawrence county some months since. When you gave me such assurance as induced the trial of your Restorative in my family—first, by my good wife, whose hair had become very thin, and entirely white; and before exhausting one of your large bottles, her hair was restored nearly to its original beautiful brown color, and had thickened and become beautiful and glossy upon, and entirely over the head; she continues to use it, not simply because of its beautifying effects upon the hair, but because of its healthful influence upon the head and mind. Others of my family and friends are using your Restorative, with the happiest effects; therefore my skepticism and doubts in reference to its character and value are entirely removed; and I can and do most cordially and confidentially recommend its use by all who would have their hair restored from white or gray, (by reason of sickness or age,) to original color and beauty, and by all young persons who would have the hair beautiful and glossy.

Very truly and gratefully yours.

SOLOMON MANN.

FRIEND WOOD: It was a long time after I saw you at Blissfield before I got the bottle of Restorative for which you gave me an order upon your agent in Detroit, and during that time I concluded to try it on Mrs. Mann's hair, as the surest test of its power. It has done all that you assured me it would do; and others of my family and friends having witnessed its effects, are now using and recommending its use to others as entitled to the highest consideration you claim for it.

Again, very respectfully and truly, yours,

SOLOMON MANN.

CARLYLE, ILL., June 24, 1852.

I have used Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and have admired its effects. My hair was becoming, as I thought, prematurely gray, but by the use of his Restorative it has resumed its original color, and I have no doubt permanently so.

Morning Chronicle.

How Brigham Young passes a Day.—Brigham has many small children living, and one of his wives is schoolmistress to the whole. His two large houses are well furnished, and his daughters play on the piano and melodeon. He is a great lover of fruit and a warm patron of the horticultural societies of Utah. Brigham's time is completely occupied. He rises early and calls the whole of his family together. They sing a hymn, and he prays fervently, and they then separate for the duties of the day. He takes his meals at the long table, and as he has no taste for gastronomic refinements, his fare is simple.—A bowl of bread and milk often comprises his breakfast. His next duty is to make the rounds, "to see the women folks."

To these he is cordial and kind, but no more. He is not Brigham the lover or husband, but Brigham the Prophet and President. They feel for him more reverence than love, watch his face and treasure his words, torturing each of them into the key of some great mystery. He then goes to his office, which is already besieged by visitors, who have come to ask his advice. Brigham Young is by no means a paragon of temperance. He likes a cup of good liquor now and then, as well as any other man, and is sometimes seen after taking a drop too much.—Mormonism: Its Leaders and Designs. By John Hyde, Jr.

A Sell, Decidedly.—Going in the cars to Boston the other morning, a story was told in our hearing, by a genial, good-natured gentleman from North Carolina, though a temporary sojourner of this city, so good that we cannot let it pass without giving others a chance for a hearty good laugh. As the story ran—a countryman (farmer) went into a store in Boston the other day, and told the keeper that a neighbor of his had entrusted him with some money to expend to the best advantage, and he meant to do it where he would be best treated. He had been used very well in Boston by the traders, and he would not part with his neighbor's money until he found a man who would treat him about right. With the utmost suavity the trader says, "I think I can treat you to your liking; how do you want to be treated?" "Well," says the countryman, with a leer in his eye, "in the first place I want a glass of toddy," which was forthcoming. "Now I will have a nice cigar," says the countryman. It was promptly handed him, leisurely lighted, and then throwing himself back, with his feet as high as his head, he commenced puffing away like a Dutchman. "Now what do you want to purchase?" says the storekeeper. Countryman—"My neighbor handed me two cents when I left home, to buy him a plug of tobacco; have you got the article?" The storekeeper sloped instanter, and the next thing that was heard of him was, that his sides were shaking and his face on fire with laughter, as he was relating the sell to his friends down town.—Fall River Monitor.

Arabian Riding.—Being in the saddle, means something in Turkey, I assure you, for a Turkish saddle is about as much like an American saddle, as a Turk is like an American. You sit between two upright boards, well padded, the one behind you being high enough to support the small of the back. Your feet rest in the shovel stirrup, which is described by its name. It is a piece of sheet iron, flat and turned up at the sides, about a foot long by six inches wide. The points curve outward. On this the entire foot rests, and the points answer the purpose of spurs. But the difficulty is, that the inexperienced rider is using his spurs constantly, for he cannot keep the points of the stirrup out of the horse's sides, or fore legs, and the horses of Egypt are fiery and furious. Hence, but for the saddle, which will not let one be thrown off, a fresh rider stands a poor chance.

Advantage of Punctuation.—Punctuation—that is, the putting of stops in the right places—cannot be too sedulously studied. We lately read, in a country paper, the following strange account of Lord Palmerston's appearance in the House of Commons: Lord Palmerston then entered on his head, a white hat upon his feet, large but well polished boots on his brow, a dark cloud in his hand, his faithful walking stick in his eye, a menacing glare, saying nothing. He sat down."—Punch.

Punctuated right, it reads thus: Lord Palmerston then entered, on his head a white hat, upon his feet large but well polished boots, on his brow a dark cloud, in his hand his faithful walking stick, in his eye a menacing glare. Saying nothing, he sat down.

Testing the Devil.—Cuvier was a good deal of a wag. He didn't believe in the existence of spirits, and was wholly free from timidity. Some wags on one occasion planned an attempt to frighten him. One of their number, dressing himself in hide, hoofs and horns, after the most approved fashion in which his Satanic majesty is portrayed, met him during his evening walk in the garden. "Who are you?" asked Cuvier. "The Devil!" answered a deep, sepulchral voice, proceeding from the "presence." "Well, what do you want with me?" "I have come to eat you up!" Cuvier stepped back a few paces, eyed the figure from head to foot a moment; then said, slowly and meditatively:—"Umph! horns—hoofs—gramnivorous: it can't be done!" And he quietly resumed his walk, while the Devil made the best of his way out of the garden.

"Times are improving and men are getting on their legs again," said a gentleman to his friend. "How so?" "Why, those who used to ride down in their carriages, now walk."

LOTTERIES.
The Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of this State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the laws of this State every ticket must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. We have proceeded upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $60 to $50,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.
☞ A list of the numbers which are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers: New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to SWAN & CO., Savannah, Georgia.
Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.
All communications strictly confidential. m18 1y

LOTTERIES.
The well-known and Old Established Lotteries, of Messrs. R. Francis & Co are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled in the next drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. Drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Ternary combinations. Prizes vary from amount from $20 to $100 000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.
☞ The drawn numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner in the following papers, viz: Sun, Clipper, Patriot, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

Magee's Patent Ventilating Stove.

FOR WARMING AND VENTILATING
PARLORS, OFFICES, HALLS, STORES, SCHOOL HOUSES, &c.
Which for economy, purity of air, and ease of management, has no equal. It can be regulated so as to give
Any amount of Heat required,
and unlike all other Anthracite Coal Burners, ventilates the apartments quite as thoroughly, as a wood fire or Franklin, producing a current of Air, at once moist, pure and agreeable, and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache, so much complained of by those using Stoves and Furnaces, is entirely obviated. The fire may be continued from one to four days without replenishing.
These Stoves are beautiful in design, and finished in the most perfect manner. They are equally appropriate, and have given universal satisfaction to all who have adopted them,
For Offices and Stores as well as the Parlor.
The Inventor challenges the world to produce an article by which so much Pure Warm Air can be generated, from so small an amount of fuel, requiring but about 15 pounds of Anthracite Coal, to warm an ordinary sized parlor for 24 hours, without replenishing, and then have the fire enough to rekindle without the use of charcoal. The coal is all used, and no clinkers made, consequently, sifting coal is dispensed with.—When this Stove is properly managed,
THE FIRE MAY BE CONTINUED THROUGH
THE ENTIRE SEASON,
without once going out. Added to all these qualifications, the purchaser may reasonably expect to save from 30 to 50 per cent, in fuel expense.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.
DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES.
Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience.
This compound of powerful ingredients in these Pills, is the result of a long and extensive practice; they are mild in their operation, and certain to restoring nature to its proper channel. In every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are certain to open those obstructions to which females are liable, and bring nature into its proper channel, whereby health is restored, and the pale and deathly countenance changed to a healthy one. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular; and whatever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, that most always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, the Pills will invariably remedy all these evils. In all cases of painful menstruation, or nervous and spinal affections in the back and limbs, lowness of spirits, hysterics, &c. Nor are they less efficacious in the cure of Leucorrhœa, commonly called the "Whites." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. Warranted purely Vegetable, and free from anything injurious to life or health. Full and explicit directions which should be read, accompany each box.

A WRECK.

The fate of the gifted Haskell of Tennessee, should be a warning to all young men. He passed through Louisville last week, in charge of his friends, on his way to the Lunatic Asylum at Lexington. While on the Frankfort car he arose, and in the most eloquent and pathetic terms appealed to the gallant Kentuckians, among whom he was, to protect him from the relentless enemies he imagined were pursuing him. He became so excited and violent that his friends were forced to confine him. The career of this gifted but unfortunate son of genius should be known for the lessons which it teaches. From his earliest boyhood, says the Nashville Banner, he has shown himself possessed of the highest order of talent. While at college, he distinguished himself as a poet and orator. His graduating speech is spoken of by those who heard it as worthy of the immortal Prentiss in his palmiest days. He served his country on the battle-field and in the halls of Congress. It was his residence at Washington that confirmed upon him those unfortunate habits which finally blasted his intellect.

He at one time broke the fiery serpent from his hands, and dashed it to the earth. To make his own reformation complete, and aid in lifting up others who had fallen like himself, he went through the State lecturing on temperance. The tour was an eminently successful and brilliant one, his lectures being fully equal to those of Gough, whose eloquence has electrified thousands in this country and in England. But his old habits gained the mastery of him again, and his subsequent life has been but a fearful struggle between his appetites and his ambition—a struggle in which it must be confessed his appetites have generally triumphed. So great, indeed, was his craving for artificial stimulants, that even while delivering his temperance lectures, he made use of drugs, sufficient in quantity and potency to burn out the vitals of an ordinary man. Their was no subject, whether ancient or modern, grave or gay, upon which he did not converse with fluency and careless elegance. He passed with the most careless ease, from the profoundest disquisition upon the doctrines of the Bible, the religion of Confucius, or the Baconian philosophy, to the lightest literature of the day.

HEAVY BUSINESS OF THE TELEGRAPH.—Telegraph Building, No. 21 Wall street, N. Y., Oct. 16.—D. H. Craig, Esq., Agent Associated Press. Dear Sir:—I am requested by my associates in this building to reply to your circular note of this morning on their behalf as well as my own.—Since the failure of the Ohio Trust Co., now about eight weeks, our lines have been in every direction crowded with a large amount of business, but more particularly to the West. The daily increase has averaged from 75 to 100 per cent, the total number of messages sent from and received in this city by all lines in one day, having reached nearly 5000. Of course, this great bulk of business, so much more, than we have ever had occasion to accommodate, has tasked our facilities to the utmost extent, and it has been with regret, that on many days, we have found the business limits only to be an ability to transmit it. We have been obliged in many instances to trespass upon the rights of the Press, but have felt assured that they would cheerfully submit to anything to relieve the panic. Very truly, yours,
A. B CORNELL.

The foregoing note speaks for the Buffalo, National and House Co.,' lines, leading to the west, south-west, east, north and south, all radiating from the telegraph building, No. 21 Wall street. We also learn verbally that the various other lines from this city have been much crowded with private dispatches, and that their business has aggregated fifteen hundred to two thousand messages per day, making a total of 7000 messages per day sent from and received in the city of New York.

AIR AND EXERCISE.—A young man should walk in the open air six miles every day. A young woman three or four,—When still, we use 500 cubic inches of air in a minute. If we walk at the rate of one mile an hour, 800; two miles an hour, 1000; three miles an hour, 1600; four miles an hour, 2300. If we run at six miles an hour, 3000; trotting a horse, 1750; cantering, 1500.—Dr. Hall.

FATAL RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—Syracuse, Oct. 19.—The mail train on the New York Central Railroad, was thrown off the track west of this city last evening, in consequence of a piece of the road being washed away. The whole train, consisting of baggage car, mail car, and four passenger cars, was thrown down an embankment of twenty feet and all smashed. There were sixty passengers—Miss Brown of Toronto, was drowned. Mr. Bronson of New Britain, Conn., was badly injured, and died to-day. Twenty other passengers were injured—six of them seriously. The mail car and mail bags, except one, were burnt.

FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUBDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a pin, dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.
☞ Of its intrinsic value, the enlightened community, and not the discoverer, must be the judge.

EAST AND WEST.

Ever since the subsidence of the California fever, there has been a constant current of emigration setting from the Eastern States into the States of the great North West. Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Kansas, and Minnesota have been drawing upon the best portion of our population; and so deeply has the emigrating spirit settled into the people,—or rather unsettled them—that the man of silver locks, as well as the youth of twenty, has been ready to gather up his effects, tear himself away from all the quietude and comforts of home, and staff in hand, to totter off to the verge of civilization, to—die! The soil, the climate, the productions of the East have been cried down, and in the distant West has been discovered the Eldorado of all human ambition.

Seen at the distance of fifteen hundred miles, through the medium of newspapers, of letter-writers, of speculators' circulars, et cetera, the West is a paradise, where no pulmonary diseases lurk, where sickness is almost unknown, where everything needful for human wants is to be had for the mere plucking; where there are no wintry blasts or sultry summer suns, but where balmy airs, spicy groves, blooming prairies, perpetual health and cheap fare ever prevail; where game is waiting to be snared, where fishes proffer themselves for broiling, and where roasted pigs run round the streets, with carver and fork stuck in their backs, squealing to be cut up.

But when one in the exercise of a calm, reasonable judgment makes the tour of the West, he becomes satisfied that "distance has lent enchantment to the view." True, he will find but little of the tubercular consumption so common and so fatal with us; but he finds any amount of pneumonia, a disease of the lungs so rapid that it cannot wait for tubercles, and which carries the patient off with the railroad speed to which our countrymen are so partial: he will find on nearly all the water courses—the populous sections of the country—more fever and ague than consists with a tranquil state of the nerves; he will find all the necessaries as well as luxuries of life exceedingly high; he will find a full quantity of fresh water frogs, and the other disagreeable qualities peculiar to new countries.

That the West is emphatically the fever region of the country, all medical men know full well. Upper Wisconsin and Minnesota are exceptions to the foregoing remarks, so far as the general healthiness of the country is concerned; but they are more exposed than more southern regions to the diseases incident to New England. The cold of winter and the heat of summer are more penetrating and insufferable all through the West than with us, because being so far inland, the climate does not have the modifying influences of the ocean to temper its extremes. That the West is emphatically the farming region of the country is beyond dispute, its soil being of incomparable richness, and needing, at present at least, no extraneous dressing to increase its fertility.

One fact, however, is not generally known, and that is, that more corn, wheat, beans, buckwheat, barley, potatoes, &c., are raised upon the acre in the East than in the West. The average per acre of nearly all these is greater in the Eastern States than in the West, while the average market price is very largely in favor of our own producers. A reference to the national statistics will fully sustain the position here taken. We know that the raising of these crops with us requires more labor than at the West, but the fact that we have stated is sufficient to show the fertility of our soil, and that labor will make it productive, provided that labor is wisely bestowed upon it.

We have not room in this article to say all we desire, or all we propose to say, but we wish to call attention to a single fact. It is this: In nearly all cases where fortunes have been made at the West, it has been done, not by legitimate business, but by speculation or by the rise of real estate. Patient, untiring industry is not so well paid there as here. The day laborer is not so well paid, so well fed, so well housed or so well clothed there as here. His wife does not enjoy so many advantages, see so many friends, or meet with so many pleasant episodes in life there as here. His children do not enjoy so good schools, have so good Sabbath School privileges, or enjoy as many other advantages there as here. We are speaking of the common laborer. That the sharp speculator, the keen observer and the vigilant watcher for "the main chance" can amass more money there than here is no doubt true, but, as we have already said, patient, untiring, honest industry seldom gains by long removals.

The truth is, the West has been living upon and sapping the East. Our young men have been going out from us, carrying all the money they could command, for investment in the West. Our capitalists, our banks—many of them, have been disgorging their spare funds for investment in 2 per cent. loans, secured by bond and mortgage on western soil.

The pressure has come. The money which has flowed from the East westward is being re-called. No more funds can be easily raised for western investment. The soil with its fertility has in future got to be the dependence of the West. Fictitious prices and fancy city lots cannot be kept up. As the nonproducing swarms in the West turn their attention to agriculture and become producers, prices must come down. The East will reap an advantage from this. Commerce will come in for its tribute as the vast crops will move forward for a market. True as the returning tides of the ocean, the tide of business, of thrift, of population even, is about returning eastward.—Bath Organ.

MURDERS IN BOSTON.

Between Saturday morning and Monday morning, in Boston, says the Advertiser, "a policeman has been shot dead while in the discharge of his duty; a sporting but orderly and peaceable man has been fatally stabbed, without provocation, while his companion received such wounds as to place him upon the very brink of death; and an infant has been suffered to starve to death, evidently by the desire of its cruel parents. Then a man who was quietly passing through our streets on Sunday evening, received a malicious stab from a rowdy as he went past him; and one woman fractured another's skull; while a man vented his spleen by knocking part of a woman's teeth down her throat."

The following are the material circumstances in the murder of Hilton, by Henry L. Sutton, on Saturday, as reported in the Advertiser.

George J. Sutton, mate of the schooner Caroline E. Johnson; Henry L. Sutton, his brother, and Sylvester L. Bacon, captain of the schooner Garote, had been to the Worcester railroad station together, to redeem a ticket to New York which Henry L. Sutton had bought, having intended to go to that city on Saturday evening, but afterwards changing his hand. Returning from the station house through High st, they entered the yard of house No. 44, kept as a boarding house by Mrs. Margaret Fagan, and engaged in unseemly acts before a window where women were seated. John Donovan, one of the boarders in the house, went out to remonstrate with them and ask them to go away, when he received a blow from Henry L. Sutton, who, as well as his companions, was quite intoxicated. John Hilton, a sporting character, known as the "Limerick boy," who lived opposite, went out to the assistance of Donovan, and the fight became general between the five. Henry L. Sutton drew a knife, at which Donovan fled for a short distance, but was pursued and stabbed by Henry L., and then ran into the kitchen, bleeding profusely. He had received three wounds—one deep one in the right arm-pit, one in the abdomen, and a slight one in the head. He was attended by Dr. W. J. Whitney, and was soon conveyed to the hospital, where he lingered in great pain through the night. On Sunday evening, however, he was quite comfortable, with a flattering prospect of recovery.

After Donovan was stabbed, the attacking party fled, but were pursued by Hilton, who followed Henry L. Sutton down on Liverpool wharf. Here Sutton turned and demanded what Hilton wanted. He replied, "to whip the man that stabbed my cousin." Sutton said that the same knife that stabbed Donovan should stab him, and inflicted upon him a blow with the knife, which entered his neck and passed down into his lungs. Hilton was taken into an apothecary's store in the neighborhood, but died from hemorrhage in about twenty minutes, after giving a clear statement of the affray to an officer in attendance.

We learn that Sutton, besides his other assaults, struck Mrs. Fagan a heavy blow with a slung shot, and also that as he was passing out of the yard, he aimed a blow with his fist at a girl who was holding the gate. The blow missed her, however, and was spent upon the gate itself.

After stabbing Hilton, Sutton made a desperate resistance to the officers and others who attempted to arrest him. Mr. Jacob Todd, who does business upon the wharf, endeavored to seize him, but was himself stabbed by Sutton, the knife passing through his thigh. Mr. Todd was carried to his residence in West Concord street, where his wound was dressed by Dr. Warren, who pronounced it severe but not dangerous.

Sutton was finally captured, and taken by officer Vinal to the Second Police Station. He then accompanied Sergeant Warren and officer Hill to Commercial wharf, where his brother and Capt. Bacon were easily arrested. He maintained that the first blow was struck by Donovan.

Hilton has recently been divorced from his wife; he leaves two young children. Although a sporting and fighting character, he was extremely civil and polite to every one. Donovan is a single man, and was of a gentle disposition.

Henry L. Sutton is a young man, about 22 years old, of good appearance and carriage, and has hitherto borne a good character. He has recently returned from California. He justified the act of stabbing an Irishman who had struck him, and was glad he had not a pistol with him, as he might have done more damage; he says he was himself stabbed, and shows a wound in his thigh which seems to have been inflicted with a penknife.

The Courier's report says of Sutton: "Henry L. Sutton, the murderer, was not at all under the influence of liquor; he states that he is not accustomed to use it. The other two were somwhat intoxicated."

The murderer's own statement, about his not drinking, is to be received with great allowance, being a sort of plea of not guilty.

But the Ledger says: they were "all three slightly intoxicated."

And the Traveller says they were so much so as not to know that they were creating a nuisance, or that they were in sight of a household of women.

The strong probability is that they had drank just enough to be lordly and brutal.

Policeman Murdered.—We learn from the Boston Ledger, that on Sunday morning, a little after 5 o'clock, police officer Ezekiel W. Hodgdon was found shot through the head. The billy and cap of the officer were also lying beside him, together with another cap, probably belonging to the murderer or his accomplice.—Hodgdon died on Sunday at 10 A. M.

A man named Francis C. Weymouth, who lives near the corner of Havre and Maverick streets, states that he heard some men talking loud together, and went to the window, when he could just distinguish two men; he heard one of them say, "You must go with me to the station house," when the other man said something in reply; when the words were repeated; at that moment a third person came up, and said, "Let my friend go," and in an instant after, Mr. W. saw the flash of a pistol, heard the report, saw the officer fall, and the two men run off in the same direction. From this it would appear (and there is no doubt but such was the fact) that officer Hodgdon had arrested a burglar, and was taking him to the station house, when he was shot by an accomplice of the thief or burglar, whichever it may have been.

Mr. Hodgdon was a highly respectable citizen, and an efficient officer. He was appointed in July, 1856. He leaves a wife and one child. His wife is still confined to her room, having given birth to a child about a week since. He was 26 years old, and a native of Ossipee, N. H., and had resided in Boston about eight years.

The Crops of 1858.—The Chicago Free Press says: "From personal observation during the last four weeks, in this State (Ill.) and Iowa, as well as from repeated conversation with farmers, we are satisfied that there is more winter wheat sown the present summer than during any previous year in the history of the West. In most instances, however, we have found that the seed drill has been used, and great care taken in plowing and rolling.

Along the line of the Chicago, Alton and St. Louis, and Chicago and Rock Island Railroads, we observed some large fields pretty well advanced."

☞ A man, for begging in Newburyport, was sentenced two months in the House of Correction. He requested to be fined, instead,—and was allowed to pay $9, if he would leave town; but begging still, was sent to the House of Correction, carrying with him $30 in specie which he had begged.

A New Word.—"Telegram" is a new word, which has been introduced by our trans-Atlantic friends. It signifies a telegraphic despatch reduced to manuscript. —Boston Transcript.

If we are not mistaken, Elizur Wright first used the word "telegram," in his spicy little Chronotype, years ago. At any rate, it is not a new word, but was used this side the water time since.

Fatal Accident.—Hartford, Oct. 17.—Two boys, deaf mutes, about 12 years of age, inmates of the Deaf and Dumb Asylum, were instantly killed this afternoon, while walking upon the track of the Hartford and New Haven Railroad, contrary to the rules of the Asylum. They were going the same way as the cars, and were not aware that a train was approaching.—Their names are John Parker of Andover, Mass., and Benjamin Dawson of North Salem, N. H. They had been in the Asylum three years.

The Same Old 'Coon.—Mr. Jewett Rogers, Jr., of Byfield, Mass., killed a racoon, a few days since, that weighed 25¼ pounds. He had all the spirit of the coons, and tore a dog half to pieces, frightened a woman, and made fight with Mr. Rogers, before he was shot.

☞ At a corn husking in Hitchcockville, Conn., last Saturday evening, two hundred bushels of yellow ears were neatly stripped; forty girls kissed, five 'engaged,' and every body at home before 10 o'clock. That's something like business.

☞ The New York Journal of Commerce claims that the result of the Pennsylvania election is a thorough and emphatic endorsement of Mr. Buchanan's administration, his New Haven letter and the Dred Scott decision.

Returning to the Scenes of Youth.—The Boston correspondent of the N. Y. Times says that Hon. Caleb Cushing will be chosen to the Massachusetts House of Representatives at the coming State election.

☞ James Kent of Byfield, Mass., had his arm broken by the kick of an ox that he was shoeing, on Friday.

☞ Patrick Hayes, aged 17, was accidentally killed in Manchester on Friday, by a shot gun in the hands of another boy named Albert Robinson.

Bank Suspension.—Louisville, Oct. 17. The Jeffersonville Branch State Bank, of Indiana, refused specie to-day for its bills.

Arrest of Robbers.—Washington, Oct. 17.—Somerville, one of the robbers of the Richmond Custom House, was arrested in Richmond to-day, and a portion of the deposites recovered. Wheeler, his accomplice, was committed to jail here yesterday, on the same charge. The latter, when arrested, gave up $300, a pair of gold diamond studs, a splendid gold watch and a bunch of skeleton keys. He is known to be the son of a celebrated English thief, and has committed heavy thefts in various parts of the Union. Somerville was concerned in the robbery of jewels in the Patent Office, which took place a few years ago.

Not Suspended.—St. Louis, Oct. 17.—The report that the Bank of the State of Missouri has suspended is untrue. The Directors have determined to pay every dollar, and express confidence in their ability to weather the present storm, as well as that of 1837. There is no run to-day.

No Sales of Cotton Prints.—Providence, Oct. 17.—The Journal reports that there have been no sales of print cloths for the week.

☞ The only place in this city where an Ambrotype can be obtained, is at Davis' Ambrotype Gallery, No. 8 Daniel Street, as they have the Patent, and all infringements will be prosecuted. sept9

☞ Probably most persons are familiar with the story of a little dog,—who, when the moon was shining brightly, used to run out and bark at her; but all the while the moon kept right on shining. Just so I keep right on shining; or in other words,—keep right on making the various kinds of Pictures in the Heliographic or Photographic art.
sept15 A. GREGORY.

☞ Our friend in his illumination says nothing about Ambrotype, and does not seem to have the slightest idea that his "shining" is decidedly gassy. Don Quixotte's monomania never reached so high a point as that; but as we have as much as we can do by daylight, we do not make pictures by moon or gas-light, and our friends will govern themselves accordingly.

As regards the Ambrotype, we are determined to stop the sale of a spurious article, to the injury of our business, the deception of the public, and the consequent injurious impressions against the Ambrotype. For this reason, we offer $25 reward for an Ambrotype made in this place, other than at our Rooms. And as the word Ambrotype was coined for and patented with the Picture, we offer the same reward [$25] for any picture made or sold as an Ambrotype. Evidence sufficient to convict in the U. S. courts will be required in the last case; in the other, the Picture itself is all the evidence we want. DAVIS BROTHERS.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Preservation of the Hair.—In all ages and among almost all tribes of men, a beautiful head of hair has been, and still is, regarded as the fairest ornament of the fairest works of the Creator. The patrician dames and damsels of ancient and modern Rome bestowed that attention upon the hair which has added the crowning beauty to the chef d'aeuvre of the sculptor and the painter, and no lady, nor indeed no gentleman of modern times is unmindful of this exquisite shield and lovely ornament of the face. To maiden beauty it is the finishing touch; to manhood it is the symbol and warrant of strength and nobility, to-day as in the days of the patriarchs; indeed such it always had been and always will be.

But unable as we are to withstand the ills of time and life, it often happens that through disease and misfortune we become grey in early life, and bald before we reach the full grace of womanhood or the full stature of manhood.—Then it is that however much we may venerate the grey locks and reverence the wisdom of bald head among the honored remnants of the generation of three score and ten, we know that our grey hairs are no more venerable than beautiful; while our bald heads are neither the one nor the other, but, on the contrary, are quite the reverse of both and impose upon us many social and sanitary disadvantages and discomforts.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

SATURDAY, Oct. 17.

Sidney S. Seavey v. Joseph W. Seavey, Executor of the estate of John W. Seavey, deceased. Probate appeal in which the appellant, Sidney S. Seavey claimed $2304 of the deft. as executor for the use and occupation of her land by the deceased, (who was her son) timber, wood, services as housekeeper, use of furniture, farming utensils, &c., &c. The parties reside in Rye. Verdict for deft. Hackett for deft. Hatch for plff.

MONDAY, Oct. 19.

The action John S. Couch v. Nancy C. Stevens is on trial. Wood for plf., Stickney for deft.

Court will rise to-morrow (Tuesday.)

☞ We understand that Rev. Cyrus F. Knight, of Boston, has been invited to become Rector of St. John's Church in this city, with the offer of $1250 salary, and $500 outfit. He occupied the desk last Sabbath, but has not yet signified his acceptance of the offer.

Mr. Holmes, of the Christian Church; Rev. Mr. Hall, of the Methodist Church; and Rev. Mr. Perkins, of the Free Will Baptist connexion—(worshipping at the Temple)—each administered the rite of baptism, to applicants for admission to the several churches, on Sunday last.

The Middle Street Church was closed on Sunday afternoon last, on account of the indisposition of the pastor.

DROWNING THE RATS.—On Saturday afternoon we observed a fire engine at the reservoir on Market Square, with men working away diligently, while a full hose led into the door of the Bridewell.—We supposed the water went in there to cleanse the Augean Stables;—but were told it was done to drown out the rats, which were troublesome We have not learned the number of the slain, but presume it was small. Nevertheless, we think a good rinsing of the premises well worth the money it cost—and if the occupants of the cells, clothes and all, could be washed in the same, according to law, the effect would be salutary.

☞ Though there has been no panic here, such as stirred up the people in Philadelphia, New York, and other cities, yet the pressure in the money market is more or less felt everywhere. Except for the statement that our Banks have suspended specie payments, few would suspect it. We, however, heard a business man inquiring, a day or two ago, how he was going to pay a Nova Scotia skipper for a cargo of merchandize; and he was told that he would have to buy the specie. And specie has immediately become very scarce, so that all sorts of dodges are resorted to, to obtain it, even in small sums—such as buying a few cents' worth of something, (anything, almost) and presenting a bill to be "broke." One of our oystermen told such a customer that he would have to eat up his dollar-bill, as he could give him no change but bivalves; and storekeepers are favored with a host of customers for small articles—all of whom have "promises to pay."

A gentleman who wished to pay a creditor in a neighboring town, was told that he must bring the cash: but there are very few such as he—and business goes on as usual, with the currency of the banks, as heretofore—and there is no reason why it should not.

Specie, in New York, only brings 1 per cent. premium—plainly showing that there is no real and great scarcity. There is surely no scarcity of change here, except that it is hidden by the timid and ignorant. It will be plentiful in a few days.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—On Saturday afternoon last, George Dennett, aged 13 years, (youngest son of the late Alfred Dennett,) residing on Water street, in this city, went to the farm of Mr. John Johnson, Sagamore Creek, in quest of nuts. He ascended a tree, and stepping upon a rotten limb fell fifteen or twenty feet to the ground, striking his head against a rock, and fracturing his skull. Dr. Folsom was immediately sent for, and every attention rendered, but he died on Monday morning at 8 o'clock.

GREAT FALLS, N. H., Oct. 18.—The Blanket Mill in Lebanon, Me., was burnt this morning about two o'clock.

A watchman in the Portsmouth Steam Factory saw the above fire, from the upper story of the building.

A TOAD BY MAIL.—A young lady in Portsmouth, N. H., in one of those funny freaks young ladies will have, ever and anon, recently sent a live toad by mail to a friend in Washington street, in this city. A neat paper box served for a shrine, while a postage stamp paid his fare.

His toadship arrived at his destination yesterday morning, alive and kicking, having been a day and a half on his passage. Uncle Sam is not always supposed to know what he carries in his pockets.—Brooklyn (N. Y.) Eagle, 16th.

☞ The Greenville (S. C.) Enterprise says that negro property has depreciated at least twenty-five per cent. in that district within a month past. Several causes have combined to lower the price. The panic in the financial market, and the consequent fall in the price of cotton, have contributed in a great measure to produce the depreciation of negro property.

GALENA, Ill., Oct. 17.—Ramsay, Republican, is certainly elected Governor of Minnesota, and the whole Republican ticket, probably.

DUBUQUE, IOWA, Oct. 17.—21 counties have been heard from, and Samuels, Republican, for Governor, gains 5500 on Fremont's majority.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—The surplus in the Treasury, including the mint fund, is about twelve millions. Secretary Cobb hopes to get through the year without a loan.

☞ The following, dropped into our box on Saturday, can only be intelligible to interested parties. It shows, however, that "hard times" have a good deal to do with the "course of true love:—"

"A little* farm well filled,
A little wife well willed."

Owing to the pressure in the money market I has not yet been able to purchase that 'little farm'; but hopes that the 'little wife' is as well willed as ever.

A BEAUTIFUL HEAD

OF RICH GLOSSY HAIR,

Completely Preserved

TO THE GREATEST AGE.

AND who that is gray would not have it restored to former color; or bald, but would have the growth restored; or troubled with dandruff and itching but would have it removed, or troubled with scrofula, scald head, or other eruptions, or with Sick headache, (neuralgia) but would be cured. It will also remove all pimples from the face and skin. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative will do all this. See circular and the following.

ANN ARBOR, November 5th, 1856.

PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir: I have heard much said of the wonderful effects of your Hair Restorative, but having been so often cheated by quackery and quack nostrums, hair dyes, &c., I was disposed to place your Restorative in the same category with the one thousand and one loudly trumpeted quack remedies, until I met you in Lawrence county some months since, when you gave me such assurance of its efficacy, that I tried it on my family—first, by my good wife, whose hair had become very thin, and entirely white; and before exhausting one of your large bottles, her hair was restored nearly to its original beautiful brown color, and had thickened and become beautiful and glossy upon, and entirely over the head; she continues to use it, not simply because of its beautifying effects upon the hair, but because of its healthful influence upon the head and mind. Others of my family and friends are using your Restorative, with the happiest effects; therefore my scepticism and doubts in reference to its character and value are entirely removed; and I can and do most cordially and confidentially recommend its use by all who would have their hair restored from white or gray, (by reason of sickness or age,) to original color and beauty, and by all young persons who would have the hair beautiful and glossy.

Very truly and gratefully yours.

SOLOMON MANN.

FRIEND WOOD: It was a long time after I saw you at Hillsdale before I got the bottle of Restorative for which you gave me an order upon your agent in Detroit, and when I got it we concluded to try it on Mrs. Mann's hair, as the surest test of its power. It has done all that you assured me it would do; and others of my family and friends, having witnessed its effects, are now using and recommending its use to others as entitled to the highest commendations possible for it.

Again, very respectfully and truly, yours,

SOLOMON MANN.

CARLILE, ILL., June 28, 1852.

I have used Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and have admired its effects. My hair was becoming, as I thought, prematurely gray, but by the use of his Restorative it has resumed its original color, and I have no doubt permanently so. S. BRESSE, ex-Senator, U. S.

FALSE CAPITAL AND THE MONEY PRESSURE.—The following is from a sermon of Dr. Cheever, as reported in the New York Herald:

"Dr. Cheever continued by attributing the cause of financial pressure to the fact that we held eighteen hundred millions' worth of property in human beings, which property belonged to God. We were working on this false capital. It was the basis of commercial transactions. Bills were accepted that had no other bottom.—Our merchants sustain it by accepting the bills of men who have got so many chattels; and when we find the largest benevolent society in the land declaring that the gospel must not be published if it has a bearing against the system, it is no wonder God smites.

When we find justice turned into wormwood in the highest tribunal of the land, the wonder is that God is so patient, that he does not tumble down our brown stone fronts and palatial mansions. But He is demanding his money now, and if we had a telegraph from heaven the demand could not be more plain or direct.—It had become a national sin—this "stealing of men and setting traps and snares," and we had more reason to expect God's retribution, for He visits the sins of individuals on nations which refuse to punish them."

AGED WIDOWS.—A correspondent at Salisbury Point, sends us the names of twelve widow ladies, now living in that village, and all within a quarter of a mile of each other, the total of whose years is 1019, and the average 84 years and 11 months. We do not believe that an equal number, in so small a community, can be found anywhere else in the country. As the youngest is 81 years old, they have all passed the period where ladies object to telling their age, and may not therefore be offended if we publish the list as our correspondent furnished it: Betsey Morrill 87; Betsey Penson 82; Ann Webster 81; Lucy Osgood 96; Ruth Morrill 84; Susan Clark 81; Hannah Stevens 85; Polly Evans 85; Judith Evans 84; Eunice Worthen 86; Ruth Worthen 84; Polly Fowler 83.—Newburyport Her.

"DIED POOR."—As if any body could die rich, and in that act of dying, did not loose the grasp upon title-deed and bond, and go away a pauper, out of time. No gold, no jewels, no lands nor tenements.—And yet men have been buried by Charity's hand, who did die rich—died worth a thousand thoughts of beauty, a thousand pleasant memories, and a thousand hopes of glory.

FAME.—One old chap at the State Fair, overhearing some men conversing together about Millard Fillmore's being present, exclaimed—"Fillmore—Fillmore—let's see—what did he do? Want he up for something once?" We left him trying to think what Fillmore was up for, and mentally exclaimed—"Sick is greatness."—Buffalo Times.

Which cures Dysentery, Diarrhœa, Cholera Morbus, and all the affections of the Bowels as attended with Pain and frequent Discharges.

This Medicine is now being introduced into all parts of the United States and British Provinces, and great success attends its use everywhere. These Powders are now offered to the world as a PERFECTLY SAFE AND EFFECTUAL MEDICINE, for the purposes they are recommended, and in nine cases out of ten when they are taken in the first stages, and almost invariably use will effect a permanent Cure;—and unlike all other preparations, which, it they check the disease, leave the person in a condition that requires physic after it, which is not the case with the Dysentery Powders, for they regulate the Bowels, tone up the system, and leave it in a healthy state.

ONE POWDER WILL CURE THE WORST CASE,

These Powders are put up in boxes, with full directions on each box, and sold for 50 Cents.

Please try them; if they do not give perfect satisfaction, return them and take your money.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lottories of Semmes & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries established by Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets—Whole, $5; halves, $2½; quarters, $1.25. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simplified that all can easily understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $50,000; every prize is paid in full, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia.

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from any sum to other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m15ly

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. FRENCH & Co are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and are sworn commissioners elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. A new particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets sent, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100 000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

☞ The drawn numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner in the following papers, viz: Sun, Clipper, Patriot, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

FRANK JONES.

Magee's Patent Ventilating Stove.

FOR WARMING AND VENTILATING
PARLORS, OFFICES, HALLS, STORES, SCHOOL HOUSES, &c.

WHICH for economy, purity of air, and ease of management, has no equal. It can be regulated so as to give

Any amount of Heat required,

and unlike all other Anth acite Coal Burners, ventilates the apartments quite as thoroughly, as a wood fire or Franklin, producing a current of Air, at once moist, pure and agreeable, and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire put heated for respiration, the tendency to produce headache, so much complained of by those using Stoves and Furnaces, is entirely obviated. The fire may be continued from one to four days without replenishing.

These Stoves are beautiful in design, and finished in the most perfect manner. They are equally appropriate, and have given universal satisfaction to all who have adopted them.

For Offices and Stores as well as the Parlor.

The Inventor challenges the world to produce an article by which so much Pure Warm Air can be generated, from so small an amount of fuel, requiring but about 15 pounds of Anthracite Coal, to warm an ordinary sized parlor for 24 hours, without replenishing, and then leaving fire enough to rekindle without the use of charcoal. The coal is all used, and no clinkers made, consequently, sifting coal is dispensed with.—When this Stove is properly managed,

THE FIRE MAY BE CONTINUED THROUGH
THE ENTIRE SEASON,

without once going out. Added to all these qualifications, the purchaser may reasonably expect to save from 30 to 50 per cent, in fuel expense.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.
DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES.

Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience

THE combination of ingredients in these Pills, is the result of a long and extensive practice; they are mild in their operation, and certain in restoring nature to its proper channel. In every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are certain to open those obstructions to which females are liable, and bring nature into its proper channel, whereby health is restored, and the pale and deathly complexion changed to a healthy one. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, that must always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, he Pills will invariably remedy all these evils. In all cases of painful menstruation, or nervous and spinal affections in the back and limbs, lowness of spirits, hysterics, &c. Nor are they less efficacious in the cure of Leucorrhœa, commonly called the "Whites." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. Warranted purely Vegetable, and free from any thing injurious to life or health. Full and explicit directions which should be read carefully, accompany each box.

These Pills are put up in square, flat boxes.—Persons residing where there are no Agencies established, by enclosing One Dollar in a letter, prepaid, to Dr. C. L. CHEESEMAN, Box. No. 4 631, Post Office, New York City, can have them sent to their respective addresses by return of mail.

MORMON OUTRAGES.—A letter has been received in New York, from W. P. Landon, one of the clerks whom the late Surveyor General Barr left in charge of the office, when he, for his own safety, left the territory of Utah last spring. He was, on the 18th of September, in Placerville, Cal. In giving an account of his escape from Salt Lake City, he says that, while engaged in conversation with a party of emigrants, he was assaulted by a gang of Mormons, led on by a fellow named Dick Pettit, and a ruffian associate, who, without cause, beat him with stones and clubs—He was scarcely able to reach home, in consequence of his wounds. The same afternoon they attacked the Deputy Surveyor, Mayo, with stones. Landon was driven from his home at night, leaving his wife and child at Salt Lake City. After adroitly eluding his armed pursuers, he reached Placerville, in the most distressed condition.

He says he met, on the road, the Indian Peter, who used to frequent the Surveyor General's office. Peter informed him that Brigham Young had sent him out to get horses and carbines. The Indian spared his life because he had on several occasions, given him red paint. Landon had not long parted from him before he (the Indian) shot a man, with four balls. The man escaped, though much injured.—An other clerk in the Surveyor General's office, Mr. Wilson, was also attacked by the Mormons. They roughly seized him, tearing him away from his family.—They commanded him to go with them and make no fuss, or they would d—d soon show him what they were going to do with him. Mr. Landon's letter gives the particulars of these occurrences. He concludes by saying that all the Mormons have left Placerville and Carson Valley for the purpose of defending Zion.

THE CARRIER PIGEONS.—Among the passengers by the Atlantic was Henry J. Rogers, Esq., of Baltimore. On approaching Sandy Hook the steamer was neared by the news agent of the associated press, when Mr. Rogers sent a message to his wife, which was immediately conveyed to the telegraph office by a carrier pigeon, and thence telegraphed to the city. When he stepped ashore at New York from the steamer, he was met with a message from his wife, telegraphed from Baltimore, informing him they were all well at home.

JOHN C. FREMONT.—This distinguished gentleman on his recent arrival in San Francisco was waited upon and tendered a demonstration in his honor. He modestly declined the proffered service and expressed his wishes to be only seen and known as a private citizen. Verily, he evinces a true republican spirit.—Nevada Journal.

☞ A great fire in Chicago on Monday, destroyed property valued at about $600,000. Four men perished by the falling walls, and it is feared that others were killed.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston,

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remmitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can point at no other office of which more are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay here, are here saved inventors.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

Answer 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: expunge INFLAMMATION, no matter—whatever be the form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, or it is carried off, or extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a quill dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.
☞ Of its intrinsic value, the enlightened community, and not the discoverer, must be the judge.

BANKRUPTCY.

The relief, which a suspension of specie payments by banks, gives, or can give, to the community, though real and important, must of necessity be temporary.

The Key-Stone State, Pennsylvania, which has just given a heavy majority for the Democratic party, has also by its legislature, passed a Relief Bill, to operate about six months, ending April 1858.

The judges of the New York Courts have done something,—and will probably do more in the same direction.

These two largest States, will be followed by the smaller,—and some kind of relief measures will be adopted all over the country;—but there will be hardly two alike. Nor can any or all of these measures restore to solvency or credit, all those who have gone down in the financial storm.

We have no National Bankrupt Law; but each State has its own system of distributing the estates of insolvent debtors; yet the debts and credits, pertaining to thousands of failed, suspended, and tottering concerns, are scattered over the whole country. The delay, uncertainty, and expense of collecting and cancelling all these debts, must be immense;—and the absolute loss to many honest men, very great.

That the great mass of bankruptcy will cause creditors as well as debtors to call for a bankrupt law, there can be little or no doubt. We expressed this opinion six months before the crash came, and see it confirmed now. It is therefore with pleasure that we hear of a good book on the subject, which may propose a beneficial bankrupt law.

Its title is:—"Hints for Relief by a general law to protect and promote amicable agreements for extension and composition between debtors and creditors; by Charles M. Ellis." Published by Messrs. Crosby, Nichols & Co., Boston.

The Advertiser speaks favorably of it, and says:—

It proposes a remedy for the state of things now existing, which is uniformly felt to be unfortunate for all parties concerned. Under our present laws, especially in view of the multifarious and diverse provisions of the laws of the separate States, it is extremely difficult, when a failure occurs, to secure an amicable arrangement by which the debtor may continue his business for the benefit of his creditors. Although a large majority of them, in number and interest, may desire that he should do so, it frequently remains in the power of a single recusant, residing in a distant State, to thwart the whole plan. Whatever is done, must be done by unanimous consent, after protracted and wearying negotiations. The law gives no facility to such arrangements. Loss of time is frequently fatal; and there are heavy expenses in meeting or evading the provisions of the laws of the several States.

It is Mr. Ellis's idea that the law should provide at once for a speedy meeting of the creditors in such cases, and when it appears that the debtor can conduct his business for their advantage, better than another, that he should proceed to do so under the sanction of the law, free from all unnecessary restraints and expenses whatever. Something of the kind is now provided under the bankrupt act of Great Britain. Such legislation would properly come from Congress; but in the absence of action by that body, might be partially supplied by the States, especially if several of the leading commercial States should act in concurrence on the subject.

Mr. Ellis's book gives a summary of the laws of the various States, on the important topics touching the rights and liabilities of debtors and creditors and their property,—analyses the English and French, as well as the American laws,—shows the course of legislation on the subject of bankruptcy; and sets forth the essential evils to which legal remedies should be addressed, growing out of the business, manners, and morals of the present times; and shows how practicable and beneficial a thing it would be under a general law to effect an immediate and full settlement of the body of cases, which are now, by the inefficiency and conflict of the laws, forced to the most ruinous administration and complicated litigation. It has also suggestions as to the classes of frauds which are recognized at the present day.

FINANCIAL.—The following speculations of the Washington correspondent of the New York Commercial are of interest at the present time:

"The well known sentiments of Mr. Buchanan upon the subject of banks and currency, preclude the idea that he will favor bank suspensions, or the banking system as it now exists. His speeches on financial questions, in the United States Senate, show that he considers banks and their influences as great moral as well as financial evils—that, while they produced a spirit of speculation that was unfriedly to State credit, they also begot and sustained a spurious aristocracy—based not upon honor, but upon wealth.

"It looks to me, now, from what I notice, that all the powerful Democratic party will perhaps run a tilt against the banks. There is one thing that restrains them from this course, to wit: they are in power, and enjoy all the honors and profits of the government at a time when a gold dollar is a rarity, and they are afraid to follow their leader. They are afraid of any change in a state of affairs so beneficial to them.

"There is no man now in a prominent position to take up and carry out Secretary Guthrie's plan for controlling or destroying the local banks. No Democratic leader in Congress has the courage to take up and carry through a bill to impose a stamp tax on every bank note below the denomination of twenty dollars. That measure would be pretty sure to break up banks of issue, because they are founded on the profits derived from small note circulation.

"But a party is rising in favor of a National Bank of some sort, of a protective tariff, and of a bankrupt law. So the state of things that existed twenty years ago, is coming round to us again. The Kansas issue is gone by; and this fact favors the rise of other issues of a general and practical nature."

DEFENSIVE ALLIANCE, WEST.—The merchants of the far West are acting in a body, and great difficulty is apprehended in the collection of debts, especially as they seem to have formed a defensive alliance with the lawyers. The merchants of St. Anthony and Minneapolis met in convention and resolved to ask a general extension. St. Paul merchants have done likewise; lawyers have agreed not to prosecute or levy any attachments for the same period.

A drunken man, the other day, was trying to get a watchman to arrest his own shadow. His complaint was that an ill looking scoundrel kept following him wherever he went.

The above hit reminds us of an incident which occurred in our younger days, the subject of which, sometimes saw stars, and on one occasion, (as appears by the following story) saw something else:

About twenty years ago, in the suburbs of the town of P———, lived a sturdy old farmer, who was in the habit of taking his faithful "old White" from the barn, once or twice a week, about dusk, and placing a saddle on her back, jog away "to town" at the rate of about four miles an hour; and spend the evening at the store, drinking, smoking, discussing the financial and political prospects of the village, &c., &c.

One evening, having stopped long after honest folks had retired, and being at the same time about "half seas over," he unhitched the old mare from the well-worn post, and after much difficulty in trying to arrange himself in the saddle, started for home. He had proceeded about half a mile, when on looking around, saw (as he affirmed) a man riding on a horse in all respects similar to his own, but, mirabile dictu! the rider was his satanic majesty, sure. Upon discovering his equestrian companion, our farmer was terrified beyond description; and giving the old mare the string, endeavored to leave Satan in the rear; but alas, his attempts were all in vain; the faster he rode, the nearer drew his comrade. At length, when he saw him blow fire from his mouth, and felt his hot breath, consequent upon such an operation, he laid his head on the horse, and covering his face with his hands, once more applied the lash, and shortly after arrived at his door; where he dismounted, hurried the old mare into the barn, and rushed into the house, frightened almost to death. The moon had been shining brightly, and what he supposed to be the devil, was his own shadow! *

☞ The Washington correspondence of the New York Herald says, "papers have been filed at the State department proving a certain Quaker gentleman in the State of Maine to be extensively engaged in the slave trade."

If this statement be true, it can easily be proved;—and the name of the culprit should be given. For the present, we disbelieve the story. There are few Quakers in Maine, and very few Quaker merchants there. Bring out the Quaker if he is guilty, and pull his hat off.—But let no bogus Quaker palm off his sins on that respectable people.

WESTERN ELECTIONS.—By Dispatches to the 20th,—seventeen counties in Minnesota give a majority of 900 for the democratic candidate for Governor.

48 counties in Ohio, gave Chase, republican, a majority of 1917. The Legislature, however, is democratic.

The returns from Iowa, as far as received are favorable to the republicans, but they are quite incomplete.

LOSS OF LIFE.—The steamer Tropic, sunk in the Missouri river, near Waverley, on Thursday last:—The steamer ran against a snag, crushing her wheel, and tearing away a portion of her hull, when she immediately sunk in 30 feet of water. She had on board 150 passengers, 12 or 15 of whom are supposed to be drowned.

KANSAS.

A St. Louis despatch of the 20th says:

The following is the official majority vote for delegate to Congress from Kansas:

For Ransom, democrat,— Leavenworth Co. 237; Atchison Co. 51; Johnston Co. 1604; Bourbon Co. 79; Dorn Co. 18.

For Parrott, free state,—Douglas Co. 1495; Shawnee Co. 688; Richardson Co. 126; Breckinridge Co. 359; Anderson Co. 191; Lykens Co. 288; Coffe Co. 182; Lynn Co. 36.

The St. Joseph correspondent of the St. Louis Republican says that the night after the election in Kansas, a party of soldiers encamped in Richmond attacked the residence of Mr. Dolman, the democratic representative of Neneh Co. in the Constitutional Convention, breaking the doors and windows of the house, and treating him very roughly. Lieut. Byard was immediately sent for, but he was unable to quell the disturbance until he struck down two of the soldiers, when the rest desisted and returned to their quarters.

The same correspondent mentions having seen a letter, stating that Wm. H. Wilson, (referred to in the Washington dispatch yesterday,) after having a rope tied round his neck and a pistol pointed at his head, escaped from Salt Lake safely.

A Washington dispatch of the 20th says:

Information has been received from an official source to the effect that the Constitutional Convention of Kansas will submit the Constitution for adoption or rejection to the legal voters of the Territory.

Very little dependence should be placed on any official information, of what any such body will do in future.

KANSAS.—The correspondent of the Missouri Democrat writes:

Lawrence, Oct. 9.—The latest returns give the contest a very doubtful aspect.—Both parties are claiming majorities. The pro-slavery party concede that Parrott is elected, but talk about contesting his seat. It can hardly be doubted that the free State men have legally elected a majority in both Houses. But the bogus officials at Lecompton have already commenced tampering with the returns. On account of some alleged informality in the appointment of the precincts, all the returns from the county of Franklin, save those from one precinct, have been thrown out. The returns thus refused were from four precincts, and gave free State majorities.

☞ On Tuesday evening, in the city of New York, Mr. Banks delivered the annual address before the American Institute, to an audience of about 10,000 persons, in the New York Crystal Palace; this address, is said to have been received with marked attention. A grand banquet closed the exercises of the evening.

The workmen in the employ of Grover & Baker, Boston, have united in giving Mr. Banks a beautiful sewing-machine as a testimonial of their esteem. This sewing machine is a beautiful specimen. It is enclosed in a handsome solid rosewood case, which, when closed up, forms a rich and ornamental piece of parlor furniture. On the top of the lid of the case, upon a silver shield, is engraved the following:—

"To Hon. Nathaniel P. BANKS, the Waltham mechanic; from the mechanics employed in the Grover & Baker Sewing Machine Company. Boston, October, 1857."

SPURGEON ON TEMPERANCE.—An intelligent friend, who read the story about Mr. Spurgeon's not being a total abstinent, says:—Rev. Mr. Spurgeon's opinions on total abstinence should have as little weight upon our opinions in this country, as the opinions of any New England Rev. of a century ago should upon those of the present day. That Rev. gentleman, although a very good and very useful man, is moving every day among a community who use their wines constantly and stronger drinks occasionally, and look upon that practice just as our grand-fathers did. How badly put to it men must be for excuses for wine bibbing and beer guzzling, who resort to such a source for a justification of it.

MASSACHUSETTS STATE FAIR, BOSTON.—The attendance of spectators on Tuesday, for a first day, was very good. The weather was chilly and blustering, and consequently somewhat uncomfortable. The programme, however, was fully carried out. The display of horses is large and very fine, while in the way of stock nothing has equalled it of late years, either in quantity or quality. There are upwards of 400 horses on the grounds, many of which are among the best in the country. The display of agricultural implements is excellent, as is also that of fruit and vegetables. In the latter department there are some monster productions.

BLACK BOILED SILKS.

BOILED BLACK SILKS.—We call the particular attention of purchasers to our Stock of Full Boiled Black Dress Silks. We are very particular in selecting our Black Silks, and shall keep on hand at all times, a good stock of 24 in., 26 in., 28 in., 30 in., and 32 inch of the same celebrated quality, which we have sold in such large quantities since we opened here; and which are warranted not to crack or break.

We receive our Silks new and Fresh every week. As this is an article which a person does not purchase very often, and which costs considerable money, it is very desirable to get the best in the market. For which purpose, purchasers are invited to call at the New Store, No. 15 Market Street. ALLEN & PAINE.

☞ The only place in this city where an Ambrotype can be obtained, is at Davis' Ambrotype Gallery, No. 8 Daniel Street, as they have the Patent, and all infringements will be prosecuted. sept9

☞ Probably most persons are familiar with the story of a little dog,—who, when the moon was shining brightly, used to run out and bark at her; but all the while the moon kept right on shining. Just so I KEEP RIGHT ON SHINING; or in other words,—keep right on making the various kinds of Pictures in the Heliographic or Photographic art.

sept15 A. GREGORY.

☞ Our friend in his illumination says nothing about Ambrotype, and does not seem to have the slightest idea that his "shining" is decidedly gassy. Don Quixotte's monomania never reached so high a point as that; but as we have as much as we can do by daylight, we do not make pictures by moon or gas-light, and our friends will govern themselves accordingly.

As regards the Ambrotype, we are determined to stop the sale of a spurious article, to the injury of our business, the deception of the public, and the consequent injurious impressions against the Ambrotype. For this reason, we offer $25 reward for an Ambrotype made in this place, other than at our Rooms. And as the word Ambrotype was coined for and patented with the Picture, we offer the same reward [$25] for any pictures made or sold as an Ambrotype. Evidence sufficient to convict in the U. S. courts will be required in the last case; in the other, the Picture itself is all the evidence we want. DAVIS BROTHERS.

WHO THAT IS TROUBLED

With any of those disagreeable complaints, such as Jaundice, Dyspepsia, or Liver diseases of any kind, but would like to know of a remedy for these unseemly visitations? We feel that we are doing our invalid readers an invaluable service if we can induce them to get a bottle of Dr. Sanford's Invigorator, and take it, for we know from personal experience that it is one of the greatest remedies for general debility, and consequent inactive bodily powers, ever before used. Its action is so perfect and complete as to give relief the first time taken, and if it does to others as it has to us, half a bottle will be all that is needed. We know of nothing we can recommend with such confidence, as a family medicine, as the Invigorator.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

PRESERVATION OF THE HAIR.—In all ages and among almost all tribes of men, a beautiful head of hair has been, and still is, regarded as the fairest ornament of the fairest works of the Creator. The patrician dames and damsels of ancient and modern Rome attested the attention upon the hair which has added the crowning beauty to the chef d'œuvre of the sculptor and the painter, and no lady, and indeed no gentleman of modern times is unmindful of this exquisite shield and lovely ornament of the face. To maiden beauty is the finishing touch; to manhood it is the symbol and warrant of strength and nobility, to-day as in the days of the patriarchs; indeed such it always had been and always will be.

But unable as we are to withstand the ills of time and life, it often happens that through disease and misfortune we become grey in early life, and bald before we reach the full grace of womanhood or the full stature of manhood.—Then it is that however much we may venerate the grey locks and reverence the wisdom of bald head among the honored remnants of the generation of three score and ten, we know that our grey hairs are no more venerable than beautiful; while our bald heads are neither the one nor the other, but, on the contrary, are quite the reverse of both and impose upon us many social and sanitary disadvantages and discomforts.

PROPRIETOR

LOCAL.

☞ Those persons who have wondered what the only veritable New York dray (the two-wheeled platform, with the high stakes,) we have in our city, is used for,—may see in its introduction here, some evidence that "the fools are not all dead yet," but that many of them still live even in this wise community. There is a brewery in full blast at the west end of the town, near the Creek; where grain that should be eaten by the hungry is turned into that which is neither food nor drink worth the having—and the business of that establishment is extensive and lucrative enough to demand the services of a team like that named above, to transport the "superior" swill to the retailing customers, many of whom are in this city, but some elsewhere.

The proprietor of this business is a beer-bibbling Englishman—whose name being Swindell, beautifully expresses the character of his trade; (and he is not wholly to blame, either, for it would come from elsewhere, if not made by him;) and it must be a source of regret to every reflecting person, that so much guzzling of beer is carried on among us, as to warrant the opening of a store in Market st., for wholesaling the stuff.

Let none who waste their earnings in this way, complain of hard times, or ask or expect sympathy. Talk of the women buying silks, &c.! who supports the brewery? There is probably not a beer-drinker in the city, who does not spend more annually for beer, than his wife does for dress.

☞ It is certainly very gratifying to hear that Messrs. Tobey & Littlefield have just laid the keel of another thousand ton ship, at their yard on Noble's Island, in this city. Now is the time to build ships, or anything else, if you have only got the money; and now is the time of all times, for those who have jobs and money, to give both to the mechanics who might otherwise be idle.

Purser George F. Cutter, of Charlestown, Mass., has been ordered to this Naval Station, in place of Purser Wilson, on leave of absence, and waiting orders; and has entered on the duties of the office.

Capt. John Pope, Commandant at this Naval Station, has been in Washington, serving on the Naval Court of Inquiry, for several weeks past; and Capt. John M. Berriam, who has been Acting Commandant Pope's absence, was on Wednesday ordered to Washington on similar duty. The charge of the Yard thus devolves on Lieut. Porter, an efficient and popular officer—which Capt. Berriam has also proved himself.

☞ We don't like "murder," and are not particularly fond of "slaughter" (houses); but we presume many people will trade where they can buy cheapest—and that, in the Dry Goods line, is said to be at J. B. Adams' Sales Rooms, No. 3 Congress Blk. Call and see for yourselves.

☞ The first snow of the season came down on Wednesday afternoon; and though it did not amount to anything but a snow-quall, yet with the cold temperature, and the wintry sky and wind, it was decidedly suggestive of winter. Ugh!

TIME PIECE.—A new clock, with three dials, has been placed on the Eastern Railroad depot, Causeway street, Boston,—which will prove a great convenience to passengers and the public generally.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Money continues stringent; the best class paper still selling for 3 per cent. per month. Business, however, continues to revive gradually. Specie stands at from 1 per cent. to par, and has a downward tendency. The amount held by our city banks is not less than $10,000,000, and compared with their liabilities they are in a stronger position than they have been for years past.

The Grocers' Bank to-day voted to go into liquidation; and the Bowery Bank, having forfeited its rights under the banking law, will probably have to follow the same course.

The Murderer of Swenson.—The coroner's inquest into the death of Mr. Swenson, who was murdered in Tenth Avenue on Saturday evening, fixes the crime upon James Rodgers, a youth of 16. He is not yet arrested.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 20.—The State Banking Institution, in this city, has opened a depository for the currency of the adjoining States; also, for the currency of the New England States, and the State of New York; also for the notes of the Philadelphia, Pittsburg and Baltimore banks.

A large number of the heaviest merchants advertise to receive all currency at par.

A lover is one who lives on sentiment and moonlight, who dislikes advice and salt pork, and supposes that all that's required to convert this world into a paradise, is a six-keyed flute and a pair of light blue eyes.

3 DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

HALIFAX, Oct. 20.—The royal mail steamship Europa, from Liverpool 1 P. M. Saturday, 16th inst., arrived at this port at 11.20 to-night. She has on board £63,160 specie.

At Liverpool Cotton advanced 1-8 of a penny: breadstuffs dull at a slight decline; sugar do; provisions dull and unchanged.

The Bank of England has raised its rates of discount from 5 1-2 to 6 per cent.

The Times has some lengthy remarks on the increase, and says the suddenness of the renewal of the drain of gold which has led to this step, has taken the public by surprise, because they were not prepared for the extraordinary news by the last American arrival.

Allowing due weight to that intelligence, there is nothing in the movement to create alarm, although there is high probability it may soon have to be repeated. Upon the whole, it is possible that the combined operations of the American panic and India insurrection may for the time have affected English resources to the extent of two or three million pounds. But the Times considers that, as regards the broad trade of the Empire, it is impossible to discern a cause of fear.

The discount establishments also advanced their rates one half per cent.

The weather has been very stormy on the English coasts, and numerous wrecks are reported, including the American ship A. B. Kimball, from Sunderland to New York, which was wrecked on Goodwin Sands. Crew saved.

The English papers are filled with reports of Fast Day Sermons.

The London Times devoted twenty six columns to the matter, embracing abstracts from discourses delivered at 154 churches.

The Rev. A. R. Spurgeon addressed at the Crystal Palace the largest audience that has assembled in modern times to listen to the ministry of the Gospel, nearly 24,000 people being present.

A large sum was collected in aid of the India relief fund, and the contributions at the churches generally were on a liberal scale.

A large stone was thrown at a passing train on the Eastern Counties Railway, which, entering a car-carriage, struck Professor Rogers, of Boston, in the face, breaking his jaw bone.

Catharine Hayes, the singer, was married in London to Mr. Bushnell of New York.

A proclamation had been issued by the Irish authorities, extending the limits of the proclaimed districts around Belfast; information having been received that the people instead of delivering up arms were concealing them outside of the original limits, so that they would be available in case of Irish disturbances.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the order received, and to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten will draw a prize, tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple and plain as to need no to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $60,000; every prize is paid in full, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount of each ticket, published in the newspapers after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly and Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. FRANCIS & Co are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. No particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. Tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, after the Havana plan, and Fernary combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100,000. All orders for tickets or packages sent receive prompt attention, and are filled in the order received, and forwarded immediately after it is over.

☞ The drawn numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner in the following papers, viz: Sun, Clipper, Patriot, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

Magee's Patent Ventilating Stove.

FOR WARMING AND VENTILATING
PARLORS, OFFICES, HALLS, STORES,
SCHOOL HOUSES, &c.

WHICH for economy, purity of air, and ease of management, has no equal. It can be regulated so as to give

Any amount of Heat required,

and unlike all other Anthracite Coal Burners, ventilates the apartments quite as thoroughly, as a wood fire or Franklin, producing a current of Air, at once moist, pure and agreeable, and at none of the air which comes in contact with the fire pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache, so much complained of by those using Stoves and Furnaces, is entirely obviated. The fire may be continued from one to four days without replenishing.

These Stoves are beautiful in design, and finished in the most perfect manner. They are equally appropriate, and have given universal satisfaction to all who have adopted them.

For Offices and Stores as well as the Parlor.

The Inventor challenges the world to produce an article by which so much Pure Warm Air can be generated, from so small an amount of fuel, requiring but about 15 pounds of Anthracite Coal, to warm an ordinary sized parlor for 24 hours, without replenishing, and then leaving fire enough to rekindle without the use of charcoal. The coal is all used, and no clinkers made, consequently, sifting coal is dispensed with—When this Stove is properly managed,

THE FIRE MAY BE CONTINUED THROUGH
THE ENTIRE SEASON,

without once going out. Added to all these qualifications, the purchaser may reasonably expect to save from 30 to 50 per cent, in fuel expense.

City Hotel, Portsmouth, N. H.
BY WM. S. HADLEY.

THE SUBSCRIBER has the pleasure of announcing to his old patrons, and the travelling public generally, that he has leased this well-known, commodious and pleasant House, and would invite travellers and others to make "themselves at home" on the premises—promising to spare no reasonable effort which may conduce to the comfort and satisfaction of visitors.

While acknowledging the liberal patronage with which we have been so long favored, in our old quarters; we would solicit a continuance, now that our accommodations are so much increased and improved. WM. S. HADLEY.

AMERICAN HOUSE,
BOSTON.
Re-established on the old Plan of management.

LEWIS RICE, Proprietor, respectfully announces that he has resumed the old plan of management, as it existed before the recent alteration. Trial of the old plan in this Hotel, proves that although the advantages are great, yet the plan is better adapted for the smaller class of hotels.

The accommodations are convenient, of the House are unsurpassed, and the recent improvements and alterations, for the comfort of guests, leave nothing to be desired.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.
DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES.

Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience.

THE combination of ingredients in these Pills, is the result of a long and extensive practice; they are mild in their operation, and certain in restoring nature to its proper channel. In every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are certain to overcome obstructions to which females are liable, and bring nature into its proper channel, whereby health is restored, and the pale and deathly countenance changed to a healthy one. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, that must always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, the Pills will invariably remedy all these evils. In all cases of painful menstruation, or nervous and spinal affections in the back and limbs, lowness of spirits, hysterics, &c. Nor are they less efficacious in the cure of Leucorrhœa, commonly called the "Whites." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. Warranted purely Vegetable, and free from anything injurious to life or health Full and explicit directions which should be read, accompany each box.

These Pills are put up in square, flat boxes.—Persons residing where there are no Agencies established, by enclosing One Dollar in a letter, prepaid, to Dr. C. L. CHEESEMAN, Box No. 4,531, Post Office, New York City, can have them sent to their respective addresses by return of mail.

AN UNSAFE SAFE.—"Uncle Sam" having omitted to construct a vault in the new Custom House in Portland, sent on a large iron safe from Baltimore to supply the deficiency. It had a patent burglar and fire proof lock, similar, (says the Adv.) to that which has lately been broken in Richmond. After it had been placed in the Custom House, the workmen locked the door, and were wholly unable to unlock it. One of the men had previously been inside of the safe, and the door was locked and unlocked while he was inside. After he stepped out it was locked a second time, and all efforts to unlock it were unavailing. The maker of the safe had to come on to unlock it, which he did by altering the key. Had the difficulty occurred in locking it the first time, while the workman was inside, it must have proved fatal to him, as he would have suffocated before it could have been opened.

☞ A tragedy took place at Olean, N. Y., on Saturday night. An Irishman named David McLane, who has for a long time been quite intemperate, and has been in the habit, while intoxicated, of whipping his wife, on Saturday purchased five gallons of whiskey and took it home. It is supposed that he drank so much in the course of the night as to become helpless, when his wife, with an axe, cut off his head, and cut several large gashes in other parts of his body.

☞ One of the survivors of the wreck of the Central America was William N. Osborne, of Sullivan county, Indiana. He was on his return from California, with the fruits of several years' toil, all of which he has lost. After spending a short time with his mother and relatives at his old home, he starts for Mexico, to begin life again.

☞ North Carolina owes interest coupons payable in New York city. Her Treasurer offers to pay them in North Carolina currency, at Raleigh. That currency is at from five to eight per cent. discount.

FINANCIAL TROUBLES IN PARIS.—A Paris correspondent of an exchange, under date of Sept. 17, writes as follows in regard to the financial revulsion in that city:—

We are in the midst of a sort of panic. Everything on 'change is going down rapidly. The credit Mobilier is said to be seriously menaced. One of the most prominent directors, M. Ernest Andre, not only resigned, but upon the refusal of his brethren to accept his resignation, he forced it upon them by a notary! It is said he has since withdrawn it, and is again at the Board. But all agree that the golden days of Credit Mobilier have gone by. The stock has fallen to 770f—the lot of last April it was 1500f! The Caissa Mires is 370 f—the lot of last April it was 550f. M. Mires predicts very hard times coming. A great deal of fear is entertained that we are about paying heavily for the fever of speculation which has been raging these five years past.

CONFAB.—"Bill, I want them five cents you owe me."
"Tom! can't pay 'em."
"What's the matter with you, Bill?"
"Fact is, the New York City Banks is full of suspenders, and I'm one of that kind; I've stopped payment—but I've got a dog to sell; long hair, black as ink, a splendid tail and queer ears. Don't talk about them five cents, but go in for the pup. Buy him Tom; and then there'll be a small balance agin you, and I shall be relieved from my embarrassments."
"Shan't do it."
"Why?"
"Why? Because I'm insolation, and hain't got the change. I must have them five cents, to meet my liabilities."
"Well, I'll go to the Bank, get a note discounted, and pay you this afternoon."
"What Bank?"
"Sind Bank!"
—"Sold again!"—Auburn Amer.

LONDON PHYSICIANS.—It is stated by a recent medical writer that there are in the city of London, twenty medical men of reputation, whose incomes range from $20,000 to $100,000 a year. The average incomes of ordinary successful practitioners are stated to be from $4,000 to $15,000 per annum.

Some of the principal city bakers reduced the price of their loaves one cent, without diminishing their size! This is almost incredible, but we are assured by an interested party, (a gentleman with a family of ten healthy consumers,) that it is a fact.—Albany Argus.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: subdues INFLAMMATORY DISEASE, whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every will find this the most safe and effectual. Fever is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a quill dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 23, 1857.

GLORIOUS VICTORY IN OHIO!—DEMOCRATIC GAIN!—It seems to be conceded at last that Chase is elected Governor of Ohio, and that the democratic party have the legislature. Now let us see what the victory is, who has gained, and how much. Some papers have told us of Fremont's great majority there last fall—and of Chase's small majority (2000) now.

What was Fremont's majority last fall? Answer: in almost 400,000 votes, Fremont led Buchanan by 16,000; but Fillmore had 28,000; so Fremont, tho' with a handsome plurality, had no majority at all.

Now, there was no Fillmore ticket for Governor, nor for anything else. There were just two parties, and a smaller vote.

Chase was a free state democrat, anti-slavery man, freedom shrieker, and black republican, according to modern nomenclature; and seems to have been a good candidate to run: while the legislature, by a coalition of the Fillmore men with the democratic party, has become "National."

☞ The South is not likely wholly to escape the financial revulsion which has been brought upon the country by its tariff laws. Dispatches from the South say that the pressure upon tobacco, cotton and "niggers" is fearful. The prices of negroes in Virginia have fallen thirty-three per cent., and no sales at that; and the Washington Republic says that prices of negroes in that city have fallen 25 per cent., and adds, "The South will feel this crisis later, but not less severely than the Northern States."

EXCELLENT PROPOSITION.—The Providence Journal suggests that England should make a draft for her forces upon our unemployed filibusters, with General William Walker at their head. His army would not require much time to collect their baggage. They always carry it all on their backs, so as to be ready at a moment's warning; and the promise of town lots in Allahabad and Delhi would certainly be as tempting as military claims in Central America.

SHOT HERSELF.—We learn from the Maine Farmer that a man by the name of Ryan, of Farmington, Maine, shot himself in Hallowell, on Monday last, under the following circumstances:—He had been paying attention to a young woman who worked in the factory. For some reason or other, she had refused to receive his addresses any longer, and requested the return of her letters to him. He went to the factory, called her out and went with her to her boarding house, where they had an interview. When leaving the room, he requested her to pass ahead of him, which she did, and immediately heard the report of a percussion cap. On looking round, she saw he had a pistol in his hand, and directed at her.—She rushed towards him, when he turned it towards himself, fired, and fell dead.

The escape of the young lady is a remarkable one. Ryan had provided himself with a double-barreled pistol, and, as he supposed, had loaded both barrels with ball: but, instead of that, he put both balls into one barrel, and that fired at the young lady, was the one that did not contain any ball.

ELISHA KENT KANE.—A Biography. By William Elder—1 vol. 8 vo.—Childs & Peterson, Philadelphia.

This Biography will be worthy of the reputation of Dr. Kane, and the high literary character of Dr. Elder. PLOUGHING BY STEAM.—Hon. H. F. French, who attended the late fair of the Suffolk County Agricultural Association at Ipswich, England, writes to the New England Farmer that he saw an acre of ground ploughed in one hour, by a steam plough on exhibition there.

☞ The Congregational Church and Society in Francestown have invited Rev. Charles Cutler, recently from Andover, to become their pastor.

Rev. J. M. C. Bartley, pastor of the Congregational Church in Hampstead, tendered his resignation to the people of his charge on Sunday last.

Rev. Otis Holmes is about removing from Northwood, N. H., to take charge of Congregational Church in Eliot, Me.

Rev. W. A. Fobes, lately of Hooksett, N. H., is engaged in the ministry of the Congregational Church at Kittery Point, for the winter.

EXETERIANA.

EXETER, Wednesday, Oct. 21.

Dear Chronicle:—It was customary, we have been told, in Australia, when a Bank suspended, for its officers to be made to undergo a similar operation on the tree nearest at hand. Whatever salutary effect this may have had, has not been stated; but it is extremely lucky for many of our New England business men, that such pleasant proceedings are not sanctioned here. The Granite State Bank, it is understood, has adopted the general plan of not paying out specie: a plan which, we believe, the Exeter Bank conveniently adopted a long while ago. The Factory had not been in operation for a week or two until Monday morning, when it commenced to run for about a week, on shortened time and pay. More than one-half of its machinery is idle. The N. E. Gas Pipe Co. have dismissed more than half their workmen; while the Machine Shop, it is said, will soon stop entirely. Flagg's (Fuller's) Paper Mills, at "Pickpocket," which have been at rest on account of low water and repairs, has now resumed work. We continue to take your "paper," just as though nothing had happened, it always being at par on 'Change here.

Front Street, (the Congress Street of Exeter,) is unusually enlivened by the games of foot-ball in which the Academy students are daily engaging. On Wednesday of last week, the annual challenge game, being this year the Seniors against the rest of the classes, for the best three out of five, was played. After an animated contest, the Seniors were declared victors.

Judge French writes to the New England Farmer that some thousands of draining tiles are now made here weekly. These tiles could previously be obtained only, at a considerable expense, from Albany, while now they are within the reach of every farmer in the County. Judge P. has used these tiles on his farm in Exeter, and says that they give entire satisfaction; he urges their adoption by all who wish a good, substantial drain.

The report in your paper of Monday, that Mr. Eldon was injured by a fall from a house in this town, was correct. A man named Stedman, who fell at the same time, was not so severely injured.—Eldon was much better at last accounts, and his friends hope for his speedy and entire recovery.

A great number of queer epitaphs are continually trumpeted forth in the newspapers of the day, many of which often serve as an index to the mind of their compositors:—but the following (not exactly of so grave a character,) from a deed recently recorded in the Register's office here, shows that the author has peculiar ideas of wedding-cake, honey-moons, etc.: "Hereby engaging to warrant and defend the said granted premises against all claims or demands of any person claiming by, from or under me, as I am neither married, nor likely to be at present, (God be praised for his infinite mercy!)"

We have heard a rumor, which probably lacks foundation, that the Exeter Cornet Band were to go to Portsmouth, and play at one Promenade Concert, and your Band come here and perform in return. Would such an arrangement as this be too expensive? If not, why cannot it be made? The excellent performance of the Portsmouth Band at the Fair was such as will evince complete satisfaction should they consent to appear here. Yours, P. G.

FIRE NEAR ROCHESTER.—The Dover Enquirer gives the following particulars of the fire, which destroyed the Blanket Mill at Garland's Falls:

The Woolen Blanket Mill of I. W. Springfield, situated on the Maine side of Salmon Falls river, at Garland's Falls, was burnt on Sunday morning, 18th inst. The fire was discovered by the watchman about 2 o'clock, and in the short space of one hour, the Mill was a mass of ruins. It was the work of an incendiary, and so successfully fired, (probably with burning fluid) in a shed attached, that the watchman could not subdue it. It was set on fire once before, in July last, in same place, and discovered and put out. The Mills and machinery were valued at $11,000, and were insured in the York Co. and Belknap Co. Companies for $3,300. The working stock of the Mill was valued at from $4000 to $5000 and was insured for $2500 in the Haverhill and Cocheco Cos. A considerable portion of the stock was saved. Mr. Springfield is a young man who has nobly earned his position as a manufacturer unaided, (having taken the premium at the World's Fair in New York for the blankets manufactured at his mill,) and is now with this loss, and the depression of prices on manufactured goods, probably thrown back nearly where he started a few years since. He has the entire sympathy and confidence of the community.

☞ A man notorious for his long-winded habits in relation to the payment of debts, says the banks have only adopted a system upon which he has practiced for years.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—The President expresses a good deal of concern regarding the effect of the pressure upon the Government finances. Directions have been given to revise and reduce all estimates. The construction of Custom Houses and many other public works will be suspended.—The policy of the Administration is to avert the necessity of a loan by making retrenchments. The President will oppose all money bills, except those for indispensable appropriations. Col. Forsyth's plan for purchasing a foothold in Tehauntepec—a forty million scheme—is consequently a wreck. Innumerable plunder schemes in Washington will share its fate.

It is rumored, on apparently good authority, that directions have been given to Marshal Hoover to aid the city authorities in repressing riot and violence, and that an additional company of troops has been ordered to the Marine Barracks to assist them. It is also said that Gov. Ligon of Maryland has represented to the President the great danger of bloodshed at the State election, and asked for U. S. troops to protect the polls in Baltimore. The reply is understood to be refusal, coupled with the statement, by way of explanation, that the Government adheres to the principle embodied in the Attorney General's opinion, denying the application of the Governor of California for troops to assist in putting down the San Francisco Vigilance Committee in 1856.

THE LATE STREET MURDER IN NEW YORK.—The young rowdy who stabbed John Swenson, in the Tenth Avenue, New York, on Saturday evening, is likely to be arrested and receive his desert for the crime. One of his companions who was with him at the time, named Daniel Cunningham, a boy about sixteen years old, has disclosed the circumstances of the murder. He says that he, in company with two boys named Stephen McGaphney and James Rogers, met a man and woman on the Tenth Avenue on Saturday evening, when Rogers, hit the man a boost with his elbow in his side, when the man either did or attempted to strike Rogers, who walked a few paces away, and then turning back struck the man with a knife, as he supposes, as both the man and woman cried "murder."—They all then ran away. Rogers had been drinking and was a little drunk. A portion of Cunningham's testimony was corroborated by the coroner's inquest, and the jury charged Rogers with the murder. He has been found and arrested.

MURDERER ARRESTED.—New York, Oct. 21.—Rodgers, the boy who murdered Swenson, in 10th Avenue, on Saturday, was arrested in Brunswick, N. J., to-day. He has confessed.

DAMAGES AWARDED.—In January, 1853, Mrs. Caroline A. Harraden, wife of Timothy A. Harraden of Concord, while returning home from a Lyceum lecture, in stepping from the side-walk, at the northwest corner of the Eagle Block, into a passageway between that block and the adjoining one, which was several inches below the level of the side-walk, injured her back. The injury produced a kind of palsy, accompanied by loss of voice, and generally disabling her. The city was sued last year, to recover damages. The case was referred to the decision of Wm. P. Wheeler, Esq., and Porf. E. R. Peaslee. The case was tried before the referees, last week, and damages to the amount of $2,728, with costs were awarded to Mrs. Harraden.—Ind. Dem.

BANK SUSPENSIONS.—When such a pressure as the present overwhelms the public—and when for the banks to pay specie for their notes is to exhaust their means without benefitting the public, but only meeting the unusual demands of brokers or others,—demands not contemplated by the Legislature—it is folly to say we will hold on till the last shot in the locker is gone—because that last shot must be spent without at all benefitting the community, but rendering themselves powerless to do so. The proper procedure in such times as these is suspension, and for any one bank to say they are ready to redeem their issue, is absurd, preposterous and untrue.—Virginia Transcript.

SINGULAR DEATH.—In Cincinnati, on Saturday night last, an Irishman met his death in a very singular manner. He threw a stone at two young men, when one of them, in return hurled a brick at the Irishman, which struck him with such force as to break his neck, and cause almost instant death.

FIRE IN MOULTONBOROUGH.—The house of Mr. Alvin Pearsey, of Moultonboro', was entirely consumed by fire, Friday afternoon, 9th inst. The fire was discovered in the attic at about 3½ o'clock, and is supposed to have been set by means of matches with which his little boy was playing.—Dover Enq.

PRENTICE'S LAST.—As to the Democratic party, they know how the land lies on this slavery question.—Louisville Dem.

Yes, and the land knows how the Democratic party lies on this slavery question.—Louisville Journal.

A house owned by John Lindsey, and occupied by C. Walter, in Union, Me., was entirely consumed by fire one day last week. Mr. Walter is said to have been from home, and Mrs. W., having packed up everything in the house, with her two children left the stage for Warren about four hours before the fire was discovered.—Portland Adv.

BALL HUGHES'S POKER PORTRAITS.—Some of Mr. Hughes's portraits of distinguished men, burnt with a poker on a pine board, have been exhibited at the recent State fair in San Francisco, Cal., and have attracted much attention.

BLACK BOILED SILKS.

BOILED BLACK SILKS.—We call the particular attention of purchasers to our Stock of Full Boiled Black Dress Silks. We are very particular in selecting our Black Silks, and shall keep on hand at all times, a good stock of 24 in., 26 in., 28 in., 30 in., and 32 inch of the same celebrated quality, which we have sold in such large quantities since we opened here; and which are warranted not to crack or break.

We receive our Silks new and Fresh every week. As this is an article which a person does not purchase very often, and which costs considerable money, it is very desirable to get the best in the market. For which purpose, purchasers are invited to call at the New Store, No. 15 Market Street. ALLEN & PAINE.

☞ The only place in this city where an Ambrotype can be obtained, is at Davis' Ambrotype Gallery, No. 8 Daniel Street, as they have the Patent, and all infringements will be prosecuted. sept9

☞ Probably most persons are familiar with the story of a little dog,—who, when the moon was shining brightly, used to run out and bark at her; but all the while the moon kept right on shining. Just so I KEEP RIGHT ON SHINING; or in other words,—keep right on making the various kinds of Pictures in the Heliographic or Photographic art.

sept16 A. GREGORY.

☞ Our friend in his illumination says nothing about Ambrotype, and does not seem to have the slightest idea that his "shining" is decidedly gassy. Don Quixotte's monomania never reached so high a point as that; but as we have as much as we can do by daylight, we do not make pictures by moon or gas-light, and our friends will govern themselves accordingly.

As regards the Ambrotype, we are determined to stop the sale of a spurious article, to the injury of our business, the deception of the public, and the consequent injurious impressions against the Ambrotype. For this reason, we offer $25 reward for an Ambrotype made in this place, other than at our Rooms. And as the word Ambrotype was coined for and patented with the Picture, we offer the same reward ($25) for any picture made or sold as an Ambrotype. Evidence sufficient to convict in the U. S. courts will be required in the last case; in the other, the Picture itself is all the evidence we want. DAVIS BROTHERS.

WHO THAT IS TROUBLED

With any of those disagreeable complaints, such as Jaundice, Dyspepsia, or Liver diseases of any kind, but would like to know of a remedy for these unseemly visitations? We feel that we are doing our invalid readers an invaluable service if we can induce them to get a bottle of Dr. Sanford's Invigorator, and take it, for we know from personal experience that it is one of the greatest remedies for general debility, and consequent inactive bodily powers, ever before used. Its action is so perfect and complete as to give relief the first time taken, and if it does to others as it has to us, half a bottle will be all that is needed. We know of nothing we can recommend with such confidence, as a family medicine, as the Invigorator.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

PRESERVATION OF THE HAIR.—In all ages and among almost all tribes of men, a beautiful head of hair has been, and still is, regarded as the fairest ornament of the fairest works of the Creator. The patrician dames and damsels of ancient and modern Rome bestowed that attention upon the hair which has added the crowning beauty to the chef d'oeuvre of the sculptor and the painter, and no lady, and indeed no gentleman of modern times is unmindful of this exquisite shield and lovely ornament of the face. To maiden beauty it is the finishing touch; to manhood it is the symbol and warrant of strength and nobility, to-day as in the days of the patriarchs; indeed such it always had been and always will be.

But unable as we are to withstand the ills of time and life, it often happens that through disease and misfortune we become grey in early life, and bald before we reach the full grace of womanhood or the full stature of manhood.—Then it is that however much we may venerate the grey locks and reverence the wisdom of bald head among the honored remnants of the generation of three score and ten, we know that our grey hairs are no more venerable than beautiful; while our bald heads are neither the one nor the other, but, on the contrary, are quite the reverse of both and impose upon us many social and sanitary disadvantages and discomforts.

THE CHRONICLE; NEW SUBSCRIBERS

For $4, we will furnish new subscribers with the Daily Chronicle from this time to Jan. 1, 1859.

For $1, we will furnish new subscribers with the Weekly Chronicle from this time to Jan. 1, 1859. Send along the names. Postmasters can remit money without change; and the paper goes in Rockingham County free of postage.

By the way, thousand or two dollars due us on our Weekly list, would be as acceptable now as at any future time. And the farmers, who owe it to us, must have all the money, for the city folks are all short. Let each man pay his (or rather, our) dollar or two, and we shall have a goodly pile.

MUNICIPAL.

THURSDAY EVENING, Oct. 22.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN.—Rober Monteith applied for sidewalk in front of his residence on Dennett street. Granted, under the usual restrictions.

R. N. Bodge asked leave to encumber High st., while making repairs on his store. Granted.

A compaint was made relative to the bad condition of a culvert on Woodbury st. Referred to Com. on Streets, Roads, &c.

☞ The Promenade Concerts, for the benefit of the Portsmouth Cornet Band, will probably commence about the first of November, in Jefferson Hall. The series will consist of eight Concerts, one each week; tickets for the course $1, admitting a gentleman and lady; single admission, (of couple) 25 cents.

A subscription-paper, for the the series of entertainments, may be found at the book store of Charles C. Harvey. These Promenade Concerts are immensely popular in Boston, Portland, and other cities; and will no doubt be received with great favor here.

The suggestion of our Exeter correspondent, for the Exeter Cornet Band to apppear in one of these concerts, is a good one, and will no doubt be adopted.

☞ We learn that the Portsmouth Steam Factory Company, in addition to reducing the hours of labor to eight hours a day, and the wages of the operatives ten per cent., have decided to suspend operations in their mill two days (Friday and Saturday) in each week, commencing next week. This will leave the operatives but half their usual wages, or less; but it is much better for them and our citizens generally, than to stop the wheels entirely.

The subscription in Portsmouth on account of the late County Fair, was $486; and yet there are many persons about who will not give anything themselves, and continually declare that it is no use to attempt to do anything in Portsmouth.—Ballot.

Just so—the croakers will never give a cent; but do their share to make Portsmouth the dead-and-alive place they say it is. We say the old town can't be beat, in getting up shows or anything else, by any place of the size.

☞ The ship New Hampshire, the last specimen of the mechanical skill of the late Capt. Samuel Badger, was launched in good style about noon on Saturday last.—There are now at our wharves fitting for sea, four new ships, of 4500 tons in the aggregate, launched within three weeks.

☞ Our neighbor who had so much to say about our independence, &c., covers the whole ground of dispute with his qualification—whether an editor "knows anything about" the truth of what he says, or not. And yet he knew that in the very same paragraph in which we offered to notice anybody "for a consideration," we also included words to the effect that if anybody wishes us to say what we don't know or don't believe, they must use our public advertising columns. If publishing the first half of this statement twice, was not misrepresenting us, we are no judge of time. As to business, is it not a fair inference, that when a man meddles with other people's he has none of his own to attend to?

The Washington Star reports the arrest on the 16th of a colored woman named Matilda Smith who escaped from the ownership of Mr. T. Martin, of Maryland, five years ago, but is under the impression that she was "bought running," by her friends. She has been living in Boston until just before last Christmas, when she returned to Washington.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—The Boston Ledger reports that as the train for Littleton, N. H., last Saturday, struck upon the long covered bridge below Bath, N. H., the tender and passenger cars were thrown from the track, and the covering, sleepers and iron were completely demolished, but no one was injured. It is forty-two feet to the water, and the bridge is 200 feet long. Before the engine could stop the train, everything was carried safely over and landed safely on the other side.

MINNESOTA ELECTION.—Chicago, Oct. 19. As far as heard from, the election in Minnesota has resulted in the election of the whole republican State ticket. The republicans also claim the election of their three Congressional candidates. The complexion of the Legislature is not yet determined, but it is supposed to be republican.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—Fire.—The plough factory of Andrus & Bosworth, at Grand de Tour, Ogle county, was burnt last week. Loss $60,000; insured $10,000.

Funeral of the Victims of the Great Fire. The funeral of those found in the ruins of the fire yesterday, was attended this afternoon by a large concourse of citizens.—Most of the business houses were closed, and stores along the line of the procession draped in mourning.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—A despatch from Richmond says that both the robbers of the custom house in that city are in prison there, and that $16,000 of the money has been recovered.

Assurances have been officially given that England will not interfere with any arrangement that the United States may propose with Nicaragua in relation to the transit route. Thus all objection has been withdrawn.

Permanent cures in all affections of the throat and lungs are constantly being made by Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. Great as is its reputation, its works are greater. Many physicians speak of it in the highest terms.

MARRIED.

In Great Falls, Mr. Charles G. Horney to Miss Sarah F. Hartford, both of Rochester.

HAVE just made great improvement in their CLOTHING ESTABLISHMENT.

It gives them great pleasure to announce their thankfulness to the people of this city and neighboring towns, for their kind patronage; through which, and their own facility for selling cheaper than any other establishment, we were enabled not only to increase our Stock to a great extent, but to accommodate our increased and increasing trade, we have obtained the large and commodious store, opposite the Union Store. Said Store is more than double the size of our former establishment; we assure all who may favor us with their custom a courteous treatment and the value for their money. All who are in want of clothing, are invited to call and see whether our statement is true.

No. 54 Market st., cor. of Hanover St.

A variety of

Trunks, Valises, Carpet Bags,
Oil Suits, &c., &c.

As the articles we have for sale are too numerous to detail, we will say in short, every article belonging to Gents' and Youth's wear, can be found at our CLOTHING HOUSE; together with an assortment of Woolen Goods, of which we will make garments to order, or sell by the yard, and cut it for them without making, any way to suit the purchaser. "RETRENCHMENT AND REFORM."—Few of our mechanics and laborers realize that there is any difference between retrenchment and reform as understood among the aristocracy, and retrenchment and reform as understood by them. Mr. Hillard in his Faneuil Hall speech says:—

"But I forgot to mention one of the merits of Gov. Gardner. He had the courage and the manliness to do what none of his predecessors ventured upon—to recommend to the Legislature to increase the salaries of the Judges of the Supreme Court."

Here is the doctrine of retrenchment and reform when it affects the poorer classes; increase when it affects the richer and more aristocratic.—Lowell News.

ONE OF THE ROGERS.—One of the Rifle Companies of Maj. Poore's Battalion, are nearly all Rogeres, and they are not only descendants of the Smithfield martyr, but connected with the old pensioner, Abner Rogers, who was at the execution of Andre and the last survivor of the witnesses of that scene. One of these, Daniel Rogers of Newbury, aged 63 years, was out at the late muster, and training with him in the same company were three of his sons, two of his grandsons, and two sons-in-law, while three great grand children were following in the crowd, and cheering at the beat of drum.—Newburyport Her.

SMALL CHANGE.—The trouble anticipated in relation to the expected scarcity of small change, has not, as yet, been experienced, nor is it probable it will be. Brokers will not pay over one-half per cent. The proprietor of a prominent exchange office in State street had the curiosity, Saturday forenoon, to note the amount of the same of specie offered to him for sale within a few hours. It was $13,548, in lots, from $2000 downwards. The holders were somewhat indignant at the terms offered, and refused to sell at so low a rate, which would not repay them for the trouble of carrying their heavy burdens."—Boston Bee.

LOTTERIES.
THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, knowing that parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme the ticket is made up of eight drawn numbers. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2 50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer; the number of the ticket is 990; every one being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.
☞A list of the numbers that are drawn from the whole ticket in consequence each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Union, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. S W. SWAN & CO., Augusta, Ga.
Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.
All communications strictly confidential. m18ly

LOTTERIES.
The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which Messrs. Shaw & Co are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special act of the legislature. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication has come to hand. The number of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawing of prizes is published by number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Ternary combination. Prizes vary in amount from $50 to $30,000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.
☞The drawn numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner in the following papers, viz: Sun, Clipper, Patriot, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

Any amount of Heat required,
and unlike all other Anthracite Coal Burners, ventilates the apartments quite as thoroughly as a wood fire or Franklin, producing a current of Air, at once moist, pure and agreeable, and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire pot is used for ventilation, the tendency to produce headache, so much complained of by those using Stoves and Furnaces, is entirely obviated. The fire may be continued from one to four days without replenishing.
These Stoves are beautiful in design, and finished in the most perfect manner. They are equally appropriate, and have even universal satisfaction to all who have adopted them.
For Offices and Stores as well as the Parlor.
The Inventor challenges the world to produce an article by which so much Pure Warm Air can be generated, from so small an amount of fuel, requiring but about 15 pounds of Anthracite Coal, to warm an ordinary sized parlor for 24 hours, without replenishing, and then leaving fire enough to rekindle without the use of chips. The coal is all used, and no clinkers made, consequently, sifting coal is dispensed with.—When this Stove is properly managed,
THE FIRE MAY BE CONTINUED THROUGH
THE ENTIRE SEASON,
without once going out. Added to all these qualifications, the purchaser may reasonably expect to save from 30 to 50 per cent, in fuel expense.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.
DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES,
Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience.
THE combination of Ingredients in these Pills, is the result of a long and extensive practice; they are mild in their operation, and certain to restoring nature to its proper channel. In every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are certain to open those obstructions to which females are liable, and bring nature into its proper channel, whereby health is restored, and the pale and deathly countenance changed to a healthy one. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and distressed sleep, are the most always arise from the interruption of nature; and wherever that is the case, he Pills will invariably remedy all these evils. In all cases of painful menstruation, or nervous and optional affections in the back and limbs, lowness of spirits, hysterics, &c. Nor are they less efficacious in the cure of Leucorrhœa, commonly called the "Whites." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. Warranted purely Vegetable, and free from anything injurious to the health. Full and explicit directions which should be read, accompany each box.
These Pills are put up in square flat boxes.—Persons residing where there are no Agencies established, may enclosing One Dollar in a letter, prepaid, to Dr. C. L. CHEESEMAN, Box No. 4531, Post Office, New York City, can have them sent to their respective addresses by return of mail.

THE POETRY OF NEWSPAPER REPORTING. A Philadelphia paper, in describing the burning of a stable in that city, launches out after the following bewildering fashion:

The heavens were soon illuminated with sparks, which were blown in an easterly direction, and seemed like brilliant meteors traversing the atmosphere. The flames wrapt their red tongues round the frail timbers of the roof, like a voracious beast, for food to satiate a devouring appetite, and in their angry progress "laughed at the ruin" they were making.

☞ A Toronto, Canada, lawyer has been put into a very unpleasant position by recent developments. A man had been brought to trial under circumstances which showed his guilt, and was liable to a sentence of fourteen years' imprisonment. The lawyer went to the man's wife and induced her to part with the little furniture she had to secure his fee for defending her husband. He took away with him her clock and looking-glass, tied up her bedstead and superintended its removal, and otherwise disgraced himself.

LIQUOR AGENTS.—Fault is found with the bad management of the liquor agency in Concord and some other places. To every fair-minded man, nothing can be more odious than a man who seeks law to protect his business, and then in that business tramples all the best features of the protecting law under his feet. The worst feature of the law for the suppression of intemperance is the one that allows the enemies of that law to appoint highly improper men to act as agents of cities or towns to act under its protection. It will not always be so.—Manchester Mirror.

POETICAL FEET.—The following doggerel conundrum is really capital:

"Can you tell me why
A deceitful eye
Can better descry,
Than you or I,
Upon how many toes
A pussy-cat goes?"

ANSWER.

"The eye of deceit
Can best count-er-feit;
And so, I suppose,
Can best count her toes."

A SINGULAR FACT.—A woman over ninety years old, died in this city last week, in the house where she was born and has always lived, and where her father, who died some thirty years ago, was born and resided during the whole period of his life. The house is No. 186 South Main street.—Providence Post.

SNOW.—A gentleman from the Hoosac Tunnel, yesterday, informs us that snow lay upon the mountains to the depth of six inches.—Franklin Democrat, 19th.

☞ Theodore Varnum died in Lowell on Monday from the effects of habitual intoxication.

SUCCESS IN MERCANTILE PURSUITS.—Some years ago an examination was made of all the accounts kept in one of the Philadelphia banks during a period of thirty years, in order to ascertain, as a question of mercantile statistics, what had been the average fate of the depositors as regarded their success in life. The result was so remarkable as to be deserving of careful study at a moment like the present, when every flash of the telegraph is tinged, not with light, but with gloom. Of the whole number, seventy-five per cent. had failed, or become so trammelled with debt as to be compelled to relinquish business.

HISTORY OF OUR ABUSED CREDIT.

Monday, I started my bank operations;
Tuesday, owned millions, by all calculations;
Wednesday, my brown stone palace began;
Thursday, I drove out a spanking bay span;
Friday, I gave a magnificent ball;
And Saturday smashed—with nothing at all.

The Underhill Edge Tool Company of Nashua made an assignment of their property on Saturday, to the Indian Head Bank of Nashua.

THE "VICTORY," Nelson's old ship was last week pumped high and dry for the purpose of examining a leak. Her bottom presented a most singular appearance, being covered from stem to stern with oysters, muscles, and animalcules: upwards of six bushels of the finest oysters were detached from the copper sheathing some of which measured five inches in diameter, and were devoured with great relish by the dockyard workmen. The leak was found to have arisen from a portion of the copper sheathing being worn off; after which, no doubt, the worms had it their own way, for they had positively eaten through the whole of a space of ten feet by the average of three feet. The inner part of some of the planking was found not thicker than a piece of orange peel.—Any shock given to the ship would have allowed the pressure of the tide to have broken through in a body, and down would have gone Nelson's old Victory.—Her copper is generally in excellent order, and in fact she appears as though she she would well last another century.—London Paper.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUNDRY INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. It is asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a needle dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.
☞ Of its intrinsic value, the enlightened community, and not the discovery, must be its judge.

Extract from "A Sermon for the Times"

Preached at the South Church, Portsmouth, by REV. DR. PEABODY, on Sunday, Oct. 18, 1857.

But, now, let us spare that we may give. And, while we feel that what we seem to have may be ours only by the frailest tenure, let us remember that what we give we save, that our charities are the seed-corn of an immortal harvest, that our offerings of brotherly love are loans for which God's word is our security, and which the Saviour, who accounts himself as succored in his needy brethren, will render back to us with an infinite increase.

Finally, there are thoughts of encouragement under the pressure of the times. They come to us from the constant and munificent Providence of God. Never have the heavens smiled more benignantly than on these days of trouble and rebuke. Kindly have the elements been tempered for our latter harvest. With partial and limited exceptions, the fruits of the earth have been matured and garnered in unprecedented abundance. These staples of national wealth only await restored confidence to renew their vitalizing circuit, and to carry the Creator's blessing where his rebuke is felt in sadness and heaviness.

We are encouraged too by the certainty that enterprise and industry are indomitable, and must either remove obstructions from their wonted channels, or groove out new channels for their endeavor. The wealth of nations, even what we call their permanent capital, is made permanent only by being in a fluent state, by being perpetually worked over—consumed and reproduced—by human labor. The actual wealth of any given year consists, in a larger larger proportion than most men would readily believe, of perishable products of the soil and recent creations of labor and skill. What we have lost is not wealth, but its unsubstantial substitute of promises and credits. There remain to us actual accumulations, rich harvests, myriads of ingenious minds and strong and willing hands. With the blessing of Providence on these, our prosperous future, and that fall speedily enough for the lessons we need to learn, is as certain as our adverse present. Be it our endeavor, in the terse language of the prophet, to "hear the rod and who hath appointed it." Let the voice which bids us cease from our trust in man lift our waiting eyes to Him in whom our trust cannot fail. In Him be our help and our hope. While men's hearts are failing them for fear, and for looking after those things which are coming on the earth, be it our solace and our joy that the Lord God Omnipotent reigneth, yet more, that the Father himself loveth us, and that all things work together for good to those that love him.

☞ The Alta California newspaper, of Sept. 21, publishes a long and detailed discription of the articles on exhibition at the Mechanics' Fair held at San Francisco.

"A complete "horse suit" by Main & Winchester, next rivets the attention of the visitor. This consists of a blanket, hood and surcingle, manufactured of materials of the finest texture, and most beautifully decorated. No apparel has ever been seen, either here or elsewhere, at all comparable to this for beauty and intrinsic value. A number of the admirers of the famous horse Kit Carson, were so captivated with these horse regimentals, that they readily paid Messrs. Main & Winchester one hundred dollars for them, and presented them to J. J. LeCount, Esq., the owner of this celebrated trotting horse. We have only time and space to refer to a magnificent robe dressed and decorated by this firm, and which was once worn by some wild grizzly, who himself trod our forests a proud and native specimen of the woods of California.—This splendid robe was manufactured by this enterprising firm for a gentleman of this city, who designs presenting it to his friend, H. F. Wendell, Esq., of Portsmouth, New Hampshire, who will thus be enabled to decorate his cutter with this fine specimen of California production.

The firm of Messrs. Main & Winchester, are the pioneers in their business in this city, and, as may be expected, have an extensive trade with the interior, Oregon, Sandwich Islands, and Mexico. Their retail trade is also very great, and no fewer than twelve hands are constantly employed in the various departments of their business. The majority of these workmen have families who are here, and their interests are, of course, thoroughly identified with the welfare and prosperity of this pioneer State of the Pacific."

NEW SHOAL AND ROCK.—We learn that a circular from A. D. Bache, Esq., Superintendent of the Coast Survey, that Lieut. Com'g C. R. P. Rodgers, of the steamer Bibb, discovered on the 28th of August, a small shoal lying southward and westward of Little George's Bank, off Cape Cod. A storm prevailing at the time, the hydrographic party engaged in the steamer Bibb was unable to anchor, but passed repeatedly over the shoal, finding only six fathoms on its crest, which is very small, and a depth of twenty fathoms surrounding it. Its approximate position, determined under the circumstances just referred to, is latitude 41 10 N., longitude 68 45 W. The shoal will be further examined. During the operations of the present season on the Coast of Maine the hydrographic party under the charge of Lieut. Com'g W. G. Temple, U. S. N., Assistant in the Coast Survey, discovered a new ledge which does not appear upon any chart yet published, and is unknown to any of the pilots or fishermen in the vicinity. It has a depth of thirteen feet at mean low water, and lies W. S. W 3-4 W. (W. 1-4 S. per compass) from Seguin lighthouse, distant five and a half (5 1-2) nautical miles, in latitude 43 41 north, and longitude 69 52 west. It is proposed to call it "Temple's Ledge," after the discoverer.

SUSPENDED RAILROADS.—Within about a month the following railroad companies are reported as having either gone to protest on their floating debt, suspended, or made an assignment of their property:

Dartmouth College, though the times are hard, seems to be in a more flourishing condition than ever. The number of medical students is 49;—not a great amount, but as many as are needed; Undergraduates 249, being an average of 62 in a class; Scientific students 45; Total 344.

At the session of the Probate Court in Exeter, last Wednesday, fifteen wills were presented for approval—a larger number, it is said, than were ever offered before at one time.

Morning Chronicle.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1857.

POOR "BENIGHTED VERMONT."

A statement has been going the rounds, that the number of persons in Vermont who cannot read and write is one to fifty-three. "This is the black republican banner State," shouts the Boston Post. "Yes, and the people there do not go to church," adds the Journal of Commerce; and with pious zeal exhorts upon the intimate connection between black republicanism and atheism, and shows how impossible it is for a man to get into heaven, unless he has lived by owning and flogging negro slaves.

The sum and substance of the whole story is false. The proportion in Vermont who cannot read and write is one in two hundred and forty, being a smaller number than in any other State except Massachusetts, where it is one in two hundred and fifty-five; in New York it is one in forty; in Virginia, the mother of States, and the mother of slavery, it is more than one in five; the exact proportion is one in four and eight-tenths. The following table, from the census of 1850, shows the education, so far as the ability to read and write, of the native and foreign born population in the New England States and in New York and Virginia:

NATIVE BORN POPULATION.

	Number over 20 years of age.	Number over 20 year who can read and write.	Proportion to population. One in
Maine	215,077	2,134	120
New Hampshire	171,905	945	182
Massachusetts	475,493	1,863	255
Rhode Island	69,495	1,248	55
Connecticut	185,522	1,298	143
New York	1,346,822	30,670	40
Virginia	425,175	87,883	4 8
Vermont	147,595	618	239

FOREIGN BORN POPULATION.

Maine	19,005	4,148	4.6
New Hampshire	9,559	2,434	4.
Massachusetts	98,314	26,454	3.7
Rhode Island	14,844	2,259	6.
Connecticut	33,110	4,013	8.7
New York	386,257	68,063	5.7
Virginia	13,791	1,137	12.1
Vermont	20,229	5,624	3 6

Thus, says the Kennebec Journal, statistics shiver to atoms the widely circulated story in respect to education in the republican State of Vermont. The real facts turn the tables on the graceless scamps who invented this silly falsehood.

HAPPY MEN.

The happiest man in the world is the man with just wealth enough to keep him in spirits, and just children enough to make him industrious.

So says an exchange: But, replies Uncle Toby, it is quite possible for a man to be happy with no property beyond his daily earnings, and with many children or few, or none at all. "The contented mind is a continual feast." He is "the happiest man in the world," continues Uncle Toby, who deems its Creator his Father, and all Men his Brethren; who trusts in the Providence that clothes the grass and feeds the birds; who admires and praises the Divine Saviour's mercy, extending over all his works and enduring forever. Such an one was Paul;—an old bachelor, in prison, bound toward death; preaching gratis, and earning his own bread;—but rejoicing in tribulation, and coming off more than conqueror, through him that loved us, and gave his own son to die for us—and looking upward for the Crown, which the Lord, the righteous Judge, should give him in the day when he should see as he was seen, and know as he was known.

These are the happiest men whose hold is on the skies, who

"Let earth roll,
Nor feel her idle whirl."

FROM KANSAS.—A letter from a friend, dated Quindaro, Kansas, Oct. 9, says, "By a fair vote we have carried the election, but it is impossible to tell what Secretary Stanton will do about giving certificates. All concede the election of our delegate to Congress, and Gov. Walker told me yesterday, that he would probably have 5000 majority."

In relation to Secretary Stanton, (says the Boston Traveller,) we are glad to be able to say that two highly respectable gentlemen, recently from Kansas, testify that Mr. Stanton is a man who will do what is right in the matter of certificates, and, moreover, that he is himself a free State man. The gentlemen referred to, spent an hour or more with Gov. Walker, before leaving Kansas, and they think he is very desirous of getting away from the territory, and will do so on the first opportunity.

We hope this may be all true—but it seems almost too good to be true. We still look for some swindle or trap to favor the slave power there.

BOLD ROBBERY ON THE RAILROAD.—An aged gentleman from Hallowell, Me., who arrived in Boston on the Portland train on Thursday evening, was robbed of his valise containing valuable clothing, &c., while warming himself at the stove in the cars. He had left his seat but a few moments previous.

RUSSIAN MAN OF WAR SUNK.—The Russian 84-gun ship Lefort, from Revel, bound to Cronstadt, capsized and sunk in a gale September 22. No one belonging to her was seen or heard after the melancholy disaster. On board of her were about fifty families, consisting of the wives and children of the crew, who were intending to spend the winter at Cronstadt. One account says there were three admirals on board; one of whom, Admiral Moller, had only just married, and had his wife on board, with two of her cousins. The churches of Cronstadt had offices for the dead performed, which were attended by the Grand Duke and the authorities of the port. The official statement of the rear-admiral says:

At daybreak we were near the island Grand-Tuters. The fleet was on the starboard tack, the Imperatrice Alexandra a little to windward, and the Vladimir in the wake of the Lefort, with four reefs in her topsails.

At a distance of five miles from Tuters we veered; during our manœuvre the Lefort appeared to us as if wishing to veer; suddenly a violent squall laid her on her side. Though her sails were let go, she leaned over so much to larboard that we expected her masts would go, but she continued gradually to lean over till she foundered in the short time that the Vladimir took to tack about. The keel of the Lefort appeared once, and was then swallowed up in the waves.

Exclusive of the commander and 12 officers, the vessel had on board 743 seamen, 53 women, and 17 children; all perished.

The pictorial illustrations are numerous and apt. Some of them are humorously instructive.

Harper's Magazine may be had of A. Williams & Co., Boston, and J. H. Foster, Portsmouth, as usual.

We have also received Harper's Weekly for this week, with the announcement that recent events (i. e. the suspension of Harper & Brothers,) have not and will not interfere with the regular appearance and general business of Harper's Weekly and Harper's Monthly, which were never so prosperous as they are at present.

THE FIRST DRUNK.—It appears that James Rogers, who murdered John Swenson, in New York, on Saturday night last, in a drunken fit, was found at the residence of his brother-in-law at Woodbridge, N. J., at 8 o'clock on Wednesday morning. He is only 18 years old, and says he was never drunk before. He had been two days secreted in the woods before going to the house of his brother-in-law. Stephen McGilvray, one of the boys who accompanied Rogers on the night of the murder, has surrendered himself to the police, and is held as a witness.

The reader will please to observe he does not say he never drank strong drinks before; no, no: he, like forty or fifty such young people in this place, who are able, as they think, to take care of themselves, drank temperately—just enough to make himself first a fool, second a bully—in his case, thirdly, a murderer.

☞ A Mrs. Sayder, residing near McGayheysville, Va., one day last week, suddenly fell down, apparently dead. The necessary burial clothes were procured, and while her friends were engaged in dressing her in the habiliments of the grave, she politely requested them to wait until she was dead! It is needless to say that her request was cheerfully complied with. She is now rapidly improving.

☞ Mr. Wyon, the designer for the Royal British Mint, has been engaged to furnish designs for a Canadian silver currency of dollars, halves, quarters and eighths of dollars. The coins, it is understood, will bear Her Majesty's head on one side, and a wreath of maple leaves encircling their value on the other.

SONS OF TEMPERANCE.—This pleasant and useful association, is reviving in different parts. The 13th annual session of the Massachusetts Division was in Boston, on Wednesday. The Grand Scribe's report was presented, from which it appears that there are in the State 27 divisions, with 1499 members. There have been admitted during the past year 177 members, and only 20 members have withdrawn. Seven divisions admit lady visitors. The number of lady visitors in these divisions is 841.

BAD NEWS FOR THE "SPOILSMEN."—Mr. Guthrie calculated that, on the 1st of July next, there would be a surplus in the Treasury of forty-two millions. Such is the falling off of the revenue, that there probably will be a deficit of some millions at the period named.

BLACK BOILED SILKS.

BOILED BLACK SILKS.—We call the particular attention of purchasers to our Stock of Full Boiled Black Dress Silks. We are very particular in selecting our Black Silks, and shall keep on hand at all times, a good stock of 24 in., 26 in., 28 in., 30 in., and 32 inch of the same celebrated quality, which we have sold in such large quantities since we opened here; and which are warranted not to crack or break.

We receive our Silks new and Fresh every week, as this is an article which a person does not purchase very often, and which costs considerable money, it is very desirable to get the best in the market. For which purpose, purchasers are invited to call at the New Store, No. 15 Market Street. ALLEN & PAINE.

☞ The only place in this city where an Ambrotype can be obtained, is at Davis' Ambrotype Gallery, No. 8 Daniel Street, as they have the Patent, and all infringements will be prosecuted. sept9

☞ Probably most persons are familiar with the story of a little dog,—who, when the moon was shining brightly, used to run out and bark at her; but all the while the moon kept right on shining. Just so I KEEP RIGHT ON SHINING; or in other words,—keep right on making the various kinds of Pictures in the Heliographic or Photographic art.

sept15 A. GREGORY.

☞ Our friend in his illumination says nothing about Ambrotype, and does not seem to have the slightest idea that his "shining" is decidedly gassy. Don Quixotte's monomania never reached so high a point as that; but as we have as much as we can do by daylight, we do not make pictures by moon or gas-light, and our friends will govern themselves accordingly.

As regards the Ambrotype, we are determined to stop the sale of a spurious article, to the injury of our business, the deception of the public, and the consequent injurious impressions against the art. And in consideration, we offer $25 reward for an Ambrotype made in this place, other than at our Rooms. And as the word Ambrotype was coined for and patented with the Picture, we offer the same reward [$25] for any picture made or sold as an Ambrotype. Evidence sufficient to convict in the U. S. courts will be required in the last case; in the other, the Picture itself is all the evidence we want. DAVIS BROTHERS.

WHO THAT IS TROUBLED

With any of those disagreeable complaints, such as Jaundice, Dyspepsia, or Liver diseases of any kind, but would like to know of a remedy for their unseemly visitations? We feel that we are doing our invalid readers an invaluable service if we can induce them to get a bottle of Dr. Santord's Invigorator, and take it, for we know from personal experience that it is one of the greatest remedies for general debility, and consequent inactive bodily powers, ever before used. Its action is so perfect and complete as to give relief the first time taken, and if it does to others as it has to us, half a bottle will be all that is needed. We know of nothing we can recommend with such confidence, as a family medicine, as the Invigorator.

General Agents in Boston, BURR, FOSTER & Co., No. 1 Cornhill; and GEO. C. GOODWIN & CO., Boston.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

PRESERVATION OF THE HAIR.—In all ages and among almost all tribes of men, a beautiful head of hair has been, and still is, regarded as the fairest ornament of the fairest works of the Creator. The patrician dames and damsels of ancient and modern Rome bestowed that attention upon the hair which has added to the crowning beauty to the chef d'œuvre of the sculptor and the painter, and no lady, and indeed no gentleman of modern times is unmindful of this exquisite shield and lovely ornament of the face. To maiden beauty it is the finishing touch; to manhood it is the symbol and warrant of strength and nobility, to-day as in the days of the patriarchs; indeed such it always had been and always will be.

But unable as we are to withstand the ills of time and life, it often happens that through disease and misfortune we become grey in early life, and bald before we reach the full grace of womanhood or the full stature of manhood.—Then it is that however much we may venerate the grey locks and reverence the wisdom of bald head among the honored remnants of the generation of three score and ten, we know that our grey hairs are no more venerable than beautiful; while our bald heads are neither the one nor the other, but, on the contrary, are quite the reverse of both and impose upon us many social and sanitary disadvantages and discomforts.

LOCAL.

☞ It is reported by the contractor from Washington, that work is to be forthwith resumed upon the Custom House Building in this city—he having received funds to pay for arrearages, and to continue work.

Another case of fatal midnight ruffianism has been discovered in New York.—James McDermott had a difficulty with Owen McKearnan, about five o'clock last Tuesday morning, in which the latter struck McDermott over the head with a cart rung, injuring him so that he died the next day. McKearnan has been arrested.

The places where these ruffians (and such as killed the Boston Policeman Hodgdon) spend their nights, are saloons, groggeries, and nameless places,—every one nuisances.

MODERATELY HOPEFUL!—A Washington correspondent of the Boston Herald says:

Hon. Geo. W. Kittredge, of New Hampshire, is in town, at Kirkwood's, and had an interview with the President to-day.—He takes a moderately hopeful view of the silent revolution going on in the minds of New Hampshire voters, who temporarily abandoned the democracy.

THE "HARD TIMES," we apprehend, are not to pass away in a day, or a month; the return to the days of flushness cannot be immediate. Too much capital has been carried from New England and invested in unproductive western lands. Too much has been invested in non-productive railroads; too much in costly houses, furniture and carriages; too much wasted by the general government for the army, navy, and the desert lands of Mexico; too much in the importation of foreign silks and bad wine—to admit of a sudden recuperation.

There is much senseless talk in regard to banks and banking, just as if the banking corporations had power to remedy the present stringency. They cannot do it. Bank directors are like other business men—they do just what they think best for their own interest. The banks of New Hampshire have engaged in no western speculations, and at the time are in no danger whatever, except of a reduction of profits.—Manchester American.

MURDERS IN BALTIMORE.—The telegraph informed us of the murder of Police Sergeant, Wm. Jordan, during the election riots in Baltimore. His funeral was attended on Friday afternoon by three hundred policemen, all the American clubs, and one or two fire companies. Charles Nally, a coach maker, was shot during a drunken melee, on Thursday night, by Samuel Brown, Jr. On the same night a young man named Vanderdider was shot dead by a party of lawless ruffians, who chased him nearly to his house and fired half a dozen shots at him. None of the parties have been arrested, and the cause of the shooting is unknown.

FATAL VISIT TO THE SPIRIT-ROOM.—On the Saturday morning preceding the sailing of the U. S. ship Plymouth, from Southampton, one of the seamen gained access to the spirit-room, and drank to such an excess as to produce congestion of the brain. He died within an hour, and was buried in Southhampton cemetery.

☞ Anthony Burns, the fugitive, whose recapture in Boston produced such an excitement a few years since, is now a student in the Fairmount Theological Seminary, near Cincinnati. He has been studying a year or so past at Oberlin.

☞ One of the partners in a prominent Philadelphia firm that lately suspended, kept 2 carriages, 5 light riding wagons, 4 fast horses, 2 dogs, 2 coachmen and 5 servant girls. It is no wonder that such men fail.

A POLICEMAN ARRESTED FOR ROBBERY.—Robert Brown, a police officer of North Shields, has been held for trial, for robbing a drunken sailor, while he was asleep upon a wharf. Some of the articles and money stolen from the sailor were at Brown's quarters. From the time that he entered the force, he had been known to be very attentive to drunken men, and had got the name of "an active officer."

☞ Several fishing schooners, owned in Wellfleet, have been seized in Portland by the revenue officers, for violating the license papers.

☞ It is estimated that 40,000 people of both sexes, adults and minors, are now out of employment in Philadelphia.

TOWN TALK.—"Good morning, Jones, How does the world use you?" "It uses me up, thank you." Exeunt.—N. Y. Mirror.

Democracy has got to incorporate into its creed, at no distant day, the doctrine of the entire abolition of all issue. Mark that.—Bath Organ.

The present day affords a remarkable fulfilment of the prophet's words, "I will turn my hand upon thee, and take away all thy tin."

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Simeon Draper was last evening chosen to fill the vacancy in the Board of Police Commissioners.

☞ The price of slaves in Virginia has fallen 33 per cent.

OHIO ELECTION RETURNS.—Cleveland, Oct. 22.—The official returns from seventy counties have been received. Chase's majority, official and reported, is 2027.—The indications are that the Senate will stand 15 Republicans to 18 Democrats; and the House 48 Republicans and 57 Democrats.

MINNESOTA ELECTION.—Chicago, Oct. 22. Thirty-three counties in Minnesota have been heard from, showing Sibley, the Democratic candidate for Governor, 1700 ahead. There are fourteen counties to be heard from, which will probably increase Sibley's majority.

This Medicine is now being introduced into all parts of the United States and British Provinces, and great success attends its use everywhere.—These Powders are now offered to the world as a PERFECTLY SAFE AND EFFECTUAL MEDICINE, for the purposes they are recommended, and in nine cases out of ten when they are taken in the first stages, and almost invariably two will effect a permanent cure—and unlike all other preparations, which, if they check the disease, leave the person in a condition that requires physic after it, which is not the case with the Dysentery Powders, for they regulate the Bowels, tone up the system, and leave it in a healthy state.

LOTTERIES

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send money from Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $50,000, according to the number of tickets and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m18 1y

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. Francis & Co are the managers, are chartered by the State of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything is conducted with the strictest fairness in honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $25. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Ternary combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100,000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

☞ The drawn numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner in the following papers, viz: Sun, Clipper, Patriot, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

Magee's Patent Ventilating Stove.

FOR WARMING AND VENTILATING

PARLORS, OFFICES, HALLS, STORES,

SCHOOL HOUSES, &c.

WHICH for economy, purity of air, and ease of management, has no equal. It can be regulated so as to give

Any amount of Heat required,

and unlike all other Anthracite Coal Burners, ventilates the apartments quite as thoroughly, as a wood fire or Franklin, producing a current of Air, at the same time, pure and agreeable, and none of the air which comes in contact with the fire pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache, so much complained of by those using Stoves and Furnaces, is entirely obviated. The fire may be continued from one to four days without replenishing.

These Stoves are beautiful in design, and finished in the most perfect manner. They are equally appropriate, and have given universal satisfaction to all who have adopted them.

For Offices and Stores as well as the Parlor.

The Inventor challenges the world to produce an article by which so much Pure Warm Air can be generated, from so small an amount of fuel, requiring but about 15 pounds of Anthracite Coal, to burn an ordinary sized parlor for 24 hours, without replenishing, and then leaving fire enough to rekindle without the use of charcoal. The coal is all used, and no clinkers made, consequently, sifting coal is dispensed with.—When this Stove is properly managed,

THE FIRE MAY BE CONTINUED THROUGH
THE ENTIRE SEASON,

without once going out. Added to all these qualifications, the purchaser may reasonably expect to save from 30 to 50 per cent, in fuel expense.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES.

Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience

THE combination of ingredients in these Pills, is the result of a long and extensive practice; they are mild in their operation; and certain to restoring nature to its proper channel. In every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are certain to open those obstructions to which females are liable, and bring nature into its proper channel, whereby health is restored, and the pale and deathly countenance changed to a healthy one. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, that most always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, the Pills will invariably remedy all these evils. In all cases of painful menstruation, or nervous and spinal affections in the back and limbs, lowness of spirits, hysteria, &c. Now are they less efficacious in the cure of Leucorrhœa, commonly called the "Whites." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. Warranted purely Vegetable, and free from anything injurious to life or health. Full and explicit directions which should be from each accompany each box.

These Pills are put up in square flat boxes.—Persons residing where there are no Agencies established, by enclosing One Dollar in a letter, prepaid, to Dr. C. L. Cheeseman, Box No. 4581, Post Office, New York City, can have them sent to their respective addresses by return of mail.

A CAPITAL JOKE.—A good joke occurred in Cambridge, on Tuesday, which created quite a laugh among certain grave people. It appears that the Sheriff of Middlesex summoned a jury to meet in Cambridge yesterday, and after a long session, invited them to the Brattle House to dinner.—When they were ushered into the room, it was remarked, that the Sheriff had been very generous in providing so elegant an entertainment, including all the luxuries of the season. While the gentlemen were in the full enjoyment of this luxurious repast, in came the President and Faculty of Harvard College, who, it seems, had ordered a dinner, it being exhibition day, when they always have a social entertainment together. It appeared that the dinner which the jury had eaten, was intended for the dignitaries of the University, and as might be supposed, the latter were greatly disappointed to find that they were too late. President Walker laughed heartily at the joke, while some of the Professors looked very sad indeed. After a little delay a slight repast was prepared for the elaborate dinner, and considerable sport was indulged in while they partook of their humble fare. The verdict of the "enlarged jury" may be easily guessed.—Transcript.

The above account of the "accident," as we learn from one of the "sufferers," is substantially correct. It should be stated, however, it was no College dinner, nor for the Faculty, but the dinner provided, according to ancient custom, for the Honorable and Reverend, the Visiting Committee of the Overseers, who, on this occasion, were the guests of the University. His Excellency the Governor, and His Honor the Lieut. Governor, belong to this Committee ex officio. His Excellency was not present, but His Honor was. Considerable dismay was exhibited by the guests, and a learned Judge was requested to enter the dining room, and charge the jury. He did so, and found his own townsman, the High Sheriff, the leader in this foray. It is said that the Professors who were present were so accustomed to short commons that they took things very quietly, but the Committee made wry faces. It turned out, however, that they got an excellent dinner, notwithstanding the unpromising state of things at the beginning. We have heard that, besides roast beef, mutton, and goose, there were succulent squabs and the plumpest of partridges; so that, as one of the Professors remarked, the dinner de facto was quite as good as the dinner de jure.—Courier.

FINANCIAL REMINISCENCES.—In 1837, the suspension took place in May and was continued until August, 1838. In April, 1838, a convention of 143 bank delegates from 13 states met in New York, and passed a series of resolutions, one of which recommended a simultaneous resumption of specie payments throughout the country on the first Monday in January following. New York and Mississippi voted against the resolutions. The New York banks resumed in May, at the end of the year for which the legislature had legalized the suspension. Pennsylvania resumed in August. In Massachusetts, the legislature, on the 20th of April, passed an act to aid the banks in resuming, and legalized the withholding of specie on all notes over $5 until the first of January, 1839. The Massachusetts banks immediately commenced the payment of specie for small bills; some of them soon after paid all amounts when requested; and on the 13th of August, 1838, the resumption became general throughout the State. A few months later the banks in Pennsylvania and in many parts of the South and West, suspended again, and did not finally and fully resume until the year 1842, just after the passage of the celebrated Tariff act of that year.—Portland Advertiser.

A WIFE'S PRAYER.—If there is anything that comes nearer to the imploration of Ruth and Naomi, than the subjoined, we have not seen it:

"Lord bless and preserve that dear person whom thou hast chosen to be my husband; let his life be long and blessed, comfortable and holy, and let me also become a great blessing and a comfort unto him, a sharer in all his sorrows, a meet-help in all the accidents and changes in the world; make me amiable and forever dear to him. Unite his heart to me in the dearest love and holiness, and mine to him in all its sweetness, charity and complacency. Keep me from all ungentleness, all disingenuousness, and unreasonableness of passion and humor; and make me humble and obedient, useful and observant, that we may delight in each other, according to thy blessed word; and may both of us rejoice in thee, having for our portion the love and service of God forever."

Douglas's organ, the Chicago Times, goes for a graceful submission to the admission of Kansas as a free State, seeing it cannot be helped, and predicts that in six months after its admission black republicanism will be no more. This new demonstration of Douglas produces a decided sensation at Washington. That he, the chief conspirator of the Kansas-Nebraska fraud, should now be willing to allow the people of Kansas to choose their own institutions is certainly a great marvel. But the idea of killing the Republican party by success is really a very good joke. It will be a happy death.—Manchester Am.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being painful, is perfectly easy. It has control over but ONE MALADY—but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUNDRY INFLAMMATORY DISEASES—whatever be the locality—whether in the Head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, or kept in check, as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires much water, and adhesion to the point of equill dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.
☞ Of its curative value, the enlightened community, and not the discoverer, must be the judge.

BURDEN'S
Pressed Boat, Ship, Brad & Countersunk
Railroad Spikes
ARE well known in the United States, and are conspicuous for their regularity and finish, their unvarying uniformity of size, and for the excellent quality of iron from which they are made, to which may be attributed their rare strength. They are everywhere considered far superior to the hand made spikes of common English iron, and inferior to nothing of the kind yet introduced to the public.

Morning Chronicle.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1857.

☞ Uncle Toby has edified himself, by reading over, once in every five years, learned essays against small bills, in favor of a gold currency, and attributing great bliss to the latter and great evil to the former. But practically he never knew any more harm done by small bills than by large ones,—and he considers the gold dollar one of the most dangerous coins,—so easily lost, so easily counterfeited, and wearing out solast. Let gold dollars fulfil their proper mission, and be mingled with our currency,—but for making change and doing business, one dollar bills on good and well-known banks, are vastly more convenient.

In New Hampshire, at an early period, we had 50 cent and 75 cent bills, half as large as the bills for $1 or $5. These remained current till within 30 or 40 years, when the banks ceased to issue them, chiefly because they had been almost exactly counterfeited, because the plates were well worn, and change was abundant. But the people never lost anything by them;—they were never suspended—nor made any body else suspend.

They were very convenient, and would be, if we had them, very convenient now. They would have been so, twenty times, at least, since they were abolished.

☞ A new law of Mississippi against passing any bank bills of a less denomination than $5, will go into operation on the 1st of November next. After that date it will be an indictable offense to pass smaller bills than $5 within the State of Mississippi.

BANKS.—The N. H. Democratic Standard, Mr. Burke's paper, says:—

The question of banks is a difficult and complex one. * * * They are certainly used by all civilized countries; and those nations that have done most for the arts and sciences, and the amelioration of the human family, have recognized most the association of capital in the form of banks. And it would seem that, from the general use of banks by the more enlightened nations, these institutions were deemed, if not an absolute benefit, at least a necessary evil. In a new country like ours, where energy and industry are so richly rewarded, where there is everything in excess but capital, it appears that the credit system is highly favorable to its development as enabling those of skill and enterprise, but without money, to try their fortunes in the race for wealth.

The unprecedented progress our country has made in the development of her resources, in the extension of her agricultural, mechanical, and commercial industry, may be attributed, in a great degree, to the liberal credit system which so peculiarly characterizes our people. But whether it is better to move more slowly upon a more strict cash system without this periodical recurrence of bank suspensions, monetary crises, panic and temporary depreciation of the value of property, of rush ahead, as we have been doing, in strict keeping with the character of "Young America," is a question which the ambition for wealth will have more to do in deciding, than the cool judgment of the head.

The money market was stringent, the rates ranging from 2 to 3 per cent. for prime paper. Private advices from Europe had a very depressing effect on the market, and the transactions were quite small. All kinds of Stock declined on the first Board, not excepting New York State, which has stood firm for several days. The whole amount of sterling bills returned from London, protested, is put at £70,000, including the 20,000 drawn by the Bank of Pennsylvania on Geo. Peabody.

The suspensions were, Cobb, Hallett & Co., bankers; and Lord, Warren, Evans & Co., dry goods dealers.

A gratifying report comes that £1,000,000 sterling of specie is on its way from England to this country.

PENNSYLVANIA CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS.—At the late election in Pennsylvania, the following amendments to the State constitution—four in number—were voted upon and adopted: One limits the State in the amount of debt it may contract to $750,000, except to repel invasion or to repress domestic insurrection, and also prohibits the lending of the credit of the Commonwealth to any individual or corporation, and the Commonwealth from becoming a joint owner or stockholder in any association or corporation. The second amendment deprives the legislature of the power to divide counties without the assent of the voters of such counties. The third provides for the appointment of representatives throughout the State, and the division of the city of Philadelphia into senatorial and representative districts; and the fourth gives power to the legislature to alter, revoke or annul any charter of incorporation whenever it is deemed injurious to the citizens.

FEMALE SUFFRAGE IN NEW JERSEY.—According to a letter in the National Intelligencer, women formerly possessed and at various times exercised the elective franchise in the State of New Jersey. By the constitution adopted July 2, 1776, the privilege of voting was accorded to "all inhabitants of full age" who were worth £50 proclamation money, clear estate, and who had resided a certain time within the country. As this could be construed to include women, in 1790 a prominent Quaker member of the Assembly, who was on a committee to frame an election law, had sufficient influence to have the act drawn to read "he or she," when referring to qualified voters—the reason for his action being probably the fact that females are allowed to vote at the religious assemblies of the Friends. No change of this phraseology was made until 1807, and women often voted when the elections were close or there was any special excitement. In the Presidential contest of 1800 there were many instances of their voting in different parts of the State. At an election in Hunterdon county in 1802 even some women of color were allowed to vote, and their ballots elected a member of the legislature.

In the year 1806 a new court house and jail were to be erected in the county of Essex, and their location was to be decided by a vote of the people. Strenuous exertions were made to have them not located at Newark, and the contest created great excitement throughout the county. When the election was held, women of "full age," whether single or married, possessing the required property qualifications, were permitted by the judges of the election to vote. But as the conflict proceeded, and the blood of the combatants waxed warmer, the number of female voters increased, and it was found that every single and every married woman in the county was not only of "full age," but also worth "fifty founds proclamation money, clear estate," and as such entitled to vote if they chose. So apparent were the frauds practiced at this election, that the next legislature set it aside, and left the buildings to be erected at Newark. An act was also passed, restricting the right of suffrage to free white male citizens of twenty-one years. And thus was extinguished female suffrage in New Jersey. It certainly was not a very promising experiment.

THE ELECTION RETURNS FROM KANSAS are most cheering to the Free States. With all the labor and effort to make Kansas a slave State, more than two-thirds of the voters are to-day Free State men. There is this singular fact, that the pro-slavery party carried not more than four counties, and those all bordered on Missouri, and the polls were located more to accommodate the Missourians than the actual settlers.—The election in Kansas, all the circumstances considered, is the greatest triumph of freedom, and the loudest and most vehement protest against the extension of negroism, that this country has ever known.

We have no doubt that two-thirds of the voters are free State men—but we doubt whether the vote will be so declared, after all, as to give freedom a bare majority.—When Kansas is admitted into the Union as a free State—then we will begin to rejoice over it. Till then—we wait.

SEBASTOPOL.—The American Company engaged in clearing the harbor of Sebastopol, by raising or destroying the Russian men-of-war sunk there during the late war, were making favorable progress at last accounts. A letter from Odessa of 28th ult., states that on that day, the company were to raise a Russian man-of-war, of 120 guns, called (in the vernacular) the "Twelve Apostles."

NEW YORK POLICE.—After several hundred ballotings to fill the vacancy in their number, the Board of Metropolitan Police in New York have arrived at the point of departure, and have unanimously elected Simeon Draper, whose resignation caused the vacancy. Mayor Wood proposed this course. It is not stated whether Mr. Draper will accept.

NEW YORK POLICE COMMISSION.—Hon. Simeon Draper, who has been chosen to fill the vacancy in this board, has not yet accepted or declined the position, preferring to take time for consideration, as his business affairs press heavily upon him at this time. However, if satisfied that he can do any good by returning to the councils of the board, he will accept.

☞ A singular case of mortality occurred in Bangor, recently, a whole family having died within about a week. Ada Margaret, only child of Alfred and Caroline D. Hanson, died Oct. 13th, aged 8 months. Mrs. Caroline D. Hanson, died Oct. 21st, aged 21 years and 6 months. Mr. Alfred Hanson died Oct. 22d, aged 25 years.

☞ It is stated that ten slaves escaped from Norfolk, Va., on Monday.

SULLIVAN COUNTY, N. H.—The meeting of the Sullivan Co. Conference of Congregational Churches was held at Langdon, Oct. 6. Rev. Jacob Scales was Moderator, and W. F. Newton, Scribe. In the minutes, as given in the Cong. Journal, the cause of Temperance was reported as hopeful, and the sale of liquor has almost ceased. Langdon is itself a notable instance of the good effected by both moral and legal suasion. No place of unlicensed sale known in town, but much evil is endured by the laxity of temperance men in Charlestown and Paper Mill Village. In Charlestown the law serves to put less restraint upon the sale of rum than in most towns in the State. In several towns, efforts to resuscitate the pledge, and to bring old and young to its blessed embrace, have been put forth with success.

The following resolutions on the subject of Temperance were passed and ordered to be published:

Resolved, That Temperance is a legitimate subject for discussion in the Christian pulpit; and that its connection with the interests of morality and religion is such that the Gospel minister may justly give it a prominence in his instructions in the sacred desk, and in his labors out of it.

Resolved, That while we regard the prohibitory law upon the statute book of this State with undiminished affection and confidence, as an instrument adapted to accomplish all that civil law can do for the suppression of intemperance, we yet regard it as auxiliary to moral suasion, and as largely dependent for its efficacy on the continued use and influence of the latter upon the public mind.

Resolved, That in this, as in all other moral reformations, the Christian ministry and churches, must be foremost in labors and sacrifices, in order to warrant the hope of ultimate triumph.

Resolved, That in our opinion, in order to the further advancement of this cause, the young must be faithfully instructed in the elementary truths and principles of temperance, and be induced to sign the pledge.

Resolved, That we look with special interest and encouragement upon the labors that are being bestowed upon the young, in reference to this matter, in various sections of our land; and we pledge our faithful endeavors to secure the use of similar means for the instruction and security of the youthful part of our several congregations and communities.

NEW HAMPSHIRE REGISTER.—Mr G. Parker Lyon, Concord, has just published "The New Hampshire Annual Register and United States Calendar for the year 1858." This publication contains its usual variety of useful information, the collection and methodical arrangement of which, reflects great credit upon the industry and ability of Mr. Lyon, as an experienced, faithful and reliable statistcian. Its range of subjects is extensive. It is a complete and valuable Calendar; it contains a brief but conveniently arranged history of New Hampshire; full lists of the members of the State Government—Executive, Legislative and Judicial; the terms of the courts; &c., &c.

The Register should be in every family in New Hampshire; no business man can afford to be without it. For sale by J. H. Foster and J. F. Shores.

THE MORMONS.—St. Louis, Oct. 23.—A correspondent of the Republican, mentions having recently seen Capt. Van Vliet, confidential agent of the government, at Palmetto, Kansas, who was returning from Salt Lake. He reported that the Mormons refuse to allow the United States troops to enter the city, and that Brigham Young publicly declares that he will burn the prairies,—thus depriving the animals of the expedition of subsistence, and burn his own city, if necessary, before he will submit to the demands of the U. S. government. The forts along the route are represented to be in bad repair, and as not affording sufficient protection for the troops.

FIRES. — Columbus, Ohio, Oct, 23.—A fire in the State Prison at this place today, destroyed the shops at the north end of the yard, and threatened for a time the destruction of the whole building. The loss on stock in the shops is estimated at $25,000. The fire was the work of an incendiary.

Cincinnati, Oct. 23.—About 7 o'clock this evening, the sugar refinery of Kilbreath, McKensie & Co. was totally destroyed by fire. The loss is estimated at $80,000, and is fully covered by insurance.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—President Buchanan hearing that ex-President Pierce contemplates visiting Madeira for the benefit of his wife's health, has tendered him a passage in the steamer Powhattan, which is soon to leave for the East Indies, touching at Madeira.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 23.—J. C. Stuck, U. S. Surveyor, contradicts the report recently published in the N. Y. Tribune, that several companies of surveyors were murdered by the Cheyenne and Sioux Indians, at the north-east corner of Nebraska.

The Kansas Constitutional Convention met on the 20th.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 23.—Messrs. Perrick & Peterson, bankers, of this city, have suspended. Their assets are ample.

BLACK BOILED SILKS.

BOILED BLACK SILKS.—We call the particular attention of purchasers to our Stock of Full Boiled Black Dress Silks. We are very particular in selecting our Black Silks, and shall keep on hand at all times, a good stock of 24 in., 26 in., 28 in., 30 in., and 32 inch of the same celebrated quality, which we have sold in such large quantities since we opened here; and which are warranted not to crack or break.

We receive our Silks new and Fresh every week. As this is an article which a person does not purchase very often, and which costs considerable money, it is very desirable to get the best in the market. For the purpose, our friends are invited to call at the New Store, No. 15 Market Street. ALLEN & PAINE.

☞ The only place in this city where an Ambrotype can be obtained, is at Davis' Ambrotype Gallery, No. 8 Daniel Street, as they have the Patent, and all infringements will be prosecuted. sept9

☞ Probably most persons are familiar with the story of a little dog,—who, when the moon was shining brightly, used to run out and bark at her; but all the while the moon kept right on shining. Just so I KEEP RIGHT ON SHINING; or in other words,—keep right on making the various kinds of Pictures in the Heliographic or Photographic art.

sept15 A. GREGORY.

☞ Our friend in his illumination says nothing about Ambrotype, and does not seem to have the slightest idea that his "shining" is decidedly gassy. Don Quixotte's monomania never reached so high a point as that; but as we have as much as we can do by daylight, we do not make pictures by moon or gas-light, and our friends will govern themselves accordingly.

As regards the Ambrotype, we are determined to stop the sale of a spurious article, to the injury of our business, the deception of the public, and the consequent injurious impressions against the Ambrotype. For this reason, we offer $25 reward for an Ambrotype made in this place, other than at our Rooms. And as the word Ambrotype was coined for and patented with the Pictures, we offer the same reward [$25] for any picture made or sold as an Ambrotype, Evidence sufficient to convict in the U. S. courts will be required in the last case; in the other, the Picture itself is all the evidence we want. DAVIS BROTHERS.

WHO THAT IS TROUBLED

With any of those disagreeable complaints, such as Jaundice, Dyspepsia, or Liver diseases of any kind, but would like to know of a remedy for these unseemly visitations? We feel that we are doing our invalid readers an invaluable service if we can induce them to get a bottle of Dr. Sanford's Invigorator, and take it, for we know from personal experience that it is one of the greatest remedies for general debility, and consequent inactive bodily powers, ever before used. Its action is so perfect and complete as to give relief the first time taken, and if it does to others as it has to us, half a bottle will be all that is needed. We know of nothing we can recommend with such confidence, as a family medicine, as the Invigorator.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

PRESERVATION OF THE HAIR.—In all ages and among almost all tribes of men, a beautiful head of hair has been, and still is, regarded as the fairest ornament of the fairest work of the Creator. The patrician dames and damsels of ancient and modern Rome bestowed that attention upon the hair which has added the crowning beauty to the chef d'œuvre of the sculptor and the painter, and no lady, and indeed no gentleman of modern times is unmindful of this exquisite shield and lovely ornament of the face. To maiden beauty it is the finishing touch; to manhood it is the symbol and warrant of strength and nobility, to-day as in the days of the patriarchs; indeed such it always had been and always will be.

But unable as we are to withstand the ills of time and life, it often happens that through disease and misfortune we become grey in early life, and bald before we reach the full grace of womanhood or the full stature of manhood.—Then it is that however much we may venerate the grey locks and reverence the wisdom of bald head among the honored remnants of the generation of three score and ten, we know that our grey hairs are no more venerable than beautiful; while our bald heads are neither the one nor the other, but, on the contrary, are quite the reverse of both and impose upon us many social and sanitary disadvantages and discomforts.

For only $1, we will supply the Weekly Chronicle from the present date to Jan 1, 1859.

Singular.—In our advertising columns will be seen a notice of a horse, a chaise and harness, for which an owner is wanted—the team having been found on the Sheafe Farm, half or three-quarters of a mile from Sagamore road. The horse was partially unharnessed, and hitched in the shed, and the chaise put in the building. Nobody lives on the farm, and but for the visit of laborers there, to press the hay, the animal would doubtless have starved. He was found on Wednesday, and had apparently been tied there for two days or more; and was half-famished, to say nothing about suffering from thirst. "It's what' did ye cum from,—an' who do ye belong to?" There must be foul play somewhere.

☞ The announcement of the Mercantile Lyceum will be seen among our new advertisements this morning. This will be the Fourth Course of Lectures given under the direction of this Association; and with the past experience and observation of the Lecture Committee, we doubt not we shall have a Lyceum richly worth attending. At any rate, they make a good beginning; the Temple ought not to contain all who want to hear Albert Laighton render music in poetry, or Emma Wentworth in song. If that one entertainment isn't worth a dollar, then have we placed too high an estimate on "the beautiful."

Business.—There is a certain amount of business which must be done, let the times be ever so hard; and that amount will be done by those who have the enterprise to labor for it. The men who advertise, whether through the medium of newspapers or by handbills, and the like, are doing the business now. So send in your orders for printing and advertising.

A petition to the Secretary of the Navy praying that one of the new steam sloops-of-war may be built at the Charlestown Navy Yard, has received the signature of many officers and mechanics of that station.

Why not circulate a petition of the same sort, to have one of them built at Portsmouth Navy Yard? The Secretary knows, as well as everybody else, that it can be done here as well as anywhere in the world.

Remembrance of the departed.—Portsmouth bears but little evidence in any public institutions of the liberality of her rich citizens—there are but few monuments out of the grave yards to show that many of our wealthy citizens who have passed away, have ever had a residence among us. Our Athenæum may show some honorable exceptions to this remark, but this, although a valuable, is not a public institution. In looking back the long vista of one hundred and sixty years, we find no gift of real estate to our town except the liberal donation of Daniel street, and a lot for the school house in State street, by the widow Bridget Graffort in 1700. This deed should not be forgotten—henceforth that School House, or if sold, the one which may be substituted in its place, should be called the "Graffort School."

The names of those who manifest their love of our city in this way, should be permanently borne in our city institutions.

Bridget Graffort, we have just ascertained, was the daughter of Richard Cutt. She was the wife of Thomas Daniel in 1678, when Mr. Cutt made his will. In 1684 was married to Thomas Graffort. In 1700 she was a widow, and childless.—Journal.

"Went a Wooling, and Came Home Shorn."—Not long since, a man residing in this State, who has considerable reputation for shrewdness, loaned to an individual of an adjoining State $1000; for which he took the note of the individual, with a good endorser and a bonus of $40. Recently the endorser failed, and the man who loaned the money hearing of it, he posted off to see his debtor, and demanded his money. The debtor told him he would try to raise it, but thought it would be difficult to do so in the present condition of the money market; and as money was worth so much more now than when he hired it, he should now pay him but $900 for the note—which, after some considerable talk, the creditor said he would take, provided he could have the money just then. Whereupon the debtor immediately filled out a check for the amount ($900;) and the man, with all his shrewdness, came away minus the interest and $60!

Morning Chronicle.

AFFLICTING CASUALTY.—On Monday afternoon, a little son of Jireh Swift, Esq., of New Bedford, aged about eight years, came home from the school at Worcester, where he had been a pupil, to be present at his grandfather's funeral. At nightfall he was missing, and after search by his anxious parents, it was feared that he must have fallen into a little pond of water, near the house, where he was in the habit of sailing a boat. The pond was dragged and the body of the little boy was found in it. His name was also Jireh Swift. The funeral of Mr. Swift's father took place yesterday.—New Bedford Mercury.

The Secretary of the Interior has issued orders for the expulsion of squatters from the Delaware Indian reserve in Kansas.—This is rather tardy justice to the Indians, and will be an unpleasant surprise to the squatters. Last year the Missourians squatted on the Shawnee reserve, and at the sale of the public lands the government agents respected their claims just as if their squatting had not been direct violation of the treaty. Now that Kansas is likely to become a free State, the government has suddenly grown anxious to protect the rights of the natives. We hope they will do it.—Manchester Am.

CRUELTY AT SEA.—As the crew of a Deal boat were cruising in the Downs, they saw some object floating in the distance, and on rowing to the spot found, to their surprise, a man struggling in the water, and almost exhausted. It appears the poor fellow had shipped on board an American ship called the Commonwealth, bound to Melbourne, and that owing to the brutal treatment of one of the officers, to which his person bore unequivocal testimony, he jumped overboard to escape from his violence.—Subsequently two others of the crew sought the same refuge, but were picked up by the ship's boat.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the chances of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the arrangement of chances every ticket must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of the number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the ignorant, but every ticket is a distinct one; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia.

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m31y

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which the Havana Co are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with the drawing is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. As a fact which the managers call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the order comes to hand. Tickets are The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of the number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Tertiary combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $2,000. Orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

☞ The drawn numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner in the following papers, viz: Sun, Clipper, Patriot, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

Magee's Patent Ventilating Stove.

FOR WARMING AND VENTILATING
PARLORS, OFFICES, HALLS, STORES,
SCHOOL HOUSES, &c.
WHICH for economy, purity of air, and ease of management, has no equal. It can be regulated so as to give
Any amount of Heat required, and unlike all other Anthracite Coal Burners, ventilates the apartment quite as thoroughly, as a wood fire or Franklin, producing a current of Air, at once moist, pure and agreeable, and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache, so much complained of by those using Stoves and Furnaces, is entirely obviated. The fire may be continued from one to four days without replenishing.
These Stoves are beautiful in design, and finished in the most perfect manner. They are equally appropriate, and have given universal satisfaction to all who have adopted them,
For Offices and Stores as well as the Parlor.
The Inventor challenges the world to produce an article by which so much Pure Warm Air can be generated, from so small an amount of fuel, requiring but about 15 pounds of Anthracite Coal, to warm an ordinary sized parlor for 24 hours, without replenishing, and then leaving fire enough to kindle without the use of charcoal. The coal is all used, and no clinkers made, consequently, sifting coal is dispensed with.—When this Stove is properly managed,
THE FIRE MAY BE CONVERTED THROUGH
THE ENTIRE SEASON,
without once going out. Added to all these qualifications, the purchaser may reasonably expect to save from 30 to 50 per cent. in fuel expense.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.
DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES.
Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience
THE combination of ingredients in these Pills, is the result of a long and extensive practice; they are mild in their operation, and certain in restoring nature to its proper channel. In every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are certain to open those obstructions to which females are liable, and bring nature into its proper channel, whereby health is restored, and the pale and deathly countenance changed to a healthy one. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, that most always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, the Pills will invariably remedy all these evils. I all cases of painful menstruation, or nervous and spinal affections in the back and limbs, lowness of spirits, hysterics, &c. Nor are they less efficacious in the cure of Leucorrhœa, commonly called the "Whites." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. Warranted purely Vegetable, and free from any thing injurious to life or health. Full and explicit directions which should be read, accompany each box.
These Pills are put up in square, flat boxes.—Persons residing where there are no Agencies established, by enclosing One Dollar in a letter, prepaid, to Dr. C. L. CRESSMAN, Box No. 4,531, Post Office, New York City, can have them sent to their respective addresses by return of mail.

PRESUMPTIVE EVIDENCE.—We learn that a most exciting scene took place at the opening of the Welland Assizes, at Merritsville, (C. W.,) on Thursday morning, Oct. 8th. The full particulars are contained in the Hamilton Spectator, of yesterday, from which we learn that His Honor Judge Draper, was appplied to by the counsel of Robert J. McHenry, for a continuance, in the case of Queen vs. McHenry, on an indictment for the murder of Charles Ritchie, in 1854. This same McHenry is the man mistaken for Townsend. On the very day of the arraignment the Propellor Vermont, running from Ogdensburg to Chicago, met with an accident, and put into Port Robinson dry dock for repair. Captain J. M. Lewis, her master, strolled accidentally over to Merrittsville, and hearing of the arrest for murder, went to the jail, and immediately recognized McHenry as a man who sailed with himself as cook on the Propellor Powhattan in 1852, and who went to California afterwards, and passed the whole year 1854 in that State, thus rendering the alibi complete. Justice Draper granted the application at once, on the reading of the affidavit of Captain Lewis, amid a marked sensation among the audience.—Detroit Advertiser.

☞ Rev. Dr. Vinton, of New York, has a good many visitors. He promised his servant girl a present of a pair of shoes when she had gone to the front door two hundred times. The promise was made on Monday morning, and the shoes were earned by 10 o'clock on Wednesday morning.

☞ It is reported from Washington that Quartermaster Reynolds, some three years ago dismissed on the allegation that he was a defaulter, has been cleared from the allegation, and restored to his office with full back pay.

☞ Forty-seven sheep in the enclosure of Benj. Bacon, Jr., of Woodstock, Me., were killed by lightning during a thunder storm on Saturday morning.

It will also remove all pimples from the face and s in. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative will do all this. See circular and the following

ANN ARBOR, November 5th 1856.
PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir: I have heard much of the wonderful effects of your Hair Restorative, and having been so often cheated by quacks and quack nostrums, hair dyes, &c., I was disposed to place your Restorative in the same category with the one thousand and one death impeded quacks. remember that I met you in Lawrence county some months since. when you gave me such assurance as induced the trial of your destructive in my immediately, by my good wife, whose hair had become very thin, and ordinarily white; and before exhausting one of your large bottles, her hair was restored nearly to its original beautiful brown color, and thickened, and become beautiful and glossy upon, and entirely over the head; she continues to use it not simply because of its beautifying effects upon the hair, but because of its healthful influence upon the head and mind. Others of my family and friends are using your Restorative, with the happiest effects; their cures my scepticism and doubts in reference to its character and values are entirely removed; and I can recommend it most cordially and confidently recommend its use by all who would have their hair restored from white or gray, by reason of sick ness or age, to original color and beauty, and by all young persons who would have the hair beautiful and glossy.
Very truly and gratefully yours,
SOLOMON MANN.

FRIEND WOOD: It was a long time after I saw you at Hillsdale before I found the bottle of Restorative for which that you gave me an order upon your agent in Detroit, and when I got it we concluded to try it on Mrs. Mann's hair, as the surest test it is power. It has done for her what more than she it would do; and others of my family and friends, having witnessed its effects, are now using and recommending it to me to others as entitled to the highest consideration you claim for it. Again, very respectfully and truly, yours,
SOLOMON MANN.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: Expands and Contracts the Muscular Fibre, be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every case of Inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like a magnet matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a quill dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.
☞ Of its intrinsic value, the enlightened community, and not the discoverer, must be the judge.

BURDEN'S
Pressed Boat, Ship, Brad & Countersunk
Railroad Spikes
ARE well known in the United States, and are conspicuous for their regularity and finish, their unvarying uniformity of size, and for the excellent quality of iron from which they are made, to which may be attributed their rare strength. They are every way considered far superior to the hand made spike of common English iron, and inferior to nothing of the kind yet introduced to the market.

CONGREGATIONALISM.

Rev. Dr. Stone, of the Congregational Journal, has been Secretary of the N. H. Mission Society for years, and knows as much of the churches in this State and Vermont, as any one man.

His paper has contained many statements of destitution, &c. These statements have been laid hold of by a set of owls, whose cares for the Church and Union are about on a par with another set of owls that watch over the hen-roost. Dr. Stone says:

The representations of our bad morals and irreligion have been seized upon with avidity, for the purpose of proving to all the world, that our boasted Puritanism and our popular free ecclesiastical government have become a failure. The general impression made on the public mind out of New England by the frequent comments of unfriendly journals, is that we are fast relapsing into a state of barbarism and religious licentiousness, wherein will live and flourish all manner of fanaticism and absurdity of opinion, subversive to both church and state.

Now the facts which are made the basis of comments referred to, we freely admit, but we deny the correctness of the inferences drawn from them.

To confine our remarks to New Hampshire and Vermont, in whose religious affairs we claim to have some knowledge, we deny, 1st, that there has been any decline of religion or morals that can be fairly attributed to the workings either of doctrinal opinions or of the Congregational system. * * * *

As the loss of the kind of influence just described, has not been occasioned by defections from sound doctrine or Christian life, but by death and emigration, it has not at all diminished the respect and sympathy of the masses of the people outside of the churches for their principles. It may be true that the number among the non-religious portions of community—i. e. those not making any religious professions—who nominally adhere to our system and contribute to sustain it, is comparatively less now than it was years ago; and if so, it may be accounted for in part from the influence of the very cause which it is supposed would have added numerically to our strength, namely, the maintenance of our distinctive peculiarities, and in part from the rise and influence of other denominations. Could a careful investigation be made throughout these States, we think it would be found that those Congregational or Presbyterian churches which carry the greatest number of the non-religious portions of the people in attendance upon tkeir places of public worship anywhere, are less distinguished for making prominent the distinctive features of the Calvinistic system. The only exceptions to this are those places where the Congregationalists or Presbyterians are the only denominations that have organizations. * * *

[There is, no doubt, a large amount of attachment to the Calvinistic system, in New Hampshire; and a much larger amount of attachment to Congregational liberty and polity, and to the order, education, and social position of congregational churches and pastors. Dr. Stone understands the difference, and makes the distinction.]

He says, in closing:

We repeat, then, without fear of contradiction, that there was as much irreligion, immorality and vice, not to say more, twenty or thirty years ago, as there is to-day; and we earnestly call upon our brethren of other states out of New England, to show, if they can, that the state of things within their own ecclesiastical or civil bounds is better than it is in New Hampshire or Vermont. Until they do this by a reliable array of statistics and facts, it does not become them to hold us up to the world as a sad illustration of the influence of lax doctrines, of fanatical principles, and of a loose system of order.

KANSAS ELECTION.—There remains no doubt that the free state ticket in Kansas, has received two-thirds of the votes,—though we have as yet no evidence that Bogus certificates will not be issued.

We give them as we find them.

A letter dated Leavenworth City Oct. 18, reports that Gov. Walker concedes the election to the Free State men, and had personally offered to give Mr. Parrott a certificate of his election to Congress, which was declined until the official returns were published by Secretary Stanton.

From the returns received at the office of Secretary Stanton up to the 18th inst., and which were counted by him as legal, the Legislation stands thus:

	Council.	House Reps.
Free State	8	26
Democrat	4	13
Doubtful	1	—
	13	26

It is also reported that the frauds perpetrated were so immense and palpable, that the democratic officials did not dare to sanction them, and had thrown out the vote of two entire counties and of several precincts in other counties.

MASSACHUSETTS STATE FAIR.

BOSTON, Oct. 26, 1857.

Messrs. Editors:—Taking a sudden start from your city on Saturday last, we reached this "modern Athens" in season to eat some dinner and see a little of the Massachusetts State Fair. On our way up we came near being led away by this sign,

"Come in here
And get some beer," temptingly displayed on a store at North Hampton. Summoning all our strength of mind, we succeeded, for once, in practising self-denial. We rather doubted a friend from Vermont, who told us that the farmers near the Green Mountains had just finished haying; but notice that they are still mowing the Hampton marshes.

We noticed your former brother editor, E. N. Faller, Esq., on his way to Newark, N. J., where he is to start a new paper immediately.

Arrived at the Fair grounds, we found men engaged in packing up all kinds of machinery, and the mammoth squashes that can't be beat, undergoing the same process. There was a new harrow, the invention of an Ohio farmer, which merits especial notice. Instead of the usual V shape, it was circular, and the draught applied to a pivot in the centre. A weight, self-shifting, made one side heavier than the other; then, that side being fixed, the harrow revolved, cutting the earth all in small diamonds; the weight again shifts, and the same process is repeated. It is of easier draught than the old harrow, as a harrow of 8 feet diameter gives 4 feet leverage.

The excitement for the afternoon consisted of horse-racing. The first of the programme we did not see, but we witnessed the grand trial of speed between the famous Charlestown horse "Ben Franklin" and J. H. Blodget's "Milk Maid"—mile heats, best two in three; the Maid won easily in two straight heats, in 3.00 and 2.58. "Pocahontas" was announced to appear at 4 o'clock, but had not come to light half an hour later. A race between "Chicago Jack" under saddle, and "Harry Walton" in harness, for the citizens' purse of $100, resulted in favor of the latter; time 2.38, 2.52, 2.40.

The intervals were filled up with some regular scrub-races; one between "Spot" and "Tom," in which the latter won in 3.00 and 2.54; though he made no pretensions to that class. The audience was principally horse-jockies, blacklegs and countrymen. (I don't come under either head, unless it may be the last.)

Gov. Armory, of Sierra Leone, accompanied by Maj. Elgee, of the 47th Foot, arrived at the Parker House on Saturday.

Sunday was rainy, so I debarred myself from the pleasure of attending church.

Yours, &c., CYPHAX.

GREAT FALLS AND CONWAY RAILROAD.—The Directors of this road have issued their ninth annual report, which is for the year ending Sept. 1, 1857, showing the income of the road for the year to be $27,563.55

Expenditures	13,072.82
Net income	14,490.73

The whole number of passengers conveyed during the year is 24,988. Number of tons of freight 9055. Number of miles run by passenger and freight trains 25,760, at a cost of 50 3-4 cents per mile. The net income is more than sufficient to pay the interest on the first and second mortgage bonds of the corporation.

The stockholders in February last authorized the Directors to issue $75,000 of the corporation's six per cent mortgage bonds, in addition to the amount already issued, being $200,000, to be applied for the liquidation of the floating debt. A large part of these bonds have been subscribed for by the stockholders at par.—This road is managed with commendable economy. The only salaried officer is the Superintendent and Treasurer, A. A. Perkins, Esq., of Great Falls, by whose perseverance and prudence the expenses of the road are reduced to the lowest point. No passenger has ever been injured upon the road, and its systematic and judicious management might be profitably studied by other and larger corporations.

☞ Hon. J. B. Haskin called on Secretary Toucey on Friday, at the request of of the mechanics employed in the Brooklyn Navy Yard, to urge the importance of affording work this winter, for the fifteen hundred operatives there. Secretary Toucey manifested a commendable desire to furnish all possible employment this winter to the mechanics.

At the Kennebec Cattle Show, held at Readfield, an object of much interest to all entering the Fair building was a farmer eighty-five years old, engaged with a machine of his own manufacture, making syrup from the Chinese sugar cane.—Portland Advertiser.

AN OLD FASHIONED BANK.—The Beverly Bank was chartered in 1802, and is one of the oldest banks in Massachusetts. The Salem Register says it has always maintained the best of reputations. So much confidence, it adds, has been felt in its soundness, that its bills have been treasured as choicely as specie, many cases having been known where bills have been kept on hand for a series of years. During the last year, among other old bills redeemed, was one seven dollar bill of the emission of 1802.

The above cutting from one of our cotemporaries recalls a statement which we heard many years ago, and which we presume is correct. Our Massachusetts Legislature, once upon a time, prohibited all bills under five dollars. To cure the inconvenience, the old Beverly Bank issued six and seven dollar bills, so that a man could pay one dollar in paper by giving a six and taking a five, or pay two by giving a seven and taking a five, or pay three by given a ten and taken a seven.

We believe the experiment did not last long, and doubtless there are those living who remember all about it. If the statement we remember to have heard be correct it will explain this unusual seven dollar bill which was redeemed last year at the Beverly Bank. Who remembers the particulars of this former attempt to do away with small bills?—Boston Courier.

We remember nothing about that attempt, but Uncle Toby remembers the 6 and 7 dollar bills very well. In 1814, he counted $1500 which was paid for the purchase of a house. The bills were packages of $100 each. One of these packages was mostly $6 bills, and another mostly 7s. Another still was in $4 bills of the New Hampshire Union Bank. These $4 bills continued to be issued, he thinks, till 1825 or thereabouts; and they had never till then been counterfeited. The cashier, Mr. John Rice, facetiously remarked to Uncle T. that it had been supposed no counterfeiter could make a bill so bad looking as the genuine $4;—but they had done it:—and now the bank called them in.

The 4s, 7s, and 6s, with 1, 2, 3, 5, and 10, enabled every body to make change to a dollar, if they only had money enough.

THE CHINESE SUGAR CANE.—An intelligent correspondent of Porter's Spirit of the Times says:

I observed an account of a Mr. Hedges' making sugar from the Chinese cane, and I am really glad of these improvements. My seven years' residence in California, and nearly one half in San Francisco, dealing in Chinese produce, has afforded me a good opportunity to test their sugar. I find that it contains a much larger amount of potash than the Louisiana sugar. This potash absorbs a large quantity of hydrogen, which causes it to become limpid, or damp. The Chinese cane can never excel the Louisiana cane, or the cane of the West Indies.

Many people are of the opinion that New England can thus raise her own molasses—and if so, why not her sugar also? while others think labor is generally too dear here in comparison to the price of foreign molasses. But if good paper can be made of the fibre of the sugar-cane, it will surely be largely produced here.

SMOKING.—A lady writing upon the practice of smoking, says,—"I think it tends to turn the complexion to a sort of yellow cast; I hardly know how to explain it, unless I compare the smoker's face to a smoked ham; I dont know wherein they differ, except that the one is a chimney hung in a man's head, and the other a hog's head hung in a chimney.

That isn't all the difference; for the hog wouldn't stand it to be smoked, till after he was dead; and even then he is hung up in some out of the way hole;—while the man goes round, disgusting all decent people. Besides the man uses the meanest of all smokes—tobacco-smoke; and nobody would touch a hog's head smoked with that. Get out with the vile stuff!

Among the recent cases of suspension is that of Mount Vesuvius, but letters from Naples state that it has re-commenced operations with increased violence. Etna is also in a state of eruption.

SINGULAR MISTAKE.—A chap in St. Louis, not acquainted with the German language, by the mispronunciation of the name "Helfenstein," on a drinking saloon in that city, rendered it "Hell-fence-in."

☞ Prof. Alpheus Crosby, formerly of Dartmouth College, has been appointed Principal of the Normal School in Salem. He is one of the best scholars in New England; and a most amiable and affable man.

☞ The provision market is so much cheaper than it was three months ago, that the leading hotels of New York and Philadelphia have reduced the price of board from $2.50 to $2 per day.

A WRONGED WOMAN'S REPLY.—Recently a man died at a tavern in this county, that he had long frequented, neglecting his family. The tavern keeper sent her word that he was dead and inquired her will. She replied—"In life he was with you—he gave you his money, and drank your liquor, which undoubtedly caused his death; I now leave him with you to bury."—Newburyport Herald.

LATEST FROM UTAH.—St. Louis, Oct. 24. Capt. Van Vleet, from Utah, arrived here last night. He reports having met troops composing the Utah expedition Sept. 22, 230 miles beyond Fort Laramie; all well. He also met Col. Johnston Oct. 1, 90 miles from Fort Laramie, and Gov. Cummings Oct. 8, 90 miles beyond Fort Harney.—Some of the supply trains were within 140 miles of Salt Lake Valley, while others were far behind and not likely to arrive this season.

Capt. V. has traveled over 400 miles since Aug. 1. He was treated with much consideration by the leading men of Salt Lake City, but heard the expression of only one opinion, viz., that the troops and government officers would never gain a toothold in their dominions. A heavy snow fell at Mt. Bridges Sept. 15th.

Hon. J. M. Beinhisel, delegate to Congress from Utah, accompanies Capt. V.—They leave for Washington to-day. Messrs. Nichols and Reher, engineers of Magraw's train, have arrived here. They left Pacific Springs on the 17th ult., and think that the train will winter at Fort Laramie. They report the cattle of the government train dying fast, and the mules breaking down. Grass was very scarce. Gen. Hoffman, commander at Fort Laramie, denies having overhauled th Mormon train.

☞ The late Knott Crockett of Rockland, Me., bequeathed the Lime Rock Bank $5000, he having been its President from the first moment of its existence. This, says the Free Press, is the only instance, we think, ever known in Maine, of such a bequest.

BLACK BOILED SILKS.

BOILED BLACK SILKS.—We call the particular attention of purchasers to our Stock of Full Boiled Black Dress Silks. We are very particular in selecting our Black Silks, and shall keep on hand at all times, a good stock of 24 in., 26 in., 28 in., 30 in., and 32 inch of the same celebrated quality, which we have sold in such large quantities since we opened here; and which are warranted not to crack or break.

We receive our Silks new and Fresh every week. As this is an article which a person does not purchase very often, and which costs considerable money, it is very desirable to get the best in the market. For which purpose, our chasers are invited to call at the New Store, No. 15 Market Street. ALLEN & PAINE.

☞ The only place in this city where an Ambrotype can be obtained, is at Davis' Ambrotype Gallery, No. 8 Daniel Street, as they have the Patent, and all infringements will be prosecuted. sept9

☞ Probably most persons are familiar with the story of a little dog,—who, when the moon was shining brightly, used to run out and bark at her; but all the while the moon kept right on shining. Just so I KEEP RIGHT ON SHINING; or in other words,—keep right on making the various kinds of Pictures in the Heliographic or Photographic art.

sept15 A. GREGORY.

☞ Our friend in his illumination says nothing about Ambrotype, and does not seem to have the slightest idea that his "shining" is decidedly gassy. Don Quixotte's monomania never reached so high a point as that; but as we have as much as we can do by daylight, we do not make pictures by moon or gas-light, and our friends will govern themselves accordingly.

As regards the Ambrotype, we are determined to stop the sale of a spurious article, to the injury of our business, the deception of the public, and the consequent injurious impressions against the Ambrotype. For this reason, we offer $25 reward for an Ambrotype made in this place, other than at our Rooms. And as the word Ambrotype was coined for and patented with the Picture, we offer the same reward [$25] for any picture made or sold as an Ambrotype. Evidence sufficient to convict in the U. S. courts will be required in the last case; in the other, the Picture itself is all the evidence we want. DAVIS BROTHERS.

WHO THAT IS TROUBLED

With any of those disagreeable complaints, such as Jaundice, Dyspepsia, or Liver diseases of any kind, but would like to know of a remedy for these unseemly visitations? We feel that we are doing our invalid readers an invaluable service if we can induce them to get a bottle of Dr. Sanford's Invigorator, and take it, for we know from personal experience that it is one of the greatest remedies for general debility, and consequent inactive bodily powers, ever before used. Its action is so perfect and complete as to give relief the first time taken, and if it does to others as it has to us, half a bottle will be all that is needed. We know of nothing we can recommend with such confidence, as a family medicine, as the Invigorator.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

PRESERVATION OF THE HAIR.—In all ages and among almost all tribes of men, a beautiful head of hair has been, and still is, regarded as the first ornament to the human works of the Creator. The patrician dames and damsels of ancient and modern Rome bestowed that attention upon the hair which has added the crowning beauty to the chef d'œuvre of the sculptor and the painter, and no lady, and indeed no gentleman of modern times is unmindful of this exquisite shield and lovely ornament of the face. To maiden beauty it is the finishing touch; to manhood it is the symbol and warrant of strength and nobility, to-day as in the days of the patriarchs; indeed such it always has been and always will be.

But unable as we are to withstand the ills of time and life, it often happens that through disease and misfortune we become grey in early life, and bald before we reach the full grace of womanhood or the full stature of manhood.—Then it is that however much we may venerate the grey locks and reverence the wisdom of bald head among the honored remnants of the generation of three score and ten, we know that our grey hairs are no more venerable than beautiful; while our bald heads are neither the one nor the other, but, on the contrary, are quite the reverse of both and impose upon us many social and sanitary disadvantages and discomforts.

To New Subscribers.—For $4, we will furnish the Daily Chronicle from this time to Jan. 1, 1859.

For only $1, we will supply the Weekly Chronicle from the present date to Jan 1, 1859.

☞ The recent cases of suspension and failure of remittances from the West, have compelled the officers of the small country banks to step round rather sharply to get foreign bills enough to keep their accounts good at the Suffolk. In fact the small banks which are not in the way of receiving foreign bills and gold from depositors, have been crowding each other by sending about the country and picking up bills of other banks, for which they have exchanged their own, which they in turn have had to redeem almost immediately.

A case in point occurred here a few days ago. A Director in a "circulation bank" came into the city, and changed with an accommodating bill holder all his money. Soon after, the President of a rather small institution that was in a tight place, called and taking the money left by the first exchange, left the bills of his bank. A borrower called next and took the last received bills to pay a note at one of our banks; and thus each lot of bills was sent to Boston to be redeemed the next day by another exchange.

The tight times must have one good effect, at least,—that of demonstrating to the managers of banks located where no banking facilities were needed, that circulation cannot be relied upon beyond its natural flow; and the more it is forced the more suddenly will it return at the wrong moment to annoy those who persist in endeavoring to maintain it.

☞ It will be seen by a notice from the Chief Engineer, that the Hooks & Ladders have been removed from No. 6 Engine House, to the old Stage Stable (now Cotton's) on Hanover street—the key of which may be found at the house opposite. Well, that happens to be where we live, (the house opposite, we mean,) and we hope the Hookers and Laddercrs will be a little cautious how they "rush in" at our back door. For ever since a communicative friend came running into our chamber with the information that "the Chronicle Office was all afire," we have been a little sensitive on such announcements. On Monday morning at half-past four—the gentleman "revolutionist," who does the "circular work" necessary to the issuing of the Chronicle, rapped loudly at that same door above mentioned—rapped more loudly even than the north-east storm had been rapping on the opposite side of the house all night. His object was to rouse the press-gang to their duties; and a young man, in haste to answer the summons, and forgetting he was in bed and sound asleep, attempted to run to the window. Well, he got there, but came very near going further,—and fetched up like a thousan'-o'-bricks—scraping the skin off the window-sill, or off his shine on the window-sill, or something of the sort.—So have a care, please, and enter gentcelly, and with moderation.

We are glad the old traps are out of the way of the Six boys,—they need the whole Engine House, and ought to have had it long ago. "Room, boys, room."

☞ Quite an extensive revival has been going on of late, in the Independent Christian Society in this city—worshipping at Hanover Street Chapel. On Sunday afternoon last, the pastor, Rev. Mr. Holmes baptized at Noble's Island, seven applicants for admission to the church,—making in all, we think, about sixty additions to that church, within a few weeks.

Among the passengers lost by the disaster to the ill-fated Steamship Central America, was Joshua L. Weeks, son of Joshua Weeks of Greenland. Mr. Weeks was a machinist by trade, and had been absent in California for several years. He leaves a wife and children in Lowell, Mass.

Money Panic in New Orleans.—Upon the receipt of the news that the New York banks had suspended, and the suspension of two or three of the local banks, the citizen of New Orleans were thrown into the wildest excitement. The sharpers went into the street with silver coin, and purchased from the bill-holders good bills for a fraction of their value; and a note of a perfectly solvent firm for $37, was bought for $3. Other bill-holders went to the banks in crowds, and demanded specie, and for a time, the public peace was threatened.

☞ Hon. Theodore Frelinghuysen of New Jersey was lately married to Miss Harriet A. Pumpelly of Oswego, N. Y.

☞ On Friday evening last, Mortimer Thompson, the celebrated "Doesticks," was married at New Haven, to Miss Anna H. Van Cleve, of Minnesota.

New York, Oct. 25.

The Collins steamship Baltic, Capt. Comstock, from Liverpool at about half-past seven o'clock P. M., 14th inst., arrived here this evening, bringing 160 passengers, and £72,529 in specie.

The American ship Lexington, recently reported ashore on the west coast of Ireland, after having been got off, was totally lost near Valentia island, as she was being towed to Liverpool, and three men were drowned. The hawser broke during a violent storm, and the ship sunk.

The ship Red Jacket arrived at Liverpool 13th inst. from Melbourne, with 70,000 ounces of gold. Her dates are anticipated.

India.—Telegraphic dispatches, in anticipation of the overland mail, reached London on the 11th, with dates from Bombay to the 17th, Madras 15th, and Calcutta 10th of September.

The intelligence from Delhi extends to the 30th of August. The siege train was expected to reach the English camp on the 3d of September, after which the place would be probably immediately assulted.

On the 25th of August, a body of rebels, which left Delhi with the object of intercepting the siege train, was attacked by Gen. Nicholson at Najafghar, and utterly defeated, with the loss of all their guns.

On the 1st of September, Gen. Outram was at Allahabad, with strong reinforcements, and expected to reach Cawnpore on the 9th.

Gen. Havelock gained his ninth victory on the 16th of August, driving the rebels from their strong position near Bithoor, which they desperately defended. After the battle, he retired to Cawnpore, where he awaited reinforcements, before advancing to the relief of Lucknow.

The garrison at Lucknow held out bravely, and no doubt was entertained of their being able to do so until relief arrived, which was expected to be about the middle of September. The garrison had made a second successful sortie, in which two guns and a large quantity of provisions were captured.

The Dinapore mutineers had again been defeated by Major Eyrie, and were trying to make their way to Delhi.

At Agra all was well.

The rebels from Oude were threatening Allahabad and Benaras, and those places were being put into a state of defence.—Large bodies of troops were marching from Calcutta towards Allahabad.

The remainder of the Joudpore legion has mutined, but no further outbreak had occurred in the Bombay Army.

In the Madras Presidency, the Punjaub, Central India, and the Bundlecund, things remained tranquil.

It is stated that the troops at Bhopani had rebelled. The Begum, who continued friendly had sent away the Europeans in safety.

Two more Regiments had arrived at Calcutta, and more were expected shortly.

Several troop-ships passed Ceylon while a strong force had likewise reached the Mauritius.

The Bank of Bengal refused to make advances against government paper, or bills having more than thirty days to run.—Prices had declined in the export market, and the import market continued dull.

A dispatch to the London Post says:—"The British forces taking the offensive, had attacked the batteries at Lucknow castle, capturing and spiking the guns."

☞ The latest news from England speaks of failures in England, Scotland, and France.—Cotton unchanged; breadstuffs slightly lower.

Washington, Feb. 24.—The Virginia Synod of New School Presbyterians have adopted the report of a committee recommending a withdrawal from the General Assembly, in consequence of the action of that body on the slavery question. The vote was 32 to 3. The nays were Messrs. Sunderland and Haskell of Washington, and Dunning of Baltimore.

The Synod also adopted resolutions approving as a whole the resolutions adopted by a portion of the church, which lately met at Richmond, and pledging itself to cooperate in the organization of the United Synod of the Presbyterian church, to meet at Knoxville in April next.

☞ F. P. Brewer, tutor of Yale College, New Haven, who, a year or two since was knocked down in a melee by the students, was on Thursday, 17th, knocked down in the rear of North College. He was stunned, but did not sustain serious injure.

Murder in Cornish, Me.—On Friday evening, two men named Cole, who were recently discharged from Alfred jail, visited the house of a respectable widow lady, and attempted an entrance against her wishes. Her cries for assistance were answered by Mr. John Brown, who was attacked and fatally stabbed by the Coles. They were promptly arrested. Mr. Brown leaves a wife and three children.—Adv.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interest of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme, one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number for each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes range from $50 to $30,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn upon the whole ticket, and the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Courier, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & CO., Augusta, Georgia.

Mages's Patent Ventilating Stove.

PARLORS, OFFICES, HALLS, STORES,

SCHOOL HOUSES, &c.

WHICH for economy, purity of air, and ease of management, has no equal. It can be regulated so as to give

Any amount of Heat required,

and unlike all other Anthracite Coal Burners, ventilates the apartments quite as thoroughly, as a wood fire or Franklin, producing a current of air, at once moist, pure and agreeable, and as none of the air which comes in contact with the stove is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache, so much complained of by those using Stoves and Furnaces, is entirely obviated. The fire may be continued from one to four days without replenishing.

These Stoves are beautiful in design, and finished in the most perfect manner. They are equally appropriate, and have given universal satisfaction to all who have adopted them.

For Offices and Stores as well as the Parlor.

The Inventor challenges the world to produce an article by which so much Pure Warm Air can be generated, from so small an amount of fuel, requiring but about 10 pounds of Anthracite Coal, to warm an ordinary sized parlor for 24 hours, without replenishing, and then leaving fire enough to rekindle without the use of charcoal. The cost is all used, and no clinkers are, consequently, sifting coal is dispensed with.—When this Stove is properly managed,

THE FIRE MAY BE CONTINUED THROUGH

THE ENTIRE SEASON,

without once going out. Added to all these qualifications, the purchaser may reasonably expect to save from 30 to 50 per cent, in fuel expense.

BOSTON.

Re-establishment of the old Plan of management.

LEWIS RICE, Proprietor, respectfully announces that he has resumed the old plan of management, as it existed before the recent alteration. Trial of the European system in this Hotel, proves that although the advantages are great, yet the plan is better adapted for the smaller class of hotels.

The accommodations and convenience of the House are unsurpassed, and the recent improvements and alterations, for the comfort of guests, leave nothing to be desired.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES.

Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience.

THE combination of ingredients in these Pills is the result of a long and extensive practice, combined in their operation, and certain to restoring nature to its proper channel. In every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are certain to open those obstructions to which females are liable, and bring nature into its proper channel, whereby health is restored, and the pale and deathly countenance changed to a healthy one. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, that most always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, he Pills will invariably remedy all these evils. In all cases of painful menstruation, or nervous and spinal affections in the back and limbs, lowness of spirits, hysterics, &c. Nor are they less efficacious in the cure of Leucorrhœa, commonly called the "Whites." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. Warranted purely Vegetable, and free from any thing injurious to life or health. Full and explicit directions which should be read, accompany each box.

These Pills are put up in square flat boxes—Persons residing where there are no Agencies established, by inclosing One Dollar in a letter, prepaid, to Dr. C. L. CHEESEMAN, Box No. 4,531, Post Office, New York City, can have them sent to their respective addresses by return of mail.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS,

INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: stands unsurpassed and unsurpassable—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued by it as easily as a fire extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a pin, dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.

KANSAS ELECTION.

The result of the recent contest in Kansas, as far as the real expression of the popular will goes, is widely removed from doubt. But it does appear doubtful whether the voice of the bona fide settlers is not again to be overborne by the most unblushing frauds and illegalities. There are discordant rumors in regard to these proceedings. We expect, in a few days, to record the fact of another swindle, (like those of Illinois and Philadelphia, last fall,) whereby slavery will got the certificate, though freedom got the votes.

A correspondent of the New York Evening Post, writing from Leavenworth City, Kansas, on the 16th inst., refers to the rumors current of the gigantic fraud by which the pro-slavery vote of Johnston county was swelled so as to overcome the vote of Douglas county, and give the control of both branches of the territorial legislature to the slave party, and says:

The evidence of the fraud was of such a glaring character, on the representation of those who went to Oxford, that Governor Walker and Secretary Stanton went down to the place, and on a search for the judges of the election, who purported to have made the returns to them, found only one, and he denied having made any such as were alleged. They also found that there were but about twenty people, all told, who resided where sixteen hundred and upwards, were returned as having voted.

In consequence of this and other discoveries of fraudulent returns of a similar character to the one stated, Mr. Parrott was notified that he could have his certificate of election without any further delay. This news was received last evening, and it is now settled that, throwing out the ascertained fraudulent votes, Marcus J. Parrott is elected to Congress from this territory by more than five thousand majority. There are also twenty-eight out of thirty-nine Free State members of the territorial House of Representatives, and nine out of thirteen members of the Council, I have before stated.

The Kansas Free State, printed at Delaware, in the new territory, and containing advices one day later than the Post's correspondence, remarks:

The Sixth District will give the control of the Council to whichever party carries it. When there is so much at stake, justice need not be looked for.

The power of the Slave State party can only be retained by sanctioning the forgery and perjury by which they have gained this district.

The Tenth District embraces in the House Douglas and Johnston counties, and as in the Council, gives the majority to whichever party gains it.

With so strong a motive as the control of both branches of the Legislature, for sanctioning fraud, it can hardly be possible that Stanton and Walker will refuse certificates to the Democratic candidates. Besides, there is a chance that the unexplored "country that lies west of the counties of Wise, Butler and Hunter," may send in a fraudulent vote which will render the Johnston county forgery unnecessary.

It will be seen then that the complexion of both branches of the Legislature, depends entirely upon the decision of Stanton upon the returns from Johnston county. If he and Walker act honestly in this matter, Kansas will be redeemed, and we shall be happily disappointed. If they refuse us our rights, the State Government under the Topeka Constitution, put into active operation, and sustained by our army, will be our only resort.

The "Free State," in exposing the attempt to return a pro-slavery majority of 1700 from Johnston County, in order to carry the election district wherein it is situated, gives the true vote of the county on the first day, as—Free State, 120; Slave State, 307. This return includes about a hundred illegal votes, given mostly at Chawnee and Oxford. "The town of Oxford, (says the paper from which we quote) is located directly upon the Missouri line adjoining New Santa Fe. Here the polls were opened on the second day, and the spurious returns made out. No one believes that the pretended vote was polled at all, and it is clear that the judges have forged nearly the whole list."

It becomes a matter of public moment as to the number of legal voters in this famous Johnston county. Upon that point our Kansas contemporary imparts the following information:

Johnston county adjoins the State of Missouri, and comprises the Shawnee lands which are not even yet legally open for settlement. Settlers have, however, claimed most, if not all the lands not selected by the Indians. Many of these claims were made by citizens of Missouri as early as February and March last. The census which was taken on the 1st of April, under the law of the Legislature, shows but 496 voters. Even this number embraces, it is notorious, scores of fictitious claimants who had no residence in the Territory, as this region was settled and claimed at that time almost exclusively by pro-slavery men. The census, as it always does in such cases, shows more than the actual number of persons entitled to vote. Those who arrived in the Territory after the 5th of April, being less than six months resident, were not legal voters.

The Kansas Free State organ, from which we have made liberal quotations above, states that Secretary Stanton contends that he has not the power to go behind the returns of the judges, and that he must grant certificates to those for whom the returns show the largest vote.

If Stanton does not recede from this determination, both branches of the legislature will be under the control of pro-slavery men, and the Free State party, foiled in every peaceable effort to regain its undoubted right, may have recourse to desperate measures. The Kansas "Free State" but echoes the opinion of a very large majority of the citizens of the territory, in saying:

It will be useless to contest the election before the Legislature, and revolution—the last resort—will be our only remedy.

LETTER FROM KANSAS.

WYANDOTTE CITY, K. T., Oct. 9th, 1857.

The news came down last night, that we have a majority of two or three in the Council and five in the House. Mark Parrott (Free State) is surely elected to Congress. This county has gone democratic by between two and three hundred votes—Kickapoo polling between five and six hundred majority for the pro-slavery democratic party. Some one hundred soldiers voted. There was a vast amount of illegal voting at that precinct; the vote will be contested, and probably thrown out; at least, if we have a majority in the House and Council, of which there is no doubt.

In this precinct we lead the democrats fifty-one votes, electing all our township officers. Leavenworth gave us two hundred and fifty majority. Delaware it is said gave a majority of forty for our democratic friends. This is the only county carried by the democrats, except Johnson; but as this is joined, by the apportionment, with Douglas, where there was scarcely a democratic vote cast, it amounts to nothing. If we succeed in throwing out Kickapoo, we will carry every county. One thing is almost certain, we have a majority in both houses. Hurrah for our side!

Yours in haste, F. H. B.

FRAUDS IN KANSAS.—A free state correspondent of the St. Louis Democrat says that Gov. Walker has thrown out the votes of Johnson and Marshall counties, where the elections were carried by the most glaring frauds. In the first-named, the town of Oxford reported sixteen hundred democratic votes, and one free state vote. The whole town contains but seven houses and eleven voters. Marshall county is made to give 400 democratic majority; yet when a court was held there a short time since, and 36 men were wanted as jurors, the sheriff, after riding three days, returned that there were not thirty-six inhabitants in the county. It is a wild district just mapped out.

FROM KANSAS.—St. Louis, Oct. 26.—A protest signed by several prominent citizens of Kansas, was filed on the 15th inst., against the fraudulent returns from Oxford precinct, Johnson Co., and, in reply to it, after a personal examination, Messrs. Walker and Stanton publish a proclamation in the Herald of Freedom of the 20th, in which they express a determination to reject the entire vote of Oxford, and give certificates to the Free State candidate. The proclamation produced intense excitement among the extreme pro-slavery men, and threats of vengeance against Gov. Walker and Secretary Stanton were made. On the 19th inst., a protest was made against assembling the Constitutional Convention, by a mass Convention of the people of Lecompton.

MAYOR WOOD'S REMEDY FOR RELIEF OF THE POOR.—In the New York Board of Aldermen on Thursday night, a message was received from the Mayor, favoring the employment of a large number of men on city improvements during the winter, and recommending the Comptroller to purchase 50,000 barrels of flour and a proportionate amount of corn meal and potatoes. The employed to receive 25 per cent. in cash and the rest in provisions at cost price.

THE PUBLIC WORKS.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Herald says he is authorized to state that the Secretary of the Treasury will not suspend work upon the Custom Houses and other buildings now being constructed, but will prosecute them until the season closes. The amount subject to draft for public buildings now being constructed by the Treasury, is upwards of six millions.

FOUND DEAD.—In Boston, on Sunday morning a woman named Ann Kelly was found dead in her bed in rear of 57 Nashua street. Coroner Stedman was of opinion that her death was occasioned by consumption, hastened by excessive intemperance. The deceased was fifty years of age.

"OUT WEST."—The readers of the Chronicle will recollect that our correspondent Cyphax, in the notes of his "Trip out West," recently, did not speak in terms of great praise of the bill of fare at the Fountain House (log cabin) at Cedar Creek, Wisconsin—pigeons for breakfast and dinner, and for supper pigeons. Well, the proprietors of that house, in a letter to us on the 19th of October, refer to Cyphax's complaints thus:

* * * * "These hard times, we got potatoes for 20 and 25 cents a bushel, flour for $4 1-2 to $5 1-2 a barrel; and other products of the country in proportion.—"Cyphax" published our bill of fare a little short; if he had stopped until now he could have added squirrels, quails, partridges, and three or four more different kinds of ducks to the list—which would have made it a little more respectable. He was in a mighty flurry to get off from here, as though the world was waiting for him. I didn't see that it had stopped—did you?"

THE STARS AND STRIPES AHEAD.—The jockies of the American race horses in England, wear striped pants and jackets, and starred caps—and, contrary to the usual custom, these have heretofore been found in the rear, at the end of several races. The last news from England, however, reports that the race for the great Cesarwitch Handicap, at Newmarket, resulted in the triumph of Mr. Ten Broeck. 34 horses ran, and on the first attempt there was a dead heat between Prioress, El Halim, and Queen Bess; the deciding race between these three, was won cleverly by Prioress by a length and a half. The success of the American mare was greeted with great cheering, and Prioress became first favorite in the betting for the Cambridgeshire stakes to be run for at New Market on the 27th of October. The stakes exceed £2000 sterling. The American horse Lecompte died from an attack of cholera. The horse Prior had been stricken out of all his engagements for the present year.

WASHINGTON, 26.—The Interior Department has received information that a drover lately while crossing the great plains, unnecessarily killed a woman and child of the Snake Indians, and also fired at the war chief of the tribe. In consequence of this the Indians are greatly infuriated.

As they have heretofore been on remarkable good terms with the whites, and have steadily refused to take part with the Mormons, the fear is that they may depart from their friendly policy; the Department will at once take measures to repair, if possible, the mischief thus occasioned.

Nearly 8,000,000 of acres were located with military land warrants under the act of March, 1855, from the 1st July, 1856, to Aug. 31, 1857.

FROM UTAH.—St. Louis, Oct. 26.—The Republican publishes a discourse delivered by Heber C. Kimball, at Salt Lake City, Aug. 10, in which strong grounds were taken against the U. S. Government, and a determination is expressed to resist the troops to the last extremity. The Mormon children are called upon to arm themselves, and the people generally are exhorted to lay up grain, and otherwise prepare for the conflict. During the discourse Kimball says:—"We are the kingdom of God, and the State of Deseret, and will have Brigham Young for Governor just as long as he lives." Young made a speech equally bold in its declarations of hostility against the United States.

☞ The New York Mirror of Saturday has this statement concerning the failures of the season:

The total number of failures since the 1st of August is 900, and the liabilities are estimated at ninety millions. This is exclusive of the Railway failures, which amount to hundreds of millions more. During the whole of the revulsion in 1837 the number of failures reported in this city was about five hundred; but the returns made under the Bankrupt law, in 1841, showed that five thousand took the benefit of that act, showing liabilities amounting to about fifty millions of dollars.

☞ There is a family of Smiths in Gilmanton, N. H., of six brothers and sisters living, five of whom have always resided in town, of the following ages—89, 85, 80, 78, 75, 73. Their aggregate is 480. Their average age is 80 years. One died in her 90th year, another at 75. All of them are members of the Congregational Church.

☞ The Journal of Commerce reports that the Hon. N. P. Banks, at the anniversary of the American Institute Fair, treated his theme, the industrial interest of the country, in a very ingenious and eloquent manner, which often drew out the enthusiastic approbation of the vast audience.

PURLOINING LETTERS.—Chicago, Oct. 26. James O. Brayman appeared in the U. S. Court to-day, and plead guilty to the indictment for purloining letters from the Post Office. Sentence was deferred.

ST. LOUIS, 26.—The Bank of the State of Missouri, Merchants Bank, and the Southern Bank suspended this morning.—The Mechanics' Bank is still firm.

To the Hon. Judge of Probate for the County of Rockingham.

RESPECTFULLY represents Anthony Peavey, administrator of the goods and estate of Samuel D. Hodgdon, late of Portsmouth in said County, deceased; that the Personal Estate of said deceased is not sufficient to pay the just demands against his estate by the sum of eight hundred dollars; that said Hodgdon was seized at the time of his decease of one third part in common and undivided of the reversion of the dower of Mary Hodgdon the widow of George Hodgdon in and to a certain lot of land in said Portsmouth containing fifteen acres, more or less, and being part of the homestead farm of the late George Hodgdon, and the same that was set off to the said Mary as her dower.

Wherefore he prays that he may be licensed to sell at public auction all the real estate of said Samuel, including said reversion, or so much thereof as may be sufficient for the payment of said demands.

The eighth day of September, A. D. 1857.
ANTHONY PEAVEY,

BLACK BOILED SILKS.

BOILED BLACK SILKS.—We call the particular attention of purchasers to our Stock of Full Boiled Black Dress Silks. We are very particular in selecting our Black Silks, and shall keep on hand at all times, a good stock of 24 in., 26 in., 28 in., 30 in., and 32 inch of the same celebrated quality, which we have sold in such large quantities since we opened here; and which are warranted not to crack or break.

We receive our Silks new and Fresh every week. As this is an article which a person does not purchase very often, and which costs considerable money, it is very desirable to get the best in the market. For which purpose, purchasers are invited to call at the New Store, No. 16 Market Street. ALLEN & PAINE.

☞ The only place in this city where an Ambrotype can be obtained, is at Davis' Ambrotype Gallery, No. 8 Daniel Street, as they have the Patent, and all infringements will be prosecuted. sept9

☞ Probably most persons are familiar with the story of a little dog,—who, when the moon was shining brightly, used to run out and bark at her; but all the while the moon kept right on shining. Just so I KEEP RIGHT ON SHINING; or in other words,—keep right on making the various kinds of Pictures in the Heliographic or Photographic art.
sept15 A. GREGORY.

☞ Our friend in his illumination says nothing about Ambrotype, and does not seem to have the slightest idea that his "shining" is decidedly gassy. Don Quixotte's monomania never reached so high a point as that; but as we have as much as we can do by daylight, we do not make pictures by moon or gas-light, and our friends will govern themselves accordingly.

As regards the Ambrotype, we are determined to stop the sale of a spurious article, to the injury of our business, the deception of the public, and the consequent injurious impressions against the Ambrotype. For this reason, we offer $25 reward for an Ambrotype made in this place, other than at our Rooms. And as the word Ambrotype was coined for and patented with the Picture, we offer the same reward [$25] for any picture made or sold as an Ambrotype. Evidence sufficient to convict in the U. S. courts will be required in the last case, in the other, the Picture itself is all the evidence we want. DAVIS BROTHERS.

WHO THAT IS TROUBLED

With any of those disagreeable complaints, such as Jaundice, Dyspepsia, or Liver disease of any kind, but would like to know of a remedy for these unseemly visitations? We feel that we are doing our invalid readers an invaluable service if we can induce them to get a bottle of Dr. Sanford's Invigorator, and take it, for we know from personal experience that it is one of the greatest remedies for general debility, and consequent inactive bodily powers, ever before used. Its action is so perfect and complete as to give relief the first time taken, and if it does to others as it has to us, half a bottle will be all that is needed. We know of nothing we can recommend with such confidence, as a family medicine, as the Invigorator.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

PRESERVATION OF THE HAIR.—In all ages and among almost all nations, a beautiful head of hair has been, and still is, regarded as the fairest ornament of the fairest works of the Creator. The patrician dames and damsels of ancient and modern Rome bestowed that attention upon the hair which has added the crown ing beauty to the chef d'œuvre of the sculptor and the painter, and no lady, and indeed no gentleman of modern times is unmindful of this exquisite shield and lovely ornament of the face. To maiden beauty it is the finishing touch; to manhood it is the symbol and warrant of strength and nobility, to day as in the days of the patriarchs; indeed such it always had been and always will be.

But unable as we are to withstand the ills of time and life, it often happens that through disease and misfortune we become gray in early life, and bald before we reach the full grace of womanhood or the full stature of manhood.—Then it is that however much we may venerate the grey locks and reverence the wisdom of bald head among the honored remnants of the generation of three score and ten, we know that our grey hairs are no more venerable than beautiful; while our bald heads are neither the one nor the other, but, on the contrary, are quite the reverse of both and impose upon us many social and sanitary disadvantages and disconforts.

LOCAL.

To New Subscribers—For $4, we will furnish the Daily Chronicle from this time to Jan. 1, 1859.

For only $1, we will supply the Weekly Chronicle from the present date to Jan 1, 1859.

That Stray Team has found an owner, —or rather the owner has found his team. The advertisement in the Chronicle brought him. A livery stable keeper in Boston, on Monday morning, Oct. 19th, let a horse and chaise to a man, to go to Medford;—and finding his team did not return, as agreed, started in pursuit, and traced it to Newburyport. From thence it would appear that it must have been driven over the Newburyport upper bridge, through Amesbury, &c., to Portsmouth—where it was left, on the Jacob Sheafe farm, as we have before stated--probably sometime Monday night, after a hard day's drive of seventy miles or more.

It is thought that this affair may have some connection with the shooting of police officer Hodgdon, in Boston, on the Sunday night previous; and the subsequent probable flight of his murderer—for whose arrest Mayor Rice offers a $1000 reward, and the Chief of Police another $1000.

It would seem, also, that some one previously acquainted with the location of the Sheafe farm, and the fact that the premises were without tenants, must have conveyed the team there, and placed it in the position where it was found. There are some scoundrels loafing about here, who are well acquainted with the cut-throats of Boston, and also with Sagamore road. There may yet be a sequel to this story.

☞ One of the most gratifying improvements recently made on Market Square, is the remodelling and refitting of the Apothecary store on the westerly corner of Market street; which is just opened with a fresh stock of the best goods, by Mr. Nathan Thacher. The store is now one of the most beautiful and attractive in the city; and being in an excellent location, and in charge of an experienced, attentive and gentlemanly young man, cannot fail to be well patronized.

Mr. Chas. T. Emery has also recently much improved his store, next, inside as well as out; and has a good stock of jewelry, fancy goods, watches, &c., as usual.

The dingy old entrances to the lawyers' offices, above, have also had some of the cobwebs (not the legal cobwebs—we don't mean them,) swept away; and are much improved by a little paint, &c.

A little farther on, we observe Mr. R. N. Bodge is sprucing up the outside of his old shop a little, to compare bettter with the neat stock of goods within; and there are other stores about, which don't need any fixing; and some which do, that we don't see are likely to get it.

Man Missing.—Capt. Wm. Walsh, of sch. Juno, now lying at Jones & Chesley's wharf, at the north end of this city, has been missing since Monday night. He was last seen in the evening, and was expected on board his vessel; but in the morning nothing but his hat could be found, and it is suppose he fell into the water while passing from the wharf to the schooner, and was drowned. Men grappled after the the body on Tuesday, but it had not been recovered at our last information. Capt. Walsh is supposed to have had considerable money about him; and is reported to have been in a condition in comparison to which drowning is far preferable.

☞ A notice of Coal to be sold at the Portsmouth Steam Mill, will be found among our advertisements this morning. The affairs of that corporation are supervised with a watchful eye—as the disposal of this surplus coal, among other things, goes to show.

☞ This evening at 7 o'clock, in the Universalist Church, Mr. J. H. Shepard is to be ordained a Minister of the Gospel, with appropriate public services.

☞ The Ladies' General Charitable Society will hold their Annual Meeting on Thursday, Oct. 29th, at 3 o'clock, in the Middle Street Chapel. Subscribers, and all Ladies interested in the objects of this Society are particularly invited to attend. See advertisement.

☞ We are happy to state that the arrangements for those Promenade Concerts for the benefit of the Portsmouth Cornet Band, are progressing finely. They will be very popular. The series is to consist of six concerts, for $1 per couple.

☞ Commander Arthur Sinclair, now at Norfolk, Va., has received orders to take command of the U. S. sloop-of-war Vandalia, fitting out at Portsmouth, N.H., Navy Yard.

☞ The Exeter News-Letter states that work on the new Jail in the course of construction in that town, has been suspended till spring. The editor does not say why—and unless Rockingham County has suspended payment, (of which we haven't yet heard,) we see no reason for it. The jail is needed, alas! and the masons and joiners of Exeter doubtless would be glad of the work this Fall (especially seeing it is so great a "fall" to many) and winter.

Rockingham County has had two jails for one hundred years or more; and, from present appearances, we don't see that less will answer. The old jail at Exeter having been demolished last summer, all the County culprits have since been in charge of Sheriff Adams, of this city. He had twenty-one prisoners in charge, at the opening of the recent term of Court here; and has nine now. And we don't believe all the rascals are "jugged" yet—though no doubt they most all have too much to do with the jug.

☞ It will be seen by our Marine Chronicle this morning, that the good ship Governor Langdon, Capt. Stone, is reported by telegraph as just arrived at Mobile, having made the passage from Philadelphia to that city, in the remarkably short time of fourteen days. The Gov. Langdon is a Piscataqua ship, and was built by Messrs. Fernald & Pettigrew.

☞ One of our farmers says that country produce is so cheap out West, that farmers there may eat a portion of what they raise; while here, all their crops bring such high prices. that no farmer can afford to do so! That's about on a par with most Western logic.

☞ A new term of Mr. Pearson's Juvenile Singing School commences this afternoon.

MARRIED.

In this city, 25th inst., by Rev. Jonathan Hall, Mr William Goodwin to Miss Charlotte Goodwin, both of this city.

In Newington, on Sunday, Oct. 25th, by Rev. Samuel Hoyt, Mr. George W. de Rochemont, jr., of Lawrence, Mass., to Miss Catherin Storer of Great Falls.

In Rollinsford, Mr. Joseph Doe to Miss Sarah C. Morgan of South Berwick.

DIED.

In this city, Oct. 25th, Miss Frances Fernald, aged about 67 years.

Funeral services this (Wednesday) afternoon, at 3 o'clock, at the North Church.

In Eliot, at the residence of her son, Mrs. Lydia Hanscom, aged 84.

Defective Vocabulary.—Cardinal Richelieu is represented by Bulwer as saying, "in the vocabulary of youth there is no such word as fail." Prentice thinks if that is a fact, the vocabulary of youth about this time is very defective.

The Chicago Calamity.—Nineteen dead bodies have now been taken from the ruins of the late fire in Chicago, and two or three more are known to be missing.

☞ A drunken man named Yokey fell out of a wagon while being carried to the polls at Iowa city, and broke his neck.

☞ Benjamin P. Fiske, of Beverly, a student in Amherst College, went to gather walnuts, and fell thirty feet from the top of a walnut tree to the ground, injuring himself so that he cannot recover.

A famous old doctor died saying "that "there was no use in physic." A "contemptuary," as Mrs. Partington might say, said that though there was not much profit in taking physic, the doctor had left half a million pools in favor of giving it.

Morning Chronicle.

RESCUE OF A CHINESE CREW.—Capt. F. Haskell, of ship Norseman of Boston, on the 5th of June last, rescued from the bottom of a junk in the China Sea, fourteen men, a woman, and a boy. The weather was very bad at the time, and the ship under double reefs, with a heavy sea running. Capt. Haskell makes the following remarks in relation to his boat:—

In connection with the above I should say a word about 'Raymond's Life Boat.' With no other single boat could I have rescued all; and although a heavy sea was running, she brought twenty-two people without any kind of trouble. No ship should be without one.

THE GREAT FIRE IN CHICAGO.—Thirteen bodies have been recovered from the ruins of the great fire in Chicago, and identified, and seven are supposed to be still buried beneath the mass. The Times relates the following incident in connection with the death of Mr. E. R. Clark, who lost his life at this fire:

A melancholy circumstance which deserves mention here, and should be full of warning, is the fact that Mr. Clark has held a policy of life insurance for $3000 in the Massachusetts Mutual. It expired on Thursday of last week. The agent meeting him in the street reminded him to renew at once. The matter was postponed until Saturday. On that day, Mr. Clark was again reminded that he had better allow no delay. "I will be my own insurer until Monday." He was so, alas.

☞The Bath, Me. Organ, is of the democratic party. and is a spicy, lively, little sheet. It has become disgusted with the avidity manifested in some quarters, to trumpet crimes, committed by clerical culprits. The Organ says:—

We are willing the law should have free and regular course with all moral delinquents, clerical or otherwise. It is the perfect gusto with which clerical delinquencies are seized upon, and the apparent pleasure with which too many papers speak of such instances of depravity, to which we referred. We are not aware, that it is the legitimate labor of the democratic press, as such, to correct the morals or to expose the delinquencies of any class of men, except so far as such delinquencies bear directly on the democratic party.

PARTINGTONIAN.—We were sitting last Monday immersed in a manuscript that it would take more than the faculty of Harvard to decipher, when a hand was laid upon our arm. "Go away, and don't bother," cried we testily, without looking up. But something led us to look up from a period, and we jumped as though we had seen a spirit. "Mrs. Partington," said we, placing our dexter upon the spot as near the heart as possible. She held the Gazette of last week in her hand, and shaking it out of its folds, she placed her finger on the following lines: "Herr Formes, the great basso, will arrive in the Persia." We read the line twice. "Yes," said we, "that's all right," smiling at what we conceived an evident attempt at a sell on the old lady's part. "Whose forms are coming over here in the Persia, I should like to know?" said she, "and I want to know if the great basso is any bigger than the great cases that now crowd people off the sidewalks. And I should like to know who she is, and all about it. Because gracious goodness knows forms are big enough without having any more of them sent out here by her or anybody else, though I don't know for the life of me who she is." We immediately informed her that it was a bass singer by the name of Formes, and that Herr was simply Mister in Dutch. She gave a long "O—o—o," like a lady's hoop flattened while going through a church door, and merely remarking to the senior that it was a fine day, she went out to look after Ike, who had a red eye on the old lady's apples by the corner.—*Bos. LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investments in lottery tickets, patronized at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme, one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle and results are such that each ticket is as simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes range from $50 to $50,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.
☞A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia.
Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.
All communications strictly confidential. m18ly

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. FRENCH & Co. are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the simple scheme of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Ternary combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100,000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.
☞The drawn numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner in the following papers, viz: Sun, Clipper, Patriot, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

A BEAUTIFUL HEAD
OF RICH GLOSSY HAIR,
Completely Preserved
TO THE GREATEST AGE.
AND who that is gray would not have it restored to former color; or bald, but would have the growth restored; or troubled with dandruff and itching but would have it removed, or troubled with scrofula, scald head, or other eruptions, or with sick headache, neuralgia, but would be cured. It will also remove all pimples from the face and skin. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative will do all this. See circular and the following.
ANN ARBOR, November 5th, 1856.
PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir: I have heard much said of the wonderful effects of your Hair Restorative, but having been so often cheated by quackery and quack nostrums, hair dyes, &c., I was disposed to place your Restorative in the same category with the one thousand and one loudly trumpeted quack remedies, until I met you in Lawrence county some months since, when you gave me such assurance as induced the trial of your Restorative in my family—first, by my good wife, whose hair had become very thin, and entirely white; and before exhausting one of your large bottles, her hair was restored nearly to its original beautiful brown color, and had thickened and become beautiful and glossy upon the entirely over the head; she continues to use it, not simply because of its beautifying effects upon the hair, but because of its healthful influence upon the head and mind. Others of my family and friends are using your Restorative, with the happiest effects; therefore my skepticism and doubts in reference to its character and value are entirely removed; and I can and do most cordially and confidently recommend its use by all who would have their hair restored from white or gray, (by reason of sickness or age,) to original color and beauty, and by all young persons who would have the hair beautiful and glossy.
Very truly and gratefully yours.
SOLOMON MANN.
FRIEND WOOD: It was a long time after I saw you at Blissfield before I got the bottle of Restorative for which you gave me an order upon your agent in Detroit, and when I got it we concluded to try it on Mrs. Mann's hair, as the surest test of its power. It has done all that you assured me it would do; and others of my family and friends, having witnessed its effects, are now using and recommending its use to others as entitled to the highest consideration you claim for it.
Again, very respectfully and truly yours,
SOLOMON MANN.
CARLYLE, ILL., June 28, 1852.
I have used Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and have admired its effects. My hair has become very thick, prematurely gray, but by the use of his Restorative it has resumed its original color, and I have no doubt permanently so.

Magee's Patent Ventilating Stove.

FOR WARMING AND VENTILATING
PARLORS, OFFICES, HALLS, STORES,
SCHOOL HOUSES, &c.
WHICH for economy, purity of air, and ease of management, has no equal. It can be regulated so as to give
Any amount of Heat required,
and unlike all other Anthracite Coal Burners, ventilates the apartments quite as thoroughly, as a wood fire or Franklin, producing a current of Air, at once moist, pure and agreeable, and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache, so much complained of by those using Stoves and Furnaces, is entirely obviated. The fire may be continued from one to four days without replenishing.
These Stoves are beautiful in design, and finished in the most perfect manner. They are equally appropriate, and have given universal satisfaction to all who have adopted them.
For Offices and Stores as well as the Parlor.
The Inventor challenges the world to produce an article by which so much Pure Warm Air can be generated, from so small an amount of fuel, requiring but about 15 pounds of Anthracite Coal, to make an ordinary sized parlor for 24 hours, without replenishing, and then leaving fire enough to rekindle without the use of charcoal. The warm air only is used, and no clinkers made, consequently, sifting coal is dispensed with.—When this Stove is properly managed,
THE FIRE MAY BE CONTINUED THROUGH
THE ENTIRE SEASON,
without once going out. Added to all these qualifications, the purchaser may reasonably expect to save from 30 to 50 per cent, in fuel expense.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.
DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES.
Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience
THE combination of ingredients in these Pills, is the result of a long and extensive practice; they are mild in their operation, and certain to restoring nature to its proper channel. In every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are certain to open those obstructions to which females are liable, and bring nature into its proper channel, whereby health is restored, and the pale and deathly countenance changed to a healthy one. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular: and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, that most always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, he Pills will invariably remedy all these evils. In all cases of painful menstruation, or nervous and spinal affections in the back and limbs, lowness of spirits, hysterics, &c. Nor are they less efficacious in the cure of Leucorrhœa, commonly called the "Whites." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. Warranted purely Vegetable, and free from anything injurious to life or health. Full and explicit directions which should be read, accompany each box.
These Pills are put up in square, flat boxes—Persons residing where there are no Agencies established, by enclosing One Dollar in a letter, prepaid, to DR. J. CHEESEMAN, Box No. 4581, Post Office, New York City, and have them sent to their respective addresses by return of mail.

PRACTICAL.

The age of Titans, Hydras and Gorgons has long since passed away. We hear but little of the achievements of gods and demigods. Nations no longer receive the responses of the Delphian Oracle with awe and trembling; and men search for the Deity in their own gardens with as much earnestness as their progenitors were wont to amid the shades of Olympus. With the decline of the so-called miraculous powers of deified heroes, dates the rejection of those fabulous romances which were fostered by the Grecians and perpetuated by the Romans. It's a thing impossible, to give vitality to the super-sensual theology of Socrates and Plato. Mythology is already afloat upon the fatal Styx, and will soon reach the oblivious shore. Atlantean feats are essentially obsolete. No man of sense now-a-days talks of pitching the universe into the gutter, of going to Hades to see whether there be a respectable crew there, and of getting so wrought up by inward fires as to compete with gods and out-do devils.

Now that the era of prodigies and knight-errantry has gone, it behooves every one to cast about him and discover what pursuit he can engage in with the least detriment to himself and the greatest good to his fellow beings. While we can not reasonably aspire to be a Mars or a Minerva, we must set our affections upon things of a more practical nature, and learn to swing the sledge and guide the plough in the vineyard of Humanity. The condition of affairs at this period of our social and civil history positively demands of every true-hearted citizen the utmost promptness of action and unbending resolution in carrying out all useful enterprises. Already are the dark clouds of bankruptcy and ruin heaving their defiant crests above the horizon of our prosperity. It is worse than insanity to sit idle in a crisis of such unspeakable magnitude. The option is between solvency and insolvency. Nothing but industry, directed by wisdom and economy, exercised with exactness, can avert impending calamities and restore plenteousness throughout the land.

Although the practices of chivalry have become a byword of reproach, we still find individuals at this late day, who are contented to tilt against wind-mills, and receive the same recompense as their illustrious predecessor. Not satisfied with balancing the liabilities of a failure against the chances of success, they plunge into the most absurd and fanciful speculations, only to experience the rewards of rashness and folly. Such examples of ambition and extravagance exert a pernicious influence on the public mind. Instances of exorbitancy are already too numerous. The present time, above all others, calls for men who are moderate designers, sagacious calculators and energetic workers.

It were well for us to lower our vision from the airy creations of fancy to means and appliances for the elevation of humanity. The poor, the ignorant and the degraded are scattered about on either hand. These imperatively demand the exercise of the five, ten or a dozen talents intrusted to our keeping. Moreover the great word of the day is progress—not in necromancy and laziness, but in morals, education and industrial art. By assiduous cultivation of the principles of action and frugality, we may yet hope to offer for imitation a most glorious model of an opulent, happy and intelligent nation. T. K. A.

The smallest bank note in England is five pounds, $25,— in France, formerly, 500 francs, $100. Gold and Silver supply the place of all money of smaller denominations.

True:—and in China they have no bank bills at all. What then?—Is the laborer in China, in England or in France, any better off in consequence of no small bills, than the laborer in America, where they abound? We trow not.

Once more. In the southern states they have no notes below $5,—and in Mississippi none at all. What then? are the laborers of the South, any better off in consequence of this circumstance, than those of New York and New England, where the little bills circulate freely?—We trow not.

The greatest trouble now is, how to get hold of the bills, great or small.

☞ A ship arrived at Boston the other day with 2700 barrels of flour, that cost in New Orleans $9, and the best offer they can now get for it is $4.50. The remainder of her cargo consists of cotton, that will not bring within 6 cents per pound of its first cost.

A DAY IN NEW GRENADA.

Payta, Peru, August —.

"Of two evils, choose the least," therefore, friend J——, rather than endure the ennui consequent upon having nothing to do, I will inflict upon myself the task of writing (and that of course entails on you the necessity of reading,) an account of a "liberty-day's excursion," in which your humble servant figured to some extent.

We (our watch,) had passed a long day and an uneasy night, for the "Starbowlins" had been ashore, and returned with glowing accounts of the fun to be had, and the sights to be seen—and it was our turn to go next. We were ready for an early start, and impatient enough to hear the "Get ready an' go 'shore the watch!" that was to commence our liberty. At last it came—in ten minutes we were in the boats, and stretching out for the low, sandy beach of the wretched cove, (dignified by the Spaniards with the name of harbor,) at the head of which stands the village of Manta.

On arriving at the cove, we found a heavy surf, but managed to get safely on shore, with merely a good wetting. Just above low-water mark stands the village, a cluster of about twenty miserable cane huts, sheltering a numerous population, whose only occupation seems to be drinking aguardiente, gambling, and sleeping in the sunshine. Close to the village lay the bones of a ship of from 800 to 1000 tons burthen, which was run ashore here in consequence of leaking so badly that she was unable to reach her destined port—San Francisco.

There being little of interest to be seen here, we planned a ride to Monte Christo, a large town, about nine miles inland, at the foot of a mountain of the same name. Mounted on good horses, furnished with clumsy saddles with huge wooden stirrups, we commenced our race through the bushes, with which the road up town was overgrown. Sailors are not famous as being in general fine equestrians, and as the Spaniards guide their horses the wrong way, (by pulling on the rein opposite to the direction in which they wish the animal to go,) we soon had sport enough. Our third mate, who was an old "beach-comber," galloped on in fine style. The black cook managed to keep in sight of him, but to the rest of us it was impossible. Every few minutes some half-crazy horse, (perhaps with a man on his back, perhaps riderless,) would rush across the path, or dash through the bushes, on his way to the beach.

As for myself, I got along very well for a couple of miles, as I made my horse walk—but even such commendable caution couldn't save me from disaster, for, just as I was congratulating myself on my superior sagacity, and skill in riding, a loose horse came through the thicket like a small hurricane, and was soon joined by my beast, who had left his rider on his back in the sand, with his hat in one hand, and a bunch of mane in the other.

Having lost my horse, I started again on foot, and had got about a mile from the scene of my mishap, when I heard some one inveighing in choicest English and with a most superior voice, if quantity is considered. Looking through the tangled vegetation, I saw one of the crew, who had been riding the rascally horse that had so startled my quiet steed. He had the saddle on his back, and was bound for the beach again; and as I had no chance for a ride, I went with him.

We undertook to cross the woods, but had not proceeded far ere my attention was attracted by an exclamation from my companion, who was ahead, and coming up found him examining the blackened ruins of an old stone house, in the midst of a clump of trees. Large trees were standing inside the foundations, and nothing remained but a heap of stones, of what had evidently once been a large building. After some speculating as to how the ruins came there, we started on, but had gone a very short distance when we came upon the remains of what seemed to have been a Cathedral. It was about forty yards long, by twenty wide— built of heavy stone—with the wall standing from fifteen to twenty feet high, but crumbling to pieces, and blackened by fire. Trees, two or three feet in diameter, were growing in and around it, and its appearance was desolate indeed. For another mile we found the same traces of a large town—ruins, with huge hearth-stones, blackened walls, and overshadowing trees—but not a sign of life, except a few small birds, and I, for one, was not sorry to reach the sea-shore, after a most lonely, gloomy ramble through the old city.

On reaching the village, I enquired of an intelligent Spaniard concerning the ruins.

He informed me that there was once a large and flourishing city, containing at least 20,000 inhabitants, on the spot covered by the ruins. It was sacked and burned by the bucaniers under Eaton and Davis, about the year 1684, and has never been rebuilt. That it was a large city is evident from the space covered by the ruins, (a mile and a half by two miles) but how it came to be so I cannot explain.—Its harbor is good for nothing, fresh water is scarce, and the inhabitants of the present Manta are idle and thriftless.

As the sun went down the men began to arrive from Monte Christo, and by dark we were all in the boats, satisfied with our excursion, and tired of Manta.

We pulled aboard the old ship, and at daylight tripped our anchor and made sail, and at noon we had sank New Grenada, and were fairly under weigh for Payta.

Yours, D.

Suppression of Small Bank Notes.—There are comparatively few, we believe, who doubt that the public interest would be promoted by filling up the channels of circulation now held by small bills, with gold and silver.—Salem Gaz.

Uncle Toby is one of the doubters. He don't believe it at all: and has never seen or felt the evil of small bills. There has been a "flood of light poured upon it" by various writers, but to his vision, their "light is darkness."

If the $100 or the $10 bill is convenient for the large man, of large business;—he can't see why the $1 bill may not be as convenient for the smaller man of small business.

As for any pretence that large bills or the banks that issue them, are any safer or less likely to suspend, than the small bills and the banks that make them—it is all moonshine.

The Boston Courier says:

All efforts to get rid of small paper currency by legislative action in our States have failed. They cannot act together in time, and they would not act alike in arrangements. We are absolutely without any governmental power that can reach the difficulty.

Some are suggesting that Congress should interfere and repress the small notes. Congress has not the power, and could not be trusted if it had.

The present proposition of relief from this evil is simply, the development of a new agency of the Suffolk system—to be set in action as soon as specie payments are definitely and generally resumed.

Let the Suffolk Bank then make known, for itself and its associates, that, after such and such reasonable notice of appointed future days, they will decline to receive any small notes whatever, from any source or for any purpose.

Let this resolution be adhered to, and in six weeks after the time has expired, the small paper currency will substantially disappear from New England, and our people will then be found to have in their wallets, each man and woman, a small sum—making altogether some hundreds of thousands, perhaps millions more of specie currency than they ever had before.

Well,—what then?—Are those people in New England to-day, who have in their wallets ten gold dollars, any better off than those others who have $10 in small bills of the Portsmouth or Salem Banks? Not one whit for spending. If it is to be laid up in a napkin or stocking, it might be—but in that line Uncle Toby has no experience.

A Foot Race.—A great ten-mile foot race came off at Buffalo lately, between five Indians—Strong, Smith, Steeprock, Smoke, and Bennett; and one white man, Stetson, the pedestrian. The latter fell off on the 8th round, having lost nearly a mile. The race for the last six miles was closely contested, Smith being about six feet in advance of Bennett; but on the final home stretch, Bennett shot ahead and came in some five or six rods in advance, making excellent time—56 minutes, 14 seconds, ten miles.

☞ Col. William F. Phillips of Virginia feels so uncomfortable now that he has been removed from the sixth auditorship, that he proposes to appeal to Congress for relief. He will accept the office of door-keeper, provided no better opening is made for him, upon the principle that it is better to be a door-keeper in the House of Representatives than dwell in the tents of wickedness down in Virginia.

☞ It turns out that the "present" made by President Buchanan to the captain of the Norwegian barque which rescued some of the passengers of the Central America, was paid for out of the public treasury, and not from Mr. Buchanan's own pocket, as was represented. Congress appropriated some $2000 for rewarding officers of foreign vessels, and from this fund the present was made.

Large Turnip.—Stephen Green, Esq., of Kensington, has left at the News Letter office a flat turnip of the scarlet top kind, which weighs fourteen and one half lbs.—Its circumference is two feet and eleven inches.

Mohawk Valley Flooded.—Syracuse, Oct. 27.—The entire valley of the Mohawk is badly flooded. The freshet has done much damage. A large amount of corn and buckwheat has been destroyed and injured.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Something to Hope for.—There is nothing more exciting, and at the same time gratifying to human nature and its instinctive love of enterprize, than to "have a venture out;" something to hope for, to await with expectation and to rejoice over, if it turn out fortunately. Such is the exact position of those who invest a small sum of money in the purchase of a ticket in an authorized and well-known lottery, such as those, drawn under the charge of S. Swan & Co, Augusta, Georgia, who for ten, five, or two and a half dollars mailed to them, will send you a whole, half, or quarter ticket in one of their celebrated drawings, which take place by authority of the State, every Saturday. Pleasing hope may be thus turned into a substantial reality.

☞ We are happy to announce that the best of cheese may be had at 12 1-2 cents per pound, Molasses for 32 cents per gallon; sugars at reduced prices; the best kind of crushed sugar at 12 1-2 cents; potatoes very cheap, and all family groceries at uncommonly low prices for cash, at the store of F. W. ROGERS, on the corner of Vaughan and Congress streets,—where Fancy Soaps of various kinds, and many other articles may be found, but no spirits except Camphene and Burning Fluid. tf oct22

BLACK BOILED SILKS.

Boiled Black Silks.—We call the particular attention of purchasers to our Stock of Full Boiled Black Dress Silks. We are very particular in selecting our Black Silks, and shall keep on hand at all times, a good stock of 24 in., 26 in., 28 in., 30 in., and 32 inch of the same celebrated quality, which we have sold in such large quantities since we opened here; and which are warranted not to crack or break.

We receive our Silks new and Fresh every week. As this is an article which a person does not purchase very often, and which costs considerable money, it is very desirable to get the best in the market. For which purpose, purchasers are invited to call at the New Store, No. 15 Market Street. ALLEN & PAINE.

☞ The only place in this city where an Ambrotype can be obtained, is at Davis' Ambrotype Gallery, No. 8 Daniel Street, as they have the Patent, and all infringements will be prosecuted. sept9

☞ Probably most persons are familiar with the story of a little dog,—who, when the moon was shining brightly, used to run out and bark at her; but all the while the moon kept right on shining. Just so I KEEP RIGHT ON SHINING; or in other words,—keep right on making the various kinds of Pictures in the Heliographic or Photographic art.
sept16 A. GREGORY.

☞ Our friend in his illumination says nothing about Ambrotype, and does not seem to have the slightest idea that his "shining" is decidedly gassy. Don Quixotte's monomania never reached so high a point as that; but as we have as much as we can do by daylight, we do not make pictures by moon or gas-light, and our friends will govern themselves accordingly.

As regards the Ambrotype, we are determined to stop the sale of a spurious article, to the injury of our business, the deception of the public, and the consequent injurious impressions against the Ambrotype. For this reason, we offer $25 reward for an Ambrotype made in this place, other than at our Rooms. And as the word Ambrotype was coined for and patented with the Picture, we offer the same reward ($25) for any picture made or sold as an Ambrotype. Evidence sufficient to convict in the U. S. courts will be required in the last case; in the other, the Picture itself is all the evidence we want. DAVIS BROTHERS.

WHO THAT IS TROUBLED

With any of those disagreeable complaints, such as Jaundice, Dyspepsia, or Liver diseases of any kind, but would like to know of a remedy for these unseemly visitations? We feel that we are doing our invalid readers an invaluable service if we can induce them to get a bottle of Dr. Sanford's Invigorator, and take it, for we know from personal experience that it is one of the greatest remedies for general debility, and consequent inactive bodily powers, ever before used. Its action is so perfect and complete as to give relief the first time taken, and if it does to others as it has to us, half a bottle will be all that is needed. We know of nothing we can recommend with such confidence, as a family medicine, as the Invigorator.

GEN. CUSHING'S SPEECH.

On Tuesday at noon, Hon. Caleb Cushing addressed the democratic party of Boston and others, in Faneuil Hall, which was well filled. He read his speech from manuscript, occupying two hours. Printed in small type, it fills 7 1 2 columns of the Boston Courier, which paper gives it a puff editorial of half a column.

Mr. Cushing goes, of course, for Beach and Currier as the only true national democratic nominees; considers the issue of the election to be the approval or disapproval of Pierce's administration, Buchanan's do., and the democratic party. It hardly need to be added that the speech is most intensely pro-slavery.

It is not a little remarkable that while the nomination of Mr. Gardner in opposition to Banks is made on the profession that the issue is State affairs and not national politics,—yet Mr. Cushing in his long speech, discusses no State question whatever,—but simply defends slavery and its advocates, and attacks Banks and the Republicans.

Taking this National view of the State election, Mr. Cushing invites the voters of Massachusetts to vote for Beach and Currier, and thus to express their approbation of Pierce and Buchanan, together with the Kansas government and the Dred Scott decision.

If only the votes for Mr. Beach would endorse these things—Massachusetts would be but a slender endorser,—and abolitionism, to use Mr. Cushing's own phrase, would not seem to be quite "crushed out" of the Massachusetts people. Mr. Beach, however, does not run much more risk of being governor this year than does Mrs. Partington or Uncle Toby.

But if Messrs. Cushing, Gardner, and those who act with them, can by any means defeat Banks,—that defeat will be hailed, all over the country, by a yell of delight and a howl of triumph from all the slavery shriekers, as a victory over freedom.

Quite opportunely, on Wednesday morning, the Boston Advertiser contains a letter from Hon. R. A. Chapman, of Springfield, in which he completely uses up President Buchanan's mystery, of which he made such a parade in his last unlucky letter to the New Haven memorialists.

The president deems it a mystery how anybody could have ever seriously doubted that slavery existed in Kansas and every where else in the territories, under the Constitution of the Union.

Mr. Chapman goes on to show, that on the president's premises, slavery becomes national, and freedom, if there be such a thing, must be sectional, exceptional and accidental.

☞ Mr. William S Grant of Farmingdale, Kennebec county, Me., has harvested about 30 acres of barley, from which, when threshed, he expects to get between five and six hundred bushels.

☞ There is positive news from Paris that contraction is to be the next move in the world of fashion, and the ladies are coming out without hoops, bustle, wadding, or anything else of the sort.

Loss of Life at Montreal.—A canoe containing twelve persons was upset near Montreal Sunday evening, and seven lives were lost.

☞ Late foreign papers state that both Vesuvius and Ætna are in eruption.

At the recent horse race in Bridgeport, Conn., the State Attorney required that betting be dispensed with, and it was so announced from the Judges' stand—penalty, forfeiture of the horses.

3 DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

Sandy Hook, Oct 28.—Steamship Persia, from Liverpool 17th, has arrived off this port, en route to New York.

The steamer City of Baltimore has arrived out.

In the Liverpool Cotton Market, Cotton had declined 1-4d for inferior descriptions, while quotations of middling were barely maintained.

New Orleans, Oct. 26.—Money matters are no better. A meeting of cotton factors was held to-day, at which a resolution was offered, binding factors not to sell for less than 15c, but there being no concert of action the meeting broke up without effecting anything.

Toronto, Oct. 27.—Messrs. Rose, Mitchell & Co., importers, have failed. Their liabilities amount to $1,250,000. Their failure will bring down many country houses.

The reported failure of Mayor Hutchinson is incorrect.

U. S. Senator Elected.—Nashville, Oct. 27.—Hon. A. O. P. Nicholson, the editor of the Washington Union under President Pierce's administration, was to-day elected U. S. Senator to succeed Hon. John Bell, whose term expires March 4, 1860. An attempt will be made in the Legislature to instruct Bell to resign.

Minnesota and Iowa Elections.—Chicago, Oct. 27.—Complete returns from the Minnesota election gives Sibley, Democrat, 123 majority. A large number of Indians voted in the Pembina District.

We have the official vote of 46 counties in Iowa. Lowe, Republican, was 2237 ahead.

Accident.—In Manchester, on Wednesday morning, a man named Avery, started on horseback, leading another horse. He had not gone far, when finding it necessary to pull up the led horse, the one on which he rode reared up and fell backwards upon him, injuring him considerably.

☞ Perry's Smoke Consuming Lamps, advertised by Mathes & Varrell, are constructed on well known and scientific principles, producing a good strong light from the most ordinary oil or grease. VIRGINIA LEADS.

Senator Hunter of Virginia has written a letter to his fellow citizen, S. F. Leake, defining his position in regard to the administrations of President Buchanan and Gov. Walker of Kansas. This was extorted from him by papers in the interest of Governor Wise, who is ambitious to obtain the seat in the Senate which is now filled by Mr. Hunter. Touching the administration of Mr. Buchanan, Mr. Hunter says:

I have to say, first, that the imputation of hostility, on my part, towards the administration of Mr. Buchanan, is founded upon nothing that I have either said or done. I voted for him as President, and I not only entertain no feeling of hostility towards him, but I wish him success. He has only to carry out the principles of the Democratic party, as we understand them in Virginia, to command my cordial support. These, so far as applicable, will afford the test by which I shall judge his administration, and support or oppose its acts, as the conform to or depart from these principles. Nor shall I be disposed to apply that test in any captious or unkind spirit, but as justly and fairly as I can. More I could not say for any administration or man.

In regard to the Governor of Kansas, the Senator says:

In answer to the other interrogatory which you propose, as to the conduct of Governor Walker in Kansas, I have little hesitation in saying that I disapprove it.—The Kansas-Nebraska act was passed under the hope that this, the last of the territorial questions, involving the subject of slavery, might be settled upon some common ground, where a party could be rallied from the North and the South, the East and the West, strong enough to defend the Constitution against the assaults of its enemies, and to administer the government justly upon other than purely sectional ideas.

This is plain. By common ground, Mr. Hunter means ground favoring slave-breeding and selling. By sectional, he means free or anti-slavery. He will support Mr. Buchanan if he supports Virginia views by acts to sustain slavery—and he will oppose him if he does not.

☞ Much has been said about the cessation of emigration from Ireland; but the following paragraph, from an English paper of the 10th inst., goes to show that it has not ceased:

The reckless emigration from Ireland still continues. In the neighborhood of Cashel it is almost impossible to procure laborers, and grass farms will be the order of the day should the people continue to fly off. Prosperous times and high prices will not keep them at home.

ECONOMY IN THE RIGHT PLACE.—A gentleman from Massachusetts after visiting the Reform School, which is now being finished, remarked that he thought the style of the interior finish too plain and economical. We take a different view of the matter. The Commissioners are giving it a substantial finish, destitute it is true of expensive ornament, but answering fully every practical purpose for comfort and durability.

It is not the duty of society to furnish vicious and dangerous boys with a costly and luxurious residence at the public expense. The object of a Reform School is to make industrious and useful citizens of children who have acquired vicious habits, and whose early age affords encouragement that by suitable discipline and education their evil inclinations may be removed, and they become useful members of society.—The economical course of the Commissioners is worthy of commendation.—Manchester American.

INDUSTRY OF INDIA.—Whatever may be the turbulence of some classes of Hindoos, and the indolence of others, it is certain that there are in India persevering and industrious laborers. Within the last twenty years the amount of the products of other countries consumed in India has increased from $20,000,000 to $85,000,000, and her native productions have more than kept pace with it. Every nation which trades with her becomes her debtor. In 1835, the surplus produce of India was $40,000,000; in 1855 it exceeded $125,000,000. Last year the balance due India for the excess of the exports over the imports was $41,000,000. The Specie importations, which may be regarded as a sure indication of the balance of trade, had increased from $14,000,000, to 62,000,000 in 1856. Such statistics show that there is progressive industry in India, which the present mutiny must effect disastrously.—London Economist.

TERRIBLE — IF TRUE. — The Wakulla (Florida) Times of the 14th inst. says that a gentleman residing at Attapulgus, Ga., recently received a large sum of money. He was soon afterwards obliged to leave home on business, and on the evening of his departure, two negroes came to the house and demanded of his wife to be shown where the money was, under penalty of death. She complied, and they then demanded some supper, which the lady furnished them, putting, however, a quantity of strychnine into their coffee. In a few minutes they were both dead, when it was ascertained that they were both white men, and near neighbors, in disguise, who had been aware of her husband having received the money as before stated.

WORKING OF THE TIMES.—A Sad Case. The Philadelphia Inquirer narrates the following melancholy incident of the times:

"A few days ago a prominent merchant of this city yielded to the pressure, and he whose wealth had been computed at hundreds of thousands of dollars, found himself a bankrupt. As the clouds gathered about him he became the prey of melancholy, and strong drink was sought to relieve the crushing thoughts that were harassing his life. A great change followed. He was constantly intoxicated, and became most violent and abusive in his demeanor.

"His wife, who had before received nothing but kindness and graceful attention from him, was now treated in a most brutal manner, and he was a day or two ago arrested as a common wife-beater, after a most cruel assault, and taken before Alderman Eneu. When arrested his wife attended at the office, and with tearful eyes and pathetic supplications besought him to relinquish the evil ways into which he had fallen. But his words were still harsh and unfeeling The magistrate describes the scene as the most affecting that he had ever experienced. The sadly-changed husband refused to enter bail to keep the peace towards his wife, and vehemently demanded that he should be sent to prison, to which he was committed in default of $1500 bail, but was liberated a few hours afterwards. Greater changes are at work around us than those of mere fortune."

ELECTION FRAUD IN KANSAS.—The Kansas correspondent of the St. Louis Democrat says a most stupendous fraud was committed by the democrats of Oxford precinct, Johnson county. Men were sent from Lawrence and Wyandotta, to the different precincts in Johnson county, to bring up the result as soon as the polls were closed.—They produced the result, giving the pro-slavery party two hundred and forty-one majority. No one doubted for a moment but what this district, which includes Douglas and Johnson counties, had gone overwhelmingly in favor of freedom. When the official returns reached Lecompton, to the surprise of all but those who were implicated, a manuscript just fifty feet long was unrolled, containing sixteen hundred and twenty-four votes, all from one precinct, known as Oxford on the Little Santa Fee

This neutralizes the entire free state vote, and gives the district, which elects three councilmen and eight representatives, to the pro-slavery party. At this rate they will have a majority in the Legislature.—Johnson county polled over eighteen hundred votes, and not one third the inhabitants can be found in the county, to say nothing of those who are entitled to the elective franchise under the six months' prescription. The election was viva voce, and nowhere in the territory ware over five hundred ballots cast in one day.

It is an utter impossibility to write the names in two days for sixteen hundred voters, yet Oxford overdoes it. The truth is this, the polls were closed until the news reached them from Douglas county, in order that it might be determined how many ballots it would require to throw the scale in favor of the pro-slavites, and all the intervening time, up to the return of the poll books, was consumed in adding new names to the list.

FORGING A TELEGRAPHIC MESSAGE.—Mrs. Elizabeth Farrel, alias Mrs. Elizabeth Billings, a lady of birth and education, was recently brought before Mr. Jardine, at a police office in London, under somewhat peculiar circumstances. She was charged with forging the following message:—"Return by first train; your mother is dangerously ill. El. Leach." This was sent to Mr. William T. Billings, who had seduced the accused and induced her to go abroad with him, where he had passed her for his wife, and where he finally deserted her and left her to find her way home as best she might. The charge was dismissed on the ground that forgery involves the intention to deceive and defraud. Here the party resorted to this expedient to obtain an interview; the intention was to deceive for the purpose of bringing Mr. Billings to town, which was not an intention to defraud him.

☞ The Rev. Mr. Spurgeon delivered an address at the Crystal Palace, London, the 7th inst., in aid of the India Relief Fund. The Alliance Weekly News says:

The scene at the Crystal Palace on Wednesday was unique. Mr. Spurgeon addressed probably the largest audience ever assembled in one building to listen to a preacher's voice. As many as 23,654 persons were congregated in the large transept. They paid the usual shilling charge on entering, the directors handing over £200 from the receipts towards the relief fund. The collection amounted to £477.

A TRAGEDY.—The wife of Mr. Hunter, a lawyer of Ontonagon, recently killed herself by cutting her throat. She believed that her infant child would be an idiot, and this idea so deranged her mind that she gave it laudanum and it died. She then took the same poison herself, and so afterwards cut the veins of her arm, and then her throat. The latter was done when her husband was in the room, but before he could arrest her purpose.

Miss White was married to a gentleman of Lancaster, Penn., last week. That evening a juvenile band of "Calithumpians" serenaded her, headed by her brother, aged fifteen years. The party were invited in, and young White drank of whiskey to such excess that he fell in a stupor, and was left in the room. In the morning he was found dead.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUBDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASES, whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every fair trial (and we solicit no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the true balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that a single medicine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a quill dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.
☞ Of its intrinsic value, the enlightened community, and not the discoverer, must be the judge.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 30, 1857.

SEWARD ON THE CRISIS.

On the first of March, 1855, in the United States Senate, the Hon. Wm. H. Seward, in a speech in opposition to the allowance of "Credit for Duties on Railroad Iron," foretold with singular accuracy, the present financial troubles. Mr. Seward then said:

I think, Sir, that the restoration of the business of railroad building to a healthy state requires us either to leave it to work out its own cure, or else to adopt a remedy very different from what is here proposed—a remedy which will stimulate production of the raw material and of fabrics by manufacture. Anything short of this will fail to give any tone to the general financial system of the country, now so much deranged. The troubles with which we are contending, arose from excessive importations. The project before us tends to reduce duties, and so to encourage and stimulate imports still more. It is a fever of which we are sick. You propose to add fuel to the flame that is consuming us.

Let us look backward for instructions. In 1834, by excessive importations, by an unexampled enlargement of credits, we had brought on great fiscal embarrassments. Property of every kind was depreciated; everybody wanted relief loans; credit was paralyzed. The Bank of the United States exerted itself and gave relief; the crisis seemed to have been passed. Importations were immediately resumed, credit was again expanded. Wheat rose to two dollars per bushel; prices of all descriptions of property were inflated. The relief obtained was only temporary. The embarrassments of 1834 returned in 1837, aggravated tenfold. And then came that fearful convulsion which carried distress and ruin throughout this broad land—distress and ruin from which we have required twenty years to recover. Sir, we, in 1854, just passed through the premonitory symptoms of a crushing pressure, which is to come on in 1857, or some year not long thereafter. Let this not be thought strange. It is near twenty years since the last revulsion. Commercial revulsions come once in twenty years. The circumstances of our condition now correspond exactly with our condition previous to the last revulsion. Government then refused to stimulate production by a tariff of protection, and, on the contrary, stimulated importation. It went on to the bitter end.

Government refuses to stimulate production now by a tariff of protection, and gives fresh impulse to importation. The results must, unavoidably, be the same. Those who think otherwise, rely upon the fresh contributions to our currency which are derived from the gold mines of California. I grant that those contributions may delay a commercial revulsion for a time, and may modify and break its force when it shall have come. But they can neither postpone it definitely, nor can they break its force so that it will leave the country harmless.

COUNTING CHICKENS.—The Boston Traveller of Oct. 29, says:

Now that the day of election is so nigh, and Gov. Gardner's re-election so certain that no human power can avert it, &c., &c.

This sounds like some bragging we have heard in New Hampshire, about Satan's Kingdom's Coming Down, &c.

A few lines lower down in the same article from the Traveller, we read

Now, what have the Republicans done? They have boasted, and hurrahed, and bragged loud enough.

No doubt they have bragged loud enough—but the Traveller's brag, just above, is a trifle too loud.

The run between Banks and Gardner will probably be close,—and from our knowledge of Massachusetts we think Banks will be elected. But neither can be so certain, that no human power can defeat him. Votes seem to be a human power, and it is hard telling who will be governor till after the election.

Sixty freight cars passed over the Boston & Maine Railroad, two mornings in succession last week, loaded with cotton from the Great Falls manufacturing establishment, which is sent to Boston to be shipped to England. We understand that 15,000 bales have been thus disposed of. In a few months it will return in the shape of English calicoes, which John Bull will have made up at a large profit, while our own manufactories are standing idle!—Such are the practical operations of the free trade policy.—Dover Enquirer.

Thomas Perkins, a brother of Timothy R. Perkins who escaped from jail in Dover a few weeks since, was arrested in Boston last week on the charge of assisting his brother to escape; and was brought to Dover, and after an examination before the Police Court, committed for trial. It appeared from the evidence that he was in town the night before his brother and Rogers escaped, with a horse and wagon, and there is no doubt that he assisted them.—Dover Enquirer.

Ben. Butler, of Lowell, predicts that in the next great national contest the tariff and the currency will be the issues, and that slavery will be dropped. He thinks it will split the Democracy of New York.—If it does not, it will be the only question that has not split it in a long time.—Manchester American.

☞ The Atlantic Monthly is out, and is a beautiful specimen of the art of printing, containing 128 pages in double columns. The type and paper combine to make the pages very attractive to the eye. It may be found at A. Williams & Co.'s in Boston, and at the bookstores of Messrs. Shores and Foster in this city. The contents are varied and of different orders of merit. The poem of "Santa Philomena" is excellent; the "Autocrat of the Breakfast Table" is ditto; so is the "Roumany Girl." The "Gift of Tritemius" is evidently by a master-hand. The "Financial Flurry" is the title to some thoughts on the great commercial crisis. "Illusions" is one of the most exquisite compositions we have read for many a day. The other articles are readable Stories, Essays, Tales, &c.

The list of contributors is ample and able.

The Magazine is for sale in all the cities and principal villages, by all Booksellers, Newsmen and Periodical Dealers, and those residing where it is not convenient for them to obtain it through such sources, can have it sent by mail, prepaid, for one year, by sending three dollars to the address of the enterprising publishers, Messrs. Phillips, Sampson & Co., Boston.

THE EVANGELICAL ALLIANCE commenced its sittings at Berlin on the 10th of Sept., and closed them after a protracted session. Governor Wright, the American Ambassador, addressed the meeting in an eloquent speech. Bishop Simpson spoke briefly in the name of the Methodists of America, and Dr. Baird in the name of the American Presbyterians.

The part performed by the King of Prussia, says the Morning Star, was worthy of his personal character and the position of his throne among the Sovereigns of Europe. The Monarch acquitted himself during his interviews with the representatives of the respective nations with admirable propriety; his mastery of the several languages used on the occasion most materially contributed to the pleasure and the effect. The introduction of an interpreter would have thrown a chill over the happy scene, and have suppressed the glow of satisfaction excited by the Royal utterance of kindly and Christian greeting, which every man heard in his own tongue in which he was born.

It was a happy expedient to send for the 900 members of the Alliance to have an interview with the king in his Potsdam Palace. For the time being, the visitors became guests of the king, shared his hospitality, and cordially reciprocated his Christian salutations. To behold such a sight, and still more to participate in such fellowship, was alone worth going hundreds of miles. It might well cheer the heart of the Monarch to witness such a gathering from all the great nations of the earth, as well as fill the bosoms of the guests with new and unutterable emotions. It may be received as the first fruits of the glorious harvest which is yet to be reaped in our troubled world.

"BAND OF HOPE."—Several of the Sabbath Schools in Newburyport, on Sunday last, commenced the formation of this Temperance Association for the protection of youth, and others will do so to-morrow.—The subject is worthy the consideration of all those who would have the next generation purer and better than the present.—There never was a period when the young were beset with more snares, when the charmer decried and tempted with a more seductive voice, and when they were more liable to fall—heedlessly fall, to disgrace and ruin. Now, if ever, it is necessary to instruct them from the earliest infancy—now, if ever, it is necessary to arouse their wills to all firmness to resist the evil, and subject them, like the old Carthaginian, by the sacred rites of religion and the pledges of their souls, that they will war upon the rum enemy of the race. The anxiety of many parents to-day, for their children—the sorrow that is upon many a household to-day, for irreclaimable offspring, and the prayers and tears of many a stricken mother and many a wife and daughter, should excite all to do what in them lies to stay the tide of destruction. Let it be done now, and done with an earnest spirit, and a great and good work will be accomplished.—Herald.

THE REPUBLIC.—This is the title of a new republican paper recently started at Washington, by Messrs. Geo. M. Weston and Daniel R. Goodloe. The former gentleman was formerly editor of the Augusta Age, the leading democratic paper in Maine. The latter is also a gentleman of experience in journalism. The Republic is published weekly and semi-weekly—the weekly $2 and the semi-weekly $3 a year. Ten copies of the weekly for $15.

GALE ON THE LAKES.—The Chicago papers of Saturday contain an account of a terrific gale and snow storm on lakes Michigan and Superior, on Monday, the 19th, by which a large number of vessels were wrecked, and more than twenty lives lost.

GOOD ADVICE.—Ike Marvel says;—Have no dungeons about your house—no rooms you never open—no blinds that are always shut.—Don't teach your daughters French before they can weed a flower bed or cling to a side-saddle; and, daughters! do not be ashamed of the trowel or pruning knife.

SUSPENSIONS of banks, suspensions of manufacturing processes, suspensions even of music lessons, are not pleasant themes of contemplation. They are all productive of more or less melancholy results.

But how much more greviously melancholy, how incalculably more severe in its effects upon, not merely the casual comforts and enjoyments, but the continued existence of the race of man itself, would have been the suspension of the laws of nature, or rather of the action of the good providence of God, for but a single season, yea, for but a single hour!

There has been no such suspension as that. Seed time and harvest have not failed. The earth has yielded her increase, in even more than usual abundance; and instead of gloom and sadness, our hearts should be filled with joy and gladness.—N. Y. Musical World.

MINNESOTA ELECTION.—Chicago, Oct. 28. The election returns received from Minnesota are contradictory; information received this morning says that Ramsey, Republican, has been elected by a majority of 12. In the Legislature, the Democratic majority in the House is 8, and in the Senate 5.

KANSAS ELECTION.—St. Louis, Oct. 28. At a Democratic meeting held at Lecompton, K. T., on the 20th, resolutions were adopted, strongly condemnatory of the action of Messrs. Walker and Stanton, respecting the returns from Oxford precinct, Johnson co. The course of the Governor and Secretary was characterized as high handed, illegal, and a usurpation of power belonging only to the Legislature.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 28.—Notwithstanding the postponement of the Disunion Convention, over 100 delegates met here and organized to-day. Marius Robinson, of Ohio, was appointed President, and Vice Presidents were selected from each free State. Business Committees were appointed. Addresses were made by Foster and others. A resolution, strongly condemning the action of the Committee of Arrangements in the postponement of the Convention, was adopted.

BUFFALO, Oct. 28.—The boiler of the steamtug Stillman Witt, which lies at the foot of Commercial street, in this city, exploded this noon. Five persons were on board the tug at the time, four of whom were injured, and one is missing.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 28.—A gang of masked men last night attacked the inhabitants of St. Thomas street, who are mostly Irish, in an indiscriminate manner, killing one and badly wounding a dozen others. There is no clue to the assassins or their object.

☞ Several fat hogs have recently been stolen in Taunton, Mass. The thieves first administer chloroform to the animals, effectually stopping their squeal, and then carry them off in silence.

☞ A Russian journal announces the number of medical men killed in her service in the late war at 382. Of these ten were Americans.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

THE THANKS OF THE POOR.—The thanks of the poor are incense to heaven, and happy, are those who win them fairly. We know of no greater friends of the needy, the sick and the desponding than Messrs. Anderson & Son, managers of the Jasper County Academy lotteries, Georgia. These gentlemen are constantly putting out the most brilliant schemes, the prizes announced in which are distributed fairly and honorably under the eye of a State Commissioner. The latest schemes, the prizes announced by these gentlemen is the grandest of any. It will be drawn at Savannah on the 15 h Nov., and small schemes at Macon, Georgia, every Saturday. The prizes are large and very numerous. Enclose from one to ten dollars for tickets, and address Anderson & Son, Macon, Georgia, and the mail will bring a prompt and profitable return.

☞ We are happy to announce that the best of cheese may be had at 12 1-2 cents per gallon; Molasses for 33 cents per gallon; sugars at reduced prices; the best kind of crushed sugar at 12 1-2 cents; potatoes very cheap, and all family groceries at unceremonily low prices for cash, at the store of F. W. ROGERS, on the corner of Vaughan and Congress streets,—where Fancy Soaps of various kinds, and many other articles may be found, but no spirits except Camphene and Burning Fluid. tf oct22

BLACK BOILED SILKS.

BOILED BLACK SILKS.—We call the particular attention of purchasers to our Stock of Full Boiled Black Dress Silks. We are very particular in selecting our Black Silks, and shall keep on hand at all times, a good stock of 24 in., 26 in., 28 in., 30 in., and 32 inch of the same celebrated quality, which we have sold in such large quantities since we opened here; and which are warranted not to crack or break.

We receive our Silks new and Fresh every week. As this is an article which a person does not purchase very often, and which costs considerable money, it is very desirable to get the best in the market. For which purpose, purchasers are invited to call at the New Store, No. 15 Market Street. ALLEN & PAINE.

☞ The only place in this city where an Ambrotype can be obtained, is at Davis' Ambrotype Gallery, No. 8 Daniel Street, as they have the Patent, and all infringements will be prosecuted. sept9

☞ Probably most persons are familiar with the story of a little dog,—who, when the moon was shining brightly, used to run out and bark at her; but all the while the moon kept right on shining. Just so I KEEP RIGHT ON SHINING; or in other words,—keep right on making the various kinds of Pictures in the Heliographic or Photographic art.

sept15 A. GREGORY.

☞ Our friend in his illumination says nothing about Ambrotype, and does not seem to have the slightest idea that his "shining" is decidedly gassy. Don Quixotte's monomania never reached so high a point as that; but as we have as much as we can do by daylight, we do not make pictures by moon or gas-light, and our friends will govern themselves accordingly.

As regards the Ambrotype, we are determined to stop the sale of a spurious article, to the injury of our business, the deception of the public, and the consequent injurious impressions against the Ambrotype. For this reason, we offer $25 reward for an Ambrotype made in this place, other than at our Rooms. And as the word Ambrotype was coined for and patented with the Picture, we offer the same reward ($25) for any picture made or sold as an Ambrotype. Evidence sufficient to convict in the U. S. courts will be required in the last case; in the other, the Picture itself is all the evidence we want. DAVIS BROTHERS.

WHO THAT IS TROUBLED

With any of those disagreeable complaints, such as Jaundice, Dyspepsia, or Liver diseases of any kind, but would like to know of a remedy for these unseemly visitations? We feel that we are doing our invalid readers an invaluable service if we can induce them to get a bottle of Dr. Sanford's Invigorator, and take it, for we know from personal experience that it is one of the greatest remedies for general debility, and consequent inactive bodily powers, ever before used. Its action is so perfect and complete as to give relief the first time taken, and if it does to others as it has to us, half a bottle will be all that is needed. We know of nothing we can recommend with such confidence, as a family medicine, as the Invigorator.

A Yankee who had just come from Florence, being asked what he had seen and admired, and whether he was not in raptures with the statue of Venus, he replied—"Well, to tell the truth, I don't care much about them stone gals."

Some one remarked in the hearing of Lord Erskine, that a certain Jones of London had just died, worth a million pounds. His lordship replied in his usual satirical way, "What a very handsome sum to begin the next world with!"

NOT KILLED.—Mr. Brown, who was reported as dead, from being stabbed by the brothers Cole, in Limerick, we understand is still living, but lies in a precarious situation, with small hopes of his recovery.—The assassins are confined in Alfred jail.—Argus.

Mr. Harrison Hilton, a native of Sandwich, this State, but for the last nine years a resident of California and the Democratic candidate for collector of El Dorado county at the recent election, was killed the night previous to the election, by a man named Miller. They fell into a dispute, and Miller stabbed Hilton twice, killing him almost instantly.—Manchester American.

SICK HEADACHE AND DEBILITY.—Among the numerous advertised medicines for these complaints, none can be found so efficacious as the Oxygenated Bitters. They produce the most agreeable and invigorating effects.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

PRESERVATION OF THE HAIR.—In all ages and among almost all tribes of men, a beautiful head of hair has been, and still is, regarded as the fairest ornament of the fairest works of the Creator. The patrician dames and damsels of ancient and modern Rome bestowed that attention upon the hair which has added the crown ing beauty to the chef d'œuvre of the sculptor and the painter, and no lady, and indeed no gentleman of modern times is unmindful of this exquisite shield and lovely ornament of the face. To maiden beauty it is the finishing touch; to manhood it is the symbol and warrant of strength and nobility, to day as in the days of the patriarchs; indeed such it always had been and always will be.

The Murder of Hodgdon.—Thee persons concerned in the murder of Hodgdon, the Boston Policeman, have been tracked to Portsmouth, and it is supposed that they came up to Dover, over the Ferry at Dover Point, on Thursday last with a horse and chaise. Some of the Boston police have been in Dover, in search of them.—Dover Enquirer.

We cannot say that this is not so, and that the Enquirer is not correct: but the fact that Boston men were searching in Dover for the stray team which was left here, and that it was suspected that the flight of that team might have some connection with the murder of Hodgdon, may have caused the Enquirer to jumble two or three stories together into this one. At any rate, we have not heard of such persons being tracked to this city; and, on the contrary, it is said that two men (the number who witnessed and participated in the murder) have been arrested nearer Boston,—while a more reasonable accounting for the leaving of that team in the out-of-way place where it was found, is now suggested, than that any murderers placed it there.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

Thursday Evening, Oct. 29.

Board of Aldermen.—An application was made by the builders of the drain on State street, to vary the contract so as to permit them to turn the said drain into Washington street, and from thence into Puddle Dock. Voted that the subject be laid over until the next meeting of the Board.

The Committee on Gaslights reported in favor of placing a gaslight in front of the new chapel on Court street. After considerable discussion the report was accepted.

The slaughter-house on Water street, occupied by Mr. Cook, was complained of as a public nuisance. Referred to Committee on Police.

Several bills were read, accepted and voted to be paid. Adjourned.

☞ A splendid lunar rainbow was visible in this city on Thursday evening, between 6 and 7 o'clock, surpassing anything of the kind we ever witnessed.

☞ The pressure of the times has reached the Indians who have been encamped in the western part of this city nearly all summer; and they were on Thursday packing up bag and baggage to be off for Old Town, Me., where they belong. One of them said, "We can't sell our baskets now." Well: it is quite possible to overdo the trade in Indian baskets, as well as to import too many silks and brandies, too many toys, and too much railroad iron.—The Indians have to take their share of the times, though they have neither banks, railroads, nor ships.

Ordination.—Mr. J. H. Shepard was ordained to the work of the gospel ministry on Wednesday evening, Oct. 29, at the Universalist Church in this city. The exercises were as following:

Voluntary, Organ, by Mr. Crane;

Anthem, "Joy and Peace shall dwell in thee;"

Introductory Prayer and Reading of Select Scriptures, by Rev. Mr. Damon of Newmarket;

Hymn;

Sermon, by Rev. W. H. Ryder of Roxbury, Mass.;

Hymn;

Laying on of Hands, and Ordaining Prayer by Rev. Mr. Maxham of Medford, Mass.;

Presentation of the Bible, and Charge, by Rev. Mr. Greenwood, of Dover;

Right Hand of Fellowship, by Rev. A. J. Patterson of this city;

Anthem, Glory be to God on High;

Benediction, by Rev. Mr. Sheppard.

Ordination at Hampton Falls.—Mr. E. Law, a recent graduate of Hamilton College, New York, was ordained as pastor of the Baptist church at Hampton Falls, on Wednesday, 28th inst.

The sermon was by Rev. Dr. Lamson of this city, from Psalm 126: 6, "He that goeth forth and weepeth, bearing precious seed, shall doubtless come again with rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him."

The other parts of the service were by Rev. B. P. Byram of Amesbury, Rev. S. E. Brown of South Hampton, and Rev. C. Newhall of Stratham.

Failures.—Two important failures have been announced, viz.: Geo. W. Warren, Barry & Co., the well known wholesale and retail dealers in dry goods on Washington street; and Wm. A. Brown, Jr., & Co., dry goods, on Pearl street.—Boston Journal.

MARRIED.

In Nottingham, Mr. Andrew B. Thompson of Newmarket, to Miss Asenath F. Tuttle of Nottingham—Mr. John R. Cawarly of Rollinsford, to Miss Hannah H. Hill of Barrington.

DIED.

In Newcastle, Mrs. Ellen Ricker, aged 28.

In Newburyport, Mrs. Elizabeth Chase, aged 69 years, widow of Jacob Chase.

MARINE CHRONICLE.

PORT OF PORTSMOUTH.

Ship Sabine, Hendee, Boston, arr at Bombay Sept 12th.

Ship Charles Hill, Hale, Calcutta, for Boston, sld fm Saugor Aug 24th.

☞ Edward N. Fuller, Esq., for the last half dozen years publisher of the N. H. Gazette in this city, has removed to Newark, New Jersey; and on the 3d of November is to commence the publication of a new Daily Evening Newspaper—to "be devoted to General and Local intelligence, Literature and the dissemination of Democratic principles." The name of the sheet is not announced.

The editor of the Newark Mercury, republican, says:

"We shall welcome the new paper with cordial good will, judging from the communication we have had with its intended Editor, that however much we may differ in politics, our differences will not be otherwise than characterized by those true amenities which should at all times exist among members of the editorial profession.

Mr. Fuller has tried working in the Daily harness before,—and likes it when it pays—as we understand this new enterprise is guaranteed to do. His connection with the N. H. Gazette, as proprietor and publisher, is not yet dissolved. He has made a good miscellaneous paper of it—much better, we judge, than he has got pay for, though as to the politics, there are various opinions, and we haven't always agreed with the paper. Our intercourse with Mr. Fuller, personally and editorially, has usually been of the most pleasant nature; and we commend him to the craft in his new home."

Exeter.—One of the editors of the News Letter signs all his articles "J. F." Our Exeter correspondent, F. G., recently referred that writer to the important fact that Phillip's Exeter Academy had been painted. To this J. F. replies in the News Letter:

"An Exeter correspondent of the Portsmouth Chronicle took special pains to inform the writer of this correspondence, that Exeter Academy had lately received a fine coat of paint. Thank him for the information. More thankful should we have been, if he had told also of the success of the Academy in these times. How many students has it? How large was the class prepared for college at the close of the last term? It has existed some 75 years I think. It has been found to reckon among its Alumni, ministers, physicians, lawyers, governors, Senators in Congress, and at least two candidates for Presidents of the United States, both of whom we suspect would have made good Presidents if they had been elected. Success to all our literary institutions. J. F."

If we are not mistaken, F. G. has already given the information desired, in the Daily Chronicle; but he can speak for himself, whether he has or no.

Hookset Bridge.—Fifteen car loads of stone have been put upon the Hookset bridge on the Concord railroad, to prevent the freshet from sweeping off the flooring, and a wide foot pass erected, so that the detention to travel is short. Cars wait at either side.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES.

Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience.

THE combination of ingredients in these Pills, is the result of a long and extensive practice; they are mild in their operation, and certain to restoring nature to its proper channel. In every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are certain to open those obstructions to which females are liable, and bring nature into its proper channel, whereby health is restored, and the pale and deathly countenance changed to a healthy one. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular: and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the powerful health impairing agent begins to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, that most always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, the Pills will invariably remedy all these evils. In all cases of painful menstruation, or nervous and spinal affections in the back and limbs, lowness of spirits, hysterics, &c. Nor are they less efficacious in the cure of Leucorrhœa, commonly called the "Whites." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. Warranted purely Vegetable, and free from anything injurious to life or health. Full and explicit directions which should be read, accompany each box.

These Pills are put up in square, flat boxes.—Persons residing where there are no Agencies established, by enclosing One Dollar in a letter, prepaid, to Dr. C. L. Cheeseman, Box No. 4,581, Post Office, New York City, can have them sent to their respective addresses by return of mail.

A PLEA FOR FLORA.

My dear Mr. Butler, or you Mistress Peck,
Or who ever it is who has done it,
Supposing your comical efforts should deck
The fancy for buying the fine things that deck
Our flowery creatures who brighten Broadway
With their rainbow-like hues on every fair day;
Just supposing, I say,
You suppress the expense on a dress or a bonnet,
What good have you done? shall Gunnybag's pelf,
Like the sumptuous plates on his étagere shelf,
Be kept for the use of no one but himself?
What his daughter now spends be locked up at home?
His soul garnered up with the growth of his income?
And never a dollar let loose to do good,
'Mid that army of martyrs who toil for their food?
Why! what the rich waste is not sunk in the earth,
It does not return to the ore of its birth;
A wisdom above us has ever ordained
That thus shall the laboring poor be sustained.
The honest poor, too, are they—not that scum of society
Who, in squalor and vice and all want of propriety,
Hide in the dark corners of every great city;
Enough of them, truly—so much more the pity—
The pity for us—not for them—for they never
Are making the slightest attempt or endeavor
To lighten their lot. They won't work for pay,
But hug to their bosoms the seeds of decay;
More filthy within their deplorable souls
Than even their raiment "so full of holes."
It is taking—this making a juxtaposition
Of money and merit—but for this there's "the mission."
I'd be sorry to learn that any young maiden
With nightingale breathings of charity laden,
Had followed your counsel and ventured to see
This festering mass of iniquity.
I admit it looks well upon paper,
This sending a merciful taper,
With a white-robed young angel to go
('Round her brow a celestial halo)
To lighten this darkness and woe.
But a word ere she thinks to begin it,
Lest she find herself stripped in a a minute.
Those who have been in this Satan's dominion
Have proclaimed to the world their opinion
That whenever the raiment one enters with there,
He or she may come back with "nothing to wear"—
That the star which best shines in these dark realms of vice,
Is the star on the breast of the city police.
To return to your Misses McFlimsey,
Who have money to feed all their whimsies,
I think that full oft, without knowing
One-half of the good they are doing,
Such ladies are a special committee
To distribute amongst the deserving
The alms of this world—never swerving
From this their vocation—not from pity,
For that may get weary. Continued compassion
Would shatter the nerves of the ladies of fashion.
Flora's moved by a love that is lasting—that knoweth no rest,
That spares not a fibre of the feminine breast,
A love that the poor may rely on,
"Perennius aere" or iron—
A love that doth good to another by stealth—
The love that I mean is the love of herself.
Q. E. D. then, I claim the solution
That Miss Flora is a good institution,
A "ship for the Irish," with breeze full abeam,
From the favoring gales of her own self-esteem;
Not to mention the fabric her dresses are made of,
Whose price has relieved the distresses we read of,
In Lyons, or Paris, or such foreign parts,
As are famed for their skill in manufacturing arts.
Just think of the making—the poor girls who sew
Whose Saturday nights are relieved of much woe;
The pittance they get for making a dress
Is at once a relieving a case of distress.
Every flounce is a dinner—the ribbons that must
Just under the chin, are something to eat;
The curious embroidery you see on her collar,
I can trace till I see the identical dollar
That came just in time to save from sad fate
A lovely young girl in a terrible strait—
Silks, satins and laces, all are forgiven,
Transmuted, dispersed, like the pure air of heaven.
They enter the hovel, they steal to the attic,
Consoling, sustaining—I declare its dramatic,
Until I conclude that the charming Miss Flora,
Though little she knows it, is very much more a Sister of mercy, with unlimited bounty,
Than all the prim Dorcases who sew for a county.

GEORGIA LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of ARMSTRONG & SON, are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed by the State, to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn at Savannah, Ga., about the 15th of every month, and another is drawn at Macon, Ga., every Saturday throughout the year. If no particular class is named, orders are filled by the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets are from $1 to $50. Its tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers, which has so mystified the community for years past. Prizes vary in amount from $40 to $20,000. Every prize being drawn, and result of drawing, or other information, forwarded to all purchasers.

A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount that each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers: New Orleans Delta, Savannah News, New York Dispatch, and New York Atlas. Write your address plainly, and direct to

ANDERSON & SON, Managers,
Macon or Savannah, Ga.

Prizes paid in full; no per centage deducted from prizes, as in other lotteries. All communications strictly confidential. oct29 1y

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, knowing that the parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the prize drawn, one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the public. Prizes vary from $40 to $20,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount that each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Augusta Chronicle & Sentinel, Nashville Union, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia.

Prizes paid in full—no per centage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m181y

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which I am the agent, are now in full operation, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with the drawing is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. A number fact which the managers call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Ternary combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100 00. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

☞ The drawn numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner in the following papers, viz: Sun, Clipper, Patriot, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

A BEAUTIFUL HEAD
OF RICH GLOSSY HAIR,
Completely Preserved
TO THE GREATEST AGE.

AND who that is gray would not have it restored to former color; or bald, but would have the growth restored; or troubled with dandruff and itching but would have it removed, or troubled with scrofula, scald head, or other eruption, or with sick headache, (neuralgia) but would be cured. It will also remove all pimples from the face and skin. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative will do all this. See circular and the following.

ANN ARBOR, November 5th, 1855.

PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir: I have heard much said of the wonderful effects of your Hair Restorative, but having been so often cheated by quackery and quack nostrums, hair dyes, &c., I was disposed to place little credit in what I saw in the same category with the one thousand and one loudly trumpeted quack remedies, until I met you in Lawrence county some months since, when you gave me assurance in inducing me to the trial of your Restorative in my family—first, by my good wife, whose hair had become very thin, and entirely white before exhausting one-half of your large bottles, her hair was restored nearly to its original beautiful brown color, and had thickened and become beautiful and glossy, so much so, that another bottle would induce me to use it, not simply because of its beautifying effects upon the hair, but because of its healthful influence upon the head and scalp. Others of my family and friends are using your Restorative, with the happiest effects; therefore my skepticism and doubts in reference to your Hair Restorative are entirely removed; and I can and do most cordially and confidentially recommend its use by all who would have their hair restored from white or gray, (by reason of sickness or age,) to original color and beauty, and by all young persons who would have the hair beautiful and glossy.

Very truly and gratefully yours,
SOLOMON MANN.

FRIEND WOOD: It was a long time after I saw you at Blissfield before I got the bottle of Restorative for which you gave me an order upon your agent in Detroit, and when I got it we concluded to try it on Mrs. Mann's hair, as the surest test of its power. It has done all that you assured me it would do; and others of my family and friends have witnessed its effects, are now using and recommending its use to others as entitled to the highest consideration you claim for it.

Again, very respectfully and truly yours,
SOLOMON MANN.

CARLISLE, ILL., June 28, 1853.

I have used Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and have admired its effects. My hair was becoming thin and quite gray, but now, by the use of his Restorative it has resumed its original color, and I have no doubt permanently so.

Magee's Patent Ventilating Stove.

FOR WARMING AND VENTILATING
PARLORS, OFFICES, HALLS, STORES, SCHOOL HOUSES, &c.

WHICH for economy, purity of air, and ease of management, has no equal. It can be regulated so as to give

Any amount of Heat required,

and unlike all other Anthracite Coal Burners, ventilates the apartments quite as thoroughly, as a wood fire or Franklin, producing a current of Air, at once cool, pure and agreeable, and is none of the air which comes in contact with the fire pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache, so much complained of by those using Stoves and Furnaces, is entirely obviated. The fire may be continued from one to four days without replenishing.

These Stoves are beautiful in design, and finished in the most perfect manner. They are equally appropriate, and have given universal satisfaction to all who have adopted them.

For Offices and Stores as well as the Parlor.

The Inventor challenges the world to produce an article by which so much Pure Warm Air can be generated, from so small an amount of fuel, requiring but about 15 pounds of Anthracite Coal, to warm an ordinary sized parlor for 24 hours, without replenishing, and then leaving fire enough to rekindle without the use of charcoal. The coal is all used, and no clinkers made, consequently, sifting coal is dispensed with.—When this Stove is properly managed,

THE FIRE MAY BE CONTINUED THROUGH
THE ENTIRE SEASON,

without once going out. Added to all these qualifications, the purchaser may reasonably expect to save from 30 to 50 per cent, in fuel expense.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.
DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES.

Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience

THE combination of ingredients in these Pills, is the result of a long and extensive practice; they are mild, certain and safe, and certain to restoring nature to its proper channel. In every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are certain to open those obstructions to which females are liable, from whatever nature or proper channel, whereby health is restored, and the pale and deathly countenance changed to a healthy one. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to suffer, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, that most always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, he Pills will invariably remedy all these evils. In all cases of painful menstruation, or nervous and spinal affections in the back and limbs, lowness of spirits, hysterics, &c. Nor are they less efficacious in the cure of Leucorrhœa, commonly called the "Whites." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. Warranted purely Vegetable, and free from anything injurious to life or health. Full and explicit directions which should be read, accompany each box.

These Pills are put up in square, flat boxes.—Persons residing where there are no Agencies established, by enclosing One Dollar in a letter, prepaid, to Dr. C. L. CHEESEMAN, Box No. 4,681, Post Office, New York City, can have them sent to their respective addresses by return of mail.

PERTINENT.—In these days, it is good to revive the sage words of Emerson to his wife, for they may impart an idea to some lady's mind:

O, excellent wife; encumber not thyself to get a curiously rich dinner for this man or woman who has alighted at our gate, nor a bed chamber made at too great a cost. These things, if they are curious in them, they can get for a few shillings in any village; but rather let the stranger see, if he will, in your looks, accent and behavior, your heart and earnestness, your thought and will, that which he cannot buy at any price in the city, and for which he may well travel twenty miles, and dine sparingly and sleep little, to behold. Let not the emphasis of hospitality lie in bed and board, but let truth and love, and honor and courtesy flow in all thy deeds.

JOYOUS BUT FATAL MEETING.—A son of Col. J. J. Winter, of Clarksburg, Va, returned home the other day after an absence of three years. His father had difficulty in recognizing him, and after he had made himself known, the father stepped to the door of an adjoining room, and calling to his two daughters, informed them that a gentleman desired to see them.—Upon entering the room the young ladies did not at first recognize their brother, but almost instantly the eldest recognized him, and sank to the floor, dead. Being somewhat delicate, the joyous surprise of thus unexpectedly meeting her long absent brother, to whom she was dearly attached, was too much, and thus caused instant death.

SAD DEGRADATION.—A man who formerly occupied a high position in society, but has fallen through the influence of the intoxicating cup, was, on Saturday last, brought before the Police Court of Roxbury, and sentenced to one year's imprisonment in the House of Correction, for stealing silver ware from the residence of his brother.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUBDUE INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (of whatever other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring that balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a pin dipped into a solution of it, to effect the entire cure.
☞ Of its intrinsic value, the enlightened community, and not the discoverer, must be the judge.
PRIME COST, $1, 50 per drachm—PRICE $2 per drachm.

A PROTECTIVE TARIFF.

The Lawrence Courier, while expressing its fervent admiration of the old whig doctrine of protection to American industry, protests against its being adopted as a principle by any party, contending that it should stand on its own merits, free to be voted for by all its friends.

On this the Dover Enquirer remarks:—"This is all very well. The friends of a protective Tariff, we have no doubt, would be glad to see this thing done. But it is simply impossible. The Tariff question can not be kept out of politics any more than a fish can be kept out of water alive. Its friends and supporters will naturally form one party and its opponents another—just as they divide on any other great question. The slave States will not support a protective tariff, because they prefer to see our manufacturing done in England; in which policy they are cordially joined by their natural allies, the democracy of the North. The Republican party like the old Whig party before them, are therefore perforce the distinctive friends and advocates of protection to American industry."

A new magazine says:

But a high protective tariff is an impossibility, because it can be obtained only by favor of the Federal Legislature; and, as we all know, at the door of that Legislature stands the inexorable shape of the slave power, which consults no interest but its own in the management of government, and which will never make a concession to the mechanics or the merchants of the North, unless it be to purchase some new act of baseness, or bind them in some new chains of servility.

Not quite impossible, unless slavery is omnipotent. There is no doubt the thing will be tried.

MASSACHUSETTS ELECTION.—The Annual election in Massachusetts, takes place tomorrow. The New Hampshire Gazette says:—

The Democracy headed by Beach and Currier, if they but take advantage of the division in the ranks of their opponents, can call to their aid a sufficient number of the disaffected of the other parties and cast a heavy plurality for their own candidates, and at once free the old Commonwealth from the dominion of fanaticism and financial extravagance. Whether they will be able to do this glorious work is doubtful, but their power to do so is beyond question.

We are not quite sure that we understand how a party that has the power to elect its candidates, has not the ability to do so.

The Boston Courier says, about the same election:—

It ought to be distinctly understood that if Gov. Gardner is re-elected, it must be by the aid of those who care nothing for his Americanism.

Exactly so:—they join a coalition against Banks, and aim by all means to defeat him and thus to show their spite against the Republican party.

☞ In New York on Friday was reported the failure of Nicholas Wolff, an extensive German importing house.

There were rumors of heavy failures in New Orleans.

Messrs. Winslow, Lanier & Co. announced their intention of resuming payment in full on Saturday.

There were large speculative operations in gold—one to the amount of $150,000, at one per cent. premium, buyer 30 days. The money market was quite dull on Friday, but the tendency of rates was downward. Foreign exchanges continue to improve, but the sales are small.

The Island City Bank winds up badly. Its circulation now out is $100,000, assets $1500 in coppers and fine inkstands. Its capital was $300,000. Loans $376,000. Deposits $107,000.

THE CLERGY AND THE FINANCIAL REVULSION.—The Synod of New York, which includes 160 Old School Presbyterian ministers, has addressed a letter to the churches under its care, in which are set forth the moral lessons to be derived from the present financial revulsion, and commenting also upon the breaking up of so many Christian missions in India by violence. The Synod recommend to their churches the observation of Thursday, Nov. 5, as a day of Fasting, Humiliation and Prayer, to supplicate deliverance from this heavy calamity, or such a wise improvement of it as shall render it a blessing rather than a curse. The address is very severe in its comments upon the spirit and practices of modern traffic.

☞ Mr. Ammi George of Nashua has invented a machine for husking corn, with which two men will husk as much as a hundred men will by hand.

ROBBERIES IN MEDFORD, MASS.—On Thursday evening, Mr. Hazen Chapman, residing opposite the hotel in Medford, went into the hotel, and while there mentioned to a friend, that he was going to the residence of a Mr. Buzzell, for the purpose of collecting a bill. Chapman left the hotel and proceeded to Mr. B.'s residence, and found that Mr. Buzzell was absent. Mr. C. concluded not to wait, and proceeded homeward. When he had nearly reached his residence on Main st., three men came up to him suddenly and dealt him several blows on the head, inflicting dangerous wounds which rendered him insensible. While in this state, they rummaged his pockets, but did not get much plunder. Mr. Chapman is confined to his bed. It is supposed that the men, who were Irishmen, were in the hotel when Mr. C. made the remark, and immediately planned the robbery. Mr. Chapman thinks he could recognise the men if he should ever see them again.

On the same evening, while Mr. Willey, a teamster, in the employ of Mr. Buzzell, was passing through a lane leading to a brickyard near Main street, Medford, three men came up to him from behind, and taking him wholly by surprise, knocked him to the ground. Mr. Willey, who is a very powerful man, regained his feet before his assailants had an opportunity to strike another blow, and knocked down the man that was nearest to him by a well directed blow, which laid the highwayman up against a stone wall. He served the other two with several good blows, when they all three took to their heels and ran away.

The men were probably the ones that knocked down Mr. Chapman, as Mr. Willey says they were Irishmen, and its being near the same place and time would naturally tend to make the same party suspected.

MORE WEST INDIA EMANCIPATION.—It would appear from an article in a St. Thomas paper, that Holland has settled all details for the general emancipation of slaves in the islands of Curacoa, Bonaire, Aruba, and St. Eustatius. All the emancipated slaves who can, will be called upon to work for the State, which will pay them fair wages. According to the arrangements made, Holland will pay to every slaveholder a fair equivalent for his slaves.

☞ On Friday, in New York, says a dispatch, "a fight occurred at the Mayor's room, City Hall, between several Irish Democratic politicians, in which a man named Connor was beaten to death, as is alleged, by Teddy Donovan, a Custom House officer."

☞ Chester Case, a pedlar, was run over by his own team and instantly killed, at Easton, Pennsylvania, a few days since; he was a native of Connecticut, and said to be worth $60,000, amassed in his trade.

SUICIDE.—Mr. Charles Cane, a weaver in the Naumkeag mill in Salem, committed suicide by drowning on Monday morning, while laboring under an attack of delirium tremens. Coroner Walton was called to investigate the case. It appears that the deceased was a man of mild disposition and industrious habits, when not under the influence of intoxicating liquors, but would occasionally "have a spree," when he would for several days devote his whole time to inebriation. He had been intoxicated for several days previous to his death. This case furnishes a melancholy illustration of the danger of drinking the poisonous compounds now sold for pure liquors; and it should afford another incentive to the friends of temperance to make persevering efforts to carry forward the important reform in which they are engaged.—Salem Gazette.

LONG ABSENCE AND LONG VOYAGES.—The ship Susan G. Owens, which arrived at Charleston 25th inst., from Cardiff, has, since she left Charleston about the 1st of May, 1854, been once around the world, and traversed altogether, it is estimated, not less than ninety thousand miles. She went first from Charleston to Liverpool, thence to San Francisco, thence to the Chincha Islands, thence with a load of guano to Leith, calling at Cork for orders, thence to Newport, thence to New Orleans, thence again to Liverpool, thence to Calcutta, thence to Cardiff, and thence back to Charleston. She belongs to Messrs. John Fraser & Co., of Charleston.

BANK OF PENNSYLVANIA.—Philadelphia, Oct. 30.—The investigation which has been going on by the directors of the Bank of Pennsylvania into its affairs, has been brought near a close. The exhibit is not favorable. The immediate liabilities of the Bank, in round numbers, independent of capital stock, we are informed, is about two millions of dollars; to meet which there are assets appraised at one and three quarter millions. If this appraisement and amount of liabilities are correct, the bank would seem to be unable to pay its debts, leaving nothing for stockholders.—The indications are that the bank will go into liquidation. Note-holders and depositors will probably be paid.

☞ The London Times says it will cost five hundred million dollars to put down the insurrection in India.

A MODEST WANT. The editor of the Union Democrat is a modest man. Speaking of the late Kansas election, he says:—

"We want to show that every vote given at the recent election in that Territory (Kansas) was given for avowed free State men."

Isn't this a modest "want?" We have no doubt, however, of its sincerity. He does want to show that very thing. Having abused and slandered the Free State men of Kansas from first to last; having defended and apologized for every act of the border ruffians, whether of murder, rape, or arson; having upheld all the scoundrilism and tyranny of the pro-slavery Sepoys sent out to dragoon the people into submission to slavery; and having found the virtue and endurance of the freemen of that territory, proof against all the violence of ruffians and all the lies of a perjured press, it now has the assurance to turn round and say that neither it, nor its party, ever meant to plant slavery in Kansas—in a word, that Stringfellow and Atchison, and all the bloody scoundrels associated with them, have committed all these murders and crimes for the sole purpose of making Kansas a Free State! Don't we wish him a good time "showing" this?—Ind. Dem.

AN INCIDENT OF THE PANIC.—Karl Dummkopf, an aged German, residing in Williamsburg, N. Y., during the panic drew out $1400 which he had in the Savings Bank. For several days he carried the gold about with him in a leathern bag, trembling with fear lest he should lose it, and at night putting it under his pillow, hardly daring to sleep for fear that he should be robbed. On Saturday last, says the New York Post, a brilliant idea flashed upon old Karl. His frau was snoring by his side, and without disturbing her he arose, lit a lamp, went down into the basement kitchen, and after carefully closing the window blinds, proceeded to drag out the stove, remove the fireboard, and loosen a brick from the back of the chimney.—The bag of gold was deposited in this secure receptacle, the brick replaced, the fireboard and stove restored to their places, all the mortar and dust removed, and then the old man went to bed and slept soundly, resolved to keep his secret even from his wife. The next day being Sunday, he locked up his house, and with his wife on his arm paid a visit to a lager beer garden. On his return he thought he would look into the kitchen and see that all was safe, when to his great consternation he found mortar and other rubbish lying loose on the hearth, the loosened brick out of place, and the money gone.

ARREST FOR ABDUCTING SLAVES.—Mr John W. Burns was yesterday charged with abducting two colored boys, the property of Mr. Jesse Taylor, of Virginia, and taking them to Bruin's establishment in Alexandria for sale. He was bound over in the sum of $1000 for further examination. The defence is said to be that Burns, being the son-in-law of Taylor, came into possession of the slaves by marriage—it being contended that the slaves belonged to the daughter instead of the father. Washington Union.

This is the beauty of slavery.

Some time ago there lived near the Blue Ridge in Virginia, an old Hard Shell Baptist preacher named Wiggins. Like the rest of his sect, he was addicted to the use of low wines of distilleries, bald-face whiskey, pug brandy, hard cider, etc., of all which, severally and collectively, he could swig a marvelous quantity One Sunday he was preaching, after having taken even more than he was accustomed to drink, and one of his hearers who had drank as much or more was sleeping and snoring near the altar. Parson Wiggins opened the Bible, but in doing so, he made such a shuffling in the rude pulpit that he waked up the sleeper Bones, who now sat bolt upright with one eye curiously cocked at the preacher and the other closed. Wiggins read his text and began: "My Brotherin."

Not another word could he manage to enunciate. Evidently a great struggle was going on within the parson—a struggle between celestial and ardent spirits—a struggle between good religion and bad whiskey. Again he essayed to speak, and said: "My Brotherin."

Words failed him once more. A few round, pearly drops of sweat stood out on his forehead, which he wiped away with his red bandana. Bones on the bench before him uncocked the one eye, and closed it and cocked the other at him, as the preacher again opened his mouth, and this time managed to say:

"My Brotherin, I feel like a corn house what's locked up and the keyhole done lost." Bones broke out, "And if you was to find that key, Brother Wiggins, and was to unlock that are corn house, you'd find precious little corn, and that would be nubbins."

Wiggins now acknowledged the corn.—He sat down a minute, then got up again and said his feelings wouldn't allow him to go on after such remarks from his unfortunate Brother Bones, who had evidently been drinking more than was good for him. He had no doubt that Brother Bones., when he came to himself, would see the impropriety of his observations and make an apology.

Brother Bones never sufficiently recovered to see the necessity of any such thing. Harper's Magazine.

☞ The Toronto Colonist states that a very large number of free blacks in Upper Canada have offered to form a regiment for service in India.

A FINANCIAL PROBLEM.—What kind of "suspenders" ought to be hung? Ans.: Pantaloon suspenders, as they are evidently only fit for the gallowses!

BUSINESS.—We hope for relief to the money market, but cannot see the way very clear for its coming at present. The last foreign advices have a bad look. The Bank of England had raised the rate of interest to 6 per cent. and a further advance was looked for. Some even think that a suspension of specie payments by the Bank, and the Bank of France likewise, are events not far in the future. The Bank of England suspended in 1797, and did not resume before 1821. It also came near a second suspension in 1847—the year of the commercial crisis, famine in Ireland, &c.—and at that time the rate of interest was raised to 8 per cent. by special act of Parliament.

MAN AND HORSE DROWNED.—On Thursday morning, a young man, in passing from Mersey's Mills to Hillsborough bridge, saw a pair of gig wheels standing in the water near the bridge crossing, a small but now much swollen stream. On further search the dead body of a horse was found fastened to the wheels, and a short distance off, the body of a man named Horace Case, a resident of Deering. Mr. Case had probably attempted to cross the bridge the evening before, and not being acquainted with the road and the evening being dark, drove off the bridge—there being no railing—into the deep water and was drowned. He was about 27 years old and leaves a wife and two children.—Mirror.

WHO THAT IS TROUBLED

With any of those disagreeable complaints, such as Jaundice, Dyspepsia, or Liver disease of any kind, but would like to know of a remedy for these unseemly visitations? We feel that we are doing our invalid readers an invaluable service if we can induce them to get a bottle of Dr. Sanford's Invigorator, and take it, for we know from personal experience that it is one of the greatest remedies for general debility, and consequent inactive bodily powers, ever before used. Its action is so perfect and complete as to give relief the first time taken, and if it does to others as it has to us, half a bottle will be all that is needed. We know of nothing we can recommend with such confidence, as a family medicine, as the Invigorator.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

PRESERVATION OF THE HAIR.—In all ages and nations, without all tribunal of men, a beautiful head of hair has been, and still is, regarded as the fairest ornament of the fairest works of the Creator. The patrician dames and damsels of ancient and modern Rome bestowed that attention upon the hair which has added the crowning beauty to the chef d'œuvre of the sculptor and the painter, and no lady, and indeed no gentleman of modern times is unmindful of this exquisite shield and lovely ornament of the face. To maiden beauty it is the finishing touch; to manhood it is the symbol and warrant of strength and nobility, to-day as in the days of the patriarchs; indeed such it always had been and always will be.

But unable as we are to withstand the ills of time and life, it often happens that through disease and misfortune we become grey in early life, and bald before we reach the full grace of womanhood or the full stature of manhood.—Then it is that however much we may venerate the grey locks and reverence the wisdom of bald head, among the honored remnants of the generation of three score and ten, we know that our grey hairs are no more venerable than beautiful; while our bald heads are neither the one nor the other, but, on the contrary, are quite the reverse of both and impose upon us many social and sanitary disadvantages and discomforts.

Sold by all Druggists.

☞ In Manchester, they have what they call a People's Lyceum, similar to our old Portsmouth Forensic Society. Two long and able discussions on the New Hampshire Law for the Suppression of Intemperance, have attracted large audiences; and a third is appointed for next week.—Lectures, by their own citizens, are also to be interspersed.

Some Debates would be in order for our Mercantile Course—and prove a great attraction.

RAILROAD TIME.—The afternoon trains from Boston and Portland, meet in this city at 5 o'clock, from and after this day. The afternoon train leaves Boston at 2.30, for this city.

The afternoon train for Concord, will leave this city at 3.50.

☞ It will be seen by referring to our advertising columns, that Mr. Lamprey is to give one of his ever popular exhibitions, next Wednesday evening. All who are interested in the art which he so successfully teaches, will be well repaid to attend.

"THOMPSON'S CONCERT (says the Newburyport Herald) was all that it promised to be—the greatest and best Concert ever given in this city—such a concert as nobody but Thompson can give. The house was full, and that, in these times, more than words can testify, showed the appreciation of the public. Miss Page—that charming singer, whose carols are as fresh and musical as the feathery songters in spring—has much improved since her last appearance; and Miss Davidson charmed the audience. The Quartet Club was never surpassed in this city; and the voice of Mr. Burrill seems echoing even now, so full and perfect was it. When Miss Green, the infant Whistler performed, there was a perfect shout of applause; and the youthful Drummers, Master and Miss Green, carried the house with a storm of cheers.—Take it all in all, it was the perfection of an entertainment, and everybody that loves music should hear it."

This splendid entertainment is to be given in Portsmouth, on Thursday evening next.

☞ It is now the intention of the Portsmouth Cornet Band, to give the first of their series of Promenade Concerts, on Monday evening, Nov. 9th, at Jefferson Hall.

☞ "The Little Mouse, a two-part song by Otto Dressel," and "Knight Ruprecht, a Piano piece by Robert Schuman," are among the variety of new music just received by Charles C. Harvey, at his book and music store.

TO NEW SUBSCRIBERS.—For $4, we will furnish the Daily Chronicle from this time to Jan. 1, 1859.

For only $1, we will supply the Weekly Chronicle from the present date to Jan 1, 1859.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 30.—The excitement is increasing. The Governor was waited upon to-day by a number of prominent citizens, who urged him to withdraw his proclamation, but he gave no definite answer.

A town meeting has been called for tomorrow afternoon. The Mayor has issued a notice, requesting the citizens not to attend the meeting, fearing that it may tend to inflame the present excited state of the public mind.

A number of the militia officers have called upon the Governor, informing him that the military would not obey the order, and that most of the companies were temporarily disbanding. Democratic politicians are enrolling to offer their services to the Governor as armed citizens under military commanders.

The Mayor will issue a proclamation on Monday morning, detailing his arrangements for the preservation of the peace and the protection of voters.

The city is full of rumors with regard to the arrival of arms from Washington, but they are believed to be entirely unfounded.

The armory of a German company was entered to-day, by a party of men, who took all the arms, and carried them to the central police station, laying them down on the floor. They were promptly returned by the marshal.

The military are to report to the Governor at noon to-morrow. The general impression is that he will withdraw his proclamation.

NEW YORK, October 30.—The Times' Washington correspondent states that Gov. Walker's request to have the U. S. troops continued in Kansas the coming winter, was preferred chiefly in consequence of the pro-slavery men, being exasperated by the result of the late election, are preparing to resort to desperate measures of fraud and violence for the recovery of their lost vantage ground.

Thirty-one Irishmen left Hartford last week, on their return to Ireland to live, thinking their chances better in the old country than in the new.

ADDRESS TO WEALTH-GATHERERS.

Why dost thou heap up wealth, which thou must quit,
Or, what is worse, be left by it?
Why dost thou load thyself, when thou'rt to fly,
O, man, ordained to die?

Why dost thou build up stately rooms on high,
Thou low art underground to lie!
Thou sowest and plantest, but no fruit must see
For Death, alas! is sowing thee.

Thou dost thyself wise and industrious deem,
A mighty husband thou would'st seem;
Fond man! like a bought slave, thou all the while Dost but for others sweat and toil.

Officious fool! thou needs must meddling be,
In business that concerns not thee!
For when to future years thou stretched'st thy cares,
Thou dealt'st in other men's affairs.

Even aged men, as if they truly were Children again, for age prepare;
Provisions for long travel they design,
In the last point of their short line.

Wisely the ant against poor winter hoards
The stock which summer's wealth affords;
In grasshoppers who must in autumn die,
How vain were such an industry.

Of power and honor, the deceitful light
Might half excuse our cheated sight,
If it, of life, the whole small time would stay,
And be our sunshine all the day.

Like lightning that, begot but in a cloud,
(Though shining bright, and speaking loud,)
While it begins, concludes its violent race,
And where it gilds, it wounds the place.

O scene of fortune, which dost fair appear
Only to men who stand not near;
Proud poverty, that tinsel bravery wears,
And, like a rainbow, painted tears!

Be prudent, and the shore in safety keep,
In a weak boat trust not the deep;
Placed beneath envy, above envying rise,
Pity great men, great things despise.

The wise example of the heavenly lark,
Thy fellow-poet, Cowley, mark;
Above the clouds let thy proud music sound,
Thy humble nest build on the ground.

THE OLD, OLD STORY.

Summer moonbeams softly playing,
Light the woods of Castle Keep;
And there I see a maiden straying,
Where the darkest shadows creep.
She is listening—meekly, purely,
To the wooer at her side,
'Tis the "old, old story" surely,
Running on like time and tide.
Maiden fair, oh! have a care;
Vows are many—truth is rare.

He is courtly, she is simple;
Lordly doublet speaks his lot;
She is wearing hood and wimple—
His the castle, hers the cot;
Sweeter far she deems his whisper
Than the night bird's dulcet thrill;
She is smiling—he beguiling—
'Tis the "old, old story" still,
Maiden fair, oh! have a care;
Vows are many—truth is rare.

The autumn sun is quickly going
Behind the woods of Castle Keep;
The air is chill—the night wind blowing;
And there I see a maiden weep.
Her cheeks are white, her brow is aching—
The "old, old story," sad and brief;
Of heart betrayed, and left nigh breaking,
In mute despair and lonely grief.
Maiden fair, oh! have a care,
Vows are many—truth is rare.

Capt. Isaac Carver, of Searsport, Me while ploughing in his field on the 23d inst. turned up an iron pot, which, upon opening, was found to contain a large quantity of gold and silver coin, amounting to $500. The remains of a peice of parchment were also found, upon which there had been an inscription, but it was so much decayed that it could not be deciphered. Many of the coins were quite bright.—Portland Adv.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Previous to the Kansas election, Gov. Walker received specific instructions from the administration which precluded him from purging the poll, as he recently did in rejecting the Oxford precinct; acting without authority from Washington and clearly violating his instructions, his conduct is emphatically condemned. There is reason to believe that both Gov. Walker and Secretary Stanton will be removed unless they shall choose to resign.

The steamer Gen. Neptune, belonging to the Penobscot River Navigation Company, sunk while lying at her wharf at Oldtown on Tuesday night. She was loaded with about fifteen tons of freight, consisting of flour, hardware, and other merchandise, which was to have gone up river the next morning. She probably sprung a leak during the high wind, and went down before the crew could save any amount of property.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.
DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES,
Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience.

THE combination of ingredients in these Pills, is the result of a long and extensive practice; they are mild in their operation, and certain to restore, if nature be in proper channel. In every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are certain to open those obstructions to which females are liable, and bring nature into its proper channel, whereby health is restored, and the pale and deathly countenance changed to a healthy one. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, that most always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, the Pills will invariably remedy all these evils. In all cases of painful menstruation, or nervous and spinal affections in the back and limbs, lowness of spirits, hysterics, &c. Nor are they less efficacious in the cure of Leucorrhœa, commonly called the "Whites." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. Warranted purely Vegetable, and free from anything injurious to the health. Full and explicit directions which should be read, accompany each box.

These Pills are put up in square, flat boxes.—Persons residing where there are no Agencies established, by enclosing One Dollar in a letter, prepaid, to Dr. C. L. CHEESEMAN, Box No. 4,531 Post Office, New York City, can have them sent to their respective addresses by return of mail.

SINGING IN SCHOOLS.—A dozen years ago, should any person have suggested the idea that the exercise of singing, by the scholars in our public schools would be in any way beneficial, he would have been laughed to scorn. It is true that it has been for a long time in universal practice in Germany to make music a prominent branch of study in the excellent schools of that country, but that yankee children should waste their time in such frivolous affairs, was worse than useless. The school days of our children were short enough, at best, for the thorough understanding of such branches as would be of immediate and general use in active business life, without throwing it away in such follies. But in this matter the public mind has undergone a radical change. In almost every school in our city it is customary for the scholars to join in singing at the opening of each session, and the result is most beneficial. The tendency of the harmony is to quiet the minds of the children, who are excited by the hilarious sports of boyhood, and leave them in a state to commence their studies with vigor and profit. A teacher in this city once informed us that if from any cause his school became uneasy, or excited, he would put a stop to all study, and give out some appropriate hymn, in which all joined, and at its close he always found the result to be a calming of the minds of the scholars, and a willingness to enter upon their studies with renewed energy. The change in the temper of the scholars was visible to the most casual observer. Their uneasiness was quieted, their countenances lighted up with pleasure, and conversation between scholars and teacher marked with a kindness and loving confidence that could be obtained in no other way.

Another advantage derived from the practice of this interesting exercise is, that it accustoms the children to hear their own voices, of which so many youths are afraid, strengthens their voices and gives them a confidence to speak up full and clear, which will be of incalculable benefit to them in later years.

We are led to make these remarks by seeing a little pamphlet of songs with simple melodies, combining pure morality and unbiased patriotism, prepared by Mr. D. F. Jones of the Franklin School in this city, for the use of his school. These songs are compiled from various sources, and printed, so that each scholar may have a copy and be able to join in the singing.—Gazette.

MERCANTILE LIBRARY ASSOCIATION LECTURES.—The fourth course of Lectures under the direction of the above Association, commences on Tuesday evening, Nov. 24. The first evening's entertainment will be a concert by Mrs. Emma Wentworth, assisted by Mr. Long as Pianist, and a Poem by Albert Leighton of this city. All the Lecturers for the course have not yet been engaged, but from the attractions presented for the opening night, we have no doubt that the committee will place such a feast as was never before offered to our citizens. The tickets are put at the low price of $1, each. As this is to be the only course for the winter, it may be considered a sure thing that the Temple will be crowded.

We are also informed by a member of the Lyceum Committee, who had a personal interview with Rufus Choate, that Mr. C. promised to come to Portsmouth and lecture, if he prepared a lecture for the Mercantile Association of Boston, even if he went to no other place. The Boston M. L. A. have advertised Mr. Choate and we see no reason to doubt that we shall again hear the eloquent advocate and lecturer in Portsmouth.—Gazette.

NO SILVER COIN FOR GOLD.—Ithamar W. Beard, Assistant U. S. Treasurer of Boston, addresses the following note to the public:—

Office of Assistant Treasurer U. S.
BOSTON, Oct. 22, 1857.

Having frequently been called upon for silver coin in exchange for gold, I have informed persons asking for it, that I should probably soon be able to supply the public with silver.

I have received a communication from the Hon. Secretary of the Treasury in answer to one from me to him, that "the department cannot undertake to supply silver coin to be exchanged for gold."

☞ Thomas Crawford, the great American Sculptor died at London on the 7th inst. He was 43 years old. His death was caused by a cancer in his eye.

Col. Wm. H. Vessey of Brentwood, states that he recently had plenty of potatoes offered him, at Bow, for 40 cents a bushel.—Laconia Gazette.

Aaron Wells of Bow, who was charged with an assault with intent to kill persons at Concord last week, has been examined before the Police Justice of Concord, and found guilty of a simple assault. He was fined $10 and costs.

LOTTERIES.
THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. Accordingly no scheme one ticket is in every lottery must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. Prizes are paid upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the public. Prizes range from $40 to $50,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.
Prizes paid in full, without the deduction from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Bulletin, Mobile Register, Charleston Courier, Savannah Republican, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia.
Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.
All communications strictly confidential. ml31y

LOTTERIES.
The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which Fackler & Co. are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the same comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received. Tickets are sent to purchasers by the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Ternary combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100 70. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.
☞ The drawing numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published in the State Commissioner in the following papers, viz: Sun, Clipper, Patriot, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

A BEAUTIFUL HEAD
OF RICH GLOSSY HAIR,
Completely Preserved
TO THE GREATEST AGE.
AND who that is gray would not have it restored to former color; or bald, but would have the growth restored; or troubled with dandruff and itching but would have it removed, or troubled with scrofula, scald head, or other eruptions, or head affected by unsightly scurf, but would be cured. It will also remove all pimples from the face and skin. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative will do all this. See circular and the following:

ANN ARBOR, November 5th 1856.
PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir: I have heard much said of the wonderful effects of your Hair Restorative, but having been so often cheated by quackery and quack nostrums, hair dyes, &c., I was disposed to place your Restorative in the same category with the one thousand and one loudly trumpeted quack remedies, until I met you in Lawrence county some months since, when you gave me such a recommendation of your trial of your Restorative in my family—first, by my good wife, whose hair had become very thin, and entirely white, and before exhausting one of your large bottles, her hair was restored nearly to its original beautiful brown color, and had thickened and become beautiful and glossy upon, and entirely over the top of her head. I use it, not simply because of its beautifying effects upon the hair, but because of its healthful influence upon the head and skin. Others of my family and friends are using your Restorative, with the happiest effects; therefore my skepticism and doubts in reference to its character and values are entirely removed; and I can and do most cordially and confidentially recommend its use by all who would have their hair restored from white or gray, (by reason of sickness or age,) to original color and beauty, and by all young persons who would have the hair beautiful and glossy.
Very truly and gratefully yours,
SOLOMON MANN.

FRIEND WOOD: It was a long time after I saw you at Blissfield before I got the bottle of Restorative for which you gave me an order upon your agent in Detroit, and when I got it we concluded to try it on Mrs. Mann's hair, as the purest test of its power. It has done all that you assured me it would do; and others of my family and friends, having witnessed the results, are using and recommending its use to others as entitled to the highest consideration you claim for it.
Again, very respectfully and truly, yours,
S. MANN.

CARLYLE, ILL., June 28, 1852.
I have used Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and have admired its effects. My hair was becoming, as I thought, prematurely gray, but by the use of his Restorative it has resumed its original color, and I have no doubt permanently so.

Magee's Patent Ventilating Stove.

FOR WARMING AND VENTILATING
PARLORS, OFFICES, HALLS, STORES, SCHOOL HOUSES, &c
WHICH for economy, purity of air, and ease of management, has no equal. It can be regulated so as to give
Any amount of Heat required, and unlike all other Anth acite Coal Burners, keeps the apartments quite as thoroughly, as a wood fire or Franklin, producing a current of Air, at once moist, pure and agreeable, and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache, so much complained of by those using Stoves and Furnaces, is entirely obviated. The fire may be continued from one to four days without replenishing.
These Stoves are beautiful in design, and finished in the most perfect manner
They are equally appropriate, and have given universal satisfaction to all who have adopted them.
For Offices and Stores as well as the Parlor,
the Inventor challenges the world to produce an article by which so much Pure Warm Air can be generated, from so small an amount of fuel, requiring but about 15 pounds of Anthracite Coal, to warm an ordinary sized parlor for 24 hours, without replenishing, and then leaving fire enough to rekindle without the use of other fire. The coal is all used, and no clinkers made, consequently, sifting coal is dispensed with.—When this Stove is properly managed,
THE FIRE MAY BE CONFINED THROUGH
THE ENTIRE SEASON,
without once going out. Added to all these qualifications, the purchaser may reasonably expect to save from 30 to 50 per cent, in fuel expense.

VOL. 11. PORTSMOUTH, N. H., TUESDAY, NOV. 3, 1857. NO. 79.

TEETH.—The cause of the inferiority of American teeth, and the means for giving them due strength, should occupy the attention of every parent, and of every one whose age has placed him beyond parental care. Any new truths which go to secure the preservation of the teeth should be hailed as national bounties. If we mistake not, one such scintillation has been struck on at the late American Dental Convention.

Dr. Samuel Baker, of Portsmouth, asserted that the main, if not the sole cause of defective teeth, was the use of saleratus and cream of tartar, in the manufacture of bread; and offered in proof, the results of some experiments made by himself. He soaked sound teeth in a solution of saleratus and they were destroyed in fourteen days!

We have here the opinion of a man whose talents, time and zeal are given to dentistry, that saleratus and cream of tartar in bread are a chief cause of ruin to the teeth. Now will those who know this fact about bread, go on eating all that comes from the baker, without inquiring what it is made of? That is a question which merits their consideration.—N. Y. Tribune.

We have published the above before,—with the exception of the Tribune's indorsement. In the Dental Convention referred to, the saleratus theory found little or no favor, and Dr. Baker was almost if not quite alone in its advocacy. His opinion, however, corresponds with the general popular (unprofessional) belief; and has the authority of some medical writers in its favor.

☞ A poor fellow named Prunty was tried in Lee county, Va., last week, for horse-stealing. The jury convicted him of being a fool—or, in other words, they were satisfied from the evidence that he was too nearly an idiot to be responsible for his conduct.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,

A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE

FOR THE

LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.

INSTEAD of being a nuisance for all maladies, it has proved over and over, that ONE MALADY—but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUBDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. For every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. It does this "simply and solely by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a gold lancet, dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.

BURDEN'S

Pressed Boat Ship, Brad & Countersunk Railroad Spikes

ARE well known in the United States, and are a conspicuous proof of their superior finish, their unvarying uniformity of size, and for the excellent quality of iron from which they are made, to which may be attributed their rare strength. They are now universally considered far superior to the hand made spike of common English iron, and inferior to nothing of the kind yet introduced to the public.

labor respectable, and to which we all claim a right to emigrate, what answer can be given to the Garrisonian doctrine that we have the right to agitate the subject of slavery in the States? I have been opposed to such agitation, because I thought slavery to be exclusively their own affair, and confined to their own limits. But by this new democratic doctrine, it is a matter of common and national concern, with which every man in every State has a right to intermeddle. We are all interested in the slave laws of South Carolina, for example, because they extend all over our national domain.

But this doctrine goes beyond the territories. It is the doctrine upon which the State of Virginia is to-day attempting to establish the right of her slave traders to drive their chain gangs through the streets of New York on their way to Texas. She expects the United States Court to establish this right. I do not believe the President will appoint a successor to Judge Curtis till he pledges himself to this new doctrine.

It is the doctrine on which Passmore Williamson was imprisoned in Pennsylvania for merely telling a slave whom her master had brought into that State, that by its laws she was free. What a democratic judge would do in Pennsylvania he would be expected to do in Massachusetts. If, therefore, a master were actually calling the roll of his slaves on Bunker Hill, I do not see why, upon this doctrine, he would not expect a democratic judge to protect him against any intruder who should tell the slaves that by the laws of Massachusetts they were free.

I have been opposed to anti-slavery agitation because I thought it did no good, and because I thought that slavery was limited to the States where it exists. But this doctrine is the basis of a pro-slavery agitation which the leaders of the democratic party under President Pierce commenced, in order to strengthen and extend slavery.

I do not wish to use offensive names, but to use it appears to be true that the Southern democrats who control the party have made it a negro party. Their object is to degrade free labor to a level with slave labor. It is not only to keep the white laborers of the South in a degraded social and political condition and have the exclusive government of those States, but to produce the same results as far as possible in all the States. And they not only speak of the free laborers of the North as worse off than their own slaves, but keep up a perpetual war against the interests of free labor all over the country—and a still fiercer war against its respectability.

The outrages of Kansas have all grown out of this policy. It is a newspaper of this party that proposes to introduce slavery into Illinois because labor is so degrading. It is this party that elects a slaveholder to represent Illinois in the United States Senate. It is this party that struggles to establish slavery in Kansas and Oregon. All the filibustering schemes to obtain new territory whether in Cuba or on the continent have the same end in view, and the same democratic origin.

DIFFICULT TUNES.—It is the custom in many churches for the pastor to furnish the leader of the church choir, on Saturday evening, the hymns to be sung on the next day, that proper tunes may be selected and practised upon by the choir. The medium of communication between the minister and the choir is sometimes the assistant organist, who performs the very important part of raising the wind which the organist retails in varied tones. However difficult the metres, between the organist and his assistant, the choir can usually find such leading airs as will give harmonious and devotional sounds to the audience. The skillful professor who presides regularly at one of the best organs in the State, and whose extensive collection of tunes embraces every metre from short to long, and common to particular, had just opened the organ, with the large choir around him, and called upon his associate for a list of the Sunday hymns. The folded memoranda is delivered, and the assistant returns to his post, prompt to give the wind, as soon as the professor has selected his tunes. The billet is read:

"Cal. Magnesia, 1 oz.
"Sal. Soda, 3 oz.
"Epsom Salts, 2 oz."

This was a selection which might have startled a Handel or a Haydn. There are to be sure some tunes of the effervescence of soda, and others with the soothing virtues of magnesia, and had the third selection been "Pennyroyal," there are tunes which might be found adapted. But as it was, it was a difficult dose for the professor. A variety of good tunes were however sung, and the wondering choir departed.

The assistant organist, after rehearsal, next appears at the apothecary's counter. His billet is presented. "We can attend to physicians' prescriptions, my lad, but do not understand those of ministers. We go by apothecaries' weight only, and make neither Long Metre nor Short Metre to suit anybody." The mistake was now discovered.—Journal.

A CAUTION TO CITY FATHERS.—By the neglect of the city authorities of Concord, N. H., to remedy a defect in a sidewalk in that city, which would have cost only one dollar, the city has been mulcted in nearly four thousand dollars for casualities caused thereby. Gov. Hubbard recovered $800 from the city, for having an arm by him falling; and a few days afterwards Mrs. Harraden fell in the same place, and sustained such severe injuries that she recovered damages to the amount of $2728 and costs.

We are expecting every day to hear of a bill against Portsmouth of some $1000 for some limb broken by a fall at a useless elevation in the sidewalk at the north-east corner of the North Church. Of the fifty persons who have been prostrated at that spot, none have yet been so unfortunate as to break a limb. It is a much worse place than cost Concord thousands of dollars.

There are also some very dangerous places on the street near Newcastle Bridge, in which many have fallen. If not attended to before the ground closes, they may make a large bill of costs by next year. Our city authorities are usually prompt in such matters.—Journal.

President Buchanan, hearing that ex-President Pierce contemplates visiting Madeira for the benefit of his wife's health, has tendered him a passage in the steamer Powhattan, which will leave about the middle of November for the East Indies, touching at Madeira. The Powhattan is under command of Captain George F. Pearson of this city. Rev. Henry Wood, formerly of the Congregational Journal, is the Chaplain of the steamer.

ANOTHER EARTHQUAKE.—Despatches from various places in Ohio and New-York on Thursday and Friday give accounts of shocks by earthquake, causing considerable alarm to the people.—It is thought the same disturbance that recently caused a commotion at the West, and it may yet be felt further east.

REDUNDANT PAPER.

A pleasant writer in the Boston Transcript considers — no doubt truly—that there are inherent evils in our system of bank paper circulation,—and quotes an old speech of Pres. Buchanan, who, when he was in Congress, thus spoke of our Bank note currency:

The evils of a redundant paper circulation are manifest to every eye. It alternately rises and sinks the value of every man's property. It makes a beggar of a man to-morrow, who indulges in dreams of wealth to-day. It converts the business of society into a mere lottery, while those who distribute the prizes are wholly irresponsible to the people. When the collapse comes—as come it must—it casts laborers out of employment, crushes manufacturers and merchants, and ruins thousands of honest and industrious citizens.

If the reader will just look back a moment, he will see Mr. Buchanan showing the evil of a redundant circulation of paper. Even so. And then are there no evils attached to a redundant gold circulation? What ruined Spain and Portugal? Not paper surely. And have not many of our present evils sprung up out of the redundant gold of California and Australia? But let us hear more from the writer.

In seeking for a cure, we must take the patient as he is. The people are accustomed to paper money, and bank notes can only be driven out by something better.—"Nature abhors a vacuum." Let us try "the expulsive power of a new affection."

The letter is addressed to Mr. Cobb, the able Secretary of the Treasury, who is likely to have his ability put to the test. The writer says:

You have the remedy at hand. It is this: When any payment is to be made by the United States, let it be done, not by a single draft on the Sub-Treasurer at New York, or Boston, or New Orleans, or Philadelphia,—but by many drafts for small sums. And let the drafts be engraved and printed—differing a little in size and shape from bank notes. These drafts will be as convenient as the paper currency we have been in the habit of using; but, unlike that, will always truly represent so much gold lying ready for them at the mints or elsewhere—ready for exportation as well as domestic use.

This paper currency the people will not carry to the Sub-Treasury, or to the mint, for payment—until they want gold. Much of it will remain in circulation from hand to hand. And in the process of years it will always adapt itself exactly to the demand for paper money, and will never by depreciation drive gold out of the country.

Although opposed in principle to a paper currency for small amounts, (and the introduction of gold as our money takes away the excuse for small notes,) yet for the present need I would recommend a moderate issue at first of such drafts for ten and five dollars each.

If issued immediately they would fill up a void which is now very inconvenient, and shopkeepers would give change in gold and silver, and regulate their prices accordingly.

If this really constitutional currency be kept back, it will force the continued use of inconvertible bank notes. If freely used, it may begin a new era.

These would be exactly the exchequer bills we have spoken of—and they would be very good paper money; but when gold was wanted, home would come these bills, and then—shall we say it?—the Sub-Treasury might have to suspend it it got drained. It may be pretty well drained before next fall, without some help of this kind.

THE BALTIMORE TROUBLES.—On Saturday, the officers of the volunteer companies reported that nearly all the men refused to do duty except under the order of the Mayor. Out of thirty companies not more than two hundred men consented to serve. A large number of citizens were served with notices of enrollment, but most of them declared their intention to pay no notice to the order. Many Democrats have been heard to declare the whole matter a farce. A committee of ten prominent citizens consulted with the Governor, urging a withdrawal of his proclamation.

A dispatch dated Sunday evening, says Gov. Ligon has withdrawn his proclamation calling out the military.

Negotiations have been going on all day between a committee of citizens and one representing the Governor. Finally, this evening, the committee issued the announcement jointly that they were authorized to state that the Governor, being satisfied that the arrangements already made by the Mayor, for preserving the peace and securing the uninterrupted exercise of the right of suffrage are sufficient, the military will not be made use of.

This day has passed without disturbance though the streets in the vicinity of the Mayor's office and Barnum's Hotel, were crowded. All the afternoon thousands were standing about, awaiting the issue of the negotiation.

RICHMOND, VA., Oct. 31.—Gov. Wise has sent 3000 muskets to Baltimore in compliance with the request of Gov. Ligon.

COMPOUNDING A CRIME.

Hiram Verrel, landlord of the Farmers' Hotel at Gilford, and Chauncey Stetson, clerk of the Cerro Gordo House at Laconia, have been bound over for violating the law for the suppression of intemperance,—and Wm. Merrill for compounding a complaint. An account of this latter affair is condensed from the Laconia Democrat.

William Merrill, who represented himself as a member of a committee chosen to prosecute all violations of the liquor law, went to one Asa Ladd, Jr., and told him that the committee had drawn cuts to decide who should watch this one, or that of the rumsellers, and it had fallen to him to watch Ladd; and that having at some trouble and expense procured evidence enough to convict him, he should complain unless Ladd would pay him $4, and agreed if Ladd did so, he would see the rest of the committee and they should not do it.

Upon these conditions Ladd paid Merrill $4, and took a receipt of the money stating the consideration for which it was paid. It took two or three days to complete negotiations, during which time Merrill seemed particularly anxious that his conferences should be unseen, and especially enjoined Ladd not to let the rest of the committee know what he had done.

A complaint for compounding a penal offence having been issued against Merrill, he has been bound over in $300 for his appearance at the next term of the S. J. Court.—At the preliminary examination, an ineffectual attempt was made to prove that a trap had been set by Ladd, and that Merrill had fallen into it.

If the trap had been set, what then? If Merrill compounded the complaint, he is liable.

By the way, who was it that compounded or nullified the several complaints or suits under the same law, sent up from our Police Court, to the S. J. Court, October term.

KANSAS.—In regard to the mandamus issued by Judge Cate, requiring Gov. Walker to give the certificates of election to the pro-slavery candidates in Johnston county, a Lecompton correspondent of the St. Louis Republican says: "The Governor looked upon it as a farce, and treated it as such. He declared he would do his duty and what was right, independent of any threats or menaces which might be brought to bear upon him."

Maj. Sherman, who is in command of the troops that have been quartered near Lawrence, has received orders from the Governor to remove with his whole command to Lecompton at once. Gov. Walker is staying at Lecompton, and the letter-writers say that he wishes these troops to protect him from violence on the part of the pro-slavery men.

The Lawrence Herald of Freedom makes a lengthy explanation in regard to the charges that Gov. Walker advised a Missourian to vote at the recent election, and had ordered some forty of the troops at Kickapoo to do the same thing. The name of the Missourian referred to is Herndon.

☞ We learn from the Boston Bee that the proposal to publish "an orthodox Review" in Boston, does not meet with enthusiastic encouragement. It is not probable that the enterprise will succeed, at least not for the present.

The readers should understand that the proposed Review was conceived by Rev. Parsons Cooke of the Puritan, and was intended to oppose and write down the theology of the Independent, the Congregationalist, and of Prof. Park of Andover. Of course it could only hope for the aid and comfort of a very narrow circle of somewhat narrow men. No wonder it did not go. It would have been a wonder if it could.—The "orthodox" congregationalists of New England, when they choose to have a magazine, are able to have it, and to support it; but they are not likely to unite in the support of a book, which should represent the views of about one-quarter part, and which would oppose the views of the other three-quarters.

MIND VS. MATTER.—In a certain Ward in Boston, at the Caucus, Hon. George Lunt, editor of the Courier, was a candidate for the nomination of Representative. He received on the last ballot only 17 votes; 46 being the whole number cast. Mr. Milliken, proprietor of a cheap eating-house, received 39. Mr. Milliken was nominated, not Mr. Lunt. Mr. Lunt is a scholar and litterateur, while Mr. Milliken is a cook and restaurateur. So the solid men of the coalition in that Ward think solid pudding will have more weight in the State House than elegant language, rounded periods, and finished speeches.

The Annual Meeting of the Rockingham Fair, for the choice of Officers, will be held at the Lecture Room of the First Parish in Exeter, on Friday, the 27th inst.

Remedy for Worms.

THE diseases of children are often so complicated that it is difficult to ascertain the true nature of their complaint. In a large majority of instances the cause may be traced to the existence of WORMS—the prominent symptoms of which are, paleness of the countenance, loss of or irregular appetite, starting up and crying out in their sleep, picking at the nose, great thirst, a wasting away of the flesh, &c. These symptoms should be early attended to, as by neglect it often terminates in disease of the brain.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

PRESERVATION OF THE HAIR.—In all ages and among almost all tribes of women, a beautiful head of hair has been, and still is, regarded as the fairest ornament of the fairest works of the Creator. The patrician dames and damsels of ancient and modern Rome bestowed that attention upon the hair which has added the crowning beauty to the chef d'œuvre of the sculptor and the painter, and no lady, and indeed no gentleman of modern times is unmindful of this exquisite shield and lovely ornament of the face. To maiden beauty it is the finishing touch; to manhood it is the symbol and warrant of strength and nobility, to-day as in the days of the patriarchs; indeed such it always had been and always will be.

But unable as we are to withstand the ills of time and life, it often happens that through disease and misfortune we become gray in early life, and bald before we reach the full grace of womanhood or the full stature of manhood.—Then it is that however much we may venerate the grey locks and reverence the wisdom of bald head among the honored remnants of the generation of three score and ten, we prize that our grey hairs are no more venerable than beautiful; while our bald heads are neither the one nor the other, but, on the contrary, are quite the reverse of both and impose upon us many social and sanitary disadvantages and discomforts.

Sold by all Druggists.

KANSAS AND WASHINGTON.—There are contradictory dispatches from both these points. A Lawrence, Kansas, dispatch of the 21st (old date) via Boonsville, states that "Gov. Walker and Secretary Stanton have been compelled to leave Lecompton on account of the threats made against them by the ultras. They are now on Secretary Stanton's claim at Benicia, two miles from Lecompton."

Per contra, a St. Louis despatch of the 31st says:—

I saw a letter from Secretary Stanton to-night, dated Lecompton, Oct. 28, and it makes no mention of any difficulty.

From Washington, we have published a dispatch of the 30th, saying that the President would remove Gov. Walker, for revising the vote lists, contrary to orders.—This is now contradicted as follows—by the telegraph to the associated press.

Washington, Oct. 31.—It is now ascertained on specific inquiry that the report of last night, which was prevalent in usually reliable and well-informed circles, of the intention on the part of the administration to remove Gov. Walker and Secretary Stanton, is without the least foundation; nor is there any reason to believe that either intend to resign. The last dates from either have only come down to the 10th of October.

This seems to settle the whole matter—but it is only seeming, for here is another dispatch of the same date, Washington, Oct. 31.

The Government has no official information from Gov. Walker relative to his purging the poll of Oxford precinct, and until this can be received, there can be no definite action by the administration. It was certainly a violation of his instructions which will not be permitted to go unnoticed, and the executive disapprobation will be expressed, there is reason to believe, in a manner which may at last lead to the resignation of both Gov. Walker and Secretary Stanton. (Herald's Special Washington Correspondence.) The telegraphic report this morning says that Gov. Walker and Secretary Stanton would be removed unless they shall choose to resign, is without foundation, while the whole matter will be brought before a special meeting of the Cabinet this evening. Gov. Floyd was telegraphed last evening to return immediately.

Here are half a dozen loop holes for executive and congressional fraud, whereby, if possible, slavery may triumph over the expressed will of the people in Kansas, by frauds equal to those in Philadelphia and Illinois last fall.

Why should not the Kansas fraud be sustained in Washington,—by the men who owe their seats to the frauds in Philadelphia?

☞ The efforts to recover the body of Capt. Wm. Walsh, of sch. Juno, of Rockland, Me., were unavailing. As before stated, he was missed on the night of the 25th ult., and is supposed to have fallen overboard from Jones & Chesley's wharf, where his vessel lay. His hat was found next morning, at the head of the dock, where it might either have fallen direct, or have been washed in from the head of the wharf, if it fell over near where the schooner lay. No other circumstance, save his disappearance and the finding of this hat, has yet appeared to prove that Capt. Walsh was drowned—though this is supposed to be beyond doubt. If so, the body will rise in a day or two; and doubtless be discovered somewhere in this vicinity. It will be seen, by Barker, Adams & Co.'s advertisement, that his family is desirous of procuring it for burial. Capt. Walsh was about 35 years old, and leaves a wife and child in Rockland—where, as well as elsewhere, he was much esteemed.

☞ The Court of Common Pleas will hold its fall term in this city on Tuesday next. At this Court comes up by appeal, the case State vs. Pierce, for assault on Mr. John G. Coult of Manchester. The court may have a chance to witness some tall swearing, unless the appellant backs out.

"Thompson's Concert (says the Newburyport Herald) was all that it promised to be—the greatest and best Concert ever given in this city—such a concert as nobody but Thompson can give. The house was full, and that, in these times, more than words can testify, showed the appreciation of the public. Miss Page—that charming singer, whose carols are as fresh and musical as the feathery songters in spring—has much improved since her last appearance; and Miss Davidson charmed the audience. The Quartet Club was never surpassed in this city; and the voice of Mr. Burrill seems echoing even now, so full and perfect was it. When Miss Green, the infant Whistler performed, there was a perfect shout of applause; and the youthful Drummers, Master and Miss Green, carried the house with a storm of cheers.—Take it all in all, it was the perfection of an entertainment, and everybody that loves music should hear it."

This splendid entertainment is to be given in Portsmouth, on Thursday evening next.

To New Subscribers.—For $4, we will furnish the Daily Chronicle from this time to Jan. 1, 1859.

For only $1, we will supply the Weekly Chronicle from the present date to Jan 1, 1859.

A Bold Robbery.—On Tuesday evening, 27th ult., between 8 and 9 o'clock, a man went into the jewelry store of Mr. Witt, in South Berwick, and purchased some trifling article, worth about ten or fifteen cents, giving Mr. Witt a $1 bill.—Mr. W., having no change in the drawer, took out his wallet, (containing $15 in bills, and $200 in notes,) and while endeavoring to make change, the man snatched the pocket-book from his hands, and left. He has not since been heard of.

Cool Proceeding.—In Burrilville, R. I., a few nights since, a party of men not having the "fear of the law" went into a farmer's barn and killed a fat ox, then to the pig pen, and killed two fat porkers, dressed the whole, but leaving the ox-hide and "inwards" of the hogs, and carried the meat to "parts unknown."

Some smaller thieves of the same kind, have been robbing henroosts and stealing ducks at Newington. The farmers' boys have now their fowling pieces loaded with shot, and will keep them handy till after thanksgiving, ready to pepper the thieves if they get a squint at them.

☞ There is to be a Conference of Congregational Ministers at Newington, this day, commencing at 10 o'clock.

☞ Rev. George M. Rice has withdrawn his resignation at the Unitarian church in Lancaster, N. H. The American Unitarian Association will contribute $100 a year to the church.

☞ Hon. Simeon Draper has concluded to accept his re-appointment on the New York Police Commission.

Taking in Sewing.—Our cat has taken in sewing. She swallowed a needle and thread last Sunday morning.—Nashua Tel.

"Jones," said a sympathising neighbor to a bachelor friend about to marry: "What in the world put matrimony into your head?" "Well, the fact is, I was getting short of shirts."

No Market.—British brig Beauty, from Malaga, with a cargo of raisins, sailed yesterday for Halifax, not being able to find a market for the fruit.—Boston Bee.

The Virginia land warrants, which some of the Eastern shoe dealers thought they were shrewd in taking for shoes, turn out to be worthless.

The Mormons.—New York, Nov. 2.—The Times' Nebraska correspondent announces the arrival in that Territory of divers Mormon deserters, who left Salt Lake City in October. They bring two weeks later intelligence, which, if true, is of high importance. They say that Brigham Young, at the head of a large force, was preparing to leave Salt Lake City, to give battle to the United States troops.—They allege that the Mountain Pass, at which the Mormons will attempt to check the progress of the troops, is one that, in a military point of view, will give them overwhelming advantage; that in their rebellion they will receive material aid from the Indians; and that their ultimate design is to throw off all allegiance to the Union, and establish an independent government.

Washington, Nov. 1.—(N. Y. Herald correspondence.)—Gov. Walker of Kansas, a few days ago, addressed a letter to the President, asking for leave of absence for a month. The President has granted his request, and he was to leave on the 1st of November for Washington. A report reached here to-day that both Walker and Stanton had been forcibly expelled from the Territory. Nothing has been received by the administration to confirm the report, and it is not generally believed.

New Orleans, Oct. 31.—The steamer Philadelphia has arrived here with Havana dates to the 21st inst. The steamship Star of the West had not arrived from Aspinwall when the Philadelphia left. The Philadelphia brings to this port $450,000 in specie.

Election in Massachusetts.—The State election in Massachusetts takes place today.

NATIONALITY OF SLAVERY. — CHAPMAN'S LETTER.

We have seen no better reply to President Buchanan's letter to the Comm. Committee on Slavery in the territories, than is given by R. A. Chapman, Esq. of Springfield, Mass. in a letter dated Oct. 26, addressed to a Committee which invited him to preside at a meeting of Mr. Bank's friends, in that city, last week. We give only extracts.—

Mr. Chapman was the Whig candidate for Attorney General in Massachusetts in 1855, and has always been a sound and consistent member of the Whig party. In giving his reasons for supporting Mr. Banks at the elections next Tuesday he says,

"State elections, almost of necessity, have an influence upon national politics; and there is one question somewhat involved in this election, on which I wish to give a vote, though a single vote counts but little. I will state, as briefly as I can, what the question is, and my views in relation to it.

In the reply of President Buchanan to several gentlemen of New Haven, with whom he has had a controversy, I find the following passage, referring to the time when the Missouri compromise was repealed, and the Kansas and Nebraska acts passed:

But the same doctrine which holds that slavery existed in Kansas in spite of a law of Congress, must of course apply to all our national territories. And I understand the doctrine, not only of Mr. Buchanan, but of all the present leaders of the democratic party to be that the institution of slavery exists in all our territories until they are organized into States.

The doctrine is a new one, and is contrary to the views of all our statesmen of all parties, until a very recent period; and I cannot help inquiring by what law slavery thus exists in all our territories, and what consequences this new doctrine leads to.

Slavery is not a thing in the abstract; but it is, as the logicians would say, a thing in the concrete. The institution exists in this country, by virtue of local laws. All its faculties are given, and all its features are moulded, by local laws.

The master has no power over his slaves except what the local laws give him.

Slavery does not, in any of our slave States, by any means, imply a general, unlimited right of property; but a very limited and incomplete right. For example, a general right of property in any animal, implies the right to take its life. But in none of the slave States has the master a right to butcher his negro as if he were an ox, or a sheep, or a dog. In various other respects his power is limited by law, and in some States it is much more limited, and the slave is entitled to greater privileges, and a greater degree of freedom than in other States. Hence slavery is a very different thing in some of the States from what it is in others, and the legislature of each State has power to make the difference still greater. Property in a slave consists of the aggregate of the powers which the law of the State gives his master over him. Such being its nature, by what law does it exist in our territories?

It does not exist by virtue of the territorial laws; for it is a page of the doctrine that it is above the control of all territorial laws. It cannot be interfered with till the territory becomes a State. The territorial laws can do nothing to affect it; for it does not rest upon them; and if they could modify the master's power in any one particular, they could do so in every other particular, and could thus destroy it entirely.

Neither does it exist by virtue of the laws of Congress. It is denied that Congress has any power to legislate on the subject. The question then returns, by what laws the relation of master and slave is established and regulated in our territories?

I understand the President's answer to be this: that by virtue of the Constitution of the United States, the laws of the several slave States on this subject extend over all our public domain. There is indeed no other answer left to him. His doctrine can be made plain by stating a plain case.

Suppose a slaveholder of South Carolina takes his slaves and removes into a territory. He there whips a woman, in the exercise of a right of property given him by the laws of the State, and is prosecuted for the assault and battery. Perhaps a judge from some northern State is on the bench, and New England men are on the jury. The whipping with a slave whip is proved, and he makes his defence. He states no territorial law nor law of Congress that authorizes the act; but refers the court to the law of South Carolina. By the President's doctrine that law is to prevail, because it is one of the constituent parts of his right of property, and follows him into the territory and must be administered there. If he murder a slave he may be punished for the murder; but the reason is that the law of South Carolina does not center this power upon a master.

He may compel his female slave, though she be a church member, to live as his mistress, or sell her to other men for the same purpose, and the territorial laws cannot reach the lewdness. His slaves may cohabit without the institution of Christian marriage, in spite of territorial laws; for by the laws of his State this institution is withheld from them in order to increase the market value. Even Christian law makers hold that it is a Christian law, which takes away the right of Christian men, their wives and children, and sisters in the church. Of late, democratic Christian ministers begin to teach that an institution which tramples down the law of Christian marriage in the church is sanctioned by the Christian religion, and they demand that we shall respect it as such. And thus the clergy and church members of South Carolina are able to plant communities in all our common territories who may cohabit without Christian marriage, and the democratic doctrine is that the people of the territory have no right to pass laws restraining such a course of life. Judges and jurors from the free States are bound to administer these laws brought from a slave State.

It is a necessary part of this doctrine that every master carries with him the slave laws of the State from which he emigrates; and though it is a mystery to Mr. Buchanan that any one should ever have doubted his doctrine, it is a mystery to me how all the various modifications of slave property in the different States are to be regulated in the territory. If a master from Maryland buys slaves of a master from Alabama, which law shall measure and regulate his right of property in them? If they are again sold to a master from Kentucky, what law sustains and regulates his rights? If after a master has removed, the law of the State is changed so as to abridge the power of slaveholders, would it affect his slaves? If the masters in the territory desire modifications of the slave law, to what legislature shall they apply? Or is the power of the master in the territories limited only by his own will? Any intelligent and reflecting lawyer can multiply these questions, to which the only rational answer is, that the doctrine is absurd.

But if this be the law of the land, then it is literally true, in the most offensive sense, that slavery is national, and freedom is but sectional. And if it be true that the laws of the slave States do thus extend over our common territories, in which we have an interest, and to which our nearest friends and relatives emigrate in great numbers, so as to constitute a large portion of the population; where they desire to establish free schools and make free

ANN ARBOR, November 5th, 1856.

PROF. O. J. WOOD.—Dear Sir: I have heard much said of the wonderful effects of your Hair Restorative, but having been so often cheated by quacks with quack nostrums, half faith, I, as I was disposed to place your Restorative in the same category with the one thousand and one daily trumpeted quack remedies, until I met you in Lawrence county some months since, when you gave me such assurance as induced the trial of your Restorative in my family—first, by my good wife, whose hair had become very thin, and entirely white; and before exhausting one of your large bottles, her hair was restored nearly to its original beautiful brown color, thick and thickened and become beautiful and glossy upon, and entirely over the head; she continues to use it, not simply because of its beautifying effects (which she happiest of the) but therefore my skepticism and doubts in reference to its character and value are entirely removed; and I can and do most cordially and confidentially recommend its use by all who would have their hair restored from white or gray, (by reason of sickness or age,) to original color and beauty, and by all young persons who would have the hair beautiful and glossy.

Very truly and gratefully yours,
SOLOMON MANN.

FRIEND WOOD: It was a long time after I saw you at Blissfield before I got the bottle of Restorative for which you gave me an order upon your agent in Detroit, and when I got it we concluded to try it on Mrs. Mann's hair, as the surest test of its power. It has done all that you assured me it would do; and others of my family and friends, having witnessed its effects, are now using and recommending its use to others as entitled to the highest commendation. Your hair is restored from white or gray, (by reason of sickness or age,) to original color and beauty, and by all young persons who would have the hair beautiful and glossy.

CARLYLE, ILL., June 28, 1853.

I have used Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and have admired its effects. My hair was becoming, as I thought, prematurely gray, but by the use of his Restorative it has resumed its original color, and I have not a single gray hair left.

Magee's Patent Ventilating Stove.

FOR WARMING AND VENTILATING
PARLORS, OFFICES, HALLS, STORES, SCHOOL HOUSES, &c.

WHICH for economy, purity of air, and ease of management, has no equal. It can be regulated so as to give

Any amount of Heat required,

and unlike all other Anthracite Coal Burners, ventilates the apartments quite as thoroughly, as a wood fire or Franklin, producing a current of air, at once moist, pure and agreeable, and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache, so much complained of by those using Stoves and Furnaces, is entirely obviated. The fire may be continued from one to four days without replenishing.

These Stoves are beautiful in design, and finished in the most perfect manner. They are equally appropriate, and have given universal satisfaction to all who have adopted them.

For Offices and Stores as well as the Parlor.

The Inventor challenges the world to produce an article by which so much Pure Warm Air can be generated, from so small an amount of fuel, requiring but about 15 pounds of Anthracite Coal, to warm an ordinary sized parlor for 24 hours, without replenishing, and then leaving fire enough to rekindle without the use of charcoal. The coal is all used, and no clinkers made, consequently, sifting coal is dispensed with.—When this Stove is properly managed.

THE FIRE MAY BE CONTINUED THROUGH THE ENTIRE SEASON,

without once going out. Added to all these qualifications, the purchaser may reasonably expect to save from 30 to 50 per cent. in fuel expense.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES.

Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience

THE combination of ingredients in these Pills, have been in a long and extensive practice, and they are mild in their operation, and certain to restoring nature to its proper channel. In every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are safe and may be administered to pregnant females, are liable, and bring nature into its proper channel, whereby health is restored, and the pale and sallow countenance changed to a healthy one. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, that must always arise from the interruption of nature. Whenever that is the case, the Pills will invariably remove all these evils. In all cases of painful menstruation, or nervous and spinal affections in the back and limbs, they are a certain specific. For a cure they less efficacious in the cure of Leucorrhœa, commonly called the "Whites." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. Warranted purely Vegetable, and free from anything injurious to life or health. Full and explicit directions which will be found in the wrapper of each box.

These Pills are put up in square, flat boxes. Persons residing where there are no Agencies established, by enclosing One Dollar in a letter, prepaid, to Dr. C. S. CHEESEMAN, Box No. 4,581, Post Office, New York City, can have them sent to their respective addresses by return of mail.

THE MISSION SPIRITS OF BEAUTY.

Oh, ye, who bend the knee beneath God's vaulted dome of blue,
On which he carved the fretwork of the clouds in peerless hue!
Who praise the stars, a kingly throng, that clasp, on golden thrones,
'Neath canopies of hanging blue, the earth with jewelled zones!
Oh, ye, who praise the waves, that marching up the sloping shore,
E'en march in rank with measured tramp in tune with Ocean's roar!
Kindly listen, patient hearken,
While I sing the home elysian
Of two sister spirit maidens,
And recount their noble mission.

For outward beauty found in golden star or sunset hue,
All meed of praise is to the younger spirit justly due;
The higher, inward beauty found in simple acts of life,
Is to the elder spirit due, whose deeds with charms are rife.
Kindly listen, patient hearken,
While I sing the home and mission
Of the younger spirit maiden,
Gracing earth with charms elysian.

Far away, where Space is dim and ether gray,
Where the golden stars at play
Gleam and glimmer all the day,
Builds the spirit maid her home,
Tiny spire and tiny dome;
Rears of rainbow arcs her towers,
Plaited with the veins of flowers,
Gemmed with dew drops, sadly weeping
Night round down as earth was sleeping:
A lily cup upon her head,
Pinked with rose veins, filled with red;
And from beneath her lily crown,
Her golden hair slow ripples down
Like yellow brooks, slow streaming down
That gild the sides of mountains brown.
Her eyes are drops of ocean's azure, dipped from out the main;
Her wings of sunbeams spun as if with wisps of golden grain;
Her stainless robe of lily petals made, that, thick with white,
By elves are nightly laced with pliant rays of rosy light;
Her feet play in and out like sunbeams mid the leaves,
And round her floats a golden haze,
As where the moonlight fondly strays
Down forests deep, and weaves by night
A twilight glow with threads of light;
This is the younger spirit's dress,
Her acts are ripe with cunningness.
She grasps the sunbeams in her hand,
She paints the sea, its blue rimmed strand,
She decks the earth with emerald green,
The sky with blue, the stars with sheen.
O'er earth she flies each morning hour,
She opes the buds, she tints the flowers,
That by her so faintly painted
With the thinnest beams of light,
Swing their incense cups of perfume,
Floral priests in robes of white.
And thus she decks till earth rolls 'neath its dome,
Rolls 'neath the watching stars a jewelled stone.

For all this outward beauty, we on her would place the crown,
Who measures by the universe her stretching mission ground.

A high still, that often has no form nor hue,
Unrecognized by sense alone, oft fleeting as the dew,—
The beauty found in acts, the plain and homely deeds of life,
Is to the elder spirit due, who hovers o'er the strife
E'er waged within the hearts of men between the Right and Wrong,
To woo them on to noble deeds, to battle stout and strong.
A band of saintly light is clasped about her hair,
Like kneeling saints whose brows are haloringed in prayer,
As if by angel-hands they had been angel-crowned;
And from beneath, like rays of sunlight drifting down,
Her hair floats low
In wavy fold
Of soft and shaded gold;

Like her, who weeping bathed her Master's feet with heart-wrung tears,
And round them flung her wealth of hair grown golden with her years,
Like grain the reapers glean,
The Sainted Magdalene!

Her wings, like hands in benediction lifted o'er us, pure;
We hear no spoken word; we feel the blessing in our hearts;
Upon her seraph face, the peace of Sabbath twilight lies;
The angelhood within glows in her dreamy eyes.
This is the elder spirit's dress,
Her acts are rich in nobleness.

She weaves a golden fringe around the homely acts of life,
The homely words and thoughts and ways with winning charms are rife.
She graces Hope that shines through Sorrow's rain of tears,
And bends its bow of promise mid our restless fears;
Makes golden Friendship's ring that marries heart to heart,
And Pity's tear outshines the glistening gems of art.
O'er folded hands and upturned face, and eyes close veiled in prayer,
She throws a grace as if the Saviour's shadow rested there;
We could believe, her presence speaks such heavenly things,
The praying form an angel: it wanteth only wings.

Thus o'er Earth and Life the missions of the spirits reach,
Joined in a holy ministry, mon's hearts they ever teach,
And thus our souls, that, craving outward beauty, still demand
A beauty higher, found not in jewelled sky nor painted land,
Are satisfied when finding this in simple deeds of man.
Tint men may thus be nobler, holier be,
The spirits serve in endless ministry.

But oft the younger spirit mourns, for beauty's charms will fade,
The clouds will flee, mosaics rare on heaven's floor so quaintly laid;
The angel-eyes above, that shine all through the silent night
To watch and guard our sleep, are closed at breaking of the light;
The leaves will turn in all red and gold, and drop beneath the trees,
The flower's petals drift away upon the autumn breeze.
And thus like him who leaned beloved upon his Master's breast,
She, trembling, on the elder leans who, soothing, gives her rest.

When down the dreamy tide of Sleep,
Whose tiny ripples softly creep,
We drift and float in fairy boats,
E'er floating, lulled by silver notes
By zephyrs rung from lily-bells
That white the perfume-scented dells,
The spirits stray in fond embrace;
With angel eyes, Madonna face,
The younger by the elder led,—
The comforter, the comforted.
Their words drift soft, the angel pair,
As silvered moonlight through the air,
As sweetly float beneath the stars
As golden notes from golden bars.
We hear no words, we list intense;
Too fine they are for our gross sense:
We hear their voices in their acts,
Strown o'er Life's years, Earth's reasoning tracts.
Oh! ye who walk Life's weary way,
Stop, hark to what the spirits say!

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY, and but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUBDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a pin dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.
☞ Of the medical value, the enlightened community, and not the discoverer, must be the judge.
PRIME COST, $1, 50 per drachm—PRICE $2 per drachm.

Morning Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1857.

☞ The Bath, Me., People's Organ says, speaking of the Kansas election :—

We insist, no republican triumph has been gained; and while we claim no triumph for the democratic party, as such, we do claim that the election itself, in a quiet, peaceable manner, is a most signal triumph of a democratic principle—the principle of self-government—the right of the people, and the people only, to decide the question of slavery or freedom so far as themselves and their territory are concerned.

Now Uncle Toby is pleased with the distinction which the Organ (of the democratic party) makes, between democratic principles and the democratic party, for there is a wide difference between them.—But it is remarkable that the pro-slavery party in Kansas calls itself the democratic party, and that Atchison, Stringfellow, Buford, and other eminent democrats got it up. The Kansas Herald of Freedom, published in Lawrence, says :—

As the contest is now over, we caution our republican friends against claiming the result as a republican victory. It is a free State triumph and nothing else. It is a verdict of the people in favor of self-government, and in favor of freedom for Kansas without any relation whatever to the old parties as organized in the States.

A fig for parties, old or new. There is no party in the country very old, even in name,—and all of them are in reality rather new, as the issues have been changed many times, and are now changing.

The question in Kansas was freedom or slavery—nothing more nor less. The people of Kansas have spoken in favor of freedom. If that be democracy, Uncle Toby is a democrat. If that be republicanism, he is a republican.

But now, another question is to be settled, viz., will the territorial government, which calls itself democratic,—and will the general government, which calls itself democratic, suffer the voice of the people to be heard? or will they stifle it with bogus certificates? And lastly, but not least, will the House of Representatives—which calls itself democratic—admit the free State Representative to his seat?

The democratic party must meet these questions, and must settle them somehow. Democratic principles, of which the Organ speaks, must be applied, or else violated. Which will be done? Congress meets next month—and before it rises, we shall see.

We perceive, when we have written thus far, that the Eastern Argus, leading democratic paper in Portland, claims the pro-slavery party in Kansas as brethren, and speaks of the Free State party there as "our opponents." We make an extract. The Argus says :—

The rejection of the returns from Oxford, so promptly and squarely, when this decision will have the effect to give our opponents a majority in the Legislative Assembly, is a tolerably good evidence, one would think, of a determination to act independently and justly. What our opponents, who have industriously maligned Gov. Walker, will now say, we have yet to learn.

☞ This is the way in which Gov. Walker of Kansas "twigged" the bogus returns from Oxford District. He saw gross informalities in the document and a tremendous vote for a small place. He says :—

Deeming something wrong, "we went to the precinct of Oxford (which is a village of 6 houses including stores, and without a tavern) ascertained from citizens in that vicinity, and especially those of the adjacent villages of New Santa Fe, in Missouri, (separated only by a street, and containing about twenty houses,) that not more than one-tenth the number of persons represented to have voted, were present on the two days of election, not more than 30 or 40 being present on the last day, when more than 1500 votes are represented as having been given."

All this mockery was done in Kansas, by the innocent pro-slavery men who call themselves "national democrats," but who really are no democrats at all, but swindlers and cheats.

NAVAL.—The U. S. sloop-of-war Cyane, Capt. Robb, of the Home Squadron, arrived in Hampton Roads on Friday.

Capt. McCluney and naval constructors B. F. Delano and Samuel M. Pook, constitute the board which has been appointed to survey the U. S. frigate Brandywine, now in ordinary at the Brooklyn navy yard, to determine whether it is practicable and advisable to razee her to the size of the Macedonian, Constellation and Cumberland.

The bears continue to commit depredations in Piscataquis county. One night last week they entered a small field, about forty rods from the house of Charles Loring in Guilford, and killed five sheep, and wounded two more. Sixty other sheep have been killed in different parts of the town. The bears eat but a small portion of what they kill, but glut their appetite upon blood.—Portland Adv.

SHORT LIVES OF GOOD WIVES.—A writer in the Puritan Recorder proposes the inquiry whether ministers' wives have shorter lives than the wives of other men. His statistics among the healthy hill towns favor this idea. He says :

In the space of a few brief years, twelve ministers, in seven contiguous parishes, have each buried a wife, and two of them, two wives. And of these ministers, not more than one is yet an aged man. Their wives, in almost in every instance, have died while they were young.

This little extract suggests some sad reflections, which may yet not be profitless. It is fair to conclude that these young wives were generally women of cultivated minds, religious habits, and believers in the system of doctrines preached in their churches. They are not generally of the class who merely assent to a form of words, but they are keenly and perhaps morbidly sensible of their own responsibility for husband, children, people, souls. All this they superadd to the ordinary duties, usual cares, and real obligations of life. The burden is too much for a strong man. Witness the deaths of such men as Payson and Henry Smith, from similar causes. How much more readily, then, may it break down a feeble woman—whose mental and moral culture have tended to make the mind or spirit overwork the frail body, whose training has been neglected or perverted. Wise men and prudent women should think on these things, and ponder them well.

CAN A MINISTER MARRY A DIVORCED WOMAN?—Rev Mr. Shields of Iowa, having been silenced by the Presbytery of Des Moines, for marrying a woman who had been divorced by the laws of Iowa, appealed to the Synod, and his appeal was sustained. The Synod expresses its opinion that the action of the Presbytery was correct in form, and suggested by a laudable zeal in the service of the church; and although reinstating Mr. Shields, does not approve of his marriage, as is shown by the following resolution :—

Resolved, That in restoring Rev. J. H. Shields to his former position in the gospel ministry, the Synod should not be understood as approving the contracting of marriage, especially by ministers of the gospel, with persons divorced for whatever cause, believing that such marriages impair usefulness, influence and standing, and bring into question the parity and wisdom of the parties thereto.

These ministers are dangerous fellows. Don't they know that in such resolutions as these, they endanger the Union by throwing discredit on the memory of Gen. Jackson, who married a woman rather informally divorced, who nevertheless was a good wife.

They have probably been reading the Sermon on the Mount, in which (Matt. 5: 32) Jesus seems to forbid such marriages. But then Jesus makes no special laws for ministers, there or elsewhere.

More probably they have read Leviticus 21st Chapter, where v. 7, the priests are forbidden to make such marriages. But they should read on through the chapter, and in the 14th verse they would find that the high priest must not marry a widow. And if they will read still further, they will find (verses 17–23,) that lame men, blind men, men with flat noses, blemished eyes, and other personal defects or deformities, must not, as priests, enter the vail, nor go nigh the altar. If therefore, they wish for the revival of priestly special laws, they had better revive the whole code.

THE KING OF PRUSSIA.—By the last European news it seems probable that Frederick William, King of Prussia, would either die in a short time, or lose the use of his faculties. As he has no children, his brother, the Prince of Prussia, would succeed him in the former event, or rule as regent in the latter. The Prince is sixty years of age, a fair soldier, and a man of unblemished morality, but of no great abilities. His wife, a Princess of Saxe Weimar, is considered to have such radical tendencies, that in 1848 she was banished from Berlin. On this fact, as well as her influence over her husband, the radicals base their hopes of detaching Prussia from Russian influences. But it is almost useless to expect anything of that kind from a Prussian monarch. Frederick William, when he ascended the throne seventeen years ago, was considered to have remarkably liberal views; but these all disappeared in a few years of power, although there has been much in his reign to make him popular among the mass of his subjects.

CITY DEBTS IN MAINE.—The Boston Journal reports that the coupons of the cities of Augusta and Gardiner were on Monday morning, dishonored at the Shawmut Bank, Boston, where they have always been paid.

☞ A politician from Dover, N. H., is in Washington City with a remonstrance, for the removal of the recently appointed Postmaster of that place.

MASSACHUSETTS ELECTION.

BY TELEGRAH TO THE DAILY CHRONICLE.

We learn by special dispatch from the Boston Daily Advertiser office, at about 11 o'clock Tuesday night, that the whole Republican State Ticket is elected.

Banks's plurality will reach from 15 to 20,000. 155 towns give him 12,500.

Both branches of the Legislature will be Republican by a large majority, and the Council also shows a Republican majority.

In Newburyport Caleb Cushing is elected Representative to the Legislature.

In 146 towns, including all the cities, Banks has 38,810; Gardner 26,839;—Beach 20,783; Swan 67.

The Republicans have elected three Senators in the Suffolk district, and a large majority in the other districts.

Thompson, American, is elected Councillor in the 1st district. In all the others the Republicans have probably elected their candidates. In the House, 65 Republicans, 20 Americans, and 11 Democrats are elected, so far as heard from.

Gardner carried Boston by only 830 plurality. Great enthusiasm was manifested over this wonderful victory.

LATER FROM EUROPE.—The steamship Arago arrived at New York on Tuesday, with four days' later news from Europe.

The Bank of England has raised the rate of discount to 8 per cent.

NEW YORK, November 2.—The Woodstock (Vt.) Bank is discredited at the Metropolitan Bank.

The Stock Market was quite irregular; bank stock showing the greatest improvement.

A meeting of some 2000 unemployed foreigners was held to-day in the Park; there were several speeches, the burden of which was "work or fight." Another meeting of a similar character is to be held this evening, in Tompkins square.

Our weekly bank statement shows an increase in specie of $2,471,798, and in deposits of $3,933,280, and a decrease in loans of $275,764, and in circulation of $549,991. The total specie is $12,883,441.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS—LAWRENCE, MASS.—The following have been tried and convicted :

Franklin O. Hulse and Thomas Atkins, of Marblehead, for manslaughter. Sentenced ten years to State Prison.

Henry Somerby, of Newburyport, for an assault on Thomas H. Adams. Sentenced two years in County House.

Betsey Tetley, of Lawrence, for violations of the liquor law. Sentenced to pay a fine of $10 and costs, and twenty days in the County House.

Andrew Casey, of Haverhill, a common seller of liquor. Sentenced to pay a fine of $50 and costs, and imprisonment three months in County House.

Philander Basford was sentenced upon convictions at a previous term, upon two indictments for sales of intoxicating liquors, $50 and costs, and three months in the County House upon each.

Jere. Doyle, of Newburyport, upon complaint of being a common drunkard. Sentenced to the County House two months.

John O. Mead, of Salem, was convicted of being a vagrant. Sentenced to the County House four months.

Mary Daily and John Hersey, of Lawrence, and Frank Bushell, of Haverhill, were convicted of being common sellers.

The Court of Common Pleas at Lawrence, Mass. adjourned over to Wednesday.

Franklin O. Hulse and Thomas Atkins, on a charge of manslaughter, in killing a citizen of Marblehead, a month or two since, were sentenced by Judge Briggs at Lawrence to ten years each in the State Prison. Thus far neither of the juries have returned a verdict of acquittal in a single case.

THE HOOP.—A rumor has come to us from Florence (and really we indulge in the hope that it is not true) to the effect that the Venus de Medici has been invested with the "Order of the Hoop"—a new institution of nobility, created by command of his Imperial Majesty, the Emperor of France. If this piece of news be correct, then will chivalry have increased the ratio of its devotion from the garter of a Queen to the hoop of an Empress; and that lady will rank highest, who can circle widest. We trust that the Pope will not listen to the suggestion of some of his unwise and sacrilegious advisers, who have been urging him, during his recent progress, to have all the Madonnas of Raphael, and others, by the great painter, repainted with dresses of the modern style of convolution. This, certainly would be an outrage; and for the sake of the noble school of Italian art, we trust, in mercy, that crinoline will not encompass it.—Porter's Spirit.

Here is an illustration of what may be derived even in Maine from "a little farm well tilled." Mr. Edward Elmore, of No. 18, Hancock county, owns and occupies a field, containing one and a half acres of land, which produced last season, one ton and a half of hay; 85 bushels of good potatoes; 6 bushels of wheat; 4 bushels of corn; 3 bushels of peas; 30 bushels of carrots; and other articles of considerable value. These things are worth at present about $100.—Portland Adv.

The corn yield of Illinois is without a parallel for quantity—one of the exceptional crops which are said to cover only once in five years. A Champaign county farmer estimates that they will not be able to command above 12, 15, or 18 cents a bushel for it.

With any of those disagreeable complaints, such as Jaundice, Dyspepsia, or Liver diseases of any kind; but would like to know of a remedy for these unseemly visitations? We feel that we are doing our invalid readers an invaluable service if we can induce them to get a bottle of Dr. Sanford's Invigorator, and take it, for we know from personal experience that it is one of the greatest remedies for general debility, and consequent inactive bodily powers, ever before used. Its action is so perfect and complete as to give relief the first time taken, and if it does to others as it has to us, half a bottle will be all that is needed. We know of nothing we can recommend with such confidence, as a family medicine, as the Invigorator.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

PRESERVATION OF THE HAIR.—In all ages and among almost all tribes of men, a beautiful head of hair has been, and still is, regarded as the fairest ornament of the fairest works of the Creator. The patrician dames and damsels of ancient and modern Rome bestowed that attention upon the hair which has added the crowning beauty to the chef d'œuvre of the sculptor and the painter, and no lady, and indeed no gentleman of modern times is unmindful of this exquisite shield and lovely ornament of the face. To maiden beauty it is the finishing touch; to manhood it is the symbol and warrant of strength and nobility, to-day as in the days of the patriarchs; indeed such it always had been and always will be.

But unable as we are to withstand the ills of time and life, it often happens that through disease and misfortune we become grey in early life, and bald before we reach the full grace of womanhood or the full stature of manhood.—Then it is that however much we may venerate the grey locks and reverence the wisdom of bald head among the honored remnants of the generation of three score and ten, we know that our grey hairs are no more venerable than beautiful; while our bald heads are neither the one nor the other, but, on the contrary, are quite the reverse of both and impose upon us many social and sanitary disadvantages and discomforts.

Sold by all Druggists.

Remedy for Worms.

THE diseases of children are often so complicated that it is difficult to ascertain the true nature of their complaint. In a large majority of instances the cause may be traced to the existence of WORMS—the prominent symptoms of which are, paleness of the countenance, loss of or irregular appetite, starting up and crying out in their sleep, picking at the nose, great thirst, a wasting away of the flesh, &c. These symptoms should be early attended to, as by neglect it often terminates in disease of the brain.

PRESTON'S WORM SYRUP is the most effectual remedy ever used. It is pleasant to the taste, perfectly harmless, and is warranted in every case to give satisfactory results.

☞ The ordinance of Baptism was administered to eight individuals, on Sunday last, at noon, at Noble's Island, by Rev. Thomas Holmes, of the Independent Christian Society. Rev. Austin Damon occupied the pulpit at Hanover Street Chapel, with the pastor, and assisted in the service.

The Free Will Baptists continue their meetings at the Temple. Elder Seth W. Perkins yet remains with them.

ACCIDENT.—On Sunday last, a boy about ten years of age, son of Mr. Thomas Mitchell, fell from a woodshed, near the C. & P. Railroad in this city, and fractured his leg just below the knee. We learn that he is doing well.

☞ Don't forget Mr. Lamprey's exhibition, at Congress Hall this (Wednesday) evening. These entertainments are always beautiful, and we hear that especial attractions are offered this time. The march of the whole Class, at half past 7, is worth more than the reduced price of admission; to say nothing of the other fine things, and the chance for a dance yourself afterward.

☞ Read the programme for Mr. Thompson's Concert, in the advertisement. If that doesn't create a d sire to hear it, then we don't know what could.

☞ See advertisement of Apples, &c., at auction to-morrow, at J. B. Adams' Auction Store, No. 3 Congress Block.

"THOMPSON'S CONCERT (says the Newburyport Herald) was all that it promised to be—the greatest and best Concert ever given in this city—such a concert as nobody but Thompson can give. The house was full, and that, in these times, more than words can testify, showed the appreciation of the public. Miss Page—that charming singer, whose carols are as fresh and musical as the feathery songters in spring—has much improved since her last appearance; and Miss Davidson charmed her audience. The Quartet Club was never surpassed in this city; and the voice of Mr. Burrill seems echoing even now, so full and perfect was it. When Miss Green, the infant Whistler performed, there was a perfect shout of applause; and the youthful Drummers, Master and Miss Green, carried the house with a storm of cheers.—Take it all in all, it was the perfection of an entertainment, and everybody that loves music should hear it."

This splendid entertainment is to be given in Portsmouth, on Thursday evening next.

TO NEW SUBSCRIBERS.—For $4, we will furnish the Daily Chronicle from this time to Jan. 1, 1859.

For only $1, we will supply the Weekly Chronicle from the present date to Jan 1, 1859.

A GEM.—We hope no reader who can appreciate a beautiful idea, beautifully expressed, will fail to enjoy the poetical feast which we offer them on our first (outside) page this morning. "The Mission Spirits of the Beautiful" is one of the finest little poems we have met in a long time. The idea of the two sister angels (who would seem the same Spirit with a duality of offices) continually ministering to our finer sensibilities—the one, in a measure, "of the earth, earthy," while the other continually tends heavenward in her influences—is felicitously dressed in appropriate language.

"Oh! ye who walk Life's weary way,
Stop, hark to what the spirits say!"

We ought perhaps to say that we had no liberty to publish the poem. It was loaned for our private perusal only. But we deem that the world has a right to the influence of all such beautiful thoughts; and that to hide such light under a bushel, is not helping to carry out the sentiment of the song.

THE MONETARY TROUBLES AT THE SOUTH. The Holly Springs (Miss.) Herald gives notice of a meeting on the 20th inst., of the cotton planters of Marshall county, "to take such steps as may seem best in regard to the monetary derangements throughout the country, and the subsequent reduction of the price of cotton, resulting alone from such financial derangement." The Herald remarks "that there is no cause for such a state of things, and if the planters will store their cotton in their own cotton sheds, and withhold it from the market for a few weeks, the gold and silver will be shipped by ten millions of dollars from every important port in Europe."

This is rather tall talking.

☞ Perhaps our readers have heard of place out West so healthy that people can't die in the natural way, and have to use a corkscrew to draw their last breath. Whatever may be thought of the credibility of this story, it is nevertheless true that the corkscrew has done much to facilitate the drawing of the last breath, and doubtless many valuable lives would be saved by exchanging it for a gimlet.

☞ Mr. Rufus Peaton, of Alfred, Me., recently slaughtered a hog, sixteen months and ten days old, that weighed six hundred and fifty pounds!

LATER FROM CALIFORNIA.

The steamship Quaker City, from Mobile via Havana, 29th ult., arrived at New York, Monday evening.

Exchanges and Sugar were lower, but nominal; the holders preferring to ship instead of selling.

U. S. gold three per cent. premium. Stock of Sugars 100,000 boxes. Shipments of small cargoes to European ports were active, but there were no freights for heavy cargoes.

The Quaker City brought $173,000.

The steamship Star of the West, from Aspinwall for New York, arrived at Havana at 3 P. M. on the 29th. The Star of the West had on board about seven hundred and fifteen passengers. All well. She also brings the mails and about one million and six thousand dollars in gold for New York, and five hundred thousand dollars in gold for Europe. She would sail for New York, on the 30th. Twenty-five of her passengers came to New York in the Quaker City.

The cause of the detention was the non-arrival of the Pacific steamer Golden Gate. That vessel left San Francisco on the 5th of October, but on the following day her machinery in part became disabled, and she was compelled to return to port, where she arrived on the 10th. The ensuing day her passengers, specie and mails, were transferred to the steamer Golden Age, and again took their departure and arrived at Panama on the 24th. On the same day, the passengers, &c., reached Aspinwall, and immediately embarked on board the Star of the West, which had awaited their arrival.

The official returns from nearly all the counties in the State give Weller 11,636 over both the other candidates. The total vote was about 90,000.

The Senate stands 25 Democrats to 5 Republicans; and the Assembly 54 Democrats, 9 Republicans, 3 Americans, and 4 Independent.

The majority in favor of the payment of the State debt is about 30,000.

The rumors of the exodus of the Mormons of Carson Valley to Utah, is confirmed, and the report that a battle had occurred between the U. S. troops and the Mormons of Salt Lake City is contradicted.

The crop of cereals raised in California will be largely ahead of consumption.

It is said that the overland mail route between San Diego and San Antonio, Texas, would take passengers on its trip of Oct. 9.

The news of the commencement of the panic in New York, did not create much surprise in California.

Thos. P. Lewis, first officer of the clipper ship Adelaide, from New York, has been arrested on a charge of manslaughter. He knocked overboard a man named Turner in the harbor of San Francisco, and while attempting to jump after him to save his life, was taken into custody.

The trial of the late Treasurer, Bates, had resulted in a verdict in favor of the State for the full amount of the bond—$100,000.

An expedition sent out from Fort Buchanan against the Apaches, killed 50 and took 150 prisoners, who had been sent to New Mexico for trial.

The Mormons were to leave Carson Valley on the 25th of October. Brigham Young has ordered a secret cavalry company to organize from the Saints in Carson Valley armed and equipped with one year's provisions and clothing. It is said to be their intention, should matters get too serious, to seek a refuge in the Russian possessions, where they have already driven stakes for a new Zion.

Among the passengers by the Quaker City are Col. Fremont and Senator Broderick, who came on the Star of the West to Havana.

To the Hon. Judge of Probate for the County of Rockingham.

RESPECTFULLY represents Anthony Peavey, administrator of the goods and estate of Samuel C. Hodgdon, late of Portsmouth in said County, deceased; that the Personal Estate of said deceased is not sufficient to pay the just demands against his estate by the sum of eight hundred dollars; that said Hodgdon was seized at the time of his decease of one-third part in common and undivided of the premises of the dower of Mary Hodgdon the widow of George Hodgdon in and to a certain lot of land in said Portsmouth containing fifteen acres, more or less, and being part of the homestead farm of the late George Hodgdon, and the same that was set off to the said Mary as her dower.

Wherefore he prays that he may be licensed to sell at public auction all the real estate of said Samuel, including said reversion, or so much thereof as may be sufficient for the payment of said demands.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well secured as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received by Friday will be filled by next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2 50; eighths, $1 25. Money must accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $50,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. The drawings will be published, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia.

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes. Address as above.

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. FRENCH & Co are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and have sworn commissioners appointed by the State, to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month, and as the prices are low, numerous orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The price of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No ticket can draw a prize larger than the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and the lottery promulgation. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100,000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

☞ The drawn numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner in the following papers, viz: Sun, Clipper, Patriot, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

A BEAUTIFUL HEAD

OF RICH GLOSSY HAIR,

Completely Preserved

TO THE GREATEST AGE.

AND who that is gray would not have it restored to former color; or bald, but would have the growth restored; or troubled with dandruff and itching but would have it removed, or troubled with scurfiness, and other eruptions, or with sick headache, (neuralgia) but would be cured. It will also remove all pimples from the face and skin. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative will do all this. See circular and the following.

ANN ARBOR, November 5th, 1856.

PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir: I have heard much said of the wonderful effects of your Hair Restorative, but having been so often cheated by quackery and quack nostrums, hair dyes, &c., I was determined to place little faith in it. But in the same category with the one thousand and one loudly trumpeted quack remedies, until I met you in Lawrence county some months since, when you gave me such assurance as induced the trial of your Restorative in my family—first, by my good wife, whose hair had become very thin, and entirely white; and before exhausted the one of your large bottles, her hair was restored nearly to its original beautiful brown color, and had thickened to a very remarkable degree. Her scalp was free from dandruff upon, and entirely over the head; she continues to use it, not simply because of its beautifying effects upon the hair, but because of its healthful influence upon the head and mind. Others of my family and friends are using your Restorative, with the happiest effects; therefore my skepticism and double in reference to its character and value are entirely removed; and I can and do most cordially and confidentially recommend its use by all who would have their hair restored from white or gray, or premature baldness or age, to original color and beauty, and by all young persons who would have the hair beautiful and glossy.

Very truly and gratefully yours.
SOLOMON MANN.

FRIEND WOOD: It was a long time after I saw you at Ellisfield before I got the bottle of Restorative for which you gave me an order upon your agent in Detroit, and when I got it we concluded to try it on Mrs. Mann's hair, as the surest test of its power. It has done all that you assured me it would do; and others of my family and friends having witnessed its effects, are now using and recommending its use to others as entitled to the highest consideration you claim for it.

Again, very respectfully and truly, yours.
SOLOMON MANN.

CARLTON, ILL., June 28, 1852.

I have used Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative and admired its effects. My hair was becoming, as I thought, prematurely gray, but by the use of his Restorative it has resumed its original color, and I have no doubt permanently

STOVES.

Frank Jones, No. 61 Market St.,

HAVING received his Winter Stock of Stoves, is now prepared to furnish them to his customers and the public generally, at such prices as cannot fail to suit the most economical, among which are the following:

IMPROVED EMPIRE STATE,

This celebrated Cooking Stove having been in the market many years, is too well known to need any recommendation from us, we would only say that we have received a large Stock of different sizes, to which we invite the attention of purchasers.

THE WHITE MOUNTAIN IMPROVED,

being among the first class Cooking Stoves, is a very heavy, durable, and economical Cook Stove, and a good operator with either wood or coal, and warranted to give satisfaction in every particular.

THE REPUBLIC.

This Stove has been in the market a few years, and those who have used it, speak in the highest terms of its good qualities.

All sizes on hand, and every Stove warranted.

Also on hand all the above kinds of the most approved patterns; among which are the

BAY STATE, TROY, STAR, AMERICAN, BANNER, NIAGARA, PORTLAND, AURORA, &c.

Repairing Pieces of all kinds on hand.

The attention of all those who are about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, is invited, for we are determined not to be under sold.

Our stock of

is complete, comprising the most desirable patterns in the market for either wood or coal—among which are the

ILION, VILLA, LADY FRANKLIN, FAVORITE, RUBY, &c. &c.,

OVEN PARLORS in great variety for wood or coal. SHEET IRON STOVES of all sizes, with or without ovens. Also, Office, Hall, Shop and Store Stoves of different Patterns.

The attention of all who are in want of good Stoves at a low price, is invited, for we are determined to sell lower than any other establishment in the vicinity.

Remember the place to buy cheap is at

FRANK JONES.

Magee's Patent Ventilating Stove.

FOR WARMING AND VENTILATING

PARLORS, OFFICES, HALLS, STORES,
SCHOOL HOUSES, &c.

WHICH for economy, purity of air, and ease of management, has no equal. It can be regulated so as to give

Any amount of Heat required,

and unlike all other Anthracite Coal Burners, ventilates the apartments quite as thoroughly, as a wood fire or Franklin, producing a current of Air, at once moist, pure and agreeable, and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache, so much complained of by those using Stoves and Furnaces, is entirely obviated. The fire may be continued from one to four days without replenishing.

These Stoves are beautiful in design, and finished in the most perfect manner. They are equally appropriate, and have given universal satisfaction to all who have adopted them,

For Offices and Stores as well as the Parlor.

The Inventor challenges the world to produce an article by which so much Pure Warm Air can be generated, from so small an amount of fuel, requiring but about 16 pounds of Anthracite Coal, to warm an ordinary sized parlor for 24 hours, without replenishing, and then leaving fire enough to rekindle without the use of chemical. The coal is all used, and no clinkers made, consequently, sifting coal is dispensed with.—When this Stove is properly managed,

THE FIRE MAY BE CONTINUED THROUGH

THE ENTIRE SEASON,

without once going out. Added to all these qualifications, the purchaser may reasonably expect to save from 30 to 50 per cent. in fuel expense.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES.

Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience

THE combination of ingredients in these Pills, is the result of a long and extensive practice; they are mild in their operation, and certain in restoring nature to its proper channel. In every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are confined to open those obstructions to which females are liable in a manner more than any other complaint, whereby health is restored, and the pale and deathly countenance changed to a healthy one. No danger can ensue, if used as directed, unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health of the system begins to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, that most always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, the Pills will invariably remedy all these evils. In all cases of painful menstruation, or nervous and spinal affections in the back and limbs, lowness of spirits, hysterics, and serious indigestion, they are efficacious in the cure of Leucorrhœa, commonly called the "Whites." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. Warranted purely Vegetable, and free from anything injurious to life or health. Full and explicit directions which should be carefully read, accompany each box. These Pills are put up in a private form, and sent to any address, free of postage, on receipt of price, $1 per box, or six boxes for $5.

Persons residing where there are no Agencies established, by enclosing One Dollar in a letter, prepaid, to Dr. C. L. Cheeseman, Box No. 4,531, Post Office, New York City, can have them sent to their respective addresses by return of mail.

BACON GOING BACK AND FORWARD.—The Cincinnati Commercial treats us to the following commercial item—an interesting one, in view of the present state of commerce between England and America:

Bacon was in active demand at Liverpool, and had advanced 1s. per cwt. This was consequent upon the heavy shipments made back to New York, reaching in all 9000 boxes, and the article is now selling in New York at 9 a 9½ c, rendering the re-shipment from Liverpool a bad adventure after all: and we understand from a gentleman just from Liverpool, that 2000 boxes which had arrived at New York per steamer Edinburg, would not be discharged, but will be taken back on the same steamer to Liverpool. We should call this seeking a market under difficulties in a somewhat emphatic manner. Let us look at it a moment. This bacon, in the first place, was shipped to Liverpool from this country last spring, remained their all summer seeking a market, but not finding a buyer, came back to New York with the hope of finding a market there, but being again disappointed, is about being conveyed back to Liverpool again, in hopes of finding a market there this time."

SAD DEATH.—Miss. Catharine Isabella McKay, aged 14 years and 5 months (daughter of Mr. John McKay) a member of the High School at South Reading, attended school in her usual good health on Monday, Oct. 19, and singing school on the evening of the same day. She was not in school the following day, and on the next day (Wednesday) just after the opening morning exercises, a message, stating that she died at 7 o'clock that morning, was received by the Principal of the school, who was so much affected that he could not go on with the session; but informing the scholars of the decease of a pupil—the first instance of the kind which ever occurred in his experience—he dismissed the school. The young lady was a very general favorite, and the announcement produced a most touching effect.—On the following day the funeral was attended by a large number of young persons, all the schools of the town having been dismissed for the occasion. The deceased was first attacked on Monday night by croup, and after that attack, congestion of the brain and lungs closed her life.—Salem Register.

HUDSON BAY COMPANY.—The charter of this company, which was last renewed in 1842, has again nearly run out. The parliamentary committee to whom the subject of another renewal was referred, have reported in favor of the application. Parliament has yet to act upon the request, but the means that prevailed in the committee will probably be successful in Parliament. This favorable action has been obtained by the Hudson Bay organization in spite of adverse remonstrances from all parts of Canada. The company has control of more than one-ninth of the soil of the globe. Its great business is the fur trade, of which it has nearly the monopoly throughout the choicest fur-bearing regions of North America, except the Russian possessions. It has about a hundred trading stations scattered throughout the territory, and has become immensely rich from the fruits of its policy. It has also taken an active part in schemes for the discovery of a northwest passage.—Portland Advertiser.

The marchioness of Londonderry, possessing an independent fortune of £100,000 a year, a peeress of her own right, and heiressing of a great many other very good and very pleasant things, seems inclined to look upon her estates as principalities, and her colliers and peasants as subjects. At Garron Tower, says a late English paper, she arrived punctual as the Queen, in a Cleopatra's barge species of chariot in which reclined Lady Antrim, the marchioness driving. Lady Londonderry was attired in a cloth of gold mantle, embroidered like an altar cloth; Lady Antrim, the youngest dowager in the peerage in a piquant Parisian costume, even more startling and delightful. On a "raised dais," addresses from the tenantry were received, and a written answer was read "with a perfection and elocution which reminded us of Queen Victoria when opening Parliament."

SHAVING NOTES WITHOUT ANY CAPITAL.—In the course of the trial in the Supreme Court, yesterday, of the case of Luke Green against Welcome W. Gardiner, Mr. Thomas A Doyle testified that while he was cashier of the Grocers and Producers Bank, one of the directors of that Bank, now deceased, was in the habit of buying paper of the bill brokers, giving his check therefor payable some days ahead, and before it came due, would get the same discounted to pay his check. Sharper practice than this was never sworn to in a court of law. Men frequently transact a large business without capital; but we never before heard of a man shaving notes without money.—Providence Journal.

The San Francisco papers say that there are hundreds of servant girls in that city worth from one to ten thousand dollars each, their ordinary wages being now $25 a month. In the splendor of their dresses they far eclipse their mistresses, and as the saying is, they "can take Broadway down" without an effort.

THE RULING PASSION.—A fellow was put in a station house in Cincinnati, a few nights ago, charged with theft. Soon after he was locked in his cell, a terrible outcry was heard from the adjoining apartment, and the officers, on examination, found that sly-fingers had actually reached through a hole in the wall, and picked the pocket of his neighbor, who discovering his loss, howled like a Bedlamite. The acquisitive man was forthwith placed beyond the reach of temptation or anything else.

A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE

INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUNDRY INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or location in the body, head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. It asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what is required to the point of an old dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1857.

MASSACHUSETTS ELECTION.

Boston is the largest city in the State, and a very important city it is, but it is not the whole State,—only a part of it.

In Boston, Gardner had 5171, Banks 4224, and Beach 4130.

But here the Gardner victory ends. The Courier says:

The Massachusetts election has resulted in the triumph of the Republican party. Returns from all but twelve towns in the Commonwealth, give Mr. Banks a plurality of 23,249 votes. Seven Republican Councillors and one Whig are chosen. Col. Thompson is elected from this district by a respectable plurality. We have full returns from the forty-seven senatorial districts, and the record is, 31 Republicans, 5 Americans and 4 Democats. Of the 240 Representative districts, we have reports from 223. The House stands thus divided: 157 Republicans, 34 Democrats and 32 Americans. * * *

We will offer to Mr. Banks one piece of advice: * * * We advise him to book himself a place in the national coach, for the horses will soon be out in the republican wagon. The violence of sectional feeling is last passing away; the storm is howling itself to rest; no party can wield permanent power in this country which does not rest upon a national basis and represent national ideas. Mr. Banks owes his election, in a considerable degree, to his personal popularity; let him take advantage of this fact and be the leader of his party and not its follower.

This is wonderful advice, coming from a writer who did all he could to defeat Banks, and then got defeated himself.

In Boston, Ward 4, for Representative, Geo. Lunt, editor, had 283, as an Independent candidate, being 183 straight whig votes and 100 American,—while Milliken, the eating house man, had 93.—But Charles Hale, editor of the Advertiser, had 368, as a Republican,—and there was a democratic vote of 164.

The Boston Traveller of Oct. 29, said:

"Now that the day of election is so nigh, and Gov. Gardner's re-election so certain that no human power can avert it," &c., &c.

If the Traveller was correct, then some divine or angelic power must have come to the rescue. The Bee says, rather saucily, running out its sting:—

Perhaps the Spiritualist will help the Traveller out of the scrape and declare the spirits did it. Maybe George Lunt will accuse the "spirits" of causing his defeat. Who knows?

STOCKS.—The Boston Courier, giving the "ups and downs" of the stock market for the month of October, says that every stock in the market has largely lost from from September. The Boston & Maine Railroad touched the lowest point (73 1-2) that stock has sold at since the road was completed. The Worcester has sold for 74 1-2, the lowest at any time since 1837. The Eastern was at 36, Oct. 16, the lowest point that it ever reached. The Fitchburg has sold for 65, a greater depression than was ever known before. The Western sunk to within 1-8 of the lowest figures it has known for ten years.

Bank shares have declined from 10 to 30 per cent. Manufacturing stocks have entirely gone out of the market. Not one sale was made at the Board during the month of October, a circumstance that has not occurred in any one month before for many years. Mining stocks have gone down as rapidly as others. Of the only two dividend-paying companies, the Minnesota has declined $65 per share, and Pittsburg $48, in one month. It would be interesting to know the total loss on stocks in each State of the Union, in the month. It would foot up many millions of dollars.

☞ Last Saturday evening, Mr. Thomas Sands and wife, of Manchester, were visiting at Mr. S. Johnson's in Merrimack.—While some members of the family were in an outer room endeavoring to catch a chicken, for breakfast Sunday morning, the fowl threw down and discharged a gun that was standing in the corner of the room. The charge, which was very heavy, passed through the door, and also through the dress and very near the body of Mrs. Sands, and then entered the ceiling above the sofa upon which Mr. Sands had been sitting, half a minute before.

☞ John W. Rand, the escaped robber of the Savings Bank in Concord, is now in jail in Nova Scotia awaiting his trial for the robbery of the Bank of New Brunswick. He and his associates, Phil Stanley and Bell Smith, obtained $70,000 by that most skillful and audacious robbery.

☞ In the manufacturing department of the Manchester, N. H. Print Works, are made, each week, nine hundred dozen pairs of hose for ladies and gentlemen's wear.

EXETERIANA.

EXETER, TUESDAY, Nov. 3.

Dear Chronicle:—Whether we have ever answered the questions which "J. F." propounds, does not occur to our recollection. However, he can no doubt obtain the information he would be thankful for, from the catalogue of the Institution. We have neither time nor inclination to search out the facts for him. After thanking us for having given certain news to your readers in general, he continues:—

"More thankful should we have been, if he had told also of the success of the Academy in these times. How many students has it? How large was the class prepared for college at the close of the last term? It has existed some seventy-five years, I think."

We would humbly suggest that there may be a slight error in his calculations. We hardly think it probable that the class prepared for college at the close of the last term, is made up of such young Methuselahs as that they were 75 years here at school.

If we are compelled this week to work as hard to get up a few "items" as the suburban reporters of some Boston papers, "hard times" must be our excuse, for little else is going on here. Among the important arrivals of the past week, have been a company of "ye pour Indians" from Portsmouth, who have pitched their tents near the depot. The about-this-time-look-out-for-cold-weather verifications of the Almanac must make their lodgings rather uncomfortable, at least to a pale face.

We recollect with what delight we used to read, a few years since, sundry flaming articles in the papers, commencing, perhaps, with the stereotyped remark "Sebastopol is not taken" and ending, by a natural inference, with the gratuitous remark that:—"although that is the case, yet the famous Russian Salve is taken, and in all cases has effected a complete cure, etc." It takes no such claptrap to announce the popularity which the low-priced store of Charlie Galo, (everybody calls him "Charlie") is gaining. Perhaps one secret of the crowd always to be seen in his store, is that the Chronicle is daily to be found on his counter.

The Exeter Cornet Band give their first Promenade Concert, on Thursday evening, Nov. 5th, at the Town Hall. As you have stated, it is quite probable that the Portsmouth and Exeter Bands will appear together, at least once this winter. The Band serenaded many of our citizens on Saturday night last; at which time, also, the "Calathumps" were out serenading a newly married couple.

The man who was injured by a fall from a house in this village, a few weeks ago, has nearly recovered. Dame Rumor says that he will bring a suit against the owners of the building, on account of the staging being insufficiently strong, laying damages at $3000.——The change of time on the B. & M. R. R. is such, that the afternoon trains, to and from Portsmouth, leave and return half an hour earlier than before.

A correspondent of the Peterboro' Transcript, in a letter from Exeter, says that a young man here lately attempted to hang himself, but the rope proved unsound.——"Sudex" writes to the Boston Ledger, saying that a Fremont flag-staff, erected last summer, near where the jail has since been built, has received from the boys the appellation of "the gibbet."——A house in this town was broken into, on Sunday last, and a few teaspoons with some other articles stolen. Yours, F. G.

☞ A Washington letter-writer says that President Buchanan makes a poor appearance in his reception of lady visitors—who will all see him. Of course he does—or he would have been "received" by one of the dear creatures long ago.

☞ Rev. Dr. C. Eddy, in the course of a Lecture on the "East Young Man," in Boston on Sunday evening last, well said, among other good things, "allow a boy to run at large one year in indolence, and you have laid the foundation whereon will be built his future ruin."

☞ A gentleman living in the upper part of Portland had twenty-five large cabbages stolen from his garden Sunday night. Cabbage heads should be taken in after dark.

☞ A lady in Holmes county, Miss., hung herself a short time since, from mortification on account of her husband having been caught playing cards with a negro.

☞ Mrs. Jessie Fremont is expected to arrive in New York, from Europe, by the French packet now due. Col. Fremont arrived in New York, Monday evening, from California.

☞ A letter writer says the finest dressed lady he saw in Kansas, had no stockings on!

NEW HAMPSHIRE BANKS.—Taylor's Bank Note Detector of New York, for what reason we know not, is particularly severe upon several of the banks in this State. The Detector says, "the Lancaster Bank and Weare Bank have let their paper be discredited: and we shall be much surprised if several more do not suspend. We should not think it strange if the New Market, one in Concord, and one or two in Manchester, should be among the next to go."

These remarks are probably by a disappointed broker, who was deprived of an opportunity to get a heavy "shave," and no dependence can be placed upon them.—In the list of banks whose bills were not received at the Suffolk Bank, Boston, on Thursday, Oct. 29, the only bank in New Hampshire discredited at that institution was the Exeter Bank. In the bank returns of Oct. 6 to the Secretary of State, the banks mentioned above stood as well as the average of banks in the State, and we have no doubt they are conducted with judgment and honesty, and that holders of their bills will suffer no loss. Give no heed to these malicious insinuations of disappointed sharpers.—N. H. Gazette, Oct. 31st.

By a notice from the Directors of the New Market Bank, in our advertising columns, it will be seen that they state the condition of that institution as sound—which statement there is not the slightest reason for doubting.

As we have before stated, the Lancaster Bank is an old effete institution, which don't pretend to be anything—and Taylor's Bank Note Detector should have known this.

The Weare Bank wears well yet—sundry lies and other mistatements to the contrary, notwithstanding.

NEW YORK ELECTION.—New York, Nov. 3.—Election day passed off quietly, with the exception of two or three up town wards. A mob of Irish in the 17th ward destroyed the Republican and American ticket boxes in several of the districts.—They afterwards attacked a baker with his cart, robbing him of his whole stock.

A mob of Dead Rabbits in the 7th ward commenced destroying the Republican and American boxes, but were set upon by the police, and many arrests made.

A "hunger" meeting of German and Irish laborers was held in Tompkins square in the morning. After listening to several inflammatory speeches, they commenced demolishing the fences and seats, and in a short time had destroyed the whole. A mob of 100 then proceeded to the residence of several of the candidates, demanding food for their votes. A proposition was made to proceed to the sacking of grocery and provision stores. The result is not yet known.

In New York City, full returns from 14 Wards give the Democrats about 14,000 majority over the Republicans, and 9000 over all.

New York city gives a Democratic plurality of about 23,000.

Returns from Brooklyn indicate that that city has gone Democratic.

Scattering returns from the interior make the result extremely doubtful in the State.

The whole vote of New York city is about 58,000; American loss, 12,000.

The State returns look dubious for the Republicans.

LATER FROM KANSAS.—Lawrence, Oct. 24.—Governor Walker has issued a second proclamation in relation to the election frauds in Kansas. He rejects 1200 more votes returned from three precincts of the county, the number of legal voters in which is less than 100.

The Constitutional Convention, which met at Lecompton on the 19th, obtained a quorum on the 22d, and elected C. J. McIlvaine as Clerk. The official returns of the election, deducting the 1200 fraudulent votes from McGee rejected by Gov. Walker, give Parrott, free State, a net majority of nearly 4000 over Ransom, with Leavenworth to hear from.

LOUISIANA ELECTION.—New Orleans, Nov. 3d.—The election in this State yesterday, excited but little interest, and passed off quietly. The vote was quite small.—There was a considerable majority in this city for the American ticket.

New Orleans papers of Monday week are received. Business in that city was reviving. Money was more plenty, and confidence was being rapidly restored.

☞ Ex-President Pierce arrived in Manchester Monday evening, and is stopping at the Manchester House.

☞ John H. W. Hawkins, the great temperance reformer, is lecturing in Concord, N. H.

☞ Rev. Mr. Farrington has received and accepted a call to become the pastor of the Unitarian Society, at Concord, N. H.

☞ John Diamond, the renowned dancer and Ethiopian singer, died in Philadelphia a few days ago, aged 34.

WHO THAT IS TROUBLED

With any of those disagreeable complaints, such as Jaundice, Dyspepsia, or Liver diseases of any kind, but would like to know of a remedy for these unseemly visitations? We feel that we are doing our invalid readers an invaluable service if we can induce them to get a bottle of Dr. Sanford's Invigorator, and take it, for we know from personal experience that it is one of the greatest remedies for general debility, and consequent inactive bodily powers, ever before used. Its action is so perfect and complete as to give relief the first time taken, and if it does to others as it has to us, half a bottle will be all that is needed. We know of nothing we can recommend with such confidence, as a family medicine, as the Invigorator.

Sold in Portsmouth by JOS. HAVEN THACHER, Druggist.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

PRESERVATION OF THE HAIR.—In all ages and among almost all tribes of men, a beautiful head of hair has been, and still is, regarded as the fairest ornament of the fairest works of the Creator. The patrician dames and damsels of ancient and modern Rome bestowed that attention upon the hair which has added the crown ing beauty to the chef d'œuvre of the sculptor and the painter, and no lady, and indeed no gentleman of modern times is unmindful of this exquisite shield and lovely ornament of the face. To maiden beauty it is the finishing touch; to manhood it is the symbol and warrant of strength and nobility, to-day as in the days of the patriarchs; indeed such it always had been and always will be.

But unable as we are to withstand the ills of time and life, it often happens that through disease and misfortune we become grey in early life, and bald before we reach the full grace of womanhood or the full stature of manhood.—Then it is that however much we may venerate the grey locks and reverence the wisdom of bald head among the honored remnants of the generation of three score and ten, we know that our grey hairs are no more venerable than beautiful; while our bald heads are neither the one nor the other, but, on the contrary, are quite the reverse of both and impose upon us many social and sanitary disadvantages and discomforts.

Sold by all Druggists.

Remedy for Worms.

THE diseases of children are often so complicated that it is difficult to ascertain the true nature of their complaint. In a large majority of instances the cause may be traced to the existence of WORMS—the prominent symptoms of which are, paleness of the countenance, loss of or irregular appetite, starting up and crying out in their sleep, picking at the nose, great thirst, a wasting away of the flesh, &c. These symptoms should be early attended to, as by neglect it often terminates in disease of the brain.

PRESTON'S WORM SYRUP

LOCAL.

THE CONCERT TO-NIGHT will be a rare treat—and will be the more welcome, from the fact that musical treats of any kind have been scarce of late. Mr. Thompson is decidedly the most pleasing singer we ever heard; and besides, is, what most good singers are not, an excellent concert-giver. As a composer, also, he is very popular—his Lily Dale, Ida May and other songs, have rung in sweetest echoes throughout all the breadth of the land; and his later productions are superior. The present programme includes several of his new pieces.

Mr. T. was the favorite concert companion of Hector, the incomparable bass singer; and will be remembered as singing with him here on more than one occasion.

The Quartet Club he now brings are excellent performers, and will without doubt do full justice to the splendid programme offered, which is saying enough. What is thought of them at home, will be seen by the extract given below:

"THOMPSON'S CONCERT (says the Newburyport Herald) was all that it promised to be—the greatest and best Concert ever given in this city—such a concert as nobody but Thompson can give. The house was full, and that, in these times, more than words can testify, showed the appreciation of the public. Miss Page—that charming singer, whose carols are as fresh and musical as the feathery songters in spring—has much improved since her last appearance; and Miss Davidson charmed two audience. The Quartet Club was never surpassed in this city; and the voice of Mr. Burrill seems echoing even now, so full and perfect was it. When Miss Green, the infant Whistler performed, there was a perfect shout of applause; and the youthful Drummers, Master and Miss Green, carried the house with a storm of cheers.—Take it all in all, it was the perfection of an entertainment, and everybody that loves music should hear it."

The accompaniments to the singing will be played upon a beautiful Æolian Piano Forte—a remarkably sweet and attractive instrument, and very rarely heard.

As to the price of tickets—if such an entertainment as this is not "worth a quarter"—what would he deemed an equivalent for that sum? And if a low circus can draw three or five thousand "quarters" from our people, in the name of good music we submit, that the Temple ought not to hold the audience who will wish to hear the concert this evening.

☞ We see it announced that our Portsmouth Cornet Band are soon to give a series of Promenade Concerts. We are glad of it, for many reasons,—one of which is, that we feel any innocent amusement which will change the current of people's thoughts during the hard times, is the best remedy that can be applied for the existing pressure. It will not do to "give up the ship," and now and then a little recreation goes a great way toward keeping up the courage for future consequences. Music is too scarce among us. Let the subscription list be well filled—and we shall be all the more ready to assist one another, if we meet and find out who are our neighbors.

☞ Has anybody heard recently of a certain gentlemen who used to put up gas fixtures about here? If so, we wish he would "let his light so shine before (our work-)men," that they may be enabled to disseminate the same throughout the region roundabout. We are aware that he has a large company crying after him, "Light wanted;" but a little field is soon travelled over,—and we have been at the antipodes for a long time.

☞ "Siciliano," and "First Loss," Piano Pieces by Robert Schumann; and "Dawn of Bliss," a Caprice for the Piano, by George O. Tanner—new pieces, just received, among other new music, at Charles C. Harvey's.

☞ See advertisement of Apples, &c., at auction this day, at J. B. Adams Auction Store, No. 3 Congress Block.

TO NEW SUBSCRIBERS.—For $4, we will furnish the Daily Chronicle from this time to Jan. 1, 1859.

For only $1, we will supply the Weekly Chronicle from the present date to Jan 1, 1859.

☞ Peterson's Magazine for December, is an unusually good Number of a usually good periodical. The frontispiece for 1857 is beautiful. The 33d volume commences with January. Peterson, if not fully as good as the higher-priced Magazines, is richly worth the price charged for it—only $2 a year. Send to "Peterson's Magazine, Philadelphia;"—or call on J. P. Morse, and get this or any Magazine or paper.

BOLD ROBBERIES.—On Monday night the glass in the front windows of Mr. Daniel Pingry's store in State street, and of Mr. S. A. Green's store on Pleasant street, Newburyport, was broken out, and a quantity of boots and shoes stolen.

LATER FROM EUROPE.

The steamship Arago, from Havre and Southampton Oct. 21, arrived at New York Nov. 3d. She brings 306 passengers, and $220,000 in specie.

The Commercial news from America had an unfavorable effect on the English Stock Exchange on the 19th. The Bank of England has raised the rate of discount to 8 per cent., solely on account of the American news.

The Bank of France has raised its rate from 5 1-2 to 7 1-2 per cent.

The rate of discount at Hamburg had advanced to 9 1-2 per cent.

At Bremen the tightness was more severe.

The immigration to America from Hamburg was going on extensively.

It is confirmed from Madagascar that the Queen has expelled all English and French residents. The reason assigned is that that the Europeans entertained the project of dethroning the Queen, and placing her son on the throne.

The American ship Richard Anderson, from Rotterdam for Baltimore, was abandoned at sea, water-logged and disabled, Sept. 29. Captain and crew saved and arrived at Southampton.

Liverpool.—Cotton—Prices closed 1-16 a 1-2d per lb. lower. Breadstuffs quiet.—Provisions dull. Flour declined 6d. Corn a shade dearer.

London.—Considering how recently the rate of discount has been raised to a point unknown during the last ten years, the calmness and steadiness of the money market affords equal gratification and surprise. In all quarters there was quietude. The supply of money in the discount market was greater than has been witnessed lately, the advance of rates by the Bank of France had been anticipated, and, therefore, produced no effect here. There are no signs of revival of the drain of gold to the continent.

3 DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

HALIFAX, Nov. 4.—Steamship Canada, from Liverpool Oct. 24, arrived here this forenoon.

The Canada brings about $1,000,000 in specie. Cotton dull and slightly lower.—Breadstuffs tending downward. Provisions dull. Consols 83 3-4 a 88 7-8.

PEDAL BASS MELODEONS.

No. 511 Washington St., Boston.

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass. Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which formerly characterized the instrument, and rendering the tones full, clear and organ like. The action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid music without blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower set running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and thus get in one case two distinct instruments, or by use of the coupler, the two Keys, or any of them may be played at the same time by use of the front set only. This connected with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1500 persons.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lottery Office of Wm. A. Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being protected as if they were present in person. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; twenties, $2; fifties, $1. No tickets will be sent without the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that anyone can understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $50,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing published in the newspapers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York weekly Dispatch. The results are published plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia.

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m13ly

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which E. FRANCIS & Co are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner appointed by the state, to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, tickets will be sent in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The price of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are forwarded, but those received for the drawing are filled with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Tertary combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100,000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

☞ The drawn numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner in the following papers, viz: Sun, Clipper, Patriot, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

A BEAUTIFUL HEAD

OF RICH GLOSSY HAIR,

Completely Preserved

TO THE GREATEST AGE.

AND who that is gray would not have it restored to former color; or bald, but would have the growth restored; or troubled with dandruff and lifeless hair; or troubled with dandruff and lifeless hair; or troubled with scurfy, scald head, or other crup tions, or with sick headache, (neuralgia) but would be cured. It will also remove all pimples from the face and skin. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative will do all this. See circular and the following.

ANN ARBOR, November 5th, 1856.

PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir: I have heard much said of the wonderful effects of your Hair Restorative, but having been so often cheated by quackery and nostrums, half and half, I was disposed to place your Restorative in the same category with the one thousand and one loudly trumpeted quack remedies, until last year in Lawrence county some months since, when you gave me such assurance as induced the trial of your Restorative in my family—first, by my good wife, whose hair had become very thin, and entirely white; and before exhausting one of your large bottles, her hair was restored nearly to its original beautiful brown color, and had thickened, and become beautiful and glossy upon, and entirely over the head; she continues to use it, not simply because of its beautifying effects upon the hair, but because of its healthful influence upon the head and mind. Others of my family and friends are using your Restorative, with the happiest effects; therefore my skepticism and doubts in reference to its character and value are entirely removed; and I can and do most cordially and confidentially recommend its use by all who would have their hair restored from white or gray, (by reason of sickness or age,) to original color and beauty, and by all young persons who would have the hair beautiful and glossy.

Very truly and gratefully yours,
SOLOMON MANN.

FRIEND WOOD: It was a long time after I saw you at Blissfield before I got the bottle of Restorative for which you gave me an order upon your agent in Detroit, and when I got it we concluded to try it on Mrs. Mann's hair, as the surest test of its power. It has done all that you assured me it would do; and others of my family and friends, having witnessed its effects, are now using and recommending its use to others as entitled to the highest consideration one year, from date.

Again, very respectfully and truly, yours,
SOLOMON MANN.

CARLYLE, ILL., June 26, 1852.

I have used Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and have admired its effects. My hair was becoming, as I thought, prematurely gray, but by the use of his Restorative it has resumed its original color, and I have no doubt permanently so. S. BARRETT, ex-Senator, U. S.

GEORGIA LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Aventon & Sey are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed by the State, to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawings. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn at Savannah, Ga., about the 15th of every month, and another is drawn at Macon, Ga., every Saturday throughout the year. If no particular class is named, orders are filled by the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets are from $1 to $20. No tickets are forwarded, but those received for the order are filled with the order. IMPROVED EMPIRE STATE,

This celebrated Cooking Stove having been in the market many years, is too well known to need any recommendation from us, we would only say that we have received a large Stock of different sizes, to which we invite the attention of purchasers.

THE WHITE MOUNTAIN IMPROVED,

being among the first class Cooking Stoves, is a very heavy, durable, and economical Cook Stove, and a good operator with either wood or coal, and warranted to give satisfaction in every particular.

THE REPUBLIC.

This Stove has been in the market a few years, and those who have used it, speak in the highest terms of its good qualities.

All sizes on hand, and every Stove warranted.

Also on hand all the different kinds of the most approved patterns; among which are the

BAY STATE, TROY, STAR, AMERICAN, BANNER, NIAGARA, PORTLAND, AURORA, &c.

Repairing Pieces of all kinds on hand.

The attention of all those who are about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, is invited, for we are determined not to be under sold.

Our stock of

is complete, comprising the most desirable patterns in the market for either wood or coal—among which are the

ILION, VILLA, LADY FRANKLIN, FAVORITE, RUBY, &c. &c.

OVEN PARLOR STOVES in great variety for wood or coal. SHEET IRON STOVES of all sizes, with or without ovens. Also, Office, Hall, Shop and Store Stoves of different Patterns.

FRANK JONES.

Magee's Patent Ventilating Stove.

FOR WARMING AND VENTILATING

PARLORS, OFFICES, HALLS, STORES,

SCHOOL HOUSES, &c.

WHICH for economy, purity of air, and ease of management, has no equal. It can be regulated so as to give

Any amount of Heat required,

and unlike all other Anthracite Coal Burners, ventilates the apartments quite as thoroughly, as a wood fire or Franklin, producing a current of Air, at once most pure and agreeable, and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache, so much complained of by those using Stoves and Furnaces, is entirely obviated. The fire may be continued from one to four days without replenishing.

These Stoves are beautiful in design, and finished in the most perfect manner. They are equally appropriate, and have given universal satisfaction to all who have adopted them.

For Offices and Stores as well as the Parlor.

The Inventor challenges the world to produce an article by which so much Pure Warm Air can be generated, from so small an amount of fuel, requiring but about 15 pounds of Anthracite Coal, to warm an ordinary sized parlor for 24 hours, without replenishing, and then leaving fire enough to rekindle without the use of charcoal. The coal is all used, and no clinkers made, consequently, sifting coal is dispensed with. When this Stove is properly managed,

THE FIRE MAY BE CONTINUED THROUGH

THE ENTIRE SEASON,

without once going out. Added to all these qualifications, the purchaser may reasonably expect to save from 30 to 50 per cent, in fuel expense.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES.

Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience.

THE combination of ingredients in these Pills, is the result of a long and extensive practice; they are mild in their operation, and certain to restoring nature to its proper channel. In every case, they have the Pills proved successful. They are certain to open those obstructions to which females are liable, and bring nature into its proper channel, whereby health is restored, and the pale and deathly countenance changed to a healthy one. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among young female; headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, that most always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, the Pills will invariably remedy all these evils. ☞ all cases of painful menstruation, or nervous and spinal affections in the back and limbs, hysterics or spirits, hysterics, &c. For are they less efficacious in the cure of Leucorrhœa, commonly called the "Whites." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. Warranted purely Vegetable, and free from any thing injurious to life or health. Full and explicit directions which should be carefully followed, go with each box.

These Pills are put up in square, flat boxes—Persons residing where there are no Agencies established, by enclosing One Dollar in a letter, prepaid, to Dr. C. L. CHEESEMAN, Box No. 4,731, Post Office, New York City, can have them sent to their respective addresses by return of mail.

For the Chronicle.

HAVE YOU NOTHING TO DO WITH IT?

Respectable, influential citizen, have you nothing to do with saving men from drunkards' graves? Have you nothing to do towards sending comfort to that poor wife, whose heart is crushed under its weight of speechless woe? Aye,—speechless woe,—for tongue cannot portray the bitterness, the heaviness of heart, which are the portion of the drunkard's wife. Have you nothing to do to prevent little children from becoming worse than fatherless? O, the children of the drunkard! what woes, what fears, what destitution and distress are theirs!

And yet how many in the community look listlessly on, caring for nothing of all this. Their children are well housed, and fed and clothed. Their wives do not listen with well nigh palsied hearts, for the midnight steps of a drunken, infuriated husband, coming unsteadily towards a wretched home. Their families are not made wretched by a drunken father.

Very well. So far so good. But, O ye respectable men, ye men of happy families, have you not a duty to perform toward your unfortunate brother? Is there not some responsibility resting on you? Have you nothing to do with that infamous traffic which turns happy wedlock into cursing, happy homes into misery, and once respectable men into fiends? O, have you nothing to do with all this?

Respectable, influential citizen, let me ask you a few questions. Are you in no way responsible for the present violation of the liquor traffic? Have you ever raised your voice against it? Do the dealers therein know that you are uncompromisingly opposed to their vile traffic? Have they no reason to think that you connive at it? Are wines banished from your own table? Are you openly an advocate of the temperance movement? Do you uphold, with all the influence of your position in society, the prohibitory law? Or do you, by your silence and indifference, throw obstacles in the way of its execution? For very true is it, that there can scarcely be a greater obstacle thrown in the way of executing a law, than indifference and coldness on the part of respectable citizens,—those who ought to be its friends.

Let no man say, as did one of old, "Am I my brother's keeper? You are your brother's keeper, in as far as it lies in your power to ameliorate his condition and promote his comfort and enjoyment. And in what can you do this more effectually than by using all your weight of character, all your influence, to destroy the high-handed traffic in that bane of human happiness, intoxicating drinks. ELSIE.

Westview, Oct. 29, 1857.

The repair shops of the Concord Railroad Company, at Concord, N. H., were closed on Saturday night last, for five months, and about forty men have thus been thrown out of employment.

Messrs. J. D. Cooper & Co., Iron and Brass Founders, have also discharged a large number of workmen, and contemplate running their foundry only a portion of the time during the ensuing winter.

It is also rumored that the proprietors of the Steam Mills are to run their mill only four days during the week.

Messrs. White & Savory, dealers in Dry Goods, suspended their business on Saturday last, and their store is now closed up. —Mirror.

☞ Mr. Thos. Bartlett, of Haverhill, N. H., came to his death in a singular manner last week. He had been troubled with an abscess in his throat, by the breaking of which he was immediately strangled.

A HINT.—We have a number of subscribers who have not paid anything for their papers within the last two years, though they have often been requested so to do.—We have concluded to discontinue all such, and if possible to adopt effective measures to collect their bills. We have commenced and shall continue the work until it is fully accomplished.—Dover Star.

A PEAN. A country Republican paper, in chronicling the Free Soil victory in Kansas, and the election of Parrot over Ransom, quotes the following lines from an old Methodist hymn:

The year of jubilee has come:
Return you Ransom's sinners home.

"Are those bells ringing for fire?" inquired Simon, of Tiberius. "No, indeed," answered Tibe; "they have got plenty of fire, and the bells are now ringing for water."

PAY LITTLE BILLS.—Nothing helps the times more than the prompt payment of little bills. It keeps up trade, keeps money moving, helps the banks, and makes everybody feel better.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.

INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUDDEN INFLAMMATION, from whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by its aid, as easily as fire is quelled by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a quill dipped into a solution of it, to effect the desired result.

Morning Chronicle.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1857.

KANSAS.—Kansas letters of Oct. 29, state that only 33 of the 60 members of the Constitutional Convention are present. Nothing of general interest has yet been done.

Walker and Stanton were at Lawrence on the 20th. Nothing was said about their leaving the Territory.

The bank suspensions in the East were severely felt in Kansas, and a large amount of valueless Eastern exchange was there.

A protest had been entered against issuing certificates to the Pro-Slavery candidates for the Legislature from Leavenworth district, on account of alleged frauds at Kickapoo.

GOV. WALKER.—The Philadelphia Press (Forney's) says:

Walker will be sustained by every too of fraud in elections, and every friend of the principle that the majority shall rule.

And yet Gov. Walker has only exposed some bogus voting and put it down,—whereas Forney was the chief engineer of the Philadelphia bogus victory, which turned the scale in the nation.

A CURIOSITY.—The Cincinnati Times has a letter from Kansas, giving the following interesting item: "On Gov. Walker's return from the precinct of Oxford, he halted at Lawrence, and taking out of his portfolio a large roll of paper, said to the crowd that he would show them a curiosity if they promised not to destroy it. He then unrolled the returns of the precinct of Oxford, which contained sixteen hundred and one names, all written in the same hand-writing, which measured fifty-four feet in length. All the names, except about one hundred and twenty, were copied from "Williams' Cincinnati Directory," those commencing with the same letter following each other as regularly as they do upon the pages of that book."

☞ A new Post Office has been established at Nottingham, N. H., to be called the Nottingham Turnpike Post Office; and a writer in the Dover Gazette calls for the re-establishment of the South Barrington Post Office also, and the carrying of the mail upon the route of the New Hampshire Turnpike, as formerly.

BILLS.—Mary Rowell, a widow, died in Nottingham, aged 81 years. Apparently destitute of all means of support, it was thought that she might have some money laid up. Shortly before her death, one of the Selectmen asked her if she had any money. She replied that if she had, she could take care of it herself. After her decease there were found in a bag sewed into one of her gowns, two five dollar bills on the City Bank, Boston. One of them bears date 1826, the other 1825.

☞ As Mr. G. Haynes was digging a well in Manchester, the earth caved in, burying him up to his neck. It was some time before he could be extricated, as the dirt had to be dug away from around him. His shoulder was dislocated and the bone badly broken.

NEW VOTERS.—The Boston Transcript says the number of applications at the City Hall for admission to the rights of citizenship is very much smaller than usual—not more than one-half as large. This great diminution is principally among the foreign class of voters.

The dwelling house of a man by the name of Cate, of Allenstown, N. H., was recently broken into in the night time by three burglars. Mr. Cate being waked from sleep by the raising of a window, caught up a shoe-hammer and threw it at a man in the act of getting into the window. The hammer hit the burglar in the face, when Mr. Cate succeeded in arresting him, but two others immediately came up and rescued the prisoner.—Mirror.

☞ Rev. J. M. C. Bartley, of Hampstead, and Rev. Otis Holmes, of Northwood, are about leaving their present parishes. Mr. Bartley has been settled twenty-one years; a longer than any other Congregational minister in the county of Rockingham.

☞ It is supposed that the recent disastrous fire in Saccarappa, Me., which originated in a barn, was caused by matches in the hands of hen thieves.

☞ Fifteen families, numbering about eighty persons, mostly foreigners, were admitted into the almshouse in Grafton, Mass., a few days since.

The science of getting on well with a woman, is like violin playing. It depends principally on the bowing.

COMPLIMENTARY.

The San Francisco "Alta California" newspaper of Oct. 5th, gives a long account of a grand complimentary entertainment given to J. Horace Kent, Esq., on the occasion of his retiring from the office of Coroner of San Francisco, which he has held for two years. Mr. Kent is a New Hampshire man, a native of Barnstead, and for a time resided in this city;—and must be a thorough gentleman, to meet such hearty endorsement from so discriminating a body of men as the reporters for the press.

The Deputy Coroner, Daniel G. Waldron, Esq., is our old friend of pleasant memory here in Portsmouth. He is now connected with the California Spirit of the Times. Success to him.

The dinner was served at 10 o'clock at night. We are sorry our brethren of the press deemed it advisable to use the cork-screw so freely on the occasion, as the amount of choice wines and liquors mentioned as generously donated for the occasion by various dealers in the city, would seem to signify. That very custom makes about all the work for coroners everywhere.

We copy from the Alta California such extracts as we have room for.

The Reporters of the city press gave a complimentary dinner, at Martin's Restaurant, on Commercial street, last evening, to J. Horace Kent, Esq., on the occasion of his retiring from the office of Coroner. It was entirely an impromptu affair, planned and prepared for but a few hours before it came off. It was a merited and voluntary tribute, by the Reporters, without distinction of party, to Mr. Kent, as a mark of their appreciation of his social qualities as a man, and the courtesy and kindness which he had invariably extended to them in his official capacity as Coroner. It was an evening of genial mirth and good fellowship, sparkling with wit, wine, and song, and sentiment; and it will be long remembered among the annals of San Francisco Reporters.

At the drawing of the first cork the Chairman of the meeting, Mr. Cremony, arose and in a neat speech complimented Mr. Kent upon the able manner in which he has performed the duties of his office; and expressed, on behalf of the corps reportorial, the obligations which they felt towards him for past favors; and ended by proposing the health of the retiring Coroner.

Coroner Kent, in a neat speech in reply to the cordial welcome of the Committee of Arrangements, said:

I am highly honored with this flattering compliment at your hands, more particularly coming as it does from a party of men upon whose character and intelligence I have always placed the highest estimation, and whose very position places them in the foremost ranks of society.

The press, gentlemen, of which you are all honorable members, is the great bulwark of our liberties, and the security of our privileges, and when it is used for the purpose of reformation, and not for defamation, it is the shield of free and honest men, and the terror of tyrants, corrupt and dishonest persons.

It is not only the defence of our morality, but the instruction of our children, the companion our homes and firesides, the chronicler of passing events, which we hand down to future generations. In fact, it would require one far more elevated than myself to build upon a foundation upon which to erect the beauties and to set forth to the world the advantages derived from the labor and talents of those connected with this powerful and mighty machine. That we should have a free and untrammelled press, no one can deny. The benefits to be derived therefrom I can best set forth by quoting a celebrated orator—"When the press is free and discussion unrestrained, the mind, by the collision of intercourse, gets rid of its own asperities, and a kind of insensible perspiration takes place in the body politic, by which those acrimonies, which would otherwise fester and inflame, are quietly dissolved and dissipated."

Mr. Kent gave as a sentiment:

The Press.—The mirror of our social institutions; may it always preserve truthful reflections, and give back a natural image of healthy moral and political progress.

Mr. D. G. Waldron, Deputy Coroner, made an eloquent speech, and offered as a toast—"The Ladies of San Francisco."

Mr. Knight, of the committee of arrangements, read a number of complimentary letters received, with donations of liquors and cigars from the gentlemen above-named, and gave as a toast—

Our Contributors.—Their offerings, spirited and spicy, are adapted alike to the tone and taste of every journal, being "leaders" for editors, and 'items' for reporters."

We can't exactly respond to all this—though part of it is true.

"'Tis true, and pity 'tis, 'tis true."

These "spirited offerings are not adapted to the taste of every journal," however; though they "lead" (away) too many editors, and furnish sad "items" for reporters.

The health of Mrs. J. Horace Kent was then pledged in bumpers, and with three cheers for the coroner elect, the company dispersed in the "wee small hours of the morning."

☞ We have received Nos. 1 and 2 of the Newark (N. J.) Evening Journal, a daily paper, edited by Edward N. Fuller, Esq., lately editor of the N. H. Gazette.—In his "Salutatory," Mr. Fuller proposes to sustain the democratic party, Mr. Buchanan, and the Cincinnati platform.

☞ Mrs. Lucy Fine lately died at Louisville, and manumitted nine slaves, giving each $100 cash and a portion of her estate. [Since contradicted.]

OUGHT TO BE WOUND UP.—All Banks that have suspended specie payments: and the people will say so.—Concord Democratic Standard.

FROM CALIFORNIA.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The Star of the West brings $1,464,008 in specie.

Her news is six days later than that by the Quaker City.

The rainy season had commenced in California.

Col. Fremont had purchased the Mercer and Mariposa Canal.

Other murders have been committed by the Washo Indians, and the citizens are arming for defence.

Dates from Panama are to 18th. An earthquake was felt there on the 15th, also at Loja and Quito. At the former place numerous houses and churches were destroyed.

"PROTRACTED" MEETING.—The Banks meeting at the Tremont Temple, Boston, Monday evening, lasted until next day.—Hon. John P. Hale was the last speaker, and commenced his address at half past eleven o'clock, and was received with great applause by the two thousand persons present. He said that as they had apparently come there to "spend the evening," he should make his remarks in a leisurely manner. At twenty minutes past twelve election morning the meeting dissolved, about fifteen hundred persons being present to participate in the closing cheers—including forty or fifty ladies.—Transcript.

MRS. PARTINGTON ON POLITICS.—"Which side do you espouse?" we asked of Mrs. Partington, as she dropped in upon us this afternoon. She smiled faintly as she replied, that if she was called upon to espouse anything, she should prefer both sides, and we thought there was a slight blush beaming thorough the parchment of her skin as she spoke. We assured her that we meant the particular side or party, politically speaking. "Ah," "well, I think I should go with the weakest, and support the straightened republicans, because they need help the most." She helped herself out of the big snuff box on the table, while Ike amused himself with the gluten jar sticking papers on the leaf of the old dictionary.—Boston Eve. Gaz.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 4.—The depot of the Illinois Central Railroad, at Cairo, with all its contents, was destroyed by fire on Sunday night. Four freight cars and the engine house were included in the property destroyed. The loss is estimated at $200,000. Part of the depot was occupied by the Company's clerks and expressmen, who lost everything.

A package of $1500, belonging to Adams, Graham & Co., was also destroyed. The amount of insurance is not ascertained.

☞ The Temperance Visitor, published in Boston, has just been enlarged and improved.—It is a well conducted paper, and deserves prosperity.

☞ At the late election in Massachusetts, the Republicans and Americans in one Legislative district in Newburyport, nominated as Representative, Wm. H. Brewster, Esq., formerly of this city, well known in his connection with the Herald for twenty-five years, and a member of the City Council for several years. His business experience and general information would render him a useful member of the legislature,—but his Democratic opponent received the most votes.

JOHN B. DOWNS,

Cold Winter is Coming on.

AND with it will return the usual concomitants, A Coughs, Colds, Dyspepsia, Scorbutic Eruptions, Sick Headache, Rheumatism, Tetter, Ring Worm, &c., which the genial warmth of summer and free perspiration use, for a time relieved, but which the return of rigid, cheerless winter, will bring back, unless resisted by some medicamentum.

MYER'S EXTRACT OF ROCK ROSE, is peculiarly applicable, and if freely used will not fail to protect the constitution against the sudden and extreme changes of our variable climate. It purifies the blood, strengthens the stomach, and invigorates the whole system, thus fortifying against the insidious attacks of ungenial frosts and debilitating heats. See Circulars.

WHO THAT IS TROUBLED

With any of those disagreeable complaints, such as Jaundice, Dyspepsia, or Liver diseases of any kind, but would like to know of a remedy for these unseemly visitations? We feel that we are doing our invalid readers an invaluable service if we can induce them to get a bottle of Dr. Sanford's Invigorator, and take it, for we know from personal experience that it is one of the greatest remedies for general debility, and consequent inactive bodily powers, ever before used. Its action is so perfect and mild as to give relief the first time taken, and if it does to others as it has to us, half a bottle will be all that is needed. We know of nothing we can recommend with such confidence, as a family medicine, as the Invigorator.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

PRESERVATION OF THE HAIR.—In all ages and among almost all tribes of men, a beautiful head of hair has been, and still is, regarded as the fairest ornament of the fairest works of the Creator. The patrician dames and damsels of ancient and modern Rome bestowed that attention upon the hair which has added the crowning beauty to the chef d'œuvre of the sculptor and the painter, and no lady, and indeed no gentleman of modern times is unmindful of this exquisite shield and lovely ornament of the face. To maiden beauty it is the finishing touch; to manhood it is the symbol and warrant of strength and nobility, to-day as in the days of the patriiarchs; indeed such it always had been and always will be.

But unable as we are to withstand the ills of time and life, it often happens that through disease and misfortune we become grey in early life, and bald before we reach the full grace of womanhood or the full stature of manhood.—Then it is that however much we may venerate the grey locks and reverence the wisdom of bald head among the honored remnants of the generation of three score and ten, we know that our grey hairs are no more venerable than beautiful; while our bald heads are neither the one nor the other, but, on the contrary, are quite the reverse of both and impose upon us many social and sanitary disadvantages and discomforts.

Sold by all Druggists.

POLICE COURT.

TUESDAY, Nov. 3.

John Weepers, for being drunk in Daniel street, was fined $3, costs 3,86.

John Hodge for assault on Andrew Goodrich, was fined $5,—costs 4,58.

☞ A writer in the Dover Gazette says a new road is wanted from the old New Hampshire Turnpike, at a point near Piscataqua Bridge, on the east side of that branch of the river across Back River to Dover Point, to connect with the Ferry. The existence of such a highway would be a great public accommodation, shortening the distance of travel between Portsmouth and Durham, Lee, Madbury, Barrington, Strafford, Northwood, and some other towns, at least five or six miles.

Yes, but suppose that when you got to the Ferry, the boat was not to run for a few days as is sometimes the case?—The fact is, the road to Dover, &c., seems "a hard road to travel"—though doubtless the road is no "harder" than the travel.

☞ Mr. Lamprey's Exhibition, on Wednesday evening, was very largely attended, by a fashionable and brilliant company of middle aged and young—and if anybody failed to enjoy themselves, it must have been their own fault. A correspondent remarks as follows:

"What, in this care-worn world, can be more refreshing, than to see such a group of happy children as tripped so lightly to the excellent music of Lamprey & Haines' Band, in Congress Hall on Wednesday evening? On that occasion we think the money market was quite forgotten—the notes of the fine band were the only ones present, and they are never at a discount; exchanges were easy, and there were no failures. The outside world was completely shut out, as we beheld the lively graces and smiling faces of the merry little dancers.

The graceful evolutions, the accurate time, the absence of anything like rudeness, and the kind attention of the young masters to their fair youthful partners, all testified to the skill and good taste of their worthy teacher.

The miniature dancers of the Highland Fling performed their part with great eclat, as did also the misses in the Fisher's Hornpipe. After the dances by the pupils, a goodly number of friends took the floor, and to the music of the full band, finished the evening most agreeably."

☞ The Newburyport Lyceum commences its course this evening, by Rev. J. C. Fletcher, delivering his interesting lecture on "Brazil and the Brazilians."

It is expected he will deliver the same lecture in this city, at an early day. His opportunities for a good knowledge of Brazil were excellent, and his lecture has been exceedingly popular.

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—At the county election yesterday, the entire Republican ticket was elected, by about 1700 majority.

ALBANY, Nov. 4.— Fuller returns received here indicate the almost certain election of the Republican State ticket.

☞ At a recent trial in Broome county, N. Y., it was decided that a passenger having purchased a ticket from one point to another, had a right to ride on any train he chose—stopping over at any place on the road a day or more at pleasure. The notice "good for this trip only," was of no legal force.

WILD CHERRY BARK AND TAR, by an ingenious combination with a few other simples, affords the surest antidote known for consumption of the lungs. Dr. Wistar, in his Balsam of Wild Cherry, has produced a remedy of untold value.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—(Times Correspondence.) — While Mr. Buchanan will not remove or publicly censure Gov. Walker, he does, nevertheless privately express disapprobation of his course in the Oxford affair. He says he has written a private letter to Walker, charging him with violation of his instructions and rebuking him therefor. While the President will not take the responsibility of removing him, there is reason to fear he will make his resignation necessary for the maintenance of his self-respect.

(Journal of Commerce Corr.)—Gov. Walker left Kansas to-day, and will be here for some time on leave of absence.

There is no truth in the report that the administration will censure him; but some of the members think though his course was right in itself, he, nevertheless, acted against law in rejecting Oxford votes.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4.—Richard Carter, President of the Anthracite Bank of Tamaqua, was shot dead this evening, in the parlor of the St. Lawrence Hotel, by Thomas Washington Smith, of Cecil county, Md. Smith fired the first four barrels from his revolver, and two more after Carter fell upon the floor. Carter was a middle-aged man, wealthy, and has a family. Smith is aged 30 years, and was laboring under great excitement. Carter had accused Smith of the seduction of a ward of his. Smith states that he met the girl at a boarding school and married her. He subsequently discovered that she had been the mistress of Carter. She had a child four months after marriage. The shooting was in revenge. Smith was arrested, and is awaiting a hearing at the Mayor's office.

MARYLAND ELECTION.—In Baltimore, Nov. 4, there were some disturbances, and two or three persons were shot, perhaps mortally. The general result in the city and State, is the election of the American ticket.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.— Well informed Democrats claims the State by 10,000 to 15,000 plurality, but we do not see anything in the returns to lead to serious doubts but that the Republican State ticket is elected by a small majority. Several days must elapse before the exact position of parties can be known.

TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 4.—The Democrats have elected six Senators out of eight. The Legislature will stand 15 Democrats, 4 Americans, 1 Republican and 1 Fusion. In the House the Democrats have 35, and the Opposition 25.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 4.—Three slaves, belonging to Thornton Withers, en route from St. Louis to Parkersborough, Va., were seized here yesterday, when on board a steamboat at the wharf, through a writ of habeas corpus, issued by Judge Burgoyne, and were placed under the charge of Darius Eggleston, by order of the Court. Mr. Withers swore out a habeas corpus, before Judge Carter, claiming that the slaves were unlawfully restrained of their liberty, and claiming that they owed him service in Virginia, whither he was carrying them, when they were wrested from his hands. The writ was served by the deputy sheriff, and the slaves were brought before Judge Carter this afternoon.

Second Dispatch.—The slave case trial has resulted in the delivery of the slaves to their master, by Judge Carter. They have been taken to Kentucky.

THE SPIRITS.—Mr. So-and-so—a trance-speaking medium—will speak under the control of spirit influence, say the handbills posted on the street corners, referring to some public meeting of Spiritualists.—Now do the spirits control the medium, or does the medium control the spirits? It the spirits have control, how happens it that the medium gives notice beforehand of what is to be done? How does he know but the spirits may be otherwise engaged, when the time appointed arrives? Will some of our rapping friends have this matter looked into?—Bath Organ.

CHEAP DRUNKERIES IN CALIFORNIA.—The Alta California contains the following notice of a rum hole in San Francisco.

Those who think they cannot obtain a good drink for less than twenty-five cents, are advised to call at the Identical, corner of Battery and Sacramento streets.

MISSOURI LEGISLATURE.—St. Louis, Nov. 4.—A bill, legalizing the suspension of the Banks of the State till the 1st of November, 1858, passed the House yesterday.

Remedy for Worms.

THE diseases of children are often so complicated that it is difficult to ascertain the true nature of their complaint. In a large majority of instances the cause may be traced to the existence of WORMS—the prominent symptoms of which are, paleness of the countenance, loss of or irregular appetite, starting up and crying out in their sleep, picking at the nose, great thirst, a wasting away of the flesh, &c. These symptoms should be early attended to, as by neglect it often terminates in disease of the brain.

PRESTON'S WORM SYRUP

is the most effectual remedy ever used. It is pleasant to the taste, perfectly harmless, and is warranted in every case to give satisfactory results.

S. D. & H. W. Smith,

—MANUFACTURERS OF—

Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,

—and—

PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

No. 511 Washington St., Boston.

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass. Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which formerly characterized the instrument, and rendering the tones full, clear and organ like. The action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid music without blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower ret running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and thus get in one case two distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, the two banks of keys may be played at the same time by use of the front set only. This connected with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

Is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church instrument, being arranged with two banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of as great volume of power as the Church Instrument when used without the pedals. Also, every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory, being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced and skilful workmen. In short, we will promise our customers an instrument equal, if not superior, to any Manufacturer, and guarantee an entire and perfect satisfaction.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in musical matters, are respectfully invited to visit our Rooms at any time and examine or test the instruments on exhibition for sale at their pleasure.

As a still further guarantee to the public as to the excellence of the MELODEONS from our Manufactory, we beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following

Piano Forte Manufacturers of Boston,

who have examined our Instruments, and will give their opinion when called upon:

Chickering & Sons,	Hallett & Cumston,
T. Gilbert & Co.,	Wm. P. Emerson,
Brown & Allen,	A. W. Ladd & Co.,
George Hewes,	Woodward & Brown,

Newhall & Co.

MELODEONS RENTED.

Persons who wish to hire Melodeons with a view of purchasing at the end of the year, can have the rent credited as part payment of the purchase money. This matter is worthy of special note, as it enables those who desire a fair test of the instruments before purchasing, to obtain it at the expense of the manufacturers, to the extent at least of a year's rent.

Orders from any part of the country or world, sent direct to the manufactory in Boston, with cash, or satisfactory reference, will be promptly attended to, and as faithfully executed as if the parties were present, or employed an agent to select, and on as reasonable terms.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,

No. 70 State st, opp. Kilby st, Boston,

HAVING an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, specifications, amendments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. Having facilities below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add, that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services more moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full access of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able to settle any question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay here, are here saved inventors.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any, persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the most informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in perfect fairness and order. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received before the drawing are filled next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize, averaging nearly $10 to the quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $500; results are published in the Mobile Register and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after each drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia.

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes. Address as above.

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. FRANCK & Co are the managers, are chartered by the State of Maryland, and a commission appointed by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as lotteries are legalized by the laws of that state. A lottery is drawn every Saturday throughout the year, and orders received before the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $5 to $20; quarters, $1.25. No tickets sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Ternary combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100 '00. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers of the same the day after it is over.

☞ The drawn numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner in the following papers: Baltimore Patriot, Baltimore American, Argus, of Baltimore; also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

A BEAUTIFUL HEAD

OF RICH GLOSSY HAIR,

Completely Preserved

TO THE GREATEST AGE.

AND who that is gray would not have it restored to former color; or bald, but would have the growth restored; or troubled with dandruff and itching but would have it removed, or troubled with scurfs, scalds head, or other eruptions, or with sick headache, (neuralgia) but would be cured. It will also remove all pimples from the face and give a fair skin. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative will do all this. See circular and the following.

ANN ARBOR, November 5th, 1850.

PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir: I have heard much said of the wonderful effects of your Hair Restorative, but having been so often cheated by quackery and quack nostrums, hair dyes, &c., I was disposed to place your Restorative in the same category with the one thousand and one loudly trumpeted quack remedies. Until I met you in Lawrence county some months since, when you gave me such assurance as induced the trial of your Restorative in my family—first, by my good wife, whose hair had become very thin, and entirely white; and before exhausting one of your large bottles, her hair was restored nearly to its original beautiful brown color, and had thickened and become beautiful and glossy upon, and entirely over the head; she continues to use it, not simply because of its beautifying effects upon the hair, but because of its healthful influence upon the head and mind. Others of my family and friends are using your Restorative, with the happiest effects; therefore my skepticism and doubts in reference to its character and value are entirely removed; and I can and do most cordially and confidentially recommend its use by all who would have their hair restored from white or gray, (by reason of sickness or age,) to original color and beauty, and by all young persons who would have the hair beautiful and glossy.

Very truly and gratefully yours,
SOLOMON MANN.

FRIEND WOOD: It was a long time after I saw you at Blissfield before I got the bottle of Restorative for which you gave me an order upon your agent in Detroit, and when I got it we concluded to try it on Mrs. Mann's hair, as the surest test of its power. It has done all that you assured me it would do; and others of my family and friends, having witnessed its effects, are now using and recommending its use to others as entitled to the highest consideration you claim for it. Again, very respectfully and truly, yours,

SOLOMON MANN.

CARLYLE, ILL., June 28, 1852.

I have used Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and have found it perfect. My hair was becoming, as I thought, prematurely gray, but by the use of his Restorative it has resumed its original color, and I have no doubt permanently so.

Another fact which the managers call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as lotteries are legalized by the laws of that state. A lottery is drawn at Savannah, Ga., about the 15th of every month, and another is drawn at Macon, Ga., every Saturday throughout the year, no particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $5 to $20; quarters, $1.25. No tickets sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. Magee's Patent Ventilating Stove.

FOR WARMING AND VENTILATING

PARLORS, OFFICES, HALLS, STORES, SCHOOL HOUSES, &c.

WHICH for economy, purity of air, and ease of management, has no equal. It can be regulated so as to give

Any amount of Heat required,

and unlike all other Anth acite Coal Burners, ventilates the apartments quite as thoroughly, as a wood fire or Franklin, producing a current of Air, at once moist, pure and agreeable, and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache, so much complained of by those using Stoves and Furnaces, is entirely obviated. The fire may be continued from one to four days without replenishing.

These Stoves are beautiful in design, and finished in the most perfect manner. They are equally appropriate, and have given universal satisfaction to all who have adopted them.

For Offices and Stores as well as the Parlor.

The Inventor challenges the world to produce an article by which so much Pure Warm Air can be generated from so small an amount of fuel, requiring but about 15 pounds of Anthracite Coal, to warm an ordinary sized parlor for 24 hours, without replenishing, and then leaving fire enough to rekindle without the use of charcoal. The coal is all used, and no clinkers made, consequently, sifting coal is dispensed with.—With this stove is properly managed.

THE FIRE MAY BE CONTINUED THROUGH

THE ENTIRE SEASON,

without once going out. Added to all these qualifications, the purchaser may reasonably expect to save from 30 to 50 per cent, in fuel expense.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES.

Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience

THE combination of ingredients in these Pills, is the result of a long and extensive practice; their mild and speedy operation recommends to restoring nature to its proper channel. In every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are certain to open those obstructions to which females are liable, and bring into its proper channel, whereby health is restored, and the pale and deathly countenance changed to a healthy one. No female can enjoy perfect health unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, that most always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, the Pills will invariably remedy all these evils. And all cases of painful menstruation, or nervous and spinal affections in the back and limbs, Leucorrhœa or Whites, &c. Nor are they less beneficial in the cure of Leucorrhœa, commonly called the "Whites." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause miscarriage. Warranted purely Vegetable, and free from anything injurious to life or health. Full and explicit directions which should be followed, accompany each box.

These Pills are put up in square tin boxes.—Persons residing where there are no Agencies established, by enclosing One Dollar in a letter, prepaid, to Dr. C. L. CHEESEMAN, Box No. 4,531, Post Office, New York City, can have them sent to their respective addresses by return of mail.

S. D. & H. W. Smith,
—MANUFACTURERS OF—
Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,
—and—
PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,
No. 511 Washington St., Boston.

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass. Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves. They have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which formerly characterized the instrument, and rendering the tone full, clear and organ like. The action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid music without blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,
Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower set running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and thus get in one instrument distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, the two banks of keys may be played at the same time by use of the front set only. This connected with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON
Is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Pedal Bass instrument, being arranged with two banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of a great volume of power as the Church Instrument when used without the pedals. Also, every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory, being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced and skillful workmen. In short, we will promise our customers an Instrument equal, if not superior, to any Manufacturer, and guarantee satisfaction and perfect satisfaction.

Remedy for Worms.

THE diseases of children are often so complicated that it is difficult to ascertain the true nature of their complaints, in a large majority of instances the cause may be traced to the existence of WORMS—the prominent symptoms of which are, paleness of the countenance, loss of or irregular appetite, starting up and crying out in their sleep, picking at the nose, great thirst, a wasting away of the flesh, &c. These symptoms should be early attended to, as by neglect it often terminates in disease of the brain.

PRESTON'S WORM SYRUP
is the most efficacious remedy ever used. It is pleasant to the taste, perfectly harmless, and is warranted in every case to give satisfactory results.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.

INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE ATTRIBUTE—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUBDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of an ordinary lancet into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.

MUNICIPAL.—Thursday evening, Nov. 5.—In Board of Aldermen, several bills against the city were referred, or approved and ordered to be paid.

The ordinance relating to Police Court fines and costs, &c., was passed to be engrossed.

Leave was granted for a brick side walk in front of house of Jas. M. Hill, on State street.

Voted, That Mr. Cook be required to conform to the ordinances of the city regulating the creation of Slaughter Houses.

Leave was granted petitioners to widen Woodbury street under certain restrictions.

Voted, That Street Commissioner be authorized to repair North Mill Bridge.

The Common Council was not in session.

☞ We are pleased to see that the Street Commissioner is levelling up the crossing at the head of Church street, near the North Church, so as to get rid of a break-neck step that has been the cause of a number of falls, fortunately without serious accident, to our citizens. There was no occasion for the objectionable arrangement when the crossing was laid.

State of New Hampshire.

A PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR.

The people of New Hampshire, from an early period, have been accustomed to observe one day in each year, designated by the Governor, near the close of the harvest season, as a day of Thanksgiving and Praise to Almighty God for the blessings of His merciful Providence.

In accordance with this ancient custom, by and with the advice of the Council, I do hereby appoint THURSDAY THE TWENTY-SIXTH DAY OF NOVEMBER NEXT as a day of public Thanksgiving and Praise. And on that day, the people of this State are requested to assemble in their usual places of worship, and render sincere thanks to the Great Giver of all good, for the fruits of the earth, and the blessings of life.

Let us thank Him that, for the past year, the labors of the husbandman have been bountifully rewarded and that no wide spread pestilence or other scourge has brought mourning and desolation to any portion of our beloved State. With grateful hearts let us on that day especially remember to give of our substance to the poor, and the afflicted, as the Good Lord hath given unto us; thus by works of love, showing ourselves worthy of the great blessings bestowed upon us.

And finally, let us pray that He who was Wisdom and strength to our fathers, will not withdraw his favor from their children, but that He will make our whole country the abode of Peace, Virtue, Temperance, Justice and Universal Liberty.

Given at the Council Chamber, at Concord, on the 24th day of September, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, and the Independence of the United States the eighty-second.

WILLIAM HAILE.

By his Excellency the Governor with advice of Council.

LEMUEL N. PATTEE, Sec'y of State.

Bayard Taylor's wedding day was appointed for Tuesday of last week at Gotha, Germany.

Delaware has been added to the list of states which celebrate Thanksgiving on the 26th inst.

Morning Chronicle.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1857.

SCOTT'S REJOINDER TO PILLOW.—Gen. Scott publishes a second card in reply to the further allegations of Gen. Pillow in reference to the Santa Anna bribe. He reiterates his former declarations, and in allusion to the quoted statements of Generals Quitman and Shields, he remarks:

"Suffice it to say, in this connection, that neither of the statements produced by General Pillow, with so much gravity, contradicts me in the least on the only point in question, viz: the $10,000 bribe; for neither of those Generals pretends to know to whom the bribe was paid, nor did any other American ever hear me whisper the name or names of the receivers, until confidently disclosed on the final settlement, at the War office, of my secret disbursements."

Gen. Scott complains of the conduct of President Pierce in allowing, at the instance of a "malignant Secretary," the publication of the secret disbursements in the Mexican war, and says that already in consequence of this publication, five highly respectable residents of Mexico—utterly guiltless of bribery, but liable to suspicion under those designations—have, through a distinguished channel, made application to him for exoneration. He then reviews briefly, but severely, his treatment at the hands of the Polk administration.

SUPREME J. COURT.—In the session at Dover, as reported in the Enquirer,—the Grand Jury were discharged on Saturday, having returned 76 indictments, 59 of which were for violations of the Liquor LAW.—The whole of the forenoon of Monday was consumed in the reading of the indictments founded on the statute prohibiting the sale of spirituous liquors, which were presented by the Grand Jury. These were distributed among a few individuals, all of Dover. Against one no less than eleven were found—some being for a second offence, which on conviction is punished by fine and imprisonment. Another was indicted eight times, and another four.—Some suffered default—the rest plead not guilty, and will stand trial.

NEW ENGLAND CONGREGATIONAL CHURCHES.—Of these there are, according to the Congregationalist,—1,399 churches, 1,467 ministers, 46,808 male members, 96,564 females; total members 161,866; added by profession 4,224, by letter 3,393; total 7,617; deaths 2,853, excluded 289; total removals 6,701; baptisms—1,682 adults, 2,855 infants. By supplying the wanting statistics of the unreported churches from the nearest previous reports, the same paper gives the total membership in each State, for 1847 and 1857, as follows:

Maine,	17,523	16,800
New Hampshire,	20,082	19,997
Vermont,	19,962	17,214
Massachusetts,	65,640	67,556
Rhode Island,	3,246	3,221
Connecticut,	42,870	42,967
Total,	169,228	167,855

Thus, according to these statistics, the Congregational churches of New England have lost 1,443 in ten years.

NEW HAMPSHIRE BAPTIST CONVENTION.—The 31st annual meeting of this body was held at Keene, Oct. 20th and 21st. Rev. E. E. Cummings, D. D., first Vice President took the chair. Rev. K. S. Hall, Secretary. The annual sermon was preached by Rev. C. W. Flanders, and a historical sermon by Dr. Cummings. The whole number of members reported is 6,555.—Rev. Samuel Cooke has been engaged through the year as missionary agent, and has succeeded (as per report of the Treasurer, A. J. Prescott, Esq.,) in collecting in aid of the Convention $1,728.36, which, with one exception, is larger than the amount raised in any former year.

☞ We are indebted to Mr. J. F. C. Hyde, Newton Centre, Mass., for a sample of paper made from "begasse," or waste of the stalk of the Chinese Sugar Cane, from which the juice has been expressed. Paper Board was also made from the same materials, for and under the direction of Mr. Hyde. This sample is brown; and looks not unlike coarse Manilla wrapping paper. It is rather brittle.

AN ANOMALY. The bills of the Canadian Banks, almost the only specie paying institutions on the continent, are quoted in New York at a discount of 3 to 4 per cent, while those of the suspended banks of the States pass at par in ordinary dealing, and can be exchanged for gold at ½ to 1 per cent. discount.—Montreal Com. Advertiser.

Confidence—not gold,—is the foundation of credit.

☞ The will of the late Rev. Rufus Wilmot Griswold was proved on Saturday without opposition. Neither of the "widows" made their appearance.

Correspondence of the Chronicle.

EPPING, Nov. 5.

Knowing the interest which you take in all that pertains to music, I send you a brief account of a Levee which I had the pleasure of attending in this good town on Wednesday evening—gotten up by our most worshipful ladies, for the benefit of the Epping Cornet Band.

Epping, like her larger sisters, has been cultivating the fine arts, and the result is the organization of a Band, whose "brazen trump" and spirit stirring drum "bid defiance to any company of similar character in the State.—And, Mr. Editor, when you come to learn that it is composed of young men, (among the least of whose virtues, is that they can discourse sweet music,) you will not be surprised that our fair damsels bestirred themselves most actively, to make the entertainment worthy of its object. To add to its general interest, Prof. Bond of Boston, (a single man, of goodly carriage) was present and directed the performances of the Band.

The Company was large; the Band played finely; and the nett receipts were about $75 for the Band. At ten o'clock, all were invited to partake of a bountiful collation. That we responded slightly, I need not assure you; nor would it be less superfluous to speak of the good taste and abundance, which crowded the tables. After having relieved them of the weight under which they fairly groaned,—

"Of all that did chance, 'twere a long tale to tell,
Of the dances and dresses, and who was the belle;
But each was so happy and all were so fair,
That night stole away, and dawn found us there.

PAWTUCKAWAY.

☞ At the People's Lyceum in Manchester, Thursday evening, the City Hall was filled to hear the third discussion upon the temperance resolution, relative to the New Hampshire Law for the Suppression of Intemperance. After several speeches, pro and con, Judge Upton took the floor and confined himself to a defense of the law. He reviewed it section by section, and contrasted this "bill of abominations" (as it had been called by one of the speakers) with other statutes which were upon our statute books, and had never been called in question by anybody for their severity or unjustness, and showed how much more guarded and just this law was in its provisions. His defence was able, and left a good impression.

☞ Jonathan Wakefield, a soldier of the revolution, died in Newport, N. H., on the 14th of October, in his ninety-seventh year. The Spectator says:—"Mr. Wakefield was born in Sutton, Mass., March 20, 1761, and removed to Newport in 1779, where, with the exception of some years' absence in the revolutionary war, he has since resided. He was of the true revolutionary stock, his father having been killed by the British at Dorchester Point, in 1776."

☞ Austin T. Cowles of Bible Hill, in Claremont, N. H., has raised one of the best fields of corn in the State, and has entered it for premium in the State Agricultural Society. From this field he has shown the editor of the Eagle,—"what we never saw before, and what, we will venture to say, very few farmers have ever seen, and that is a stalk of corn with four good, sound, upon it."

TOBACCO SMOKE.—"The present dangerous illness of the King of Prussia had its origin, says a Paris letter, in a too strong dose of tobacco smoke. This was administered to him by the emperor of Russia and the princes of the royal family, in the cars going from Potsdam to Berlin. The czar and the princes, to pass the time, commenced to smoke some very strong Russian tobacco, and soon filled the car. The king was observed to fall asleep, and was allowed to remain in that condition till they arrived at Berlin. When they attempted to arouse him they found it impossible to bring him to a state of complete consciousness; his physician was sent for, he was carried to the palace, and remained still somnolent at the latest dates. He is thought to be afflicted with softening of the brain."

☞ Hon. N. P. Banks, His Excellency to be, is the twenty-first person elected Governor of Massachusetts, and only the second mechanic or laboring man who has been so elevated. Gov. Briggs was a hatter in early life, and Mr. Banks a machinist; all the others have been from the mercantile, legal or medical professions.

THE OAHU COLLEGE.—In consequence of the present financial distress, Messrs. Beckwith and Armstrong, officers and agents for Oahu College, Sandwich Islands, have concluded to suspend for the present the attempt to complete in this country the endowment, and will return to the Islands.

"There's no place like home," says the poet. Right—unless it is the home of the young woman you are after.

☞ The prisoners at the work-house in St. Louis, Mo., have manifested a great deal of rebellion and insubordination of late. One of them was shot dead a few days ago. On Wednesday last, another named Slevin attempted to escape, and after being pursued about a mile was shot. It is doubtful whether he recovers.

☞ The large tannery of Hon. N. S. Berry & Son, of Hebron, N. H., was entirely destroyed by fire on Saturday night last. Loss $5000, and insured for $2500. It employed some thirty workmen. The fire was the work of an incendiary.

☞ The Secretary of the Navy on Saturday decided to have one of the new sloops-of-war constructed at the Charlestown Navy Yard. So they are all disposed of.

☞ Abraham Melvin, the great wool grower of East Weare, N. H., advertises in the Manchester Mirror, "300 prime sheep for sale or to let."
